

Commissioner Trietsch is all right as to citizenship, and will take his seat as a full fledged county commissioner next Thursday.

Deputy Sheriff John Tighe had a long ride serving papers Saturday. He was seventeen miles southwest of Weeping Water, on the county line.

The post office at this place has been placed on the money order list, and will commence the issue of money orders and postal notes on Monday, 5th.—Union Adger.

An old marriage record was found in the county judge's office when the judge went to move, which shows that L. G. Todd, on the 20th day of May, 1855, married the first couple that were ever married in Cass county.

The lumber firm of Richey Bros has dissolved by mutual consent. F. M. Richey succeeding to his Bros interests and will run the business alone, while J. G. Richey will devote his time to the interests of his gas and electric light plant.

"The Oxfords" is the hightoned title of a new dancing club which was organized in this city a few evenings ago with an active membership of nearly thirty of our best young men. Tom Mullen, is president and Henry Tartsch is secretary and Treasurer of the new organization.

An attache of the HERALD had a pleasant chat with Buffalo Bill in Omaha this morning. The old indian fighter seems to be greatly alarmed over the outlook for a bloody indian war. He thinks the settlers in the Northwest are in danger and leaves for Rushville today where he will look after the protection of the civilians.

Mrs. George Longenhagen went up to Louisville the other day, and notwithstanding the county seat boom that was enjoyed up the river, she sold two Plattsmouth lots, the party agreeing to move down and build a house on the lots in the spring. This knocks another name off of the petition and brings as another citizen.

A. Bird, formerly of the Plattsmouth Canning Company, but now, of the Salem Oregon Canning Company, is in Omaha today, on his way to Fremont. He says Oregon is a better fruit country than California, but he did not say how it was on "tomatoes" and "corn." Fred Gorder can tell more about that than Bird.

County Court.

In the matter of the estate of Katherine Baier, deceased. Hearing on petition for appointment of Oswald Baier, administrator. Prayer of petition granted and appointment made.

In the matter of the estate of Peter D. Hathaway, deceased. Hearing on claims. Decree for payment except as to claim of Wm. Stottler, contested. Hearing on this continued until February 16, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Licenses to wed issued to Mr. George M. Minford and Miss Lela Mutz, both of Manley.

Water.

Consumers of city water may be expected to get shut off at any time. The river has fallen so low, partly on account of the continued drouth, but largely on account of ice gorges above, that only by the most careful and economical usage can we be able to get water to use. The company is working day and night to lower their pipe line and to control the channel of the Platte, that seems destined to slip away from them. We hope after a few days that they will succeed in their plans, so as to once more furnish plenty of what the books call protoxyde of hydrogen.

District Court.

For lack of space we were unable to give District Court filings Saturday, which are as follows: Geo. E. Dovey vs. the city, is a suit for $2,000 damages claimed to have been sustained by the vacation of some parts of streets in Orchard Hill. Also another case of like import is filed by Wilfred Crowthers, wherein he claims a damage of $500. Eason & Root appear for the plaintiffs, and C. S. Polk for the city. Mary C. Leach, wife of John Leach, the painter, sues Claus Speck & Gustave Lau and their bondsmen, Philip Trietsch, John Baek, Jacob Luft, Wm. Puls, Peter Pitz and Henry Englekmeier for $11,500 as damages sustained by her on account of the defendants wrongfully selling liquor to her husband.

Nebraska Coal.

Good news of the Bancroft coal find in northeastern Nebraska continues to come in. A press telegram yesterday from Sioux City says:

"There is no mistaking the fact that coal in paying quantities has been found on the Winnebago reservation, about 8 miles from this city. The find is on the farm of a man named Mack. The first vein is four feet thick and fifty-six feet below the surface. At an additional depth of forty feet is another vein between four and five feet thick, and still another vein below this between six and eight feet in depth. Mr. Mack will immediately commence sinking a shaft large enough to ascertain positively the value of his find."

THE END IS NOT YET.

Preparations Continue Unabated for the Vigorous Prosecution of the Indian War—Nebraska Soldiers to the Front.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., (via Rushville, Neb.) Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Lieutenant H. C. Squires has arrived from Leavenworth, and will have charge of the ill fated troop of the Seventh cavalry, he being absent from his company during the fight on Wounded Knee. He was at Leavenworth attending an examination for promotion. In estimating the strength of the Indians yesterday the Indian agents gave the number as being about 4,000, 2,200 belonging to this agency, about 1,200 from Rosebud, and the remainder gathered from every agency in both the Dakotas. This is considered a very reliable statement, as the count is made up by the absence of issue checks due on ration day. Some Brule Indians were in the Indian camp here last night seeking to stir up dissension and have them join the hostiles. Considerable anxiety is felt regarding these so-called friendly Indians. In the hour of danger it is almost certain they would turn and fight the soldiers or burn the agency. The latter is the thing most feared, and as every night pass the apprehension increases, the Indians being camped only thirteen miles from this place on White Clay creek.

General Miles expressed himself last evening as not doubting his ability to whip the Indians in a fight with all the troops, but what he most feared was his inability to capture them all by moving the troops in upon them from all sides. They would break through the lines in small bands and would ravage and plunder the whole country. Orders from Washington are to seek any means to avoid a war, or rather to get them in here peacefully, as they are in a hostile attitude now.

Doctors of the army are coming here daily from all parts of the country to give the wounded the very best of care, which they certainly do receive. The following is a list of those now present at Pine Ridge: Dr. Riche, Omaha, medical director; Dr. Hartsoff, Omaha; Dr. Huff, Omaha; Dr. Ewing, St. Louis; Dr. E. F. Gardner, Buffalo, Ft. Porter; Dr. Ives, Dr. W. H. Gardner, Angost Island, Cal.; Dr. Everetts, Davids Island, N. Y.; Dr. Landerate, Oswego, N. Y.; Dr. Cylburn, West Point, N. Y.; Dr. Gibson, New Haven; Dr. Bradley, Omaha; Dr. Glennan, Ft. Riley, a total of thirteen.

In compliance with an order issued by General Miles on yesterday the following wounded were this morning sent to Rushville in ambulances for transportation to their various destinations, all being sent under the care of Dr. Glennan, U. S. A., assisted by privates Goodwin and Kuhn, of the hospital corps, Seventh cavalry. The following were sent to Ft. Riley, Kas.; H. L. Hawthorn, Lieutenant Second artillery; J. B. Mann, Lieutenant K troop, Seventh cavalry; General Ernest Gastington, Lieutenant A troop, Seventh cavalry; Quartermaster-sergeant Campbell, Seventh cavalry; Private Duncan McMahan, troop D, Seventh cavalry; Private Nider, A troop, Seventh cavalry; Sergeants Ward and Twohey, B troop, Seventh cavalry; Privates Louis and McKinzie, B troop; Clausen, Green, Schiever and Kern, D troop; Sergeant Trittle, E troop; Howard, I troop; Rayner, Corporal Chifton, Privates Smith and Vooer, K troop, Seventh cavalry. Sent to Ft. Omaha: John Kinzie, Lieutenant Seventh infantry, Privates Hahn, Horen, Greener, company B, Corporal Boyle and Private Cowley, company G, Second infantry. Sent to Ft. Robinson: Private Jackson, company I, Ninth cavalry; Private Irving, company K, Ninth cavalry. The ambulances were guarded by Rushville by Lieutenant Rice and a detachment of the Seventh cavalry. Frederic Remington, the artist for various magazines, arrived yesterday and is busily engaged in his work.

Reported Battle Near Gordon. GORDON, NEB., Jan. 4.—A battle is now raging about ten miles northeast of this place. The booming of cannon is distinctly heard. Everybody is under arms and the wildest excitement exists. A company of state troops was expected to arrive last night.

A special from Pine Ridge says: Two troops of the Ninth cavalry and two of the Eighth infantry reached the battle field at Wounded Knee Friday afternoon. They are on the way to this place from the Rosebud agency, but will camp at Wounded Knee for a couple of days to protect a burial party that left the post yesterday morning. The Indians will be buried at government expense in a long trench.

Company H. Under Arms. NELSON, NEB., Jan. 4.—[Special.] Company H, N. N. G., received orders today to go to Rushville via Lincoln on the morning train from General Colby. Capt H. W. Short is in Lincoln and will take charge of the company. Much excitement exists over the prospects of the boys having to fight Indians, but all are in good spirits.

COMPANY D READY.

BEATRICE, NEB., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Company C, first regiment Nebraska national guards here received orders this evening to go to the front tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. The company will be escorted to the depot by the members of Rollins post G. A. R.

FAIRBURY, NEB., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Company C has been ordered to Rushville by the first train. Every member is ready and Colonel Bills accompanies them.

The Nebraska City papers have built several cut-offs from that "village" to Ashland that did not materialize as far as the general public could understand the matter. The Press is at it again and may make a success of the project this time. We clip the following: The Burlington and Missouri has placed several cars of ties near the Burlington depot at the foot of Sixth street which will be used for building the Nebraska City-Ashland cut off. The cut off from the east and south to Omaha by way of Ashland has long been agitated but it was generally believed that the scheme had fallen through until a few days ago when the company began to unload ties in this city. The work of building the cutoff will probably not begin until spring but has the distance from Nebraska City to Ashland is but twenty five miles it not take long to build the road.

A. C. Loder was detained at home today.

Commissioner's Proceedings.

The following is a report of the expenditures for the year 1890, by Cass county, as prepared by the commissioners. Court expenses, including petit juries, grand juries, witness fees in all courts, in delinquent cases, attorney fees in delinquent cases, boarding jurors during the time they are out on rations where they are not allowed to separate, jailer's fees, including holding prisoners, sheriff's fees, health's fees during terms of court, etc. $566 67 Poor, including poor house, clothing and groceries for poor, county physician's salary, transportation of pauper, etc. 5019 41 County printing and stationery, which includes all books, blanks, records, advertising delinquent tax list, court dockets, etc. 2977 14 Salaries for assessing the county. 2532 28 County clerk, including the tax list salary and expenses. 1840 16 Commissioners, including their per diem, livery hire, etc. 1261 33 Superintendent, including salary and expenses. 1272 60 County attorney, salary, and rent. 1100 00 Rent on court house. 720 00 Repair of offices, including jail. 962 85 Insane costs. 447 64 Fuel, including lighting. 447 15 Rent of court room for district court. 400 00 Water for jail and county court house. 84 25 Livery hire for transportation of poor to and from poor house. 57 50 Telephone rental and telegraphing. 126 75 Overseeing the Louisville bridge. 125 00 County survey work. 25 00 U. S. A. agent's report with. 73 60 Bridges, including contract bridges, filling, and material furnished to road districts, for 1890. 11276 60 Roads, which includes appropriation for grading, road viewers, etc. 2866 21

This makes a total expenditure of $38,632.38 for the year 1890, not including the B. & M. bonds, which was $28,000, and besides the amount of money used in the different road districts, which is directly under the jurisdiction of the overseers.

BIRD CRITCHFIELD, County Clerk.

Noah Clemmons, of Rock Bluffs, made the HERALD a pleasant call today.

A New Year's Feast for the Boys.

New Year's day was a gala day for the boys of the city. As was previously announced, the Boys' Branch of the Y. M. C. A. treated them to a sumptuous feast that they will not soon forget.

At 12 o'clock dinner was ready and it lasted until about three. About eighty boys were fed from the well laden tables and it was a sight worth witnessing to look in upon them as they enjoyed the well prepared dinner. A better behaved company of boys would be hard to find. The work of soliciting for the dinner was done entirely by the boys of the branch, but on the day of the feast they were ably assisted by a number of ladies, who worked untiringly to make the affair a success.

The members of the branch desire to extend their thanks to the ladies who kindly assisted them by donations of provisions and desire especially to thank Mr. M. B. Murphy for courtesies in helping provide ware for the table and Mr. John Waterman for lumber for tables. They also desire to make special mention of Mrs. Wash Smith, Mrs. M. Waybright, Miss Della Steinmker, Misses Maggie and May Berry, Mrs. Dr. Schildknecht, Mrs. A. F. Groom, Mrs. M. D. Polk and Miss Myrtle Purdy, who helped prepare the tables and waited on the boys. It was a good beginning for the boys for the new year and they hope to be able to do many kindnesses during the year for the boys who are not so favorably situated.

George Mattison one of South Bend's prosperous citizens made the HERALD a pleasant call Saturday, and exchanged a few new stories with the base ball editor of this organ. George recently spent five weeks at his old home in Vermont which seems to have agreed with him immensely, and notwithstanding the fact that he came to Nebraska in 1856, and has resided here ever since, he seems to think very kindly of the rock-ribbed hills in the old Green Mountain state.

At Monmouth, Ill., on Dec. 29th, Rev. G. R. Murray to Mrs. Agnes C. Blair, Rev. W. T. Campbell officiating. The bride is a handsome and intelligent lady of Monmouth, greatly beloved for her many graces and kindly disposition. The groom, Rev. G. R. Murray, is well and favorably known here, having made his home south of this city for many years, where he filled the pulpit of the United Presbyterian church. Mr. Murray's host of friends here will be glad to learn of his good fortune in selecting so capable a helpmeet. Mr. and Mrs. Murray will visit relatives and friends at Chicago and Pittsburg before they go to their future home in Washington county, Pennsylvania.

Legislature. LINCOLN, NEB., Jan. 6.—[Special to the HERALD.]—The house and senate organized today at 1 p. m. The alliance has three majority in the house and two in the senate. They are electing all of the officers.

Poynter is elected president of the senate, C. H. Pirtle, secretary; S. M. Elder, of Clay, will be speaker of the house and Eric Johnson chief clerk.

Perfectly Lovely. Was the immense expression of the grown up folks who looked in upon the fancy dress party at Mrs. George Dovey's last night. Over fifty children ranging in years from 6 to 9 were present, nearly all of whom were in costume.

It was the occasion of Ethel Dovey's eighth birthday and right well did she and her little friends enjoy the occasion which will be cherished by them as the most delightful evening they ever experienced. Miss Grant played the piano for the grand march which the older guests say was to cunning for anything, after which they recited articles appropriate to their costumes and then Mr. Dawson, who is a prince of entertainers, for grown people made himself equally agreeable to the young folks, singing some songs that made the youngsters fairly wild with laughter.

The next on the program was a toothsome repast which the guests of the evening enjoyed as heartily as the games and pastimes which preceded it.

Our list of adjectives would be exhausted in a moment were we to attempt a correct description of the costumes worn by all. Miss Ethel Dovey, the hostess, was dressed as lady Washington in a cream colored satin and looked very matronly; Clerchen Herrmann, as a girl of the 16th century, in a pink silk costume was real pretty; Little Miss Waugh as Miss Muffit with a big spider on her left arm was very cute in a pink costume.

Alice Dovey as little Bopeep, in a pink quilted satin and pale blue silk gown, and Elizabeth Dovey as Red Riding Hood were indeed beautiful. Gretel Waugh, as "Daisy" with a wreath of daisies about her pretty costume looked sweet enough for a pink. Claire, Hazel and Ione Dovey were dressed as three old maids, while Florence Dovey made a real cute looking gypsy. Kittie Agnew was dressed as a flower girl, and Edith Snyder in white and purple made a pretty personification of the pansy. Lena Fricke as little Bopeep and Janette Palmer and Minnie Guthman as nurse girls with their long dresses and lace caps were cute. Master Charley Patterson represented a Scotchman. Master Earl Clark, Wade Waugh and Fred Fricke were all dressed as George Washington. Jimmie Windham represented a hunter of olden times; he wore a green suit and high besyer hat, and Arthur Craig as a jockey with his cap and whip filled the bill exactly. Ralph White as Lord Fauntleroy, Hilt Wescott as Hamlet, Miss Clara Drummond was dressed as a fashionable young lady of the 19th century, and Miss Anna O'Rourke as a fashionable young lady of the 16th century. John O'Rourke as a Chinese Mandarin filled his character to perfection. Don Atwood represented a minstrel and accompanied his brother Call Atwood who was dressed as a dude. Mamie Rankin represented night. Roy Patterson and Percy Agnew were dressed as pages.

There were so many that we cannot give a full description and therefore we are compelled to leave out a number who really deserve mention. Don Atwood during the evening performed a number of tricks which furnished considerable amusement. Following is a list of the little ones present.

Don and Callie Atwood, Hermia, Wade and Josie Windham, Gertrude and Florence Waugh, Fred Hawksworth, Clare, Hazel and Ione Dovey, Ethel and Willie Worth, Ralph White, Kittie Agnew, Robert and Isabella Ballou, Oakley Polk, Clara Drummond, Bertha White, Charley and Henry Guthman, May Leonard, Verna Cole, Jimmie Archer and Jimmie Hunt, and a number of others whose names we were unable to obtain.

Considerable discussion is being had on the street today relative to the citizenship of Jacob Trietsch, our county commissioner elect. It is said that Mr. Trietsch is in the same category with James E. Boyd, and like him, and for the same reason is not a citizen.

Cough-Cures

Are abundant; but the one best known for its extraordinary anodyne and expectorant qualities is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For nearly half a century this preparation has been in greater demand than any other remedy for colds, coughs, bronchitis, and pulmonary complaints in general.

"I suffered for more than eight months from a severe cough accompanied with hemorrhage of the lungs and the expectoration of matter. The physicians gave me up, but my druggist prevailed on me to try

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

I did so, and soon began to improve; my lungs healed, the cough ceased, and I became stouter and healthier than I have ever been before. I would suggest that the name of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral be changed to Elixir of Life, for it certainly saved my life."

—F. J. Olden, Salto, Buenos Ayres. "A few years ago I took a very bad cold, which settled on my lungs. I had night sweats, a racking cough, and great soreness. My doctor's medicine did me no good. I tried many remedies, but received no benefit; everybody despaired of my recovery. I was advised to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, as a last resort, did so. From the first dose I obtained relief, and, after using two bottles of it, was completely restored to health."—F. Adams, New Orleans, N. J.
