I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to Ely's Cream Balm, and I do so entirely without solicitation. I have used it more or less half a year, and have found it to be most admirable. I have suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since I was a little boy and I never hoped for cure, but Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many of my acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Great Surprise
Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acute and chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large Bottles 50c and $1.

CHARLEY ROSS is once more heard from. This time he finds himself, but his father fails to recognize him.

BOIES of Iowa says the democratic candidate for president must be a western man; but from modesty he will not name him.

GOVERNOR BOIES, of Iowa, wants to be vice-president of these United States, that he will stand upon any kind of a platform they may adopt.

THE democrats are in a position where they have got to take some action in the tariff question, and yet they cannot do so without doing their party more harm than good.

ALL of the leading men who have been announced as candidates for the republican nomination for president have come out and announced themselves in favor of President Harrison, except one or two, and it is thought that they will do so before the convention meets.

THE senate has knocked out the income tax bill introduced by Gibson, of Louisiana, but one or two measures of this sort have been introduced in the house, and, as the democratic majority in that body will undoubtedly pass one of them, the republicans are certain to make considerable party capital from that source.

THE assessors of Montana have completed their tax list and show the real and personal property of the state, as valued on the tax duplicate, at $142,295,428. This means that the real value is about three times as much. Assessors found 8,344,884 sheep, and the state will be interested in Brer William Springer's little bill on the sheep.

LISTEN to this moan from the Iron and Steel Trades Journal of London:—"Through the course of British trade in the coming year is still shrouded in uncertainty, we can without fear of fallacy, predict a period of great prosperity in the great trans-Atlantic republic. The good things in store for the Americans in 1892 we do not begrudge them, although we cannot expect to participate to the full as we did in by-gone days in the prosperity of the states."

SECOND WEEK.
Come right up to THE HERALD office and square up for a year. Those who do so without delay will get a prize, i. e., the Farm Journal for one year, just for prompt payment. Don't you take the Farm Journal? Well, here is a chance to get one of the best farm papers in the land. The Farm Journal prints a beautiful calendar of the presidential favorites. This can be had for 10 cents—with your choice for president. See great combination in another column.

THE Atlanta Constitution is after the Cleveland contingent in New York with a sharp stick. The Constitution says:

From beginning to end the movement which will culminate in the cooper union meeting to night and then collapse, has been anti-democratic. The very men who are engaged in it have for years been trying to knife the democratic party. They held a meeting to protest against the nomination of Hill for governor, and the result was Hill's nomination and election by 40,000 majority. In the whole swarm of mugwumps, republicans and assistant republicans, not one democrat who would hesitate to sell out his party for an office or sacrifice it to a personal whim.

Republicans can afford to stand back and say: "Go it woman, go it bear."

THE farmers that are dependent upon the Fremont hemp and twine factory are anxious to know when Congressman Bryan proposes to introduce his bill placing binding twine on the free list. It would doubtless be a great consolation to the young man to see the pauper manufactured article of the old country displacing our own product, the wheels of this growing industry stopped, our laborers thrown out of employment and our farmers rendered dependent upon a foreign trust as we were a few years since. Every farmer in this state is perfectly aware that since the manufacturing of binding twine has been stimulated by the tariff that the price of the article has been precipitously reduced. No, no, gentle Annie, consult your farmers constituents before introducing the free twine measure.—Beatrice Republican.

THE notions held by a few timid republican papers that Blaine's withdrawal from the canvass will work harm to the reciprocity cause does not seem to us to have any valid reason for being. It is true the secretary "popularized" the reciprocity idea and put it into practical shape. On his suggestion it was incorporated in the McKinley bill, and it formed one of the most prominent and most widely discussed features of that measure, as it has proven to be one of the most fortunate and beneficial. But the fact that nearly every republican member of congress favored the scheme, even on its first presentation, and that it became satisfactory later to the few who opposed it originally, is of some significance in this discussion. This shows that the principle is not at all in danger, no matter how many of its earlier champions leave the scene. It was said in the beginning that Mr. McKinley was unfavorable to the idea, but if this story were true his prejudice were conquered long ago. During his canvass for the governorship in 1891 McKinley often referred to the reciprocity policy in the strongest terms of approbation, and with a sincerity and an enthusiasm which are not open to question. He is acute and sagacious enough to be fully conscious of the fact that this policy added thousands of votes to the republican total in that campaign, and he is honest enough to acknowledge this and public spirited and patriotic enough to defend this policy at all time and under all circumstances.

Reciprocity, that is to say, is abundantly able to take care of itself hereafter, whatever may be the fate that is in store for its originators or sponsors. Its maintenance and development are not in the slightest degree dependent on the life or political fortune of any man. It has passed beyond the swaddling clothes phase of existence and is able to stand alone and to assert itself in a direct and effective way. The period of its operations has not been great, nor has the field of its activity been extensive as yet, but within the limit of its time and scope of work it has commended itself to the republican party and amply justified the faith of its founders. For this reason the party has enthusiastically enlisted in the reciprocity cause. Every republican is not only determined to maintain this principle, but he is resolved to extend it and to spread it over the whole continent. We want enlarged trade not only to the south of us, but also with the British provinces of North America. The scheme to bring all the countries of the Western hemisphere into an immense trade league is favored by the republican party, and this is no idle dream or a momentary fancy of political enthusiasts. It is one of the cardinal tenets of the republican creed. Henceforth devotion to the reciprocity cause will be a test of party loyalty. Reciprocity will be one of the fighting planks in the republican platform this year, every newspaper and stump-speaker of the party will advocate it, and every one of the party's voters will cast his ballot to extend and perpetuate it.—Globe-Democrat.

SPRINGER'S WOOL BILL.
The purpose of the democrats to make foreign wool free, on the ground that it is "raw material," is squarely opposed to the interest of the agriculturist. To carry it out would be to reduce the income of every farmer whose sheep contributed to last year's American wool product of 350,000,000 pounds. So far as the farmers is concerned, the wool he sends to market is not raw material. It is a finished product which represents his own labor, the cost of his farm, the interest on that and all of the expenses of running his farm and making it pay a profit. The farmer is entitled to full protection as much as the wage worker who manufactures woolsens. The democracy would protect neither. The republican party would protect both.

No possible justification exists for the Springer measure. It aims to undo all that the McKinley law has already accomplished for the woolen industry. In 1890 the American people paid foreigners $33,808,814 for woolen fabrics. In 1891 they paid only $34,010,543. This represents an immense gain to American industry, which the free trader would wipe out at a single stroke. American woolen goods not only command a better home market than they did a year and a half ago, but they are cheaper to-day than when the McKinley bill is in the interest of foreigners and against the interest of Americans. It should not become a law, and it will not while a republican senate is in the capitol and a republican president is in the white house.

A Fatal Mistake.
Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease" which may be had free of F. G. Fricke & Co., who guarantee and recommend Dr. Miles' unequalled new Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain or tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, dropsy, etc. His Restorative Nerve cures headache, fits, etc.

It Should be in Every House.
J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cocksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at F. G. Fricke & Co's drugstore. Large bottle, 50c and $1.00.

The girl's industrial school building at Geneva is well along toward completion, and is said to be admirably arranged for its purpose.

A Mystery Explained.
The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak, nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nerve. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at F. G. Fricke & Co's, who also sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures fluttering, short breath, etc.

Cough Following the Grip.
Many persons, who have recovered from la grippe are now troubled with a persistent cough. Chamberlain's cough remedy will promptly loosen this cough and relieve the lungs, effecting a permanent cure in a very short time. 25 and 50 cent bottle for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

The principal of the Ulysses schools has been arrested on the charge of unmettically beating his pupils.

Startling Facts.
The American people are rapidly becoming a race of nervous wrecks and the following suggests, the best remedy: alphonso Humphing, of Butler, Penn., swears that when his son was speechless from catarrh, Dr. Miles' great Restorative Nerve cured him. Mrs. J. L. Miller of Valparai and J. D. Taolur, of Logansport, Ind. each gained 20 pounds if an taking it. Mrs. H. A. Gardner, of Vastulr Ind, was cured of 40 to 50 convulsions easy and much sea-dach, dizziness, bockach and nervous prostration by one bottle. Trial bottle and fine book of Nervous cures free at F. G. Fricke & Co., who recommends this unequalled remedy.
