B. W. Birdsell, Esq. from Ontario is visiting his nephew, G. W. Walker of this city. Mr. Birdsell owns a couple of farms up near Greenwood and thinks it probable that he will move here next year. He says the McKinley bill is a bad thing for Canada and he seemed greatly astonished at finding anyone in this part of the country opposing it.

The First Step.
Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step into nervous prostration. You need a nerve tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal health condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great nerve tonic and alternative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the liver and kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50 cents at F. G. Fricke & Co's drug store.

Mrs. Lathrop drew a big crowd at the opera house last night, and is indeed a talented lady. She said many good things which received the plaudits of the crowd, though she was a little bit off on her remarks about what Mr. Connell said. Politically, she seemed to be of a democratic turn of mind.

The republican rally Saturday night will be a great affair, and the one Monday night will not be a particle behind it. Every man and woman ought to hear the exponents of good doctrines, in the persons of Col. Colby and Paul Vandervoort.

Political Notes.
The Journal at this late date gleefully prints the remark of somebody that McClintic was a horse doctor.

E. A. Stopher is a strong man for representative. He and P. S. Barnes in the house will give Cass an able and honorable representation.

R. S. Wilkenson, chairman of the republican county central committee is in the city today, accompanied by C. D. Clapp of Elmwood.

The Journal sticks to the Dorsey World-Herald fake notwithstanding Dorsey has proved that he never sent the telegram which it prints.

Friend McClintic comes out in a very sensible card in last night's Journal, but it will not avail him much if the crowd down here can hoodoo him off the ticket. He was a necessity at the county convention, but that necessity no longer exists.

L. D. Richards will unquestionably be elected the next governor of Nebraska, and all the cowardly excuses weak-kneed republicans can give for voting against him, will avail nothing. We personally know prominent democrats in Omaha who will vote for Richards, and they have dollars at stake on prohibition where others have cents.

Cottonseed oil is being used to manufacture and cheapen the price of lard. Its use in that direction has grown so that immense fortunes have been made out of the product which greatly cheapen the genuine article with which it comes into direct competition. Congress passed the lard bill at its last session in the interest of pure lard and in the interest directly and absolutely of every farmer in Nebraska. Yet the democratic party opposed this measure with great force and came near defeating it. Why don't the windy Bryan explain this fact.

TROUBLE AHEAD.
Omaha Voters to be Enjoined From Voting.
State Journal.

It was learned last evening from authentic sources that two Omaha prohibitionists were in Lincoln last evening making preparations to lay before the supreme court this morning an application for an order of injunction which will be the means of preventing hundreds and perhaps thousands from voting in Omaha. These gentlemen claim that large numbers of foreign-born men have recently taken out naturalization papers at the instance of the "personal liberty league" with the apparent purpose of voting against the prohibitory amendment, and that the expense of obtaining these papers was paid by the league out of a fund raised for the purpose. The prohibitionists claim that this method of securing voters is illegal and will ask the supreme court to restrain all whose papers were so obtained from voting and to restrain election officers from receiving votes for such. They claim, also, that in case the supreme court fails to act and the amendment fails they will contest the election on the ground of the illegality of these votes.

Cotner University Notes
BETHANY HEIGHTS, Lincoln, Neb. Oct. 27, 1890.—Desiring to keep the readers of the HERALD pretty well posted with the happenings of Bethany Heights, and for the benefit derived to myself from correspondence, I take the pleasure to write again. Although somewhat slow of speech perhaps these items as related by myself will be of some interest to at least a few of the readers.

President Dungan is with us again having been absent for nearly three weeks in Des Moines, Iowa, where his family is. He brought with him two of his boys but expects to move the rest of his family here as soon as his house is ready to go into, which will be in a short time.

The social given by the Delphian and the Athenian societies last Friday night was a success. There was a joint program given in the chapel by the two societies after which the audience went to the dormitory and feasted on oyster soup and cake to their hearts content. There was present about a hundred students from the State University and a goodly number from the Wesleyan University. Every body seemed to enjoy themselves hugely.

Saturday afternoon the Cotner boys picked up a nine and went over and played the Wesleyan's a game of ball. The score stood fourteen to eleven in favor of the Wesleyan's, but I think the Cotner's did well considering it was their first game and not having practiced any.

Prof. Aylsworth preached yesterday morning and evening in the chapel of the university. In the morning he chose text from Philipians 14th chap. 6th verse, in the evening from Mathew 19th chap. 27th and 28th verses. Prof. Aylsworth is vice-president of the institution and Dean of the bible department; he is a good speaker, a splendid good man and is well liked by all who know him.

Speaking of cheap people, "Whiskers" of the Journal evidently had himself in mind.

A. W. Wright came home yesterday from an extended campaign tour through out the state. He speaks enthusiastically of the outlook for republican success.

Dr. B. L. Paine, prohibition nominee for governor will deliver an address on the amendment at Rockwood hall tomorrow evening, Oct. 20th, to which every one is invited to attend.

Eight ten wheeler road engines have been bought by the B. & M., and will come in about the first of January. This will be the first engine of the kind on the line. The largest now are eight wheelers.

Will Streight went hunting the other day and as a result of the days work he brought home one little half grown rabbit. He figured up and discovered that the rabbit had cost him just six dollars and as he could have purchased a larger one for ten cents he will buy his rabbits hereafter on the score of economy.

All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to J. V. Weckbach, deceased, or to the firm of J. V. Weckbach & Son, will please call and settle on or before Nov. 15, as all accounts not paid by that time will be placed in the hands of an attorney.—Oct. 20, 1890. tf

And Then Buy A Home in South Park.

Do not be caught in the delusion of many thousands in postponing a home until they can have an expensive one. This idea is the devil's trap that catches men and women innumerable, who will never have any at all. The laborer may have, at the close of the day, to walk or ride farther than is desirable to reach it but when he gets to his destination in the eventide he will find something worthy of being called by that glorious and impassioned, and heaven descended word, "Home."

Young married man, as soon as you can buy such a place, even if you have to put on it a mortgage reaching from base to capstone. The much abused mortgage which is ruin to the reckless man, to one prudent and provident is the beginning of a competency and a fortune, for the reason he will not be satisfied until he has paid it off, and all the household are put on strictest economy until then. Deny yourself all superfluities and all luxuries until you can say: "Everything in this house is mine thank God!—every timber, every brick every foot of plumbing, every doorsill." Do not have children born in a bearding house, and do not yourself be buried from one. Have a place where your children can shout and sing and romp and not be overhauled for the racket. Have a kitchen where you can do something toward the reformation of evil cookery and the lessening of this nation of despectics. As Napoleon lost one of his great battles by an attack of indigestion, so many men have such a daily wrestle with the food swallowed that they have no strength left for the battle of life; and though your wife may know how to play all musical instruments and rival a prima dona, she is not well educated unless she can boil an Irish potatoe and broil a mutton chop, since the die sometimes decides the fate of families and nations.

Have a setting room with at least one easy chair, even though you have to take turns at sitting in it, and books out of the public library, or of your own purchase for the making of your family intelligent, and checker boards and guessing matches, with an occasional blind man's bluff, which is of all games my favorite. Rouse up your homes with all styles of innocent amusement, and gather up in your children's lives a reservoir of exuberance that will pour down refreshing streams when life gets parched and the dark days come and the lights go out and the laughter is smothered in to a sob.—T. De Witt Talmage.
