PERSONAL

Mr. Jacob Ryan of Alvo is in the city to-day.
Sol. Osborn is looking after business in Omaha to-day.
Rev. J. M. Woods was a passenger for Lincoln this morning.
Messrs. John Davis and John Orton were passengers for Omaha today.
Mrs. J. W. Bridge departed this morning for a short visit at Peru, Nebr.

A little niece of Mr. R. B. Windham came in on No. 5 for a visit in the city.

Mrs. Chas. Hipp and little boy departed to-day for Hemmingford to visit relatives a few days.

Mrs. Belle Mason was a passenger this morning for Nebraska City on a visit to friends.

The Misses Mamie Shepherd and Winnie Hall were passengers this morning for Omaha to visit relatives for a week.

What did you say? I said that Gering & Co's soda water and frosted cream are out of sight.

Passengers for Omaha were conspicuous for their absence this morning.

County Surveyor Burke, of Perkins county, came in to-day to call on Henry Pearson, a former acquaintance.

Two more gentlemen boarders can be accommodated at 604 Main street opposite Riley Hotel. Terms reasonable. Private family.

Mr. Henry Boeck received a large consignment of handsome organs to-day which he proposes to sell at prices to suit the times.

E. S. Greusel, master mechanic of the B. & M. shops, received this morning a fine electric clock, which will be used by the B. & M. at this place.

If the rain continues the harvest excursionists will have a gloomy introduction to our state. A little less rain and more sunshine might be the choice just now.

John Robbins is preparing to build a new sidewalk in front of his residence on Main street, and the citizens who live west of him are wishing he had it built to-day.

Owing to the inducements offered travelers by the cheap harvest excursion rates it was necessary to run three sections of the No. 5 train this morning to accommodate all the passengers.

W. S. Orendorf, of Canton, Ill., who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. S. J. Brantner, departed this morning for Creston, Iowa, where he will visit a few days and take in the blue grass palace.

The work on the court house is progressing slowly to-day, the rain having stopped the brick laying. In a day or so, the weather being fine, the work will be pushed by Manager Linn.

Thos. Wells of Woodburn, Ia., a cousin of T. B. Brown of this city, came in last night to pay a visit. Mr. Wells attended the exposition at Creston one day and reports a very good display.

Miss Malone, formerly an instructor in the city schools, was called to Lincoln to-day by a telegram announcing the death of Miss Minnie Micklewait of that city, formerly a resident of Plattsmouth.

Rev. J. M. Wood boarded the excursion train this morning, wearing a new silk hat. Precaution should be taken by passengers to "get aboard" before the trains have started, thus preventing all disasters which may result from carelessness.

Mr. W. Husted, formerly a classmate with "ye local", was a pleasant caller at the HERALD sanctum yesterday. Mr. H. though a young man, is one of the progressive Iowa school teachers, and doubtless ere long, judging from his rapid strides in the past, he will take high rank in the teaching profession. Mr. Husted is principal of Schools at Defiance, Iowa.

Mr. David Woodward, of Weeping Water, is in the city to-day. Mr. Woodward will be a candidate before the republican nominating convention as an aspirant to the office of county sheriff. Mr. Woodward has always been a firm believer in the cardinal doctrines of republicanism, is a public spirited citizen, and if nominated by the convention he will doubtless receive the full support of the party in November.

BOUND FOR IOWA.

The Special Train for Creston Passed Through This Morning.

As per announcement the special train enroute for the Creston blue grass palace passed through this morning. Contrary to expectations this city was not represented by the company, but a number of tickets were sold and doubtless the holders will take other trains.

The train was composed of three coaches and one baggage car. The South Omaha car was beautifully and appropriately decorated with flags, bunting and symbols of the packing house industry. The car bore the following inscription: "South Omaha, the magic city of the west; the most wonderful city of its age in the world. Population, 1891, 15,000; twelve schools and fifteen churches."

The other cars were likewise decorated with flags, bunting, hams and buckets of lard, and the following inscription: "The G. H. Hammond Packing Company, the pioneer of South Omaha."

The decorating was done under the direction of Hammond & Co., and doubtless will contribute to the further advertisement of the "Magic City of the West." If the train had been further decorated with some of Cass county's stupendous corn stalks the decoration would have been complete; but as Douglas has no corn to compare with ours, of course, we plainly see why it was missing.

An Adopted American Abroad.

Mr. J. Fred Meyer, editor of the Denison (Ia.) Review, a native of Germany and a politician of reputation, is now in Europe as agent for this government making investigation in regard to labor matters. In a recent letter to his paper he gives an account of a meeting held by waitresses at 2 o'clock in the morning—this being as soon as they were at liberty from work—for the purpose of devising plans to compel the employers to pay them sufficient wages to enable them to live. Mr. Myer assured his readers that the more he saw of the condition of the European laborer, the more firmly convinced he was that America is the laboring man's paradise.

And we may add that such a conclusion is certainly a reasonable one, in view of the great number that forsake home, friends and native country for a strange land. America, in justice to her own people, however, should regulate this immigration, in order that our own people may secure the benefits from our superior advantages.

Resolutions of Respect.

HEADQUARTERS MCCONNIE RELIEF CORPS, PLATTSMOUTH, Aug. 22, 1891.—At a regular meeting of the Corps the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

WHEREAS, Death has visited the family of our Brother and Sister Samuel and Etta Barker and removed from their midst their beloved son, William.

Resolved, That we as a corps extend to the bereaved family our deepest sympathy in this their sad affliction.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, and copies be handed to the daily papers for publication. All of which was respectfully submitted.

Fats vs. Leans.

The game announced to take place at the ball park for to-morrow at 3:30 will probably materialize, the weather being suitable; yet there appears to be some objection on the part of the "Fats" to some of the players that are to help constitute the "Leans." It is argued that a number of them are good ball players and that it is an injustice to force such a nine upon them. It appears to us that this claim is unwarranted, inasmuch as there was no agreement other than that the nine be lean. If the "Fats" have no experienced players it follows that they are, to that extent, a minus quantity. The list of players is as follows:

- | | |
|-----------------|----------------|
| FATS. | LEANS. |
| Mike Murphy | John Simpson |
| W. H. Cushman | Fred Hermann |
| Byron Clark | W. H. Pickens |
| J. M. Patterson | Dr. Livingston |
| Kelly Fox | V. V. Leonard |
| George Poirsall | H. N. Dovey |
| Dave McEntee | Dr. Salisbury |
| H. M. Bona | T. H. Pollock |
| Wm. Weber | R. B. Windham |
| Wm. Neville | Will Streight |
| Jas. Donnelly | S. M. Chapman |
| S. Waugh | Frank Dickson. |

The Glenwood Encampment.

The Twenty-ninth Iowa Infantry opened its annual encampment at Glenwood yesterday as per announcement. The old regimental flag arrived from Des Moines in good season and its presence served to enthrall the old soldiers as of old. Our informant says that only about 140 members of the regiment survive to answer to the roll call this year. Thus year after year the old veterans are being mustered out, and ere long we, the recipients of the fruits of their sacrifices, will be left to enjoy them alone. The reunion closes to-morrow.

Quilting and piecing, comforting and crazy patch work and carpet rag sewing satisfactorily done by Mrs. Vroman, 513 North Sixth street, Plattsmouth, Neb.

Letters received by the Latin American department of the Exposition indicate that Mexican women will take a prominent place at the World's Fair. The country has long been celebrated for the variety of needle-work made by drawing threads from linen, which is so fashionable in newer portions of the world; the making of it is an ancient art in Old Mexico, and exquisite specimens of the lace-like work are to be found in the antique altarcloths of the ruined missions. The women also do curious and beautiful embroidery in silver and gold for the sombrero, without which no Mexican horseman is perfectly equipped. Toluca women make by hand a particular kind of durable and pretty lace.

An Enjoyable Time.

Yesterday's occurrences will undoubtedly be remembered and cherished in the minds of many of the members and attendants of the Methodist Sunday School. It had all been arranged and a host of people, numbering about eighty or ninety and ranging in age from two to seventy-five years, repaired with well filled baskets to "Fitz's Forty" to enjoy a days outing, and from all reports their object was fully realized. At about 10:30 a very interesting program was rendered consisting of music and recitations. Then at 12 o'clock dinner was served—the board being spread with all the delicacies of the season—which was participated in and enjoyed by all, especially the superintendant. The day was spent most pleasantly by all and the evening of Aug. 25 closed one of the most successful and enjoyable days of the season. Many of the teachers and pupils of the school were away and missed the good time. We bespeak for the school a pleasant and profitable year in its more substantial phases of their work.

Our prices are very low on wall paper as we wish to close out our stock. Anyone wanting wall paper should take advantage of these prices. W. BROWN & BARRETT.

The Gladiators Win.

The game announced to take place at the ball park yesterday afternoon was called at 4:15. There were a goodly number of spectators and quite a lively interest was manifested. While the boys, as a whole, played very well, it was soon evident that the Gladiators would carry away the belt. The HERALD reporter attempted to keep track of the errors but, as we had no contract we concluded to step aside. The score stood as follows: Gladiators 13, Picked Nine 3.

JOE, the Leading Clothier, will have his grand fall opening in day time so his former friends and patrons can attend.

An exchange says that a lot of leading Boston women have formed an alliance and propose to inaugurate a dress reform. They have agreed that on a certain day they will all appear on the streets in a costume suitable for wet weather. This will consist of a dress a trifle shorter than is commonly worn, so that it will not trail in the mud. Such will be vastly more in accord with good sense than tramping on their dresses and wiping their feet on the lace trimming. Wonder when this new style will strike Plattsmouth!

A well loaded harvest excursion train passed through the city this morning, drawn by engine number 272 which was very beautifully and appropriately decorated. The excursionists will take in the points of interest in the west.
