Conrad Heisel, the pioneer miller has 4,000 pounds of the finest buckwheat flour the land. It is ground out of the new crop just harvested and from the sample left at this office we can vouch for its being a prime article.

Mr. Dunlap, the mail clerk on the Schuyler run is back on his route again. He was detained at his home for several days on account of sickness in his family and we are sorry to learn that the illness of his little daughter proved fatal.

The vag who played his envelope trick on P. J. Hansen for $5.00 was caught yesterday in South Omaha. It seems he had worked the same racket very successfully in Lincoln. Mr. Hansen, said he might not be able to identify the party so that he will not be brought here for trial.

Commissioner Todd got a letter from Mr. Loder this morning saying he would not be down this morning, for the reason that his wife had been thrown from a buggy, striking on her face, which bruised and hurt her quite seriously. He may not be able to meet with the Board for a day or two.

A Free New Year's Dinner. From Tuesday's Daily.

The Boys' Branch of the Y. M. C. A., an organization consisting of fifty of the boys of this city, have gone to considerable trouble and expense to get up a great dinner New Year's day, and they now invite every boy in the city under seventeen years of age, rich or poor, and especially the poor, to take dinner with them at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms, over Bennett's store, on January 1st.

Kindly disposed ladies who are not otherwise engaged would confer a favor by calling at the rooms and assisting at the tables. Those who desire to assist in any way, especially by donations of eatables, will be thankfully remembered.

Several Odd Fellows will go to Louisville tomorrow night, to organize a new lodge for the citizens of that place.

The HERALD job rooms turned out some of the handsomest programs for the K. of P. ball today ever printed in this city.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

L. D. Shuster a B. & M. Brakesman Instantly Killed at Oreapolis. As freight train No. 78 passed Oreapolis this morning about 4:30, pulled by two engines, No. 33 and No. 47, the head brakeman, by the name of L. D. Shuster was instantly killed by falling between the car and engine, having evidently made a misstep as he started to jump from the car to the tender. Both lower limbs were crushed and the head of the unfortunate man was mashed so that the brains were plainly visible.

Mr. Shuster was from Pennsylvania and had only been on the B. & M. five or six months; his home was in Lincoln.

When No. 78 came in this morning, the engines were cut off and taken to the round house and some remarks were made by the conductor, Mr. Burns, because the brakeman did not show up, after a few minutes, further inquiry was made, and it was learned he had not been seen since passing Oreapolis. C. S. Johnson and a party then got orders to proceed with a switch engine and look for the missing man. He was found at the side of the track, dead and mutilated as above described. Coroner Unruh held an inquest over the remains this morning, which were brought to this city, resulting in the following verdict:

"That the said Lewis D. Shuster, lying dead, came to his death on the morning of December 30, 1890, at 4:30 a. m., by accidentally falling off of freight train No. 78, on the B. & M. R. R. near Oreapolis Junction in said county of Cass; and said train passing over him and causing his death.

Signed: P. P. GASS, foreman. GEO. P. WEIDMAN, L. C. STILES, W. D. JONES, J. J. McVEY, J. N. BLACK, Jurors."

A GOOD SIZED HAUL.

Nineteen Thousand Two Hundred Dollars Worth of Goods Stolen at the Depot.

M. A. Daugherty, who resides at South Bend was on his way home from Omaha Saturday a week ago; he came to this city to wait for the Schuyler train, and placed his grip containing stocks in a ranch company, valued at $19,200 together with some other papers in the depot. Hank Pearson and Fred Woodson he describes as being present when he left his valise, and on going back to the depot in a few minutes the valise and boys were both gone. Last night he came down and recognized Pearson as one of the boys and through the assistance of Marshal Archer caused his arrest. Woodson is in South Omaha. Pearson cannot give a good account of himself and tells several conflicting stories. Mr. Daugherty will be down tonight and the matter will be sifted to the bottom.

Jan. R. Cathey returned today from Burt county where he has been visiting relatives and viewing the country.

A number of young folks went to Rock Creek Christmas eve, to take in the sights of the Christmas tree given at their church.

Miss Tillie Gopen closed our school Wednesday evening until Monday morning to spend Christmas with her friends at home.

Charles Jeffers of Nantasket Buffalo county, but formerly of this place, is visiting his sisters and old friends in this neighborhood.

Miss Cora, daughter of S. M. Davis, has returned from Shenandoah Iowa, where she is attending school, to spend vacation at home among her young friends.

R. Morrow is diligently hunting a post master; he has a nice residence with a good house, barn and other necessary improvements to rent to any person who will locate here and keep the post office.

Rev. J. A. Davis was very much surprised on Christmas morning when going into his barn to find old Santa Claus has been there and left him a beautiful pony for a Christmas present, as yet he has not learned who the santa clause is.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Morrow gave a party at their home on Christmas night in honor of their eldest daughter's birthday. Over thirty of their young friends were in attendance. They spent the night in pleasant social amusement until late in the morning when they returned home, all happy and well satisfied it is the pleasantest party of the season. They will long remember the kindness and generosity of their host and hostess and wish Miss Morrow's birthday would come oftener than once a year. P. ANBY.

WAR AT LAST.

Full Details of a Bloody Battle With the Sioux. Three Soldiers Killed and Twenty-five Wounded.

CAMP ON WOUNDED KNEE CREEK, S. D., Dec. 29 (via Rushville, Neb.)—[Special telegram to the Bee.]—The remaining four troops of the Seventh cavalry arrived from Pine Ridge agency at 9 o'clock last night.

At 8 this morning General Forsythe issued orders to have the 150 male Indians who had been taken prisoners called from their tepees, saying he wanted to talk to them. They obeyed slowly and sullenly and ranged in a semi-circle in front of the tent where Big Foot, their chief, lay sick with pneumonia. By twenties they were ordered to give up their arms. The first twenty went to their tents and came back with only two guns.

This irritated Major Whiteside who was superintending this part of the work. After a hasty consultation with General Forsythe he gave the orders for the cavalrymen who were all dismounted and formed in almost a square about twenty-five paces back, to close in. They did so and took a stand within twenty feet of the Indians now in their center. When this was done a detachment of cavalrymen afoot was sent to search the tepees.

About sixty guns were found, but while this work was going on the warriors held an incantation pow wow. The tepees having been gone through, an order was given to search the warriors. All thought of any trouble was evidently wholly out of mind with the soldiers.

About a dozen of the warriors had been searched, when, like a flash, all the rest of them jerked guns from under their blankets and began pouring bullets into the ranks of the soldiers, who, a few minutes before, had moved up within almost gun length. Those Indians who had no guns rushed on the soldiers with tomahawk in one hand and scalping knife in the other. It was a frightful rush.

With General Forsythe and Major Whiteside, I stood, when the firing started, within touching distance of the treacherous devils. The only thing that saved us from death was that the Indians had their backs turned to us when they began firing.

Their first volley was almost as one man, so that they must have fired a hundred shots before the soldiers fired one.

But how they were slaughtered after their first volley!

Some, however, succeeded in getting through the lines and away to the hills to the southwest. The firing lasted half an hour and even as I write these words I hear that Hotchkiss is pouring shots into the gullies to the north, where a few of the reds have taken refuge.

The list of killed and wounded soldiers, so far as we can now ascertain, is as follows:

- KILLED. CAPTAIN WALLACE, commander of K troop. PRIVATE COOK, B troop. WOUNDED. FATHER CRAFTS, Catholic priest (mortally). PRIVATE FRANK LEWIS, B troop. PRIVATE STONE and PRIVATE SULLIVAN, K troop. S. P. SUIGER, K troop. CORPORAL CLIFTON, K troop. DAVIS. HAZELWOOD. TOOTHBY. LIEUTENANT GARLINGTON. SERGEANT LOVD. INTERPRETER P. F. WELLS. LIEUTENANT KINZIE. TRUMPETER JAMES CAEDENSON (mortally). SERGEANT CAMELL. PRIVATE ZETTER, A troop. SERGEANT DYER HODUNGAN. GEORGE ELLIOT, K troop. SERGEANT WARD, B troop. SERGEANT HOTCHKISS, K troop (mortally). HIPP A. COOK, I troop. PRIVATE ADAMS, K troop. CORPORAL NEWELL, B troop.

This is only a partial list. There are about a dozen more. One is reported to have been seen lying as if dead, but no more officers are killed, while twenty-five or more are wounded. Many of the wounded will die. Captain Wallace was tomahawked squarely in the forehead.

Lieutenant Kinzie received but a slight wound in the cord of his ankle.

At Pine Ridge.

PINE RIDGE, S. D.—When the news of the fight and its result reached the agency, pandemonium broke loose amongst the 5,000 Indians gathered there and a large number of these broke away. Loyal friendly Indians, including Red Cloud, joined the army forces under General Brooke and took their stations behind our ramparts.

At sundown fighting had commenced within three miles of the agency buildings and a determined effort was being made by the rebels to reach and burn the agency. An Indian village of friendlies, in plain sight of the agency, was seen to go up in flames just before dark.

Special dispatches have been sent to warn the settlers everywhere to be on guard.

The captain of the Rushville home guards was given official notice from the agency this afternoon to make every possible preparation for defending the town, and to see that adjacent settlers are notified. Already terrified people are arriving, and before midnight Rushville will be crowded.

It is thought by all cooler heads that no danger, however, or at least no immediate danger, threatens the railroad towns.

A later dispatch says: "General Brooke reports that two shots were fired near the agency, Pine Ridge, by some one later in the day, and several were fired in return. Quite a large number of Two Strike's band ran away and all at the agency are generally excited. All this makes matters look more serious."

The Elmwood Echo says Wm. Dallas of that place is going in partnership with the new county attorney, H. D. Travis. Success to the new firm.

Mrs. Ellen Stafford, sister of D. A. Young and Mrs. Henry Beck, came in this morning from her home at Clarinda, Iowa.

A BARE DISEASE.

On Limb 5 Years. Bedridden 3 Years. Doctors and Medicines Useless. Feared Amputation.

I must write and tell you of the success I have had in using the CUTICURA. I have been troubled for nearly five years with skin disease in the right limb, and all the doctors in this city could do nothing for it. I tried everything, until at last I thought I should have to have the limb amputated at the knee. I was called to twice the natural size, and it was so badly hobbled around on crutches. I was in the house, part of the time bedridden, for three years, and could not get out of the house in the winter. I saw the CUTICURA advertisement, and as a last resort tried it. I used two bottles of the CUTICURA, and to my surprise, my limb is as natural as could possibly be under any circumstances. It is a most wonderful cure. I had given up hopes of ever being well again. If this will benefit you, you are welcome to use it to the best advantage. Any one not crediting this can find me by addressing me at the above named city. Mrs. HARRIET STICKLER, Iowa City, Ia.
