Bilistine Burglarized
Richard Billstine proprietor of the meat market in the Neville block on Sixth street was the latest victim of burglars last night. Entrance was effected sometime during the night after half past ten o'clock by tearing a wire screen off the frame in a rear window.

Mr. Billstine was at his place of business about six o'clock and soon noticed his losses, which consisted of about ten gallons of lard, several boxes of sardines, mustard pickles and some hams.

He also noticed that an attempt had been made to open his safe which had proved futile. He was informed by a neighbor that a package of what looked like meat was laying out back near the smoke house. On investigation the package proved to be one of meat which Mr. Billstine had given to Tom Henderson about nine o'clock last evening. Following up the clue Mr. Billstine had a search warrant issued and Henderson was arrested up town, on his way home he confessed the crime and gave up all the goods which could be found. As only about half that was taken has been recovered the idea seems prevalent that he had a partner in the job though he denies having an accessory in any way and claims that he has returned all the goods that were taken. He now languishes in jail awaiting a preliminary hearing. The officers have searched several places but nothing further has yet been found.

Henderson is a stout, hearty appearing man, and three or four years ago was working here for the company. He afterwards was made section foreman at Genoa on the B. & N., but being of a quarrelsome disposition and somewhat addicted to drink he got into trouble which finally resulted in his discharge. He then moved back here six or eight months ago and has not been very successful in securing employment or very steady in his habits. His wife is spoken of as being a perfect lady, whose sensitive nature will be severely shocked by this latest escapade of her husband, which will send him to the penitentiary. They have three or four little children. Henderson has always borne a good reputation for integrity, and when the officer asked him what ever possessed him to attempt such a thing he cheerlessly remarked that he had been in hell for the last six months and there could be nothing worse in store for him. The family resides somewhere over about the shops; and kind neighbors should see that they are not in actual want for something to eat.

Col. Robert Brown, the religious end of THE HERALD, came in last evening fresh from the Salvation Army fields where he has been making a full hand. His clerical appearance has been enhanced by a pair of side whiskers, that the girls say are "bloomin' daisies."

Son't villain out west stole a horse, but not content with that he gave his name as Tom Hicks, much to the discomfort of our Tom who is being queered; by the boys asking him what he done with the horse and how he got away. It is needless to say that our Tom Hicks wasn't in it.

Charley Hamilton, the genial brakeman for John Barron, spends his day off at La Platte lately, for his health. He got hung up on the barb wire there the other day and had to call out the town fire brigade and all for assistance before he could get away. You can't be too careful, Charley; us farmers have no use for a railroad man.

The Nonpareil base ball club arrived this morning from Omaha and are stationed to-day at the Hotel Riley. They will play the B. & M. team this afternoon and to-morrow afternoon. Plattsmouth will be able to test her new men Maupin, Dunn and Vaper. The two games will be of unusual interest and we opine will be largely attended.

The non-partisan attorneys of Lancaster county met in convention yesterday. They endorsed the present incumbents, Judges Field, Hall and Tibbets, the two former being republicans and the latter a democrat, and recommended them to the party conventions. Five independents were present and made a vigorous kick because one of the judges was not selected from their number.

Mrs. E. E. Hilton has completed the badges for the Nebraska delegation to the national encampment of the G. A. R. which meets in Detroit the first of August. The badges are all hand-painted, on white satin, no two of which have the same scene. They are all domestic scenes and THE HERALD does not hesitate to say that they will be the finest lot of badges at the encampment.

The telegraph says that Second Comptroller Gilesen has approved bills of the Western Union Telegraph company amounting to $168,000 for service for the United States signal bureau at the rate established by the postmaster-general. The company has notified the secretary of the treasury it will accept payment at the rate named under protest until the question of legality is judicially determined.
