How does the democratic organ like Boyd's veto of the rate bill personification of all that was good in modern democracy. Has he turned traitor, or is the party made up of that kind of stuff? The demo cratic platform demanded the enactment of just such a law as the Newberry rate bill, but the executor of the late democratic party has seen fit to consider that part of the platform as buncomb and acts accordingly.

PERHAPS Boyd is not a citizen after all.-World-Herald.

CASS and Sarpy are to have one senator. Cass is to have two representatives, and Cass and Otoe one representative, according to the apportionment bill which was recommended to pass in the house vesterday. There is no doubt but this bill will become a law.

CHRYSALIS is the name of a nea and handy publication from the hands of County Superintent Noble, in relation to the schools and school work in this county. The paper of four pages contains many items of interest, which we will take pleasure in clipping.

WHEN Congressman bought sugar at a reduced price yesterday a big lump of sorrow lodged in his throat and his voice was choked with emotion. It was the saddest moment of his life. He wants everything to be high while the McKinley bill is in force. -State Journal.

AT A late hour last evening Captain Phelps Paine was discovered attempting to start a daily newspaper on O street in front of the postoffice. He was overpowered after a desperate struggle, and the number of evening papers remains at five. It is feared that several more attempts in the same line may be made today. The police should be unusually vigilant.-State Journal.

THE condition of affairs in the coke regions of Pennsylvania is such as to command the attention of the entire country. Twelve hundred strikers-Poles and Hungarians-undertook to capture the Moorewood works and were opposed by an armed guard which shot down six of the strikers and fatally wounded many others. The strikers cry out for vengeance and more trouble is anticipated.

THE Italian war cloud still appears upon the horizon, but will probably be dispelled in a few days. Telegrams from Rome are of a more pacific nature, while the last Jetter of Premier Blaine to the Italian charge d'affaires clearly shows there is no cause whatever for hostilities on the part of King Humbert. Mr. Blaine's clear headed and firm manner of dealing with the question has compelled even rabid democrats to praise his wisdom and statesmanship.

For standing up for his own country against the British the democrats and mugwumps have president, has no business in the democratic party. He belongs natu- lady of refinement. sally to the republican organization. Mr. Phelps should, of course, have aworn that Lord Salisbury and the Canadian seal poachers are right, and that President Harrison and Secretary Blaine are wrong about The matter of the Behring sea Asheries.—State Journal.

Four paper mills in different sections of the country that have been long idle will soon be started up and a new mill will be erected in Pennsylvania. The industry is enjoying continued prosperity and we learn of no idle mills. Men on the road report a steady demand for all grades and the products of the factories are well sold up.

The steel industry is fairly prosperous and the Edgar Thompson works at Pittsburgh have resumed with an increased capacity of about 40 per cent. Boston Commercial Bulletin, March 21.

MAJOR MCKINLEY is now in great demand as an orator. The people are beginning to understand the extent to which they were imposed upon by the importers' ring which made them believe last fall that the McKinley bill would raise prices, Some people can be deceived all the time, and all the people can be deceived sometime, but all the people cannot be deceived all the time. McKinley has his turn now, the people having discovered that they were greatly fooled last fall.-Inter MISSOURI received more than $600,000 by the refunding of the direct tax, and the legislature turned thought theirs was not the corporathe whole bundle over to the state university. The direct tax refunding bill is one of the extravagances of the Fifty-first congress that democratic orators in Missouri are not likely to dwell upon at any great length. The fact that Missouri has been so liberal with its university, means one of two things-that the legislature is afraid of the democratic state treasurer or else the state is going republican.

Why should I want to sacrifice all these present blessings and associations

THE World-Herald, which championed Boyd's election last fall with a zeal fully equal to that of Traitor Rosewater, has evidently soured on the only democratic governor we ever had, or ever expect to have The democratic organ this morning says editorially:

"Boyd's veto is the most foolish thing he ever did. His veto message is the weakest public document he ever wrote.

"His motives need not be impugned. He is honest as the madman is honest. He is brave as the suicide is brave. He has faced the public opinion of a great state, and in full view of the people has taken his own life-politically.

"* * * We have said Boyd's message is weak-it is puerile Every objection he states against the Newberry bill has been met and answered. Granting the accuracy of his statistics and truth of his premises his conclusions are forced and false.

"* * * He is a fallen idol, a dead leader, a blasted hope.

GOVERNOR BOYD'S veto of the maximum rate bill meets with much opposition among the rank and file of the democratic cohorts, who had really been imposed upon to the extent that they honestly tion party. They had listened to the buncomb speeches of Bryan and other railroad attorneys, condemning corporate power, until they believed the speakers were in earnest; and now that the mask has been withdrawn and the party leaders and managers are shown in their true light the rank and file see that they have been duped. They have been played for suckers, and a flattering degree of success has attended the effort. Now that the true status of the democratic party is known we shall await with pleasure the action of these gentlemen who condemn Mr. Boyd. Will they act as they talk or will they continue to rake chestnuts for the conscienceless moguls of the party. that dictate its platforms and sells out the principles to which they are so solemnly pledged.

GOVERNOR BOYD TO HIMSELF FRIDAY MORNING.

To sign or not to sign-that's the question! Whether better to please the independents by signing this (abortion) my death roll; or to stick by those who bled and died for me, and thus earn the curses of the great "reformers"-or better still by opposing all, and signing nothing, I can worry through the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune and leave the supreme court in the lurch instead 'o Boyd. Ye gods, what 'tis to be a goverWONDERFUL TROUSERS.

ers from bagging has for a long time recurred to my mind and pressed for solution. I have tried the various devices advertised for cure or for prevention. I have consulted my fashionable friends, and even the tailors, fondly hoping they could be induced to give themselves

Some of my friends have solved the problem by hanging up in their wardneover enables them to put on a fresh pair morning, noon and night.

Now, my friends and employers estimate my brain power and business qualleations very nearly as highly as I do. Infortunately, they do not attribute to them a very high exchangeable cash

The important thing, therefore, for me seemed to be to discover a way of making one pair of tronsers last 365 days withous bagging.

Fortunately, I have a practical knowl dge of mechanics, and am of an inventive turn of mind. I have spent the savings of all my past life in patenting car couplers, motors a la Keely, and flying machines which very nearly succeeded in flying. My necessity hatched a new

I went to one of the most skillful and artistic tailors on the Bowery and told him what I wanted, and at the same time warned him that I had a patent on My idea was to get some of the cement which enables a broken plate to support a ton of cobble stones and a sheet of the genuine, old fashioned gum-such as the old fashioned gum shoes were made ofand paste back of the knee an oblong piece, wide enough and long enough to cover all that part of the trousers which generally bags. The tailor entered into my idea enthusiastically. He offered to buy the patent outright for twenty dollars, and to give me a royalty of five cents a pair on the first hundred pairs which should be sold. I refused his magnanimous offer, and am "holding for a

He thought that if a little elasticity was a good thing a great deal more would be better. I think he must have masted inside those tronsers the soles of | Hand. is grandmother's gum shoes.

The first time I went out with those trousers on strangers accosted me, and said they should not have known that I and no legs from my walk if they had not been informed that I was a Grand Army man and had had both less shot if at the battle of Antietam. The cause of their delusion was that as I lifted each oot from the ground the leg from the tnee suddenly snapped forward.

On the way home from business I went into the M. A. C. gymnasium. I had no ime to put on my gymnasium tights, and contented myself with taking off coat, est, collar and cuffs. I started in for a run. My friends and the director thought showed poor judgment in starting at uch a pace. Some of the crack runners were on the track, and at the outset I almost equaled their fastest spurts.

But, great Scott, how they were dumounded when I spurted! They said I got around the track at such a rate of peed that I was only visible as a coninuous curve, diabolic rather than parapolic. I felt that if I ran my fastest igain I should need a pedometer with an ir brake attachment. The swift way in which my feet glided forward and the extent of their reach were especially admired. A crack oarsman's "recovery," hey said, was nothing in comparison.

I jumped the high jump. In fact, if I tooped down suddenly, I felt obliged to ump up straight into the air several eet. I broke the records and left the pieces far behind me in "high" and bread" jumping, I smashed the lifting machine, and in short did actonishing feats in all that grade of work where the action of the knees comes into play. I was heralded far and wide as a new and marvelous sprinter and jumper.

And, best of all, my trousers now never bag. They keep their virgin form as long as they hold together.-New York Herald.

How He Got Off. One night Brown came home very late and found his wife evidently prepared to administer a Caudle lecture. Instead of going to bed he took a seat, and resting his elbows on his knees, seemed bsorbed in grief, sighing heavily and ... tering such exclamations as "Poor Smith, poor fellow!" Mrs. Brown, moved by curiosity, said sharply, "What's the matter with "Ah," said Brown, "his wife is giving him fits just now." Mrs. Brown let her husband off that time.-Exchange.

Reptiles With 2,000 Teeth. Many herbivorous reptiles of the mesozoic period had enormously long hind egs, on sich they were able to wade far out into the deep water after sea weeds and other food. These creatures were particularly extraordinary in point of their dental equipment, inasmuch as each of them had about 2,000 grinders to chew with, arranged in magazines of 500 each like cartridges.-Interview in Washing-

The Points of a Boarhound. The boarhound is, like many other dogs, of high temper and courage, but quiet when its natural game is out of view. FOR DYSPEPSIA,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is an effective remedy, as numerous testimonials conclusively prove. "For two years I was a constant sufferer from dyspepsia and liver complaint. I doctored a long time and the medicines prescribed, in nearly every case, only aggravated the disease. An apothecary advised me to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I did so, and was cured at a cost of $5. Since that time it has been my family medicine, and sickness has become a stranger to our household. I believe it to be the best medicine on earth." -P. F. McNulty, Hackman, 29 Summer st., Lowell, Mass.

FOR DEBILITY, Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is a certain cure, when the complaint originates in impoverished blood. "I was a great sufferer from a low condition of the blood and general debility, becoming finally, so reduced that I was unfit for work. Nothing that I did for the complaint helped me so much as Ayer's Sarsaparilla, a few bottles of which restored me to health and strength. I take every opportunity to recommend this medicine in similar cases." - C. Evick, 14 E. Main st., Chillicothe, Ohio.
