BAD ECZEMA ON BABY
Head One Solid Sore, Itching Awful
Had to Tie His Hands to Cradle.
die. Cured by Cuticura.

Our little boy broke out on his head with a bad form of eczema, when he was four months old. We tried three doctors, but they did not help him. We then used your three CUTICURA Remedies, and after using them six weeks exactly according to directions, he began to steadily improve, and after the use of them for seven months his head was entirely well. When we began using it his head was a solid sore from the crown to his eyebrows. It was all over his ears, most of his face, and small places on different parts of his body. There were sixteen weeks that we had to keep his hands tied to the cradle and hold them when he was taken up; and had to keep mittens tied on his hands to keep his fingers out of the sores, as he would scratch if he could any way get his hands loose. We know your CUTICURA Remedies cured him. We feel safe in recommending them to others.

Sorely Cured.
 I have a sister younger than myself whose whole body was covered with scrofula sores, from head to foot. She could not lie down at night, and had no peace by day. A friend used her to try the CUTICURA Remedies.
 She did so and they cured her.

A STUBBORN FIGHT.
Fifteen Thousand Witness the Ryan-Needham Battle.
IT LASTED FIVE WEARY HOURS, And for Over Seventy Rounds was Simply a Scientific Exhibition—Smashing Began and Needham was Knocked Out in the Seventy-sixth Round.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—The Needham-Ryan prize fight was witnessed by 15,000 people. Ryan weighed in at 139 and Needham at 137½ pounds. Almost the entire city government of Minneapolis was out. Needham first entered the ring at 9:10 and was immediately followed by Ryan. Billy Myers of Stretor and George Siddons seconded Ryan; Needham's was cared for by Australian Smith and Charles Kemmick. The betting was at even money. At 9:30 the fighting commenced. For the first hour no difference was noted other than that Ryan did most of the leading.
 Needham reach seemed short. In the thirty-third round Ryan began getting the best of it, and Needham tried hard to strike a foul blow. In the thirty-fourth it was thought Needham's jaw was broken, but his seconds would not admit it.

When the forty-eighth round was called an offer of $1,000 on Ryan was refused.

At 1 o'clock both men were apparently equal to the same number of rounds over again.

Ryan Made a Rush
 at the opening of the fifty-fifth round, sending Needham to the ropes and then administering a body blow that dazed Needham for a moment. He recovered, sparring followed, and the round that promised warm work, ended tamely. A series of feints at sparring was the record of the fifty-sixth round, and at its conclusion was greeted with a storm of hisses.

"I am sick," said Billy Myers, Ryan's second, as he leaned against the ropes in The United Press corner when time was called for the fifty-seventh round.
 Billy, who has fought many a game battle himself, might well feel nauseated for the round ended amid hisses without a blow being exchanged on either side.
 Both men danced around in the fifty-eighth round. Needham received a body blow as an opening for the fifty-ninth round and returned it with a light delivery right and left. So far

Not a Blow Had Drawn Blood, nor outside of swollen faces had either man received a contusion or a scratch.
 "What are you going to do? keep us here all night?" yelled the spectators. Needham smiled and endeavored to force the fighting but Ryan answered with a retreat, and so the round ended. Needham rushed at Ryan as the 60th opened and planted his big glove on the latter's jaw. A second attempt by Needham was avoided by a clever duck of the head, but no further fighting was done.
 Before the 61st round opened Referee Corbett, who had been watching the fight from a position within ten rounds, he would endeavor to decide it on his merits as it then stood. This was greeted with cheers and cries of "Fight, fight it out!"

The men had now been in the ring four hours and the ammunition was not wasted on the contestants for the moment.
 Needham rushed, but was stopped.
 Soon after he rested his left heavily upon his antagonist's forehead. Ryan then led and counted each time, and the bell stopped action. Opening the sixty-second round, however, Ryan smashed Needham squarely in the mouth, and was answered with a left-hander in the jaw. Both men sparred a moment for wind, and then Ryan received a tremendous punch in the stomach, to which he responded with a right-hander full on his opponent's nose.

Excitement Was Now at Fever Heat.
 In the sixty-third round Ryan opened by landing lightly on Needham's jaw, and cleverly stopped his opponent's return rush. Both men countered on the ropes. Ryan started in with a face blow in the seventy-fourth round and followed it up with a dash, a succession of fouls and terrific mauling. Ryan won first blood. Pursuing his advantage he touched on the nose with the right and gave him a left-hander in the jaw that sent him reeling to the ropes.

Ryan Wins.
 The seventy-fifth round opened with Ryan giving Needham a terrific punch.
 In a clinch which followed, Needham hit Ryan. This was a palpable foul, and another clinch followed, and in this Ryan, acting on the precedent, deliberately fouled Needham. Then followed a succession of clinches and fouls in which the referee interfered time and again. Clinch followed clinch, and the men rained blows on each other in hammer and tongs style. When the gong sounded the gym sium was in a pandemonium. Needham came up groggy in the seventy-sixth round, and which proved to be the last. He started to the centre of the ring, where Ryan led out right and left, sending him reeling to the ropes. His eyes were half closed, and he looked like

A Dying Man Fighting for Life.
 Struggling to the centre of the ring, Needham received a left-hander in the neck which sent him on his back. He struggled to his feet only to receive a right-hander which sent him down again. The third time he came up, and after an ineffectual attempt to deliver a blow, a right-hander in the jaw sent him reeling three feet away. Brave as a fighting-cock, however, he scrambled once more to his feet only to go down once more from a left-hander full in the chest. It was plainly seen that the fight was over. His seconds aided him to his corner. He looked like a man in death's agony. A moment later and the sponge was thrown into the centre of the ring.

Ryan, despite his protest, was mounted on a chair and carried out in triumph.
 The fight ended at 3:35, having lasted five hours and five minutes, and Tommy Ryan is the welter-weight champion of the world.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18.—Edwin S.
 Stuart (Rep.) was elected mayor over Albert H. Ladner (Dem.) by an estimated majority of 40,000.
