

J. A. Hanson, of the Murray Banner, is in the city to-day.

W. J. Hesser's mother, who is here visiting him, is reported dangerously ill.

Will Hyers left last evening for Deadwood, where he will join a B. & M. surveying party.

Mrs. H. C. Wheeler accompanied by her sister, of Nebraska City, is visiting in Omaha to-day.

Geo. Edson, republican candidate for sheriff and Louis Eickhoff candidate for treasurer are in the city to-day.

Ed Dorr and J. R. Marshall, independent candidates respectively for sheriff and treasurer, are in the city to-day.

John A. MacMurphy of South Omaha, formerly a citizen of Plattsmouth, was a pleasant caller at THE HERALD sanctum to-day.

Louise Dillman, a resident of Lincoln avenue, is passing the cigars to-day in celebration of the advent of a son at his home.

The street car men, of Lincoln, are receiving a great many counterfeit dollars of recent make. It might be well to lookout for them in this section.

The Omaha Public Library containing 33000 volumes was destroyed by fire last evening. It is probable that bonds will be voted for the equipment of new library.

J. W. Sperry folded his tent last evening and silently went away. He will remain at Weeping Water until next show season, when he will enlarge his exhibition.

We acknowledge the receipt of a fine piece of pen work executed by J. P. Becker of Union. The design represents a republican candidate astride a deer, riding swiftly to victory. The work reflects credit upon Mr. Becker as an amateur penman.

Wiley Black, our enterprising apple dealer, ships another car load of apples to-day. Cass county is making a record as an apple producing county, equaled by no county in the state. She contrived to place the best display in the advertising train, also.

Several cases of diphtheria have been reported at Nebraska City and there is fear that it may become epidemic. The Press sounds a timely note of warning in which citizens are cautioned to exercise the utmost precaution to prevent the spread of the disease.

The twelfth annual state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in Lincoln Nov. 5 to 8, inclusive. The secretary, in making the announcement, says that the association was never in a more prosperous condition. It is expected that 500 delegates will be in attendance.

A Family Trouble.

Last evening one Kennedy, who lives in Billingstown, went home drunk and began to abuse his wife. It appears, however, that she was equal to the emergency and got the better of her unruly helpmate (?), whereupon the enraged husband went to the residence of Wes Stonking for assistance. Stonking arrived upon the scene and at once discovered that Kennedy was the more to blame and instead of turning the batteries upon the feminine side of the house he began a pugilistic crusade against Kennedy, resulting in no great damage to either party. The neighbors have several times complained that the trouble in the Kennedy family has been obnoxious to them, and it is truly hoped that it will not occur again. In the event of a drunken husband abusing his family the sympathy of the people is always on the side of the home.

District Court.

In the case brought on a writ of habeas corpus in which it was alleged that Cyrus Randall was wrongfully detained, the prisoner was released. He was held pending a probable call that he be delivered to Iowa authorities, to be tried on the charge of perjury. As the proper authorities were not heard from he was released. In the case McCoy vs. Petersen Bros, the jury failed to agree, and the case was continued.

A Pleasant Party.

A pleasant social event occurred at the residence of Frank Boyd last evening, in honor of the eighteenth birthday of his daughter, Miss Ollie. The immediate friends to the number of about twenty were invited and the evening was spent very pleasantly and profitably by all. It was a proverbial late hour ere the party broke up and the participants sought their respective homes, delighted with the evening's entertainment.

Murray can now boast of stock yards which are now completed and now accommodations are as good as Murray for shipping over the road as any station along the line.

Elmer McConnohey, who has been attending school at the Western Normal College, Shenandoah, Iowa for the past six months returned home Tuesday evening, well pleased with progress made in the Normal course of study.

On last Friday evening the young people of Murray assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Ables, two miles south of town and had a general good time. The occasion being in honor of his son, Homer and wife. To say they were greatly surprised does not express it but still greater was the surprise when they were presented with a dinner set of one hundred and twelve pieces from the young people of Murray, who before hand, had prepared the surprise. About forty were present and after spending the evening in games each departed to their home thinking it was good to be there.

A G. A. R. Post at Louisville.

A G. A. R. post was organized last evening at Louisville by H. C. McMaken. The post starts out with a membership of about twenty and the number will constantly increase. The membership is composed of a class of men that will make the organization a success.

The following G. A. R. men assisted in the muster: Jos. Teeter, department commander; John Bowen, adjutant general; H. J. Streight, second quartermaster general, and J. B. Stockwell.

The following officers were elected: Post commander, A. G. Cline; senior vice commander, A. J. Barker; junior vice commander, Benjamin Therdosky; adjutant, Benjamin Ward.

Prof. Halsey informs us that type writers recently ordered have arrived, and under the skillful supervision of Prof. Musgraves the pupils will be taught to manipulate the keys as thoroughly and effectively as in any business school in the country.

G. Schuyler has established in their midst a factory for the manufacture of cob pipes. The firm consists of C. E. Telf, Geo. W. Meeker, and J. L. Bryan. Frank Dickson visited the establishment a few days since and says that they are employing quite a number of people already.—Eagle.

HAPPYHEARTS.

Dr. C. F. Ladd and Miss Minnie B. Latta United.

One of the happiest society events of Lincoln for many months was the marriage last evening of Miss Minnie Belle Latta to Dr. Charles Frank Ladd, at the First Presbyterian church.

The high standing of the candidates, their long residence here and their position in society made it an affair of more than ordinary interest and the church was completely filled long before the hour set for the ceremony. Four hundred invitations had been sent out, but more than this number assembled to witness the ceremony.

The floral arrangements were exquisitely beautiful, the ladies of the church having prepared liberally for the occasion by banking the altar with palms and chrysanthemums, hiding the choir rail and part of the organ with the veil of green.

Mrs. Geo. Bagnall presided at the organ and during the gathering of the guests soft and inspiring music filled the church. At 6:25, the time for the ceremony, the wedding march from Lohengrin was taken up, the doors of the vestibule opened and the bridal party appeared.

Messrs. F. C. Zehrung, J. T. Dorgan, W. E. Hardy, F. S. Burr, W. E. Clarke and George F. Foresman, the ushers, led the way down the main aisle, followed by Misses Rosebud Foster and Florence Putnam, carrying their burdens of fragrant flowers. Then came the bride, unattended, attired in a white faille silk with trimmings of white chiffon and a beautiful veil adding to her queenly appearance.

When the party halted at the alter the groom's attendant, Mr. H. S. Freeman, emerged from the study on the right, followed by the groom in the conventional and neatly fitting black, while from the left there appeared Dr. W. S. Latta, the bride's father and Rev. E. H. Curtis the officiating minister. The Episcopal service was observed and with improvised passage by Dr. Curtis it was one of the most beautiful and impressive ever witnessed in Lincoln.

While the beautiful Mendelssohn wedding march was being softly played the newly mated made their exit from the church through the west entrance, repairing to the spacious home of the Latta's at 1128 L street, where the reception took place, attended by fully 300 guests, among them Governor Thayer and part of his staff, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Eikenbary, Miss Menota Eikenbary and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. White of Plattsmouth, Mrs. George Henton of York, Mrs. Will Sapp of Council Bluffs, Clarence Brown and W. Farham Smith of Omaha, Misses Minnie and Georgie Hawe and Mr. and Mrs. Will Rector of Nebraska City.

The house was decorated with a taste and skill and was in its entirety a bower of beauty. The loads of presents showered upon them claimed long and earnest attention from every visitor and it was the general expression that they were among the handsomest ever seen. At 8:30 a complimentary serenade was tendered them by the band from Cotner University, being composed of medical students from the college of which Dr. Latta is dean.

At 9 o'clock Dr. and Mrs. Ladd, bade their friends good bye and accompanied by a few close and personal friends, repaired to the Missouri Pacific depot where they boarded a train for the east. After visiting the groom's old home at Whitehall, Ill., and other cities they will return to Lincoln and take up their residence at Twenty-second and Washington streets, in the well known Brown residence.—Lincoln Call.

The bride was formerly a well known and highly respected resident of this county, and her many friends will be glad to hear of her good fortune.

A Sudden Death.

A vale of gloom is cast over the home of W. J. Hesser to-day, owing to the death of his aged mother, Mrs. Elisabeth Hesser. The deceased has been very feeble for some time, being eighty-one years of age, and her feeble condition together with a slight cold contracted recently, served, in spite of all the material aid loving hands could render, to make her weaker and she breathed her last at 12:20 this morning.

It is all the more sad that she was suddenly taken away, while on a visit to the west, away from her old home and the greater number of her immediate relatives and friends. The remains will be sent to Ohio on No. 2 this evening, for interment.

Any person having lost a pocket book in ladies' waiting room, containing some money, will please call at B. & M. ticket office.

S. L. Furlong, of Rock Bluff, is in the city to-day.

OTHER STATES NOT IN IT.

A Correspondent to the Kearney Hub tells of the Nebraska Wagoner.

DEAR SIR:—We are spending Sunday here. Just one week out from Chicago. This is no snip for me. I tell you, work from 6 a. m. till 9 p. m. We show in about three towns each day to large and appreciative crowds of people, many farmers coming in twelve miles bringing their families to see "Nebraska." They declare it superlative. They say California, Georgia and Florida which have been over this route last year "weren't in it" compared with Nebraska on wheels. I had no idea when I left Kearney that we should meet so many people nor had I any idea that our exhibit as a whole would be so fine. I am sure we will see good results in various ways from this tour.

You have no idea of the erroneous belief in the minds of these people concerning Nebraska when they see our exhibition they change their minds. The press in every town give us very complimentary mention.

We go to Rochester, Pa., thence back to Columbus, O., where we spend next Sunday, from there to Chicago the over the Northwestern to Omaha reaching there November 7. We show to-morrow afternoon in Canton, O., McKinley's home. Truly, PHIL BRADY.

Frank Dickson was in town Tuesday. Frank's majority is growing larger every day; nothing can be said against him, and he will poll a large vote outside of his own party.

It is no uncommon thing to hear members of the other parties say they intend to vote for Eickhoff, the republican candidate for treasurer.

Chris Schrupf received the sad news of the death of his mother, which occurred in Saxony, Germany, Oct. 1. Four sisters and one brother remain to mourn her loss.

The W. R. C. will serve one of their popular suppers at the G. A. R. hall on Saturday, Oct. 31, at from 5 to 7:30 p. m. Supper, 15 cents. All are invited, especially the young folks.

Mr. I. M. Ward's family went to Louisville Monday to attend the funeral of Mr. Benjamin Jenkins of that place, who died on Saturday last. He was eighty-five years of age and had been sick for a long time. About six weeks ago he had a surgical operation performed from which he could not rally, owing to his age. He was Mr. Ward's grandfather. He was buried on Monday at 2 o'clock.

Preparing for Winter.

A snow plow arrived from the east this morning to be used on the B. & M. this winter, that in point of efficiency excels anything of the kind ever placed upon a western road. It constitutes a train in itself, being composed of one car and engine. It operates on the rotary plan. The motive power is furnished as usual, but the force used to rotate the plow is generated by a separate boiler and attachments, largely on the plan of the derrick. It is at the shops and is well worth seeing. Evidently the B. & M. looks for a winter with no small amount of snow.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.
