The Grosventres Indians of Fort Belknap reservation are in a very turbulent state.

As an instance of the stories floating around, the officer tells one current on the reservation to the effect that several young warriors started from there to visit Sitting Bull and learn about the new Messiah. On the way there one of them (Yellow Hawk) said he had been comtest of faith, with a promise he should suicide accordingly and the party went on without him. When they reached Scores of the Creations of Modern Times Surpass Any or All of the Wonders of the Ancients-Some of America's Remarkable Achievements.

Compared with the seven wonders of the world classified by the ancients there are seven times seven wonders now. The fabled Colossus of Rhodes, the Alexan-Colossus of Rhodes was, in all probability, a myth, while the Bartholdi statue is

As a matter of fact, the real wonders of the world, albeits they have ceased for photograph, the telescope and the selfbinding reaper are in themselves won-(White Gut), with two other Sioux, have of engineering skill, which was the most wonders, there are so many proud triumphs that it is by no means an easy matter to name the foremost seven.

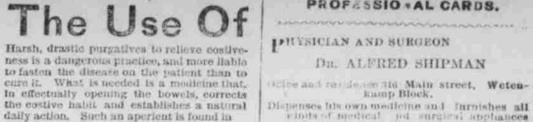

THE MODERN LIST.

The list comprises the Forth bridge, in Hills country. They were ordered off Scotland; New York's underground aqueduct, which is thirty miles long, on an average 150 feet underground, and cut through rock; the Eiffel tower; the proselyte to the remnants of the Ogalla Brooklyn bridge; the St. Gothard tunnel, between Switzerland and Italy, begun at a height of 1,340 feet, and cut for nine and one-half miles through the solid rock; the improvements at Hell Gate, and the jettics at the mouth of the Mississippi. It is easy to take exceptions to There are probably few intelligent prople who will not dispute the claims of ome one or other of these achievements. The Eiffel tower, for example, lefty as it is, should searcely be permitted to crowd out the Suez musl, and the engineering feat of removing the obstractions a Hell Gate is hardly to be compared with the building of the Pacific railroad-The Sil ginu r divoid also is entitled to in the list, while the Eartholdi starne) scarcely to be crowded out, not only for its cole sal propertions, but by reason o the shill required to produce the result nimed at. There are averal complet manded in a dream to kill himself as a bridges also, some one of which is likely to suggest itself to engineers as having good grounds for disputing the place it he list of seven,

To many unfamiliar with the problem to be solved it may seem as if the jettie Standing Rock they found Yellow Hawk of the Mississippi were hardly entitled A. There are no mighty buttresses of stone, no marvelas structures by human hands to arreattention—only lines of willow bas work, filled with mud and gravel and sunk in the river channel. But we see what has been accomplished by such simple means suggested by the genius of Capt. Eads:

Ayer's Pills,

whitch, while thorough in action, strengthen as well as stimulate the bowels and excretory organs;

"For cight years I was afflicted with constipution, which at hist became so bud that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels became regular and natural in their movements. 1 am now in excellent health." -Wm. H. DeLaucett, Dorset, Ont.

"When I feel the need of a cathartic, I take Ayer's Pills, and find them to be more than any other pill I ever took." - Mrs. B. C. Grabb, Burwellville, Va.

"For years I have been subject to constipation and nervous headaches, caused by derangement of the liver. After taking various remedies, I have become convinced that Ayer's Pills are the best. They have never failed to relieve my billous attacks in a short time; and 1 am sure my system retains its tone longer after the use of these Pills, than has been the case with any other medicine I have tried."-H. S. Sledge, Weimar, Texas.

GIRL WANTED -A good girl at good wages wanted at the Palace Restaurant SELLE BUT WONDERFUL.

Here is the problem: A river necessar to the inland commerce of a continent whose waters continually bear via quantities of sand and gravel toward the ea. A cubic mile of solid earth, it lass been estimated, is thus borne down by the Mississippi every year. When the stream met the waters of the gulf th current was checked by the inflowing ides, and a great burden of earthy matter was deposited, while the river spread out over a great entent of territory. Navigation was rendered uncertain and dangerous, and millions of dollars expended in dredging brought popractical results. The rever could beat the United States government in a contest waged on that line.

Then came Capt. Eads with a propo-sition to gather the willows along the shores, make them into crates or mattresses, fill them with mud and gravel, Mr. John Pocock, one of the First place them in parallel lines where a do its own digging by means of a quick ened current. That was the basis of the jetty system, which has more than doubled the depth of the chaunel at the mouth of the most important river on the globe. The waters continued to deposit sand gravel between the jetties and the shores, the willows sprouted and grew. and thus solid banks of earth were formed and protected by trees. It is agent went to his new field of work this only necessary to extend the line of willow baskets from time to time as occusion domands in order to carry the channel still further into the gulf. The jetty system is a grand triumph of simplicity. but fairly entitled by reason of the results obtained to be reckoned among the leading seven wonders of the world, -Frank Leslie's Monthly.

Terrapin Farming.

A terrapin farm is described by The Fernandina (Fla.) News. It is an inclosure about twenty feet square, onehalf of it filled with loose said and a tank occupying the rest of the space. The tank is below tide level, and at high tide the salt water runs in from the marsh to a death of four feet. The tank was all perforated with holes, and the owner, digging down with his fingers, unearthed some baby terrapins an inch or two long.
