W. H. CUSHING, County Treasurer,

WRIT OF QUO WARRANTO.

Governor Thayer's Application is Received.

BOYD RECOGNIZED BY THE COURT

Mr. Boyd Cited to Appear and Show by What Warrant He Claims to Be Governor.

Interest in the gubernatorial contest between Messrs. Boyd and Thayer was revived yesterday by the action of the supreme court upon Governor Thayer's application for permission to file an information in quo warranto. It will be remembered that the information of Governor Thayer was offered last Saturday, and the supreme court asked until Tuesday to decide whether or not the issuance of a writ as prayed would afford any relief to John M. Thayer, and whether, therefore, he had any right in the matter. When court opened yesterday the court room was filled to hear the decision, which was as follows:

"State of Nebraska, ex rel. John M. Thayer vs. James E. Boyd. Last Friday morning application was made to file an information in quo warranto against James E. Boyd. We have been given but little opportunity of consultation and consideration of this matter, but as time is passing and these matters are of great importance to the parties in court as well as to the people generally, we have concluded, as a mere matter of form and proceeding, and as a matter of notice, as well as of jurisdiction, to indicate that a summons may be issued returnable according to the statutes governing the issuance of summons in the district court here.

And we have determined in consultation that I should say that if it should appear at any time in the course of these proceedings that the person who was elected lieutenant-governor at the last election should desire to intervene in this proceeding, in view of a decision in a certain way as to the eligibility of the present incumbent of the executive office, that the court will allow such intervention.

And, furthermore, while it may seem somewhat out of place that what I am about to say should come from this place, yet, we have deemed it advisable that it should be said, that during the pendency of these proceedings, so far as the matter may ever be decided by this court, unless we should be advised differently from what we now are—that the relator will lose nothing by a quiet and orderly submission to the present order of things growing out of the recognition of James E. Boyd as the legal governor, as now recognized by this court and all departments of the state government."

Died.
John W. Thompson, At his residence on Winterstein Hill at seven o'clock last evening of cancer of the stomach. Deceased leaves a wife and four children, one girl and three boys. Funeral will occur at two o'clock Friday afternoon under the auspices of the G. A. R. and the united lodges A. O. U. W. of this city, at the request of the deceased, who was a member of Eddyville Iowa lodge No 297 A. O. U. W.

A. O. U. W. Meeting.
All members of Lodges Nos. 8, 81 and 84, A. O. U. W., will please meet at the G. A. R. hall, Thursday evening, Jan. 15, to make the necessary arrangements to attend the funeral of our late brother, J. H. Thompson.

LEONARD ANDERSON, PAUL OTTENS, F. H. STEMBER.
The monthly meeting of the fire company was held last night at the council chamber; very little business was transacted outside of dropping delinquent members.

WAR AT OMAHA.

Laporte (Ind.) Herald: "He stood on the bridge at midnight, The wall street wizard, Gould, He locked the U. P. switches, Nor has his anger cooled, The C. R. I. & P. And Milwaukee did not cross, For, 'twas the bridge at midnight, Stood the U. P. 'Boas.'"

It is warm enough for a January thaw but there doesn't seem to be anything frozen.

McConnahie Post No. 45, G. A. R. is requested to meet at the hall this evening to make arrangements for the burial of a comrade. By order of F. A. Bates Com.

Frank Furlong, of Rock Bluffs came in last evening from Valparaiso where he has been taking care of his brother in law Emanuel Glasburs, who had the misfortune to get his arm broken three weeks ago.

The post master usually does a land office business for a few days after payday. On Monday of this week, the money orders which he sold, almost reached $500, saying nothing about postal notes and registered letters.

Elias Grinker, an intelligent German, and brother-in-law of Isaac Nathan, of Geneva, came over from the old country three years ago, leaving a young wife behind, with her parents, to follow. But since, she concluded to remain at the solicitation of her parents, in the mother country, and Mr. Grinker left this morning to join her, stopping in the city over night, the guest of Levi Golding.

It isn't generally understood that Posey Messersmith is a first class farmer, but he is. Last year he raised strawberries that three of them made a pint. His chickens stood square on the ground and eat off the top of a flour barrel, some of them were nearly as large as a sheep. He started in a year ago, raising hogs with one female porker; he has since sold thirteen fat hogs and has eleven good ones on hand ready for market. Who can beat it!

Our accommodating Postmaster H. J. Streight, out of the numerous letters which he receives daily, asking all manner of questions for all sorts of favors, got one last week that he thinks will capture the bakery. Some fellow in Denver asks the P.M. to go out to Mercertown and look at a lot which he designates in the north end of that addition, see how it lays, learn the price of the lot and write the Denverite promptly. All this he asks for, without even enclosing a postage stamp. The gull of that fellow will elect him to congress some day on the democratic ticket.

To Reimburse Old Soldiers.

Representative Kelly, of Kansas, has introduced in the house of representatives a bill to pay Federal soldiers in the late war; the difference between the coin value and face value of the money received by them for their services, and to authorize the secretary of the treasury to issue a sufficient amount of money to meet the reimbursements of the act.

A Double Surprise.

C. E. Twiss is a great fellow for surprises and enjoys himself immensely when the laugh is on the other fellow, last night the tables were turned and he was the victim. It seems that Mr. Twiss was getting up a birthday surprise on his wife for Thursday night and had invited several members of the lodge (L. O. O. F.) up to participate, but they learned that Thursday was the wrong day and that Tuesday night would be the proper time. So Peter Bates unbeknown to Mr. Twiss invited a large party to visit the Twiss mansion in the Third ward for Tuesday night. The party consisted of ninety four people the largest surprise party of the year marched in a body from Mr. Bates house and while Mr. Twiss was at lodge they took Mrs. Twiss by surprise and paralyzed Mr. Twiss a few moments later when he and Peter Bates innocently wandered in. A delightful evening was spent and as a memento of the occasion Mrs. Twiss received a beautiful hanging lamp and Mr. Twiss a nice silk muffler. Mr. Twiss says he did not think they could put up a job on him but while he was chuckling over how he would fool his wife they sprung the trap on him which worked to a nicety.

Bank Elections.

The stockholders of the Citizen's bank met last evening and elected the following officers and directors: Frank Carruth, President; Joseph A. Connor, Vice-President; W. H. Cushing, Cashier.

Directors: Frank Carruth, J. A. Connor, F. R. Guthmann, J. W. Johnson, John O'Keefe, W. D. Merriam, William Wetenkamp and W. H. Cushing.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Cass County the following officers and directors were elected: C. H. Parmele, President; Fred Gorder, Vice President; J. M. Patterson, Cashier; T. M. Patterson, Asst. Cashier. Directors: C. H. Parmele, J. M. Patterson, Fred Gorder, A. A. Smith, R. B. Windham, B. S. Ramsey and T. M. Patterson.

The Modern Woodmen.

The first modern convention of the order of Modern Woodmen for Nebraska convened in Lincoln yesterday and elected the following officers: State consul—W. A. Hosford. State adviser—G. B. Williams. State banker—S. W. Smith. State clerk—C. C. Calkins. State physician—Dr. S. F. Ashby. State escort—S. S. English. State watchman—W. A. Howard. State sentry—D. B. Alexander. Managers—C. C. McNish, A. R. Talbot and J. S. King.

Cass county is recognized in the person of S. S. English of Eagle as State escort. P. J. Hansen jr., was in attendance as delegate from the lodge in this city.

The Lincoln members of the order did themselves proud by tendering a grand banquet which was followed by a terna-chorean pleasure free to all who cared to trip the light fantastic toe to the measures of delightful music.

So far we have had but little real winter weather, very little ice has formed in the river, and the channel is running clear of it at this time. Some complaints are heard against "Old boreas" for his tardiness to supply the ice men with the sparkling August necessity, but there is plenty of time yet for a good ice crop before spring. Last year our ice men did not begin cutting till Jan 18th and got a very good supply of the article.
