The Organ Recital.

The organ recital at the Presbyterian church last night was one of the best entertainments it has been our pleasure to attend this year.

The first piece was an instrumental one on the new pipe organ by Prof. Butler, of Omaha. The lovely tones of the handsome new organ, for which the church and city is indebted solely to the Presbyterian ladies, was noted with evident pleasure by all present. The second number was a chorus by Messrs. Dr. Humphrey, Dickson, Moore, Will Straight, Charles Murphy, John Young, James Petter, and the Misses Bertha Wise, Gertrude Kearney, Etta Shepherd, Green, Moore, and Mrs. Sam Atwood, Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. C. C. Parnelle, with Miss Grant as accompanist on the organ.

This was the best number of the entire evening's entertainment and was well worthy of the hearty applause which it received. The third number was a violin solo by Professor Waldemar Beck; it was very good as usual of Mr. Beck's work on the violin.

The next on the program was a piece admirably sung by the male quartette composed of Messrs Petter, Humphrey, Dickson and Moore. The audience applauded lustily, to which they responded with a novel plantation melody.

The "Green Trees Whisper Low and Mild" was a well rendered solo by Mrs. Geo. E. Dovey. Mrs. Dovey was suffering from a severe cold, which detracted much from her usually strong well rounded voice.

The sixth number on the program, by Prof. Butler, was well received; after the encore which followed, however, he achieved the triumph of the evening, in his charming rendition of the rain storm making the grand tones of the organ responsive to the most delicate pattering of the rain drops on the roof, as well as the realistic thunder which accompanied it.

The recitation of Mrs. Young was decidedly good; it was a poetic story of the Norseland, full of pathos and feeling and was well delivered. Mrs. Rodgers sang a difficult solo, with marked effect, which with another number by the male quartette, a violin solo by Prof. Beck and a fine piece of instrumental music by Prof. Butler, exhausted one of the best musical programs ever listened to by a Plattsmouth audience.

The Presbyterian ladies deserve special credit for their good judgment in selecting a good program and in finding those who could take the different parts with so much credit to themselves.

The Weather.

Our regular weather reporter sends in the following carefully kept report for last month and for the same month a year ago, a comparison that is always interesting:

NOVEMBER, 1890.

Monthly mean temperature 38.6°
Highest temperature 69° 1st, 65° 20th, 64° 5th.
Lowest temperature 17° 10th, 21° 9th.

Rainfall 17-8 inches.
Snowfall .3 inches.
Number of days precipitation 3.
First snowfall 8th, turning into rain and sleet.

There was a light snow storm, just enough flakes to be seen on the 30th of October.

Clear days without clouds 11.
Nebraska is noted for its great number of sunshiney days. Fair days 9. Cloudy days only 4. Only two days very windy. First regular freeze 10th. The 8th was regular democratic weather, with its snow, rain and sleet. Election day was very pleasant and sunshiney.

NOVEMBER, 1889.

Mean temperature 32.9°
Lowest temperature 8° 28th.
Rainfall 2.62.

Thanksgiving day light snow and heavy freezing.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold their regular meeting Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Spurlock, north east corner of 8th and Pearl streets.

Mrs. J. K. Keithley disappointed her many friends in this city last night by not being able to sing at the Presbyterian church entertainment. She was detained at home on account of sickness.

The total resources of all the private banks in Nebraska excluding all national banks reaches the neat sum of $32,699,662. An increase of more than a million dollars since June 30th, 1889.

As caterers to the public, in the line of stoves and general hardware, the firm of Weidman & Breckenfeld stands at the head. From their immense stock the most fastidious can be suited.

We met Robert Mitchell in yesterday's HERALD as the party that was taken to the insane hospital at Lincoln, not Thomas Mitchell, who is an old and well known citizen that is not ailing physically or mentally.

A "shoe social" is one of the amusements of Rich Hill Mo. All the girls go behind a screen and stick the toes of their shoes out underneath its lower edge. The young men select their partners by chalking their initials on the shoes.

The large sale of personal property at J. G. Gilmore's, passed off very nicely yesterday there being a good attendance. Everything brought good prices except the horses, the offers being so low that they were not sold. W. D. Jones was the auctioneer.

The HERALD has received the finest line of wedding invitations, ball programs, etc., ever shown in this city. Anyone wanting anything in the line of fine stationery will do well to give this office a call. We can give lower rates than Omaha and show equally as good work.

Rev. C. A. Falk of Stromsburg has removed with his family to this city, where he takes charge of the Swedish Free Mission church in place of Rev. John Quist, who has gone to Stromsburg. The HERALD takes pleasure in welcoming Mr. Falk to our city and trusts he may find his stay among us both pleasant and profitable.

It Favo'r J H Fairfield.
The following decision from the Interior department settles a long contested suit in favor of Mr. Fairfield, at present residing in this city.

In the case of Joseph S. Hoagland vs. Joseph H. Fairfield involving the former's contest against the latter's homestead entry for the northeast quarter, section 12 township 21, range 54, Sidney Neb., wherein the local officers and the commissioner dismissed Hoagland's contest, Assistant secretary Chandler affirms their decision and finally dismisses the contest.

The ladies of the M. E. church will hold a bazaar and oyster supper in Rockwood hall Thursday night Dec. 18th. Admission free. Everybody invited. Program later.

The Omaha Election.

The Omaha city election took place yesterday and resulted in the defeat of D. H. Wheeler, formerly of this city, for the council. The members of the city council elected are Thomas J. Lowry, Peter Elsassner, Richard Burdick, Thomas F. Tuttle, Timothy Conway, Chris Specht, Clarence L. Chaffee, Charles E. Brunner and Edwin P. Davis.

The significant feature of the whole affair, however, is the fact that although a bitter fight was waged, only 10,988 votes were cast, a falling off of more than one half since the general election a few weeks ago. Mr. Boyd's majority in Omaha at the last election was larger than the entire vote polled yesterday; and yet it was a red hot fight. Mr. Boyd may be the next governor of Nebraska but no sane man believes he was so chosen by the legal voters of this great state. An office purchased at the expense of wholesale frauds will not inure much to the honor of the man who succeeds in that way.

More M. P. Track Laying.

James Walker of Murray built a large elevator at that place, and on the representations of the M. P. folks that a track would be laid in to that town by the first of December. He bought grain and filled the elevator from the basement to the roof. Now that the company has given it out that no track would be laid until spring, Mr. Walker finds he has an elephant on his hands; he also finds that he has a good case for damages against the rail road company. Mr. Lewis the chief engineer thinks Mr. Clark may change his mind somewhat and that a track from Union to Murray may be built at once, and for the purpose of having Mr. Clark reconsider his action and have the rails put down at once Mr. Lewis and Mr. Walker left for St. Louis this morning. The HERALD hopes they may succeed in their undertaking as it certainly is unfair to Mr. Walker and the town as well to delay finishing the road until spring.

Come and select something for your best girl out of this line of fine goods: watches, chains, charms, fancy rings, individual sets, nut picks, fruit knives etc. B. A. Mc Elwain, leading jeweler, 319 Main street.

Notice.

Call and settle your account you haven't forgotten the amount. It was an accommodation you know and why should you be so slow. GEO. W. VASS, Fifth Street Jeweler.

The Omaha Bee says that "the Winona and Southwestern has secured access to Ft. Dodge, Ia., by the purchase of the Mason City & Ft Dodge Railway. This leaves only a gap of a few miles between Mason City and Spring Valley to be closed up when the road will be complete from Winona to Wisconsin. E. Speedling the chief surveyor of the company will start on January 1 to survey a line from Omaha to Fort Dodge. It is proposed to have the road completed to Omaha by December 1 1891." This assures another road for Nebraska as no road has ever made that city its terminus very long.

Miss Maggie Vallery and Mrs. John Vallery started for York this morning to visit with friends.
