AT THE TABERNACLE.

Baptist missionary who was more doubtless the voyage will be instrumental in establishing the prosperous and eventful one. church on a firm basis in this state, than any other man. The pastor lations. and his parishioners are to be congratulated upon having finished and rendered free from pecuniary incumbrance such a commodious and convenient place of worship.

AT THE BOHEMIAN CATHOLIC CHURCH. Extensive preparations had been made by the Bohemian branch of the Catholic church to dedicate their new church situatedin the west part of the city in grand style and apparently their expectations were fully realized. A large delegation of the A. O. H., of Omaha, accompanied by their band arrived on No. 4, they were met at the stawith colors flying and bands playing, they were escorted to the church where seventy-five'little girls were consecrated with the usual training course will be required to ceremony. At 2-30 another parade pay $3.00 per month. was participated in before marchthe dedicatory excercises were carried out to the letter. Several prominent officials of the church were present among whom were Father Bowska, of Crete, and Bishop Bonakin, of Lincoln.

AT THE M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. L. F. Britt, who has recently been assigned to the pastorate of the M. E. church at this place occupied the pulpit Sunday-morning and evening. Rev. Britt is recognized as one of the strongest men in the conference and indications are that he fully merits the place he occupies in the estimation of his co-la borers. He impresses his audience as one who thinks and without hesitation imparts the product of his thought to the people. We predict for the new pastor and the church yesterday. a prosperous year.

What We are Doing in the High School There are four classes, called the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes.

The commercial course is for pupils who care nothing for literary and classical culture.

The class in business arithmetic made splendid progress under Prof. Halsey's direction.

The Senior class is the envy of all former classes because of the many increased labratory facilities.

Every class throughout the four years' course has mathematics, in the form of algebra, business arithmetic, geometry, and the science of arithmetic in the light of algebra and geometry.

It is easy to discover which pupils have parents and friends who appreciate the immense value of a study like Latin by the way those pupils do their work.

It is the ambition, evidently, or the high school teachers that the coming men and women under their influence shall be capable of going through all intellectual operations in an accurate, orderly and rapid manner, have their hearts as well as heads full of worthy sentiments, and be able to put into practice all that they have mastered theoretically. Whether they will succeed depends in a large degree upon pupil and parent.

This is a year in which republicans should stand by the nominee of the party. It is often true that we give candidates of other parties a complimentary vote because of personal friendship or some other extraneous and trifling condition; but this year, if the republican county ticket is elected, every vote must be cast for the straight ticket. Every Buried in Laces.

Lace headdresses, or what were called heads of lace, were very fashionable in England in the reigns of Mary and Anne, and the ladies of the court sometimes paid very large sums for a fine head of French or Flemish lace, but the extravagance in this fragile article of luxury was never carried to the same ruinous extent as in France. It was, however, profusely worn during what may be called the lace epoch, and was even coveted as an article of adornment after death

Mrs. Oldfield, the celebrated actress left instructions that she should be laid in her coffin arrayed in a very fine headdress of Brussels lace, in a shroud of Holland linen with lace tucker and ruffles and a pair of kid gloves. Yards of the costliest point d'Angleterre and Mechlin laces were wrapped around the corpse of the beautiful Aurora von Konigsmarck before she was laid in her grave at Quedlinburg, and many of the mummies found in the cats the Capuchin convent at Palermo are swathed in the same costly funeral robes. - Chambers' Journal.

An Abnormal Appetite.

A native of Wittenberg on one occasion, after eating a sheep and a sucking pig, ate by way of dessert sixty pounds of prunes without taking out the stones. On another occasion this same individual devoured two bushels of cherries, several earthen vessels, chips from a furnace, pieces of glass, some beetles, a shepherd's bagpipe, rate, birds with their feathers on, and a number of caterpillars, finishing up by swallowing a pewter inkstand, with its pens, paper knife and sand box. We are informed that when these luxuries were partaken of he was generally under the influence of brandy, but that he appeared to relish his singular food, and was a man of extraordinary strength. He died in his eighty-first year.—London Tit-Bits.

The Two Meridians.

The Geographical congress held in Switzerland recommended the universal adoption of the metric system and also the Greenwich meridian for the reckoning of longitude and time. It is doubtful if this will be done, however, by all nations, for, although a standard in both cases would be beneficial to the world at large, France naturally desires Paris time, and England would never surrender her prime meridian and adopt a revolution in her system of measurements unless the new measure was examined and based upon intrinsic merit, -New York Times.

How Plasterers Do Without a Doctor. Every trade has its special physic. This is true. In conversation a surgeon remarked that few things gave more pain, attended with so much danger, as some particles of lime dust in the eye. A gentleman standing by remarked. "And yet such an accident is of daily oc currence, is attended with hardly any danger, and is most easily treated. "How so?" came a chorus of voices. "Well, I will tell you. I was brought up to the trade of a plasterer, a ceiling plasterer. You may not know that the final layer upon a good ceiling is almost pure lime. The plasterer stands upon a platform and lays on the paste. It falls upon him in every direction, and, espe cially if he is a new hand, often a splatter falls right into his eye. When he gets accustomed to the work the eyelid seems to get used to it, too, and seems to close automatically in self defense.

"Directly such an accident occurs a fellow workman takes a mouthful of water from the nearest pail-and there is always a pailful of water handy-opens the eye as wide as possible and squirts with all his force the contents of his mouth against the eyeball. This immediately cools the lime and also drives it out of the eye. Simple remedy, isn't it, and eminently practical? But you see a man's eye would be burned out long before he could reach the nearest doctor's."-New York Recorder.
