Baby's Fearful Suffering from *kin Disease Covering Entire Body Cured b- Cuticura.

My baby was taken see when he was three months of , and in a tew days began breaking out. We employed both of the home districtions, and they could do no him for him. Then we ment for the best destor of Eatons and S. Mish and he doctored him for two weeks, and he got was all the lines; and then he

on ever Then I don't have be the term of the term of the term of the tree of t CONTROLLA RESERVATION OF THE PROPERTY OF THE P they would do not good, but in less than two months from the time we begin giving them will story was on looky well, and not a spit in this. He n his who'e budy, fee heat, only ally his now and even but a de new as best straik. So pur renot nyming but benes, and so weak Mas, FRANK BARRETT, Winfield, Mich.

Cutic ra Re elvent

The new blood and skin small r and great est of ham a remember, cleaners the bill od of all impurities and colonius cleaners the bill od of this remay a hearing, while produced, the thus ready is the cause, water the soar, an expret skin cure, and Curreuna Soar, an expret skin and some and restore the h ir, thus the fur cura Braggies care every soccies of i ching burn-ing, scalv, pimply and blache skin se do and blood discusses from pinnel s to scretche, from infancy to age, when the best; hys c ans fail.

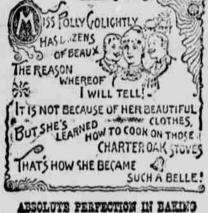

Sold everywhere, Price, Cuttoura 200.; BOAP, 250.; RESOLVENT, $1 Frep red by the POTIER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION. Send for "How to Cure Blood Diseases."

BABY'S Skin and Scalp purified and beautified by Curicura Soap.

Rheumatic Pains. In one minute the Cutt-cura Anti-Pain Plaster re-lieves rhemastic sciatics. http://kid-ney. chest and muscular pains and weak-nesses. Price 25c

Road Notice. TO all Whom it may Cone rn ;

The commissioner appointed to locate a road beginning at a court in center of read No 103 directly west of school h use in district No. 28 directly west of school h use in district No. 2s and running thence cust past sail school house to cast si e of section 2, town, 12 range 13, thence south on section line between sections 1 and 2 to the northwest corner of SW & SW & sec. 1-12-13, thence cast on north line & SW & SW & sec. 1-12-13 to public road leading from Plattsmouth to Oreapolis and also locate a road beginning at northwest corner of said SW & SW & sec. 1-12-13 and running south to conth side of sections 1 and 2 and vacate the road on SW & SW & 1-12-13, has rejected in the county clerk's disce on or before noon thereto or claims for damages, must be filed in the county clerk's disce on or before noon on he 12th day of January A, D. 1802, or such road will be located without resence thereto BIED CRISCHEBLD, Co, Clerk.

MEATS ROASTED IN THEIR CWN JUICES, BY USING THE

WIRE GAUZE OVEN DOOR

FOUND EXCLUSIVELY ON THE CHARTER OAK.

THEY ARE THE VERY BEST.

BUSINESS men are beginning to feel renewed encouragement at the steady growth of trade. This means a better circulation of money, that obligations will be met more promptly and confidence will be strenthened with manufacturers. have attended to the field are to-day sionaries than converts. To my laying in their winter's supply for this unexpected indication of a been good and consequently they we know and all our belief in Budfor our business men to make prices to meet competitive markets and represent themselves only what their goods will prove them to be, "all wool and a yard wide."

Pedro was driven off the throne in open schools, and then to reconcile Brazil, and it is very probable that Buddhism and Christianity, teachthere are many Brazilians that ing what is good in one without would gladly exchange the present | condemning what is good in the state of affairs for those that existed other." during his reign.

A NEW INDUSTRY

Our democratic exchanges have apparently failed to notice that a company has recently been organcapital stock of $1,200,000, to manufacture plate glass. This new inin the consumption of our farmers' products. It is not singular that

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

The free trade organs all over the country are pointing to the recent slight reduction in wages at the Caraegie iron and steel works and charge the reduction to the M'Kinley bill, thereby hoping to score a point for free trade. Now then if it be true that there has been a reduction in wages at these iron works it does not antagonize the claim that protection enables the emplayers to pay better wages, but, on the contrary, it supports the bill reduces the tariff on iron and courage to preserve. Among the did eastern hall, paved with tiles from steel goods. It reduces the tariff on steel rails from $18 to $13.40 per ton; on sheet or steel iron from one and one-tenth cents to nine-tenths of one cent per pound and on iron beams, girders, joists and almost all other iron wares a reduction of from one and one-fourth to nineenth cents per pound is made.

These papers can do no better services for the cause of protection than to give notice when a reduction of wages follows a reduction of the tariff. The greatest difficulty, however, is that our friends do not give their readers both sides of the question. The note that wages have been reduced, but leave the reader to infer that the tariff has been increased. The workings of the protective tariff olicy will bear the closest scrutiny if the light be turned on all sides.

ON MODERN BUDDHISM.

Prince Damtong, who is a brother of the king of Siam, at a dinner party given by Siamese legation at Paris, speaking of modern Buddhism is thus quoted:

"Yes I am a Buddhist, and so is also the king. He and I profess the modern Buddhism. We neither affirm or deny what we can desert you must always take a bottle of water with you. If you find with grain-the trees with fruitwater in the desert, all very well, the granaries are now full to rebut if you find none you have your pletion; now vigor and energy have bottle of water. So it is with our creed. We should do as much good as possible, we should do our best. If there is no future, we have in this case in this life the conviction of having done no harm, and if there is a future, the good we have done will follow us in the next life. There is no creed which we attack or condemn. I can believe in public manner their appreciation Christ as much as any Christian, as of and their gratitude for these far as his moral teaching goes, and'I priceless blessings. even confess that I am a great frend of Christ, for I am a great admirer governor of the state Nebraska, do of the meral principles which he inculcated. If you will discover a true and modern Buddhist, speak with him about other religions. If Most High for His fatherly care Conservator. he criticises and blames them, be ever us and for His tender mercies sure he is not a good Buddhist.

"You ask me whether we have The cold wave has also had its any missionaries. Yes, we have effect upon trade. Farmers who many; i may even say more mismind they proceed in a contrary fashion to what they ought. They severe winter. Their crops have begin by preaching that all that will buy liberally. It then remains dhism is entirely false, and that social and fraternal influences will there is but one truth—the faith which they propose to us. Then after having said this, they establish schools and do some good things. They ought to act in the It is just two years since Dom opposite way-to do good things, to

INADAY. LAWRENCE, MANS., Aug. 9, 1888. George Patterson fell from a second-story window, striking a fence. I found him using ST.JACOBS OIL

He used it freely all over his bruises. I saw him next morning at work. All the bluespots rapidly disappeared, leaving neither pain, scar nor swelling. C. K. NEUMANN, M. D.

"ALL RIGHT! ST. JACOBS OIL DID IT." MANUAL CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY THE PRESIDENT'S THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

By the president of the United States of America: A proclamation. ized at Alexandria, Ind., with a It is a very glad incident of the marvelous prosperity which has ball," and it is well named. For ten crowned the year now drawing to a cents you can buy one of these things dustry will soon give employment close that its hopeful and reassur- and see the laws of gravity defied. It to thousands of laborers and assist | ing touch has been felt by all our people. It has been as wide as our country and so special that every the democracy fails to rejoice at home has felt its comforting influthis, for it appears to delight in ence. It is too great to be the work on one side. This makes every moveattacking such institutions as of man's power and too particular ment of the ball eccentric. It will roll though they were a common to be the device of his mind. To enemy. It is confidently hoped God, the beneficent and all wise, that e're long the democracy will who makes the labors of men to be work shoulder to shoulder with the fruitful, redeems their losses by his republican party in the interests of grace, and the measure of whose governing is as much beyond the thoughts of man as it is beyond his descris, the praise and gratitude of with and the chances are that the kitten the people of this favored nation will round, while a haby will cry with are justly due.

Now, therefore, I. Ber ... Harrison, president of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 26th day of November present, to be a day of joyful thanksgiving to God for the Herald. bounties of his providence, for the grace in which we are permitted to eajoy them, and for the preservation of those institutions of civil and religious liberty which He which is most invigorating. Electric gave our fathers the wisdom to light is being laid in the president's appropriate observances of the day are rest of toil, worship in the publie congregation, the renewal of of the body or of the spirit.

In testimony whereof I have nated. hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be Done at the city of Washington, this 13th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and sixteenth. BENJAMIN HARRISON. By the President: JAMES G.

THE GOVERNOR'S THANKSGIVING

BLAIME, Secretary of State.

PROCLAMATION. cing reasons for lifting their hearts of the universe for the untold blessings they have enjoyed during the been infused into department of human efforts; joy sits in the hearts of the people where there was a lamentation a year ago: general health prevails and peace reigns within our borders. It is most becoming, as well as the performance of a scared duty, that all should manifest in a

Now, therefore, 1, John M. Thayer. hereby designate Thursday, the 26 day of the present month, as a day

I most earnestly request all the people of this commonwealth to abstain from all secular employment on that day and assemble in their several places of public worship and offer up thanksgiving and songs of praise to His holy name.

In accordance with this beautiful custom families will be reunited, prevail and the hearts of all should be made glad.

I beg those with an abundance not to forget the poor and needy, but to give to them freely of their own bounty. Let all the people re-

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state.

Done at Lincoln this 14th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight bundred and ninety-one, of the state the twentyfifth and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and sixteenth.

By the Governor:

ISEAL! JOHN M. THAYER. JOHN C. ALLEN, Sec'y of State.

> THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN 2 IS NOT Take Off the Horne.

The undersigned is now ready with a good portable chute and tools to remove the uscless weapons of horned cattle, at ten cents a head. A card or letter addressed to the undersigned at Rock Bluffs, Ncb. will be promptly answered. w4t S. L. FURLONG.

The Crazy Ball.

Street peddlers have a new catchpenny device on their trucks that is quite an amusing thing for old as well as young folks. They call it the "crazy looks like an ordinary wooden ball, about the size of a tennis ball, but you can't roll it in a straight line to save you. Of course the secret of the thing's queer actions lie in the fact that it is loaded up hill of its own accord, and it will refuse to roll down hill. If you try to roll it from you it will perhaps start out all right, and then turn around and roll back, or maybe it will go off sidewise and describe a wolldly circle around you. All its movements are jerky and spasmodie. Give it to a kitten to play vexation over its eccentricities. A grown person who is not up in spherical goomciry will as new you that it is wonderful. It is not. It is only some sharp fellow's way of gathering in the dimes. Neverthele's, ere long the city will be flooded with these "crany balls,"-New York

An Artist's Mansion. Sir Frederick Leighton, Bart., P. R. A., is at present enjoying himself in the beautiful town of Perusia, the air of devise and establish and us the house, in Holland Park road. The splencouches of exquisite workmanship, will now be lit by the electric light. So will the drawing room, with its fine specifamily ties about our American mens of Corot's paintings representing firesides and thoughtful helpful- the seasons, and the handsome dining ness towards those who sufier lack room. The large studio, with its priceless treasures, will be properly illumi-

The fountain at one time had no railing. One evening after one of Sir Frederick Leighton's epicurean feasts, the hall not being sufficiently lit, several of the academicians stepped into the fountain and got thoroughly wet; a popular painter had to borrow a pair of the president's trousers, much to the amusement of his brethren of the brush, as the garments did not fit him; but the strong electric light will put an end to any more of these uncomfortable adventures.-London Star.

A Dust Storm in Simia. A curious phenomenon occurred in Simla recently on two successive nights. This was nothing less than a dust storm in the midst of a downpour of rain, or Now, more than ever have the rather to speak more correctly, a shower people of Nebraska most convin- of mud. A column of dust seems to have been carried up into the higher atin gratitude to the Supreme Ruler, mosphere from the plains and to have been caught and forced down by the deavy rain. In the morning, as a result, all the plants and flowers in Simla were year which is now drawing to a found to have received a thick coating close. The disastrous effects of the of mud. There could be no doubt that drouth which afflicted some portions | the mud had been rained down, for it modern Buddhist do not assert of the state a year ago have been was freely sprinkled on plants away that there is no future life, but we followed by the sunshine of pros- from the hillside and at a great height do not affirm it either, because we perity. The windows of heaven from the ground. Moreover a deposit were opened; the rains came and of mud was found in the rain gauges in her dress in mouthfuls. I clubbed with various parts of the station. It is a not clearly understand. If you sow the earth has responded with common thing to see the atmosphere in like, I can give you an illustration a most abundant increase; the Iaof what our modern Buddhism is.

bors of the husbandmen have been dust from the plains, carried aloft by a most lavishly rewarded; the fields strong wind. But the conjunction of have been almost weighed down rain and dust is an accident of which, it is stated, there is no previous record. -Exchange.

The Smallest Snake.

J. C. Couch, who lives a mile south of Fox Postoffice, has brought us what is probably the smallest snake ever captured in Ray county. It was caught about two weeks ago by his stepson, Theodore Jackson, and is of the blacksnake species. It is only three inches in length, and at the thickest part of its body is only three-sixteenths of an inch in circumference. It is a perfectly formed reptile, but with an extra large head. Mr. Jackson accidentally killed it by spilling a few drops of petroleum on it. This snake could not teach school or plow corn like some of his kinsmen found in Colonel Jim Denton's neighborhood, but Mr. Jackson is just as proud of his find as the colonel ever was over of thanksgiving and praise to the any of his discoveries. - Richmond (Mo.)

A Child Killed by a Fig.

While "playing funeral" in Kiota, Kan., Johnny Denner, aged six, met a strange fate. He and his eight-year-old sister had dug a hole and Johnny sat in it. When she had covered him with earth up to the neck, an old sow drove her off and then attacked the little boy. Several times the animal sunk her teeth in the lad's head, and when friends came to his rescue they found him dead .- Ex-

Neglect of a Hero.

The fact that Louis Kossuth is now poor, blind old man, who is dragging out a miserable existence, embittered by sheer want and heartless neglect, is not complimentary to an age of hero worshipers which will spend fortunes upon gorgeous monuments to the dead and grudge a crust to the living .- Boston

It is given out that 50,732 accounts, claims and cases, involving the sum of $176,884,062 were settled during the last fiscal year by the United States governmont-a large increase of work with ne increase of force as compared with the preceding fiscat year.

A pair of very economical lovers, in Los Angelos, Cal., hit upon a plan to cheat Uncle Sum of his postago. The young man hired a box at the postoffice and gave his sweetheart a duplicate key. They exchanged correspondence through the box.

The recent losses by fire in the cargo of ships carrying cotton has shown that cotton seed oil, when held in the cotton on the outside of the bale, rapidly oxidizes and generates spontaneous combus-

CHASED BY MAD DORS

HAIRBREADTH ESCAPE OF A CLUB MAN AND HIS BEST GIRL.

A Yara Which Goes to Prove That Barking Dogs Do Bite Sometimes-Still Some Savage Brutes Don't Waste Much Time in Barking When Out for Blood

No one had spoken at the club for about an hour when a raconteur rose to the occasion. Laying aside his pipe with a look of regret he began: "It's a popular saying that barking dogs don't bite. Like other popular say ings this is a fallacy and misleading. Barking dogs do not bite while they are barking, but there is only one species of canine that sneaks up to you and takes hold without saying a word. That is the Scotch collie, which inherita its habit of silent biting from a sheep nipping ancestry.

"Story! story!" called out the pres-"Story? "God bless you! I have none to tell, sir," quoted the raconteur, remembering his classics; "this is only a memory of two dogs, accursed brates, that lived with an unfriendly man on a hill, over which the postroad was laid. This man, who was a Cain among his fellows, kept two savage mustiffs, who not only barked but bit whenever it was possible. I was courting my first wife up there in the Cumberland mountains in British North America where this happened, and had to pass the house regularly. I drove a blooded mare that went like a bird, and the dogs were no match for her, but it was very annoying to have them follow me down the hill for a mile or more barking and yelping like demons. They would bark at the stage coaches and run long distances after them, but the passengers were safe inside and the driver and those on the outside were too high for them to reach. But I heard frequent stories of their attacking men, and being beaten off with sticks and stones. I asked why they were not killed and my answer was always the same, a shrug of the shoulders and the remark: 'You don't know the kind of man their owner is.' It seemed that he lived alone with his dogs, and people feared him so much they dare not go to him to complain or call in the provincial laws to help them.

A TERRIBLE CHASE. "A crisis came, when one day I took my sweetheart out for a sleigh ride in a low pung belonging to her father, to which was harnessed my own sure and swift footed mare. It was a lovely day and we expected to make a safe and rapid descent of the mountain, a distance of ten or twelve miles. The air was crisp and cold, the sleighing fine, and we skimmed up the ascent and reached the landing before we knew we had started. There we were met by the dogs. I think it would have been less difficult to have gotten rid of a pair of wolves. I dare not give my mare her head going down that long, steep declivity on frozen snow, and the dogs, emboldened by the cold or maddened by repeated lashings from my whip, jumped at my companion and tore her cloak and my whip and best them on the head, but they did not even seem to feel my blows. Their great black and yellow frames quivered with ferocity. The hair on their backs stood up like manes; their eyeballs gleamed red and angry, and the noise they made was deafening and distracting. "'Oh!' I exclaimed, 'why haven't I a pistol? "'Look in the box under the seat," cried my companion, whose face was blanched.

"I looked quickly, and found a rusty double barreled horse pistol of a make of forty years ago.

"'Is it loaded? I asked. "'Yes, but don't shoot. If you do that man will kill you!"

TWO SHOTS PIXED THEM. "I remember thinking how like woman it was to tell me where to find the pistol and then ask me not to shoot.
"I laid the reins loose on the mare's back and away she went like the wind, beyond my control now, and I knew she would never stop till she was a mile beyond the level ground at the foot of the

"If the pung held together; if nothing made the mare swerve from the direct line; if, in fact-if Providence kept an eye on us, and the breeching didn't break, we might escape breaking our necks. I looked back and saw the dogs gaining on us, even at that mad guitthen I took aim and fired. Bang! Bang! There were two dark objects lying prone on the snowy road, and as quick as she could gather her feet under her my mare stopped in her tracks. She was trained to the use of a gun. "But my companion urged me to hurry on, and we were soon down the ineline and beyond the reach of recognition or pursuit, and strange to say no one but our two selves ever knew who killed those dogs. We heard the most marvelous accounts of the slaughter, the weapon varying from a Queen Anna musket to a cannon, but dead they were as door nails, and their reign of terror over. I imagine their owner did not care to venture out to avenge their death. I drove boldly past the house every day. but was never molested or even suspect ed. But I often heard their unknown slaver praised and applauded for the deed which rid the neighborhood of their hateful presence."-Decreit Free Press.

Cleaning Fish Described.

The first time my little Marie, aged twenty-six months, it with girl dressing the fish for dinner she came running to me, her eyes sparkling with excitement "Mamma, mamma!" she exclaimed. 'Mary, comb fishes' hair wid de knifo and it all come off!"-Cor. Babyhood.

Both Been These Before. "I feel constrained to tell you, Fred. that I have been engaged before this, she whispered.

"Don't mention it," he said gently; "I, teo, have been filted." - Harper's Basar.

The Warrant Was Not Served.

"The worst scare I ever had," remarked Superintendent of Police Colbert, "war one night when Quigley, John Lowe and myself sneaked into a boarding house without the inmates knowing of our presence. We went up stairs into the room of a bourder for whom we had a warrant to wait for his coming. He was likely to be in some time between 12 and 8, and was said to be a very slippery citizen. We kept very quiet, as we didn't want any one to know we were there. A large coal oil lamp was burning in the room, and instead of putting it out, John Lowe, who had a skin coat, undertook to shut off the light by holding the coat around it. Pretty soon Lowe fell asleep. We woke him up and be promised not to do so any more. But the promise was hardly cold when we heard him snoring.

"This was worse than ever and enough to wake up every one in the house. We punched him, and as he awoke, with a start, he pitched over and the lamp come to the floor with a crash that, in the dead silence of the night, could have been heard half a mile away. There was nothing for it but to rush out of the room and down stairs into the street. As I went down stairs I felt awfully queer. My hair was standing straight up, and I was expecting at every step that some one would take a crack at us, thinking we were barglars.

"The next day the papers all bad a sensational account of an attempted burglary, and one or two of them spoke of the inefficiency of the police. As for us we said nothing."-Indianapolis Jour-

London Life in Elizabeth's Time. In Elizabeth's time the ordering of the household was strict. Servants and prentices were up at 6 in the summer and at 7 in the winter. No one one on any pretence, except that of illness, was to absent himself from morning and evening prayers; there was to be no striking, no profane language. Sunday was clean shirt day. Dinner was at 11, supper at 6. There was no public or private office which was not provided with a Bible. In the better classes there was a general enthusiasm for learning of all kinds. The ladies, imitating the example of the queen, practiced embroidery, wrote beautifully, played curious instruments, knew how to sing in parts, dressed with as much magnificence as they could afford, danced the corante and the lavolta as well as the simple hey, and studied languages-Latin, Greek and Italian. The last was the favorite language, Many collected books. Dr. John Dee had as many as 4,000, of which 1,000 were manuscripts. They were arranged on the shelves with the leaves turned outward, not the backs. This was to show the gilding, the gold clasps and the silken strings. The books were bound with great care and cost; everybody knows the beauty of the type used inthe printing .- Walter Besant in Harper s.

Making a Fuss.

Many years ago a prominent clergyman was consulted by the ladies of his congregation about certain clerical work in which they were interested. Smiling at their earnestness, he said: "That's right, ladies; make a fuss-make a fuss! That's the only way to get work done inthis world! Set about it yourself and make a fuss while you do!" And so it is. Thinking about wrongs and sighing over them never mended one. But the people who exert themselves to right the wrong, making a good stir about it while they do, and worrying at other people to exert themselves, too, will often force the other people into activity insheer self defense.

The other people would like to six quiet and take it out in sighing, but these energetic fussers will not let them. At last, to get rid of the agitators, they rouse up, go to work with a will, and accomplish what is asked of them for the sake of the peace they obtain thereby. But whatever their motive, all mankind has the benefit. It is not only well to get wrongs righted, it is also well to get sluggish people stirred up occasionally.-Harper's Bazar.

Big Chance for Improvement. First Arctic Explorer-I say! Second Arctic Explorer-Say on. "I say! We're in a box." "Jesso."

"We'll have to wait for a rescaing party." "That's it." "One will come I suppose." "Yes, they always come-but not always on time.' "I say!"

"Well?" "Don't you think the present style at arctic exploration might be improved?" "Perhaps so. What would you sag-

"I think the rescuing party ought to go ahead."-New York Weekly.

Dickens' Sons.

Three sons of the great author of "Pickwick" are still living. Charles Dickens, his father's namesake, is editor of All the Year Round, and is known to American audiences for his readings from his father's works. Alfred Tennyson Dickens is a merchant in Melbourne, and the youngest member of the family, Edward Bulwer Lytton Dickens, is a sheep farmer and a new member of the New South Wales parliament.-Exchange.

It is never safe to study the opinion of the multitude. "What do folks may about me?" asked an old lady who had been largely unfolding a budget of scandal. "I show there's some bad mixed in with the good!" "Well, there," said her frank neighbor, "I do' know's there's any good spoke of to mixit with." -Youth's Companion.

The Queen's Oysters.

The queen is remarkably fond of oysters. All the shells which make their appearance on the royal table are sandpapered and polished so brilliantly as to glisten almost like mether of pearl .-London Tit-Bits.