

S. of V. Notes.
Thursday's daily.

The camp will give a "Short Notice" social next Monday evening, March 9th, at the home of Lem C. Cooper, second door east of Christian church, between Seventh and Eighth streets. Refreshments will be served in due form at 15 cents for each person or 25 cents per couple. All are cordially invited to attend and make it a grand success. Don't forget the date.

The camp met Tuesday night, with Co. Q. of Nebraska's First Regiment, Col. Lew Ginger in command, as visitors. Camp opened in due form and proceeded with the regular order of business until it came to taking the password and countersign, with Co. Q. in the soup. A recess was then declared, to dispose of Co. Q. which was done after an hour or two, in which time Bro. B. A. Mc. went "out of sight" in several ways, especially when it came to "choose your partners for a waltz." Oh! where, Oh! where was Bert? The echoes answered, "out of sight."

Col. Ginger has fully promised to come to Plattsmouth again in April next and reproduce the "Gypsy Mummy," and also give a regular minstrel in connection with it, in behalf of Capt. H. E. Palmer Camp No. 50. The proceeds of which will go to the camp funds to uniform the camp, in order that they may go to the field encampment at Geneva next June, to take part in the competitive drills; and it is hoped that Plattsmouth's good and generous people will not withhold their assistance in this undertaking of the camp, as this ranks as a "first class" camp in the division.

And what was the matter with the chaplain? He seemed to have been considerably frustrated on account of the manoeuvres of Co. Q. They say he had something the matter with his heart.

Our worthy champion and brother, C. H. Jaquette of Capt. C. N. Baird No. 62, of Weeping Water, was the guest of the camp and gave a very flattering speech in regard to the camp's superiority to other camps he had visited in his travels through the state, and most especially did he commend Capt. Will Ackerman, for the manner in which he maintained order. We are pleased to note further that Mr. Jaquette will at the next meeting be transferred to the camp here, which will be a great help to us in the future.

A Good Change.

Plattsmouth should be congratulated over the fact that Mr. Broatch, one of Omaha's smallest calibred men, has been crowded off of Missouri River Commission, and the genial Dick Berlin been appointed in his stead. Mr. Broatch's hisent of our city in reference to money appropriation has been less than a high handed out-stand and to see so cheap a politician succeeded by an able, fair minded gentleman like Mr. Berlin, on a daily gratifying.

A Farewell Party.

El Cooper, residing in his comfortable home in the Third circuit, has been transferred to the re-assignment of the B. & M. which is in his being compelled to state Lincoln. Wednesday evening two daughters, Jennie and an assisted by Mrs. Cooper, entertained a company of their young friends at a sort of good-bye meeting and their departure for their home.

A delicious repast was pleasantly discussed, bested, high five and other when they indulged in until it is the case say good night. All "Velvet" pleased with the event, but sorry to yield an absence of their genial by all. wheat is sent were Mattie Smith, vicinity yet, Annie Sullivan, Mollie going home Mathews, Alice Murray, Lottie Cooper, Jennie Cooper, Alice Eikenbary, Rose Hyers, Tom Pfeiderer, Tom Miller, Mr. Howe, France Ballance, Robert Hayes, Gus Hyers, Charlie Sullivan, Henry Snyder, Mr. Collidge, Oliver Young, Gayle Sullivan.

Boyd Will Go.

The hearing in the Boyd contest case at Lincoln yesterday practically settles the fact that James E. Boyd will have to retire from the governorship. His attorney, John D. Howe, of Omaha, one of the ablest lawyers in the state, begs the question in his argument and tries to defend Boyd on the ground that he should not be unseated on a mere technicality, although the constitution is plain and clear on the topic of citizenship, he thinks Boyd's mistake should not be counted against him. No denial was made or attempted on behalf of the governor as to the citizenship question. The point for the court to decide is as to whether the governor to be is Thayer or Majors, and we would guess every time, if we had a thousand guesses, that Thomas J. Majors will very soon be the governor of Nebraska.

The Latest News From Lincoln. LINCOLN, Neb., March 5.—[Special to the HERALD.]—The supreme court this morning overruled the motion of Boyd's attorneys to dismiss the contest, and ordered them to answer by Tuesday next.

Died.

John Beverage, an old citizen of this county, and brother of Washington and Charles Beverage, died at the home of William Snyder, about five miles southwest of this city, this morning at 1 o'clock. Mr. Beverage was a single man, about 41 years of age; the cause of his death was probably an accident which he received in Omaha while working at the U. P. shops about two years ago, that injured his head. The deceased was highly respected and beloved by a large circle of friends. The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2 o'clock from the United Brethren church, south of town, the interment taking place at the Eikenbary cemetery. The funeral will be in charge of the Masonic fraternity from this city.

District Court.

James N. Drake vs the village of Louisville. Jury waived, case tried to court and taken under advisement.

Maurice O'Rourke sr. vs Wm. Wettenkamp. Suit for damages on trial to-day to a jury.

John C. Peterson vs Anhauser-Busch Brewing Association. One hundred two dollars and fifty cents claimed as damages to ice house from water from defendants building. After proceeding with the trial for some time plaintiff was allowed to withdraw a juror and have case continued generally by paying one days' attendance of jury. The plaintiff was given thirty days in which to amend his petition. The peculiar proceedings was on account of a defective petition which was not discovered until the trial was half over.

A. E. Alexander vs Wm. H. Shafer. Motion to modify injunction sustained to the extent that sale may take place and money be paid into court to abide the final disposition of plaintiff's claim for lien.

The court room has not been changed any since the Grand Army occupied it a few weeks ago. Judge Chapman presides with becoming dignity under a canopy of flags, while hundreds of yards of bunting in the national colors hangs in festoons from the walls and stretches across the room, caught up by the chandeliers, which are gay in a bright dress of red, white and blue.

Expressman Isaac Dunn is delivering Samuel Cooper's goods at the depot to-day preparatory to shipment to Lincoln. Plattsmouth loses an excellent citizen in the person of Mr. Cooper.

Colonel Morris Crisman, one of the main spokes in the HERALD wheel left last evening for Weeping Water where he will take a prominent part in a Y. M. C. A. convention now in session at that place.

Wahoo has been selected by the agricultural department as a government beet sugar experiment station. Since Cass was left out, we are fortunate in having a station near us, if any of our people care to try raising a few sugar beets.

Mrs. Spurlock is in Lincoln to-day meeting with the other members of the Women's Home Missionary Society. Mrs. Bishop Newman and Mrs. Clark, of Cincinnati, are members of the executive committee and are expected to take part in the meeting.

Dr. Black's wife arrived yesterday from the east and is stopping for the present at the Perkins House. As soon as Baxter Smith gets moved and the house can be furnished, the recently purchased South Park mansion will be occupied by the doctor and his new made bride.

M. L. Thomas, late of the Cass County Independent in this city, has bought an interest in the Lincoln Independent, which paper will hereafter be in the hands of Messrs. Knowles, Thomas & Huckins. Thomas is a republican and Huckins is a very loud mouthed democrat; between them an independent may have a fair show.

Mr. Sitzman has the name of punishing his boys with great severity, which explained the rapid manner young Sitzman was flying up the track and across onto the sand bar with his irate father in hot pursuit this morning. The boy was too rapid for the parent, yet the pursuit was kept up for two miles, as far as they could be seen up the river.

A large number of Nebraska grain men had samples of seed grain on exhibition yesterday with their bids for supplying seed to the drouth sufferers, but the passage of the bill was delayed and it was necessary to delay the opening of bids until 2 p. m. today. Our Col. Connor was among the number and if the colonel gets left it will be his first experience in that line.

Governor Boyd yesterday signed the Australian ballot bill and the one establishing a state institution at Geneva for the feminine juvenile delinquents.

William Johns, of Hamilton, Iowa, blew out the gas on retiring and came very near never getting up again. He was evidently not related to our Jim Johns.

George Ferguson, one of the best B. & M. boys on the road, has been promoted to the main line, which necessitated his removal to Lincoln. We are sorry to see him go.

W. A. Davis, formerly of this city, writes his brother, Frank Davis, that he is delighted with his new home near Los Angeles, California, and really regrets that he did not move to the land of flowers sooner.

The Cullom Cornet Band will have a big supper at the old Concord school house on the evening of March 21, for the benefit of the band boys. A large crowd will be in attendance and a good time is guaranteed.

The reserved seat sale for Effie Ellsler next Saturday night is now open and you can have your choice in seats without any advance in prices. Go and secure them early and see a fine performance. Prices, 75, 50 and 35 cents.

Information has been received at the office of the chief clerk of the railway mails that J. L. Polk, of Greenwood, has been appointed to run as postal clerk between Missouri Valley and Long Pine, and that F. A. Harrison, of Omaha, has been appointed to run between Omaha and Ogden.—Omaha Bee.

B. A. Gibson was in the city last night and returned home on the belated train this morning. Mr. Gibson's friends here were sorry to note the fact that rheumatism had almost made a wreck of his formerly fine constitution. He has visited all the health resorts, but is unable to find anything that will help him.

Granulated sugar for April delivery is quoted in the New York wholesale markets at 4 1/2 cents per pound. This will be a grateful reduction to western consumers, but without assistance how much land would be devoted to the raising of sugar beets in Nebraska with sugar at that price? The farmers would have to go back to corn and wheat.

Colonel Vanatta Surprised, From Friday's Daily.

Colonel S. P. Vanatta was sixty years old yesterday, and we do ourselves no violence in saying he will long remember his sixty-first birthday. Mr. Vanatta had been coaxed into a game of high five down town, and when he came home he was surprised beyond measure at the company which greeted him at the door.

His pleasant home on Fourth street had been suddenly invaded by a company of Odd Fellows and other friends determined upon having a pleasant evening, and they were not disappointed.

Mr. C. W. Sherman in a happy speech eulogized the host in well chosen terms, and presented him on behalf of his friends in remembrance of his sixty-first birthday, a handsome gold lined silver cup and saucer. Colonel Vanatta feelingly responded, saying among other things that he was combative and did not mind a fight but that kindness overwhelmed him, and he could hardly find words to express his sincere thanks for the beautiful token of friendship which he had just received. A splendid repast was served, after which social converse ruled the hour until time to retire, when each guest said good night and wished the genial host and his kindly wife many happy birthday anniversaries. Those present were R. Peterson, wife and daughter, T. E. Williams and wife, E. G. Vanatta and wife, C. W. Sherman, I. Pearlman and wife, Peter Bates and wife, L. E. Karnes and wife, Sol Osborn, C. S. Twiss and wife, John Corey and the Missis Ollie Boyd and Belle Vermilyea.

The injunction failed to injure.

Mrs. Wescott is in receipt of a letter from her husband announcing the safe removal of her niece, Mrs. Bruisic from her temporary quarters near the scene of the Pan Handle wreck at Hagerstown, Indiana. President Miller of the Pennsylvania Central railway kindly tendered the use of his private car which was much more comfortable than a common sleeper. Mrs. Bruisic's husband is now with her and although severely cut on the right and left side of her head, her lungs crushed, and bruised otherwise, she is recovering nicely.

To read the Auburn, Nebraska City, Union and Plattsmouth papers we are led to believe that the M. P. is going to build round houses and machine shops at all of them, and one instance is recorded where a farmer close to the latter place is going to have them on his farm.—Weeping Water Eagle.

Died.

Yesterday at 3 o'clock, Laura Stull, of congestive chills, aged six years. The funeral will take place tomorrow from the Christian church at 1 o'clock, Elder Reid officiating. The deceased was a sister of Wm. and George Stull and Mrs. J. E. Bruhl. She was making her home with her uncle, Mr. Fred Gardner. Father of deceased was Mr. Wm. Stull, and is somewhere in the east.

Amenities of Journalism.

The Union Ledger devoted a column of its valuable space to this paper in a recent issue. After the editor of that paper had written it and read it he no doubt saw that there was neither sense nor truth in the who's galley, and he became ashamed of it, and rather than to own it signed it "Fair Play," and said the writer did not live in Union, neither was he a Christian. The latter has our indorsement. We have no room for such a senseless article and will not stoop to reply.—Weeping Water Republican.

The Missouri Pacific.

The Weeping Water papers and some of the parties getting signers to county seat petition have represented that the Plattsmouth extension would not be built this year, if at all. The following letter from the general manager to Mr. Ballou, which we are kindly permitted to print, settles this matter beyond further question. The letter reads as follows:

THE M. P. RAILWAY CO., EXECUTIVE DEPT., S. H. H. CLARK, First V-P and Gen. Man.

ST. LOUIS, March 3, 1891.

O. H. BALLOU, Esq., Plattsmouth, Nebr.,

My Dear Sir:—Replying to your letter dated March 1, referring to finishing the Plattsmouth extension, allow me to say, it is the intention of this company to complete same at the earliest practicable moment, beginning as soon as condition of road bed and weather will permit. Material for this extension is already purchased, and will be delivered as rapidly as situation warrants. We have never had any intention of abandoning the Plattsmouth extension, but on the contrary intend to push it to final completion.

The citizens of Plattsmouth, and others tributary to the new line, need have no fears upon this subject.

Yours Truly, S. H. H. CLARK, First Vice Pres.

Mr. Parker Entertained.

Quite a company of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. O. Parker met at their home two miles south of town last night and celebrated the anniversary of Mr. Parker's 47th birthday in a fitting manner. After a nice social time with singing of Grand Army songs and telling war stories, all were seated to a splendid supper, to which ample justice was done. The commander of the Post sang the "Kansas Jayhawker," and they say he practiced their old tactics by putting everything eatable out of sight as fast as he could get to it, except his coffee, which had been salted by some one who feared he was eating too much. After a jolly time as only the old boys who wore the blue know how to have, the party broke up with hearty best wishes for their genial host and hostess.

Our Colonel Sherman of the Plattsmouth Journal gazed inspiringly at a band of blanketed Kickapoo Indians at the depot the other morning, and a bright light stole gently over his smiling countenance as he leaned up against the lunch counter and remarked that a man would be mighty lo that would kick a poo Indian. The crowd in waiting groaned audibly, and Ticket Agent Latham who is ever on the alert after the comforts of the public, came out to admonish the colonel that if he inflicted another like that on the people who were going to travel over the great Burlington Route, he might have a personal assault case to write up. The Journal man took the hint, slipped out at the door and quietly relieved his mind by kicking a stray dog that happened near.

The first creditable mention of Senator Thomas in the Journal, of this city, we noticed in last night's paper. It was written by a correspondent and reads as follows:

Senator Thomas is a clear-headed, conscientious member who knows what is right, and is ready to push forward the wheels of progress and make his county and state the best and most progressive commonwealth in the Union. Had the senate a majority of such men as Samuel Thomas, Nebraska would be at least fifty per cent better off than she now is, and instead of being the laughing stock, as she is today, by the eastern people, would be looked upon as the brightest star in the sisterhood of states.
