Good News!

No one, who is willing to adopt the right course, need be long afflicted with boils, carbuncles, pimples, or other cutaneous eruptions.
These are the results of Nature's efforts to expel poisonous and effete matter from the blood, and show plainly that the system is riding itself through the skin of impurities which it was the legitimate work of the liver and kidneys to remove. To restore these organs to their proper functions, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the medicine required.
That no other blood-purifier can compare with it, thousands testify who have gained

Freedom

from the tyranny of depraved blood by the use of this medicine.
For nine years I was afflicted with a skin disease that did not yield to any remedy until a friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. With the use of this medicine the complaint disappeared. It is my belief that no other blood medicine could have effected so rapid and complete a cure.—Andres D. Garcia, C. Victoria, Tamalulpa, Mexico.
"My face, for years, was covered with pimples and humors, for which I could find no remedy till I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Three bottles of this great blood medicine effected a thorough cure. I confidently recommend it to all suffering from similar troubles."—M. Parker, Concord, Vt.

Self Acting Paper Cutter.

A Calcutta newspaper relates an incident which illustrates the magnificent power of the rajahs of India—or at least those of them who remain opulent and powerful—repay a small debt. Not long ago the Rajah Holkar, of Indore, in paying a visit to the viceroy, the Marquis of Lansdowne, at Calcutta, was shown by the marquis several of the London illustrated newspapers. Enticing the leaves of these journals, Lord Lansdowne used an ivory paper cutter.
The rajah had never seen a paper cutter before and was much interested in the little instrument.

"If your excellency will make me a present of it," he said, "I will send you another in exchange."
The viceroy promptly gave his guest the paper cutter, and the rajah returned with it to his own dominions.

Lord Lansdowne had almost forgotten the incident when he received notice that the rajah's return gift was on the way, and he was presently astonished to have brought to him a young and handsome elephant, each of whose tusks had been skillfully wrought into the shape of a paper cutter.

A servant brought some illustrated newspapers, at which the elephant seized with his trunk and proceeded very skillfully to cut the leaves with his tusks trimmed thus. He had been taught to do this accomplishment under the rajah's orders.

The ivory paper cutter, it is understood, is still in Lord Lansdowne's possession, but it is not one of the ordinary furnishings of the viceroy's library. For his customary opening of books and newspapers he keeps a less bulky implement.—Youth's Companion.

Why Russia Persecutes the Jews.
The principal grounds upon which the Russian justifies the persecution of his Hebrew brother are as follows. He asserts: First—That the Jews are too rapacious and too successful in getting money and property away from the surrounding Christians. Second—That they hold themselves as a class apart from the rest of the community. Third—That they furnish many of the leading millions and mischief makers. Fourth—That they even serve in the army and do not assume patriotic Res-tions.

The first accusation may be ignored, as it amounts simply to saying that the Jew is shrewder and more intelligent than his neighbors of other races. As to the Jew's refusal to mingle more freely with his neighbors of different creeds, and in other words, to associate with the population, it cannot be said that he has not received many warm invitations to do anything of the kind. He has been chased like a beast of prey for centuries, and now he is asked why he does not like his persecutors.

The charge of selfishness is perfectly true, to the extent that the Jews naturally furnish their proportionate quota to the millionaires who have the courage to act. But that the Jews among the millionaires exceed their proper proportion to the whole population is denied by many trustworthy writers. The charge that the Jew evades army service is disproved by official statistics.—P. G.
Hubert, Jr., in Forum.

Her Royal Sweetness.
To be called Her Royal Highness is the destiny of every woman born to wear a crown, but it remains for one woman among all the royal families to have the endearing title of Her Royal Sweetness given to her, and that honor belongs to Alexandra, Princess of Wales.
She has that marvelous art of making goodness seem attractive; of making the right act the pleasant one and of impressing upon all who know her the knowledge that to do good is to have a pleasant time, and not to do it is to miss some of the pleasure of life.

Many princesses have been written about as having been beautiful, as having caused great wars, as having done great deeds of valor, of having made men die for them and kingdoms quarrel over them, but of none of them can it be said, as it is of this gracious lady, that the whole world bows down before sweetness and goodness, that peace has been the watchword of her life, and not only does she value peace, but those loving sisters, Faith, Hope and Charity, abide with her.—Lady Elizabeth Hilary in Ladies' Home Journal.

Easter Eggs.
The egg is the sign of the resurrection, which the Easter festival commemorates.
The Jews place it on the Passover table, thereby indicating that their race is to be resurrected. The Persians and Druids both used it in their religious ceremonies, and not only the Russian, but the Mohammedan, on the early Easter morning gives the greeting, "Christ is risen," and the reply, "Christ is risen indeed," is followed by an exchange of eggs, and the egg is as well a feature in all the old Eastern legends, many of which are too improbable to even bear the semblance of truth; others might be true, inasmuch as truth is oftentimes stranger than fiction.—Emma J. Gray in Good Housekeeping.

Just Like a Girl.
Agnes, aged 4, called at an uptown grocery store the other day. "I want a tick of gum," she announced. After getting the desired article she remarked that she hadn't "any penny." "How do you expect to pay for your gum?" queried the vender of delicacies. "Well," announced the youthful philosopher, "I will give you a kiss." The kiss was taken, but Agnes staid, and finally, flushed with success, she made another offer: "My cousin Ethel would like a tick, and I'll give you another kiss for it." Both girls chewed that afternoon.

Hard to Choose.
Mrs. Bargain—What are you worrying about this morning?
Mr. Bargain—I need some new clothes and a new watch, and I can't make up my mind whether to get the clothes at a shop where they give away watches, or to buy the watch at a shop where they give away clothes.—London Tit-Bits.

Remarkable

Heart disease is usually supposed to be incurable, but when properly treated a large portion of cases can be cured. Thus Mrs. Elizabeth Francis, of Elkhart, Ind., and Mrs. M. J.
Baker, of David, Mich., were cured after suffering 30 years. Dr. C. G. Linsburger, druggist at San Jose, Ill., says that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure which cured the former, worked wonders for his wife. Love Logan, of Buchanan, Mich., who had heart disease for 30 years, says two bottles made him "feel like a new man." Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold

Some years ago Chamberlain & Co., of Des Moines, Iowa, came near the manufacture of a cough syrup, believing it to be the most prompt and reliable preparacome a popular. Their most sanguine hopes have been more than realized.

A National Event.
The holding of the World's Fair in a city scarcely fifty years old will be a remarkable event, but whether it will really benefit this nation as much as the discovery of the Restorative Nervine by Dr.
Franklin Miles is doubtful. This is just what the American physicians to cure their excessive nervousness, dyspepsia, headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, nervous debility, dullness, confusion of mind, etc.
It acts like a charm. Trial

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "—Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me no hope, and I could do but a few things. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all the bottles, it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at F. G. Fricke & Co.'s drug store, regular size 50c. and $1.00.

The following advertisement, published by a prominent western patent medicine house, would indicate that they regard disease as a punishment for sin:
"—Do you wish to know the quickest way to cure a cold quickly. We will tell you. To cure a cold quickly, it must be treated before the cold has become settled in the system. This can always be done if you choose to, as nature in her kindness to man gives timely warning and plainly tells you in nature's way that as a punishment for some indiscretion, you are to be afflicted with a cold unless you choose to ward it off by prompt action. The first symptoms of a cold, in most cases, is a dry, loud cough and sneezing. The cough is soon followed by a profuse watery expectoration and the sneezing by a profuse watery discharge from the nose. In severe cases there is a thin white coating on the tongue. What to do? It is only necessary to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in double doses every hour. That will greatly lessen the severity of the cold and in most cases will effectually counteract it, and cure what would have been a severe cold in one or two days' time. Try it and be convinced." 50 cent bottles for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co., druggists.

Epilepsy.
This is what you ought to have, in fact you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon.
And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you good digestion and oust the demon dispepsia and install instead epilepsy.
We recommend Electric Bitters for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, liver, stomach and kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by F. G.
Fricke & Co.'s drug store.

A Fatal Mistake.
Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease" which may be had free of F. G. Fricke & Co., and guaranteed to recommend Dr.
Miles' unequalled new Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain or tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, dropsy, etc. His Restorative Nervine cures headache, fits, etc.

A Faithful Love.

They relate to us from Bologna and Mer, in France, a remarkable incident of fidelity. A Danish princess, one of those fairy beauties of the north who seem to draw their peculiar charm from their immediate splendor of their countenance, one of those Olga-like, with limpid eyes as the blue crystal of the Scandinavian lakes, had a friend, faithful, devoted, loving, patient, whom she had deserted in a moment of forgetfulness. Leaving suddenly, when ascending the outside bridge to the steamer, she forgot her friend, the most faithful companion of her youth, a splendid black dog, with beautiful dark shining hair; from that time the poor animal, standing erect over the waves, the moths, bark, furiously after the waves, jumping joyously as soon as can be perceived after the smoking shaft of a steamer, which he always thinks will bring back his mis-beloved owner.

He is always waiting, hopeful and above all true and faithful, though consolation and petted by the gloved hand of the beautiful and romantic English misses who give him sweet names, calling him "Oh, you dear, faithful friend, See-tay." And over there, afar, afar in the north, the very Scandinavian folks some inexplicable want. "Something is missing to her; she does not know what it is; it is the immemorial secret of the faithful companion deserted afar.—Baltimore American Subscription or Super-subscribed.

Many are the pitfalls which lie in the path of the man who sits down to a bill in a case recently tried in a probate court. The witnesses were in the usual words to have "hereto signed their names," but it happened that these witnesses' signatures were written in the margin and somewhat higher than these attesting words.
Hence arose the grave question: Could a signature be said to be subscribed when, strictly speaking, it was super-subscribed?
It is easy to conceive a judge of rigidly logical tendencies who would have declared that there had been in this case no proper attestation.

Fortunately Sir C. Parker Butt, fortified by a decision of Lord Campbell, declared that, though it might seem a strange interpretation to put upon the word "subscribe" to hold that writing the witness' names above the testator's signature in the margins was a compliance with the act, yet in the eye of the law the word "subscribe" "simply means signing the name without any reference to its position on the document."—London News.

Boston's Fast Speaking Preacher.

Two hundred and forty words a minute, four words every second, is a rate of speed which seems almost beyond the power of articulation, yet that was the measure of the torrent of eloquent exposition and appeal poured forth in St.
Paul's church Monday by the Rev. Dr.
Phillips Brooks. Try to equal it reading from a printed page in a conversational tone, and then imagine the immense increased difficulty of the task in a large church, before a great congregation, and without the guidance even of a written note. The business men, for whom the service was especially designed, had been assured that the discourse would be short, and so it was in time, for it was finished in twenty-five minutes, but the report made by two stenographic reporters covered 6,000 words and gave the extraordinary averages with which this paragraph opens.— Boston Journal.

Novel Bird Story.

When Mr. Andrew Young returned from Alaska last fall he went out to his ranch on Young's river to dig his potatoes. Passing a hollow tree he noticed several bushels already gathered. He looked around the patch, but saw no signs of anyone having disturbed the ground, and to solve the mystery watched the tree. He was soon rewarded by seeing a flock of bluejays alight on the tree, and each bird had a potato in its bill, which was dropped into an opening in a limb and passed on down to the ground.
He propped sacks, and as fast as one was filled another was put at the place, and in this way the birds harvested fifty bushels of potatoes for him from various patches around the country.—Astoria (Ore.) Express.

A Muskrat Trap.

Jim Candee, an old Lyme trapper, has caught an unprecedented number of muskrats this year. He sinks a half barrel near the runs of the rats to the level of the ground, half fills it with water, and then on floating pieces of boards in the tub places small pieces of carrots.
When the muskrat jumps in after the bait he can't get out, and he leaves the trap set for another victim. Mr. Candee has caught as many as six rats in a single barrel in one night.—Hartford Times.

Waked from His Winter's Sleep.

A Ledyard boy on Monday discovered a woodchuck in a heap of leaves in an old tree and pulled him out. He was curled up, with both forepaws pressed closely over his eyes. When his paws were pulled off his eyes he did not open them, but yawned and gaped as a heavy sleeper might be expected to do. The animal could not be aroused from his dormant condition until he had been in a warm room for several hours.—New London Telegraph.

A Homekeeping Youth.

Mr. David Hembree, Jr., son of Mr.
David R. Hembree, of Crossville District, Millen county, is 18 years old, and has lived all his life within four miles of the Chattahoochee, but has never seen the river. He is the best working boy in the district, and has all his life staid at home and worked.—Alpharetta (Ga.) Free Press.

In Rome the Easter eggs are taken to the parish priest, who blesses and sprinkles them with holy water, and the nuns afterward paint and sell them. They must be placed on the table with the flowers and other decorations, and eaten as the first course for the Easter dinner.

ASTORIA, ORE., THE EX-...

The fact that we know each other very well is the reason of the charm of a certain American club. It gives an idea of this place to say that people find themselves neglecting their business in order to get there in time for luncheon. It is not that the company is so unusual.
There are, no doubt, attractive men, full of interesting knowledge; there is plenty of good talk. But it is not enough that the talk should be good; the men must be seen and heard through an atmosphere of friendship. Some of the nicest men choose to say very little; but these are men in whom, in the course of daily acquaintance, you learn to discover very charming qualities and friendly dispositions.

Possibly everybody is not charming.
Perhaps there is even a bore or two; but bore are very human, and, to my thinking, rather cozy. There is a gentleman who tells over the same story, but nobody minds it as much as he would if he knew, and he doesn't. Even the gentleman who is always talking about his health performs a beneficial office; he insinuates into the minds of his auditors an impression that life is valuable.—E. S. Nadal in Scribner's.

Bargain Counter Reported.

An early morning customer in a big retail dry goods shop is apt to hear some quaint talk among the clerks, who amuse themselves by chaffing one another while waiting for the active trade of the day to begin. In an up town shop the other morning a customer heard the following dialogue:
"Say, fanny?" from the ribbon counter.
"What is it, ribbons?" from the fan counter.
"Why is it that you are so unpopular with the ladies?"
"Give it up."
"Because in cold weather they don't fan—see, you?"
"Say, ribbons, why is your trade like that of a granger?"
"Why is it?"
"Because so much of it is gros grain."
—New York Times.

He Takes the Cake for Economy.

There is a farmer in Wrighton township who will perhaps in time get rich, as he is economy and watchfulness personified. He engaged a girl to assist in the house at stated wages, nearly a year later, he had a bill against her of a little more than $2 for loss of time for "gaping" at the cars as they went to and fro. It seems that after the construction train got to running she would go every time it passed to the door, look at it, throw up her hands and apron and laugh so pleased at the sight. This loss of time was charged against her in their settlement. Long headed man, that.—Doyle'stown Democrat.

Kept His Appointment.

Mrs. Blifkins (time midnight)—Horrors!
Husband! husband! I hear some one burrowing through the wall.
Mr. Blifkins—Well, well! It must be that book agent. I knew we'd all be in-bed by 11 o'clock, and I told him to call at half-past.—Good News.
