Rock Bluffs.

Last Thursday night we had an old-fashioned spelling school at the school house.

Our literary society that meets on Friday nights at the school house is getting to be quite an interesting affair.

In our last letter to the HERALD you made us say bushels when we said pounds, in regard to the amount of oil meal that J. B. Holmes was feeding.

John Churchill has opened up Billy Allen's old blacksmith shop, and is shoeing horses, and doing what other work comes in his way in that line.

Fred Patterson says that we afflicted him one too many in the number of offices he is holding. He says that W. W. Graves was elected road overseer, instead of himself.

Joseph Sanz has lost about eighty head of hogs with the cholera; and J. B. Holmes' hogs, that he shipped in from the west, are dying; also Wm. Holmes' and Robert Fitch's.

Our record shows that the precipitation for 1890 at this place was twenty-one inches of snow, and twenty-five and three fourths inches of rain. This is a great deficiency, for in average growing seasons we have from thirty-five to thirty-eight inches of rain fall.

Rock Creek school district is having its turn at a hitch in the progress of their school. Last Thursday morning the school board dismissed their teacher. The principal ground of complaint was a failure to keep order, and inability or failure to instruct and explain to the scholars that which they ought to know.

Right here we wish to say a word about modern school teaching. Of late years there has been at least five times as much dissatisfaction with school teachers as there was thirty years ago. Then, the poor teachers were the exception; now it is almost the rule, so far as giving good satisfaction. Then, teachers were expected to use the necessary means to maintain good order. And they did it without fear of prosecution from the parents. But the modern idea that a teacher has no authority to compel obedience to rules for good order, is just exactly what ails our schools in that respect. "Spare the rod and spoil the child" can be seen exemplified upon every hand, and especially in our schools.

Thus far the parents of children are too much at fault. But on the other hand, the modern school teacher is fully as much or more at fault. Years ago teachers were expected to instruct and explain to scholars that which they did not know. In short, that was what they were hired for, and they generally did it without thinking it too much work. But this modern normal school notion, that a teacher must not tell scholars anything, but let them study it all out for themselves, is one of the greatest fallacies of the age.—TIM SHAVER.

Scouts From the Red Bands—Big Foot's Wife Dead.

PINE LODGE AGENCY, S. D., Jan 13.—Contrary to the expectations there was no conference between the chiefs of the hostiles and General Miles. The latter said the Indians were still timid and apprehensive of punishment and he proposes to allow a couple of days to elapse before attempting to bring negotiations to a close. Thus far the disposition he has shown to treat the Indians kindly has made for him many warm friends among them. This fact, coupled with the pains which Captain Pierce, the new agent, is taking to show the Indians that everything they are entitled to under the treaty will be issued to them, will undoubtedly have a beneficial effect, at least until the trouble is really over, there is ever present a fear that an injudicious action on the part of someone may precipitate bloodshed.

A member of G company, Second infantry, who came in today with a detachment of the Seventh infantry under Major Egbert, reports that 600 bucks broke away from the hostile camp last night and have been followed by Col. Stanford and Col. Henry. At the headquarters no such report has been received and Assistant Adjutant General Corbin says the rumor was occasioned by the fact that the commands mentioned had left in the direction of Wounded Knee on a scout.

This evening there is no change in the situation. The hostiles are still in camp and the chiefs may come in tomorrow. There is now under discussion the advisability of enlisting scouts for service on the reservation. The agency is now guarded by a force of ninety-one Indian policemen, sixty of whom were enlisted for two months at the time the trouble broke out, in addition to thirty nine men. An offer was made giving them an opportunity of entering with the scouts or entering the police service. In the former their pay is $13 per month with an allowance for horses, bringing the total to $25 per month. This party of scouts will be distinct from the scouts now under the command of Lieutenant Taylor of the Ninth cavalry and who have enlisted since the opening of the campaign. Taylor will endeavor to take his command with him to Fort Robinson at the close of the difficulty and render them a beau ideal troop of irregular cavalry. The Indian police, being assured that they would be given permanent employment, they have to a man decided to become scouts. Big Foot's wife who was injured on Wounded Knee, died last night.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. For sale by F. G. Fricke and O. H. Snyder.

Edwin Stuart.
Edwin Stuart, manager of Stuart's Theatre Co. returned last night from Chicago where he was made a Knight of Pythias by lodge No. 166 of that city. Mr. Stuart's application was presented by Past Chancellor Commander John W. White of Chicago lodge No. 166 and endorsed by the Grand Chancellor of the state of Illinois, Chas. Scherer. These are high testimonials but evidently are deserved. Everywhere that he is known comes the highest praise of Mr. Stuart as a man and manager, possessed of good principles, his name is a byword for truth and honesty in all his dealings. Members of his Theatrical company speak in the most affectionate terms of him, that he will be an honor to the Knights of Pythias lodge to which he belongs is an assured fact.—Menmouth (Ill.) Daily Review, Nov. 21, 1890.

Mr. Stuart was taken quite sick some six weeks ago, during which time he has been absent from the company. He joined them here last Monday evening and is now confined to his room at the Hotel Riley where he will be pleased to meet his K. of P. brethren. The city editor of the HERALD called upon the genial manager and his charming better and expects to be able to come out tonight. The company of which he is the manager and which will appear every night this week is one of the best on the road and is far superior to any troupe that ever played here before at such low prices. Our theatre goers should attend in a body and encourage the opera house manager in his efforts to please the people at prices which should keep no one at home.

The supreme court, by denying a rehearing in the Cass county bond case, effectually settles further litigation on that subject. The county commissioners can now dispose of the bonds and let the contract for building the new court house at any time.

Remarkable Rescue.
Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which acted on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. Her old nurse was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her Druggist suggested Dr. King's new discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this great discovery at F. G. Fricke & Co's Drug Store, rebottles 50c, and $1.

Will you suffer with dyspepsia and liver complaint? Shiloh's vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. For sale by F. G. Fricke and O. H. Snyder.

"Is this the best?" Is a question often asked, when medicine is wanted. The following are a few of the medicines of known reliability, sold by Fricke & Co., druggists of this place. They have many other excellent medicines, but these are worthy of special mention: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of severe colds, and as a preventative for croup. Price 50c per bottle.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm, a general family liniment and especially valuable for rheumatism. Price 50c per bottle.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, the most reliable known medicine for bowel complaints. It is especially prized by persons subject to colic. It has cured many cases of chronic diarrhoea. Price 25c and 50c per bottle.

St. Patrick's Pills, for disorders of the liver and bowels. A vigorous but gentle physic that cleanses and renovates the whole system. Price 25c per box.

Chamberlain's Eye and Skin Ointment for tetter, salt rheum, scald-head, eczema and chronic sore eyes. Price 35c per box.

A Dog's Education.

Given an equal amount of intelligence at the start, a dog which has been well trained is worth twice as much as one untaught. It is as true of dogs as of men. Education counts.

Do not undertake to teach a puppy unless you have a large stock of patience. Unless you can control your temper and be persistent in teaching your best course is to buy a dog already trained.

But if you want real dog love and confidence take the animal in his puppyhood, as soon as he is able to feed himself, and your efforts will be crowned with a greater success than ever comes otherwise. No dog ever loves any one so well as his teacher, who represents to him the wisdom and power of the world. A dog's world, you know, is a very narrow one.

Suppose yourself the owner of a puppy. He is entirely ignorant. "Come here!" "Go there!" mean the same to him, since they mean nothing at all. He must first learn what you want, and there you must give yourself the first lesson in patience.

Begin with, "Come here!" You can make him understand what this means by allowing him to see his food in your hand. Teach him nothing else until he knows perfectly what that means and obeys it.

When he comes to you pat him and pet him. Dogs are much like children, fond of praise and equally fond of their own ways. If you tell your dog to come to you make him do it. If he never disobeys he will never know he can disobey.—Youth's Companion.

Effect of Copper Salts on India Rubber.

In a recent paper Mr. W. Thomson, of Manchester, England, said that it is known that copper salts have a most injurious effect on india rubber, and as copper is sometimes used in dyeing blacks and other colors cloth so dyed is liable to decompose and harden the rubber put into it. A peculiarity investigated by the author is that metallic copper placed in contact with this sheets of india rubber brings oxidation and hardening of its substance, although no appreciable quantity of copper enters the india rubber, while metallic zinc and silver have no injurious effect.

All oils, except castor oil, have a most detrimental effect on india rubber, which can best be kept under water, under glycerine, in coal gas or in a vacuum. The smell of india rubber is one of the characteristics of its decomposition, and it has been noticed that a piece of blotting paper placed over the decaying rubber is colored by certain volatile substances resulting from the oxidation that produces the hardening.—Boston Transcript.

Indian Decorative Art.

When the Sioux go on the warpath in anything like reasonable weather they exercise great economy in dress. They paint their ponies with red and black paint in crosses. They also wear their hair loose and flowing, and put a liberal allowance of red and black paint on their faces. Decorative art prevails largely in their make up. Bugs, reptiles and animals, as nearly as the rudely artistic mind of the Sioux can contrive, are painted on their foreheads and chins, while a cross of red and black paint adorns each cheek.—Donver Republican.

How plain to my mind are the scenes of my childhood,
As my recollection recalls them to view,
The soap-kettle hung on the poles of green basswood;
The Smoke and the Smell that my infancy knew!
But those days of soft and consequent anguish,
