

INSTRUCTIONS have been sent to Minister Egan to recognize the congressional government of Chile, but the question has arisen as to whether or not the new government will recognize Mr. Egan.

Miss THE GRIGGS, an American girl, has made a decided sensation as a whistler in the Concordia theater of Berlin. The enterprising paragrapher will now draw upon the old couplet about whistling girls and crowing hens for a series of newspaper jokes.

PALMER COX has signed a contract with The Ladies' Home Journal whereby his amusing little "Brownies," which he has made so marvelously successful in St. Nicholas and in his books, will hereafter belong exclusively to the Journal. Mr. Cox's contract begins with the October number, for which he has drawn the first of an entirely new series of adventures of his "funniest little men the world."

The attack on W. L. Browne in last Saturday's Mirror was uncalled for. Mr. Browne is too well known in this county to need any defense. Suffice to say that it makes no difference whether Mr. Browne gets the nomination or not he will support the republican ticket; as he is not the kind of man to leave his party even if they should see fit not to nominate him; but if they do he will be elected.

THE nomination of L. C. Eickhoff for county treasurer by the republican party on the 19th of Sept. is a move in the right direction. If the Independent Eagle possessed one hundredth part of the elements that constitutes a decent man, he would not have the gall to question this nomination by slinging mud. Mr. Eickhoff's qualifications as a scholar are above reproach and he will be nominated without any regards for that Weeping Water yap. —Courier Journal.

AN OUTSIDE DEMOCRATIC VIEW: Nebraska furnishes the best means of measuring the force and vitality of this movement because there it has been wholly free from complications with either of the two old parties. At the outset it there took the shape of an independent state organization for political reform. And in Nebraska today the numbers and aggressiveness of these independents are causing the republican politicians serious concern. They are in dead earnest and will doubtless be heard from in great numbers at the polls.

A GENTLEMAN from Illinois who was here last week told us a good story on the downtrodden, bankrupt farmers of Iowa, whose sad condition is so pathetically deplored by Governor Boies. This gentleman was at Fairfield, Jefferson county, on business late in the fall of last year, and while there learned that this county had voted $75,000 in bonds for a new court house, and on the day of sale, which opened at 9 a. m., $70,000 of those bonds were taken and paid for before noon by the farmers of that county. Poor fellow, how sad they must feel, and how fully they must realize their desperate condition which is so much like that of their brethren in Nebraska of whom Jay Burrows says: "No man could confine himself to farming in Nebraska and keep out of the poor house." —Syracuse Journal.

OUR INCREASE IN WEALTH. The assessed value of all property has increased from $17,902,963.543 in 1880 to $24,249,580.804 in 1890, an increase during the decade of $7,346,598,261, an amount equivalent to the true value of all property as returned by the United States census in 1890 ($7,125,780,228). Should it be found upon the completion of the inquiry in relation to the true condition of all property in the United States that the same relation exists in 1890 between assessed valuation and true value as existed in 1880, the absolute wealth of the United States according to the Eleventh Census may be estimated at $62,610,000,000, or nearly $1000 per capita, as against $314 per capita in 1860, $780 per capita in 1870 and $870 per capita in 1880.—Census Bulletin on Assessed Valuation of Property.

CAN DRUNKENNESS BE CURED? At Dwight, Ill., and at Blair, Neb., bichloride of gold treatment for drunkenness is meeting with an apparent success which cannot be questioned. No less than a dozen well-known Omaha men, some of them actively engaged in business, have already, as they think, been cured of drunkenness by taking a few weeks' treatment at Blair.

Whether the injection of bichloride of four times daily for three weeks can permanently cure drunkenness is a question which time can demonstrate, and meanwhile physicians may dispute it, but all must admit that so far the treatment is a success. So convinced of this have a number of well-known Chicago men become they have formed a bichloride of gold club, whose object is to raise money to furnish treatment to those not able to pay for it. Opie Read, the humorist, is president of the society, and many of his associates are literary men. This "home missionary society" is attacking an enormous evil in very practical way.

It would be a wonderful achievement of the nineteenth century if the diseased appetite for liquor could be inoculated against. It may be too early to rejoice, but it is not too early to hope for the success of this new effort. If it is only one-quarter as effective as claimed it is a great boon to humanity.—World-Herald.

FAVORS CORPORATIONS.

Rev. Sam Jones, the great revivalist, has published a letter, which is being commented upon by the press quite generally, in regard to legislating against corporations, particularly railroads.

Mr. Jones takes the ground that corporations should be allowed to take their course, and conveys the idea that if let alone they will look after the interests of the people. He also defends the standard oil and sugar trusts, asserting that the consumer was furnished a better article at a less price when these monopolies existed than at any other period in our history.

Mr. Jones may preach successfully, but it is our humble opinion that he is a little "rusty" concerning political questions. It is evident, at any rate, that the reverend gentleman is not a candidate for office at the hands of the people whom he addresses.

In the first place, the managers of railroads and other corporations are human, and it is a well recognized fact that it is in accordance with human nature for men to use all means, that may in any sense be considered honorable, to acquire wealth and power. And while THE HERALD believes that railroads and other corporations have done a great work for this country, and should yet be encouraged to do more, we are aware, and any who have become informed on the subject cannot fail to know, that they oftentimes not only take advantage of the people by ways that may, in a sense, be classed as honorable, but they also overstep the bounds of reason at times and are not content until they secure the lion's share.

Yes, corporations, since they are created by the state, should be controlled by the state, and while permitted to net a profitable income they should be kept within reasonable bounds. As far as monopolies are concerned, they are wrong in every instance, and cannot fail to work great injustice to all classes of people. Any move that places the power in the hands of one company, to the exclusion of all others, or, in other words, any move that hinders free competition in any line of industry is contrary to the principle upon which our government was founded and is repugnant to one's true sense of honor.

ANYTHING TO BEAT McKINLEY

Thos. H. Dudley, who for twelve years, was consul to Liverpool, has just returned from a trip to England. Mr. Dudley was present at a meeting of the Cobden club, and a resolution was adopted to the effect that what power they could exert be to defeat McKinley. He says that $1,000,000 can readily be raised for campaign funds.

We here have another proof that Great Britain, through her agents is active concerning her best interests. It is her desire that history will be repeated—a revenue tariff be adopted and our manufacturers be placed on a level with hers, thus rendering our labor equal to hers. She knows that in the past she has froze us out and made us dependent upon her, and she hopes to do so again. It is gratifying to know, however, that Americans realize that this country is for the benefit of Americans first. The votes of Ohio, Mr. Cobden club, realize who their friends are. Spend your money buying votes if you like, but Ohio is for McKinley, protection and reciprocity.

PERHAPS there never was a state contest, which occupied the attention of the whole country, as is the present campaign in Ohio. It is specially interesting because of the important national questions at issue, and consequently its bearing upon the election of 1892.

Now that the republican administration has succeeded in opening the way for American pork into the markets of Germany, the press is a unit in urging similar negotiations with France; and it is our prediction that, in the near future, we shall be permitted to chronicle a treaty to that effect.

EVERY republican should be present at the primary next Saturday.

THE Democrats will get all the tariff they want before the November election.

REPUBLICANS of Cass county should nominate their strongest man. This is no year for factional quarrels, or bolting inside party lines. Let the other fellows squabble while we saw wood.

THE HERALD should like to know what has become of the Cleveland boom, of which we heard so much a few months since. Evidently Grover is losing popularity among the brethren.

It is noticeable how the Democracy attempts to dodge the discussion of national issues in the state campaigns this year. Wonder why they will do in the national campaign next year?

THE Journal intimates that this is not the republicans' year for success. Doubtless the party feels grateful to Brother Sherman for this information. We suppose, however, the republicans had better not abandon the idea of holding their conventions.

In a short time Uncle Sam will not only furnish himself with a sufficient amount of tin, of a better quality and at a less price than it could be secured when he depended upon the foreign monopoly, but he will be ready to exchange with countries that have not the article, an unlimited amount for goods that we can not profitably produce. In other words he will be able to include tin in his reciprocity treaties.

It is a definite and splendid fact that the tariff reform legislation of the last Congress has created a market for over $30,000,000 worth more of farm products than were sold last year, and this beneficent work has not yet been completed. The same Congress passed the law which is solving the silver problem in a safe and reasonable manner. And that Congress was a Republican body, it will be remembered, and this excellent legislation was solidly and persistently opposed by the Democrats.—Globe-Democrat.

It is the duty of every voter to study political economy—fix the fundamental principles of the production of wealth and laws pertaining to its distribution; then everyone should investigate the live issues of the day and vote intelligently and conscientiously. It is a deplorable fact that more than half our voters are content to exercise this sacred right having in view no definite knowledge of what they are voting for. And then, too, it is a deplorable fact that a powerful army of our voters know infinitely more about the bung hole of a whiskey barrel than they do about the government of which they form a part and which they are to help control.

The ballot box, the citadel of our liberty and protection, should not be thoughtlessly used. Let the voting be done intelligently, carefully and conscientiously.

Selling out at Cost
My hardware stock—buy while you have a bargain.
J. FINLEY JOHNSON.

PREPARE to attend the primaries next Saturday.

It seems evident that Chicago is to have a building thirty-four stories high. What next?

It seems apparent that the Chilian republic will be recognized by the U. S. government, and friendly relations established.

LABOR DAY was celebrated earnestly at Omaha. We are glad that honest toil—the source of all wealth and comfort—is commanding that respect and rising to the dignity to which it is entitled.

REPORTS from Iowa convey the intelligence the farmers' alliance has "split." It seems that a majority of the brethren are satisfied with Farmers Wheeler and Van Houten, but the assistant democratic faction of course must side track.
