Morris reports that the picture, in size and beauty of architecture, surpasses all former attempts, but the interior decoration in many respects are inferior to those of former times.

A fine band rendered excellent music, fine races were to be seen, a creditable industrial exhibition was given, which taken with the oratorical efforts of statesmen of national reputation, and sermons by the most eminent divines to be found in the country, furnished entertainment and profitable instruction for all.

The Grand Island Reunion

The thirteenth annual reunion of the Nebraska Veterans will be held in Grand Island this week, commencing today. The details are all arranged and from reports we learn that no pains are being spared to insure the old soldiers a pleasant time, and provide for the entertainment of all who come. Plattsmouth will be well represented at the gathering.

J. E. Marshall, who lives about four miles southwest of Plattsmouth, will leave next Friday for the state fair at Lincoln with a car load of Poland China hogs and will no doubt bring home the best premium for Cass county.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Wood, whose marriage was recently noted by THE HERALD, departed this morning for Hastings, Iowa, to remain a few days. They will soon locate permanently at Thachersville, at which place Mr. Wood has a position in the public schools.

From Tuesday's Daily

A Pleasant Surprise.

A pleasant social event, the remembrance of which will be cherished by all present, was a surprise tea party given at the residence of Mrs. Chaplain Wright, North Eighth street, yesterday, in honor of Mrs. W's. seventy-third birthday.

The project was devised and details arranged by Mesdames Atwood, Wise and Root and they received substantial encouragement from about thirty ladies, who, with baskets filled with all the delicacies of the season, repaired to the home of Mrs. Wright, and after taking full possession proceeded to make ready an elegant repast to which all did ample justice. The surprise was a complete success, and doubtless Mrs. W. congratulates herself that in her later years she is located amid such pleasant surroundings and the happy possessor of so many friends.

Among those present were the following: Rev. and Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. C. Parmele, Mrs. O'Rourke, Mrs. J. C. Cummins, Mrs. M. Black, Mrs. P. L. Ruffner, Mrs. S. Waugh, Mrs. F. E. White, Mrs. R. B. Windham, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, Mrs. Atwood, Mrs. S. H. Atwood, Mrs. H. M. Gault, Mrs. J. P. Young, Mrs. Dodge, Mrs. Dovey, Mrs. Valley, Mrs. J. H. Waterman, Mrs. F. Latham, Mrs. S. M. Eaton, Miss Alice Eaton, Mrs. W. D. Jones, Mrs. H. J. Straight, Miss Baker, Mrs. J. N. Wise, Miss Donnelly, Mrs. J. L. Root.

Get Ready for the Fair.

The date for the county fair is rapidly drawing near, and we again remind all interested to get their exhibit ready and make other necessary arrangements. We do not know that our business men have made displays heretofore, but at any rate it would certainly afford an excellent opportunity for bringing their advantages prominently before the citizens of the county. It is safe to say that the benefit that will accrue from a creditable trade display could not fail to amply compensate for the trouble and expense. No progressive, wide-awake Plattsmouth business man can afford to look with other than favor upon every move to utilize the advantages of advertising as offered during fair week.

Organize Republican Clubs

Young men's republican clubs have been doing effective campaign work throughout the east for several years, but it seems that the west has been slow to make use of this instrumentality for the utilization of the power that lies within the young men. The republican party is pre-eminently the party of young men and if they are thoroughly organized in every community, and means devised by which they may become informed in regard to the live issues of the day and their enthusiasm kindled for the grand old party of patriotism, progress and honor, we predict that they will do a grand work—excellent results will be seen in November and all will be made better and wiser.

In several counties in Nebraska

these clubs have been organized and the activity displayed and effective work already done is encouraging, from all sections. THE HERALD suggests that this matter be talked upon, and that steps be taken to effect such an organization in Plattsmouth.

Grand Island Reunion

Reports from Grand Island indicate that a large crowd of old veterans and visitors has assembled and that the expectations of the management and visitors have been fully realized. Quite a delegation went up from Plattsmouth yesterday and it was greatly increased this morning as will be seen by the following named persons, all of whom boarded No. 5 this morning: H. C. McMahon and family, S. P. Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cooper, Thos. Holmes, Geo. Ruby, J. C. Hickson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Straight, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Carrigan and D. B. Kerr.

Mrs. Fred Murphy returned to Cedar Creek last evening.

Mrs. Henry Eikenbary was a passenger on No. 5 for Lincoln.

Misses Maggie and Georgia Oliver, who have been visiting friends at Central City the past ten days, returned home last evening. Their friends doubtless will be glad to see them at home again.

The Cullom band dispensed some lively music this morning at the station while waiting for the train. Of course, they cannot play with the Plattsmouth band, but the boys do admirably well, considering the advantages which the community in which they reside affords.

There seems to be a great rush of stock and grain to market at present. The probabilities are that if the the rush continues the railroads will not be able to furnish transportation, owing to the scarcity of freight cars. It is probable that the capacity of the car manufacturer could be increased, but the railroads are not in the habit of providing for a rush of this kind when it is likely to a short duration.

The Cullom band came in this morning and departed to-day on No. 5 for Grand Island, to assist in dispensing music to the veterans. The band is nicely uniformed and presents a very creditable appearance—apparently a better band than is often seen in large towns. This speaks well for the enterprise of the community in which the boys reside.

Geo. Hall, son of Hon. Jas. Hall of Eight Mile Grove precinct, sold his farm of 110 acres for the neat little sum of $3,000. Mr. Hall will not leave Cass county, providing he can purchase another farm that is suitable. Cass county farms will be in demand henceforth as never before, inasmuch as our soil is the best to be found in the state, and home seekers are coming west by the hundreds every year.

George S. Ruby, of Eight Mile Grove, left upon our table this morning a basket of apples of the Early Pennock variety. We have seen several specimens of Cass county's fruit growing, but we believe that the samples left by Mr. Ruby are the finest we have yet seen. They are a fall apple, have a pleasant flavor, and average six to seven inches in circumference. Who can beat that?

W. J. Hesser went to Omaha last evening with a few samples of the fine fruit for which his extensive orchard is noted. Mr. H. says the crop is hardly as large this year as last, yet the quality is fully as good, and he does not have to seek customers. Mr. H., by upright dealing has won a host of friends of which he is proud. He will have two carloads of plants, fruit, etc., on exhibition at the state fair, thus bringing his enterprise before the public and at the same time advertising the county in which he lives.

We are pleased to note among the list of teachers to be employed in our city schools during the coming term, Miss Deana Fisher of Tekamah. Miss Deana is a graduate of the Western Normal College of Shenandoah—one of the best normal schools west of the Mississippi river—and from personal knowledge of her work as a student in that institution the local editor of THE HERALD is led to conclude that the members of our city board have made a wise selection—one, that in the end, will reflect credit upon themselves and add strength to our schools.

The Last Sad Rites

The funeral of Frederick Gorder took place to-day as per previous announcement. The friends assembled at Mr. Gorder's home at 1:30 o'clock and from there repaired to the German Presbyterian church, where Rev. J. W. Wittie delivered a touching sermon paid a worthy tribute to the departed one. The esteem in which Mr. Gorder is held is plainly seen by the many expressions of regret at his death and the manifestations of respect by the large concourse of friends that gathered to participate in the last sad rite.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marshall were very agreeably surprised last Wednesday evening, it being their tenth wedding anniversary. Quite a number of young people from this neighborhood thought they would surprise them. Hence, wending their way to the Marshall home they found the host feeding his swine and the rest of the family ready to retire. But we all went in and they were informed they had been married ten years, which they had almost forgotten. Some tinware was left as mementos of the occasion, and at a late hour the crowd bade adieu to host and hostess, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Marshall many more happy milestones in their journey of wedded life.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the Horse trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.
