

DREADFUL PSORIASIS

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left arm spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald. It then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, it was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. Mrs. ROSE KELLY, Rockwell City, Iowa.

Road Notice.

To all whom it may concern: The commissioner appointed to locate a road recommended at a point 40 rods west of the south-east corner of section 5-10-13, running thence in a south-westerly direction direct to intersect the Nehawka road, and thence in a north-easterly direction to a cemetery; and vacate a road located north and south through section 5-10-13 and section 3-11-13, the last above mentioned road having been located September 2, 1901, thence a little west of south through section 8-10-13 to where the new road intersects the old one, has reported in favor of the location and vacation thereof, and all objections thereto, or claims for damages, must be filed in the county clerk's office on or before noon on the 23d day of April, A. D. 1902, or such other date as may be located and vacated without reference thereto. FRANK DICKSON, County Clerk.

Legal Notice

IN DISTRICT COURT CASS COUNTY, Nebraska. Calvin H. Parmele, Plaintiff, vs. William S. Wise, Defendant. The above named defendant, William S. Wise, will take notice that on Feb'y 20th, 1902 an action was commenced in the District court in and for Cass county, Nebraska, wherein Calvin H. Parmele is plaintiff and said William S. Wise is defendant; and an order of attachment was issued, commanding the sheriff of Cass county to levy upon the property of said defendant. Said action is based upon a promissory note given by defendant to plaintiff, dated January 28, 1887 due ninety days after date with interest at 10 per cent. from date. There is now due on said note the sum of $24.95, after deducting all payments and payments on said note, for which plaintiff prays judgment. You are required to answer said petition on or before the 14th, 1902 or default will be entered and judgment rendered accordingly. CALVIN H. PARMELE, Plaintiff. W. L. Browne, Attorney.

A Challenge. A Book Free.

We never saw as sweeping a claim as the publishers of "King's Handbook of the United States" make for that book. They say: "Find any other well-made book, having HALF the type, ONE-FIFTH the illustrations, and ANY maps of equal excellence, at the same price, and we will give you a copy FREE. There is no trick in these words—we mean them in the spirit in which you read them." America's most complete printing concern is the Ari-Printing Works of the Matthews-Northrup Co. of Buffalo, the publishers of this book; and as they are rated at a quarter of a million, they are able to back up their challenge. The work contains thousands of pictures, page or double-page maps of every state and territory, nearly a thousand large octavo pages, and sells for only $2.50. Many hundreds of prominent educators and statesmen assisted in editing or revising it, and every word, cut and map are new and expressly for this book. It is first in the field with figures from the new census, and is the only book which tells of the greatness and glory of "Our Country" as it is to-day, at the threshold of the world's fair. We understand that it is selling wonderfully where introduced; most people are willing to buy when they get a great deal for little money, and this "Challenge" should make short work of it—a fellow would either buy it or make up his mind to scrape along without it mighty quick. Its circulars are certainly the finest we ever saw, and from them we infer that J. M. French & Co., 512 and 513 Paxton block, Omaha, are the general agents for this field. We advise our local canvassers to look this up, for if the book is what is claimed it will "put money in thy purse," as Iago remarked.

From Monday's Daily. C. A. Manker, of Louisville was in the city to-day.

H. F. Swanback, of Greenwood, was in the city to-day on business.

Joe Tubbs, left last night for Chicago to bring two more new engines to Plattsmouth.

Editor C. W. Sherman, of the Journal, returned this morning from his trip to Washington, D. C.

Gordon B. Knotts, of Council Bluffs, arrived in the city yesterday and will make Plattsmouth his home in the future.

Councilman Browne, of the Second ward is rejoicing over the advent of a large healthy boys, that made its appearance at his home yesterday morning.

THE CITY CONVENTION.

The Republicans Name the Winners in the Coming Contest at the Convention.

Promptly at 8 o'clock Saturday night, Judge A. N. Sullivan, chairman of the republican city central committee, called the convention to order, saying that the city of Plattsmouth was passing through a crisis and that the convention should see that good men were placed upon the ticket.

D. K. Barr and D. H. Smith were placed in nomination for temporary chairman. Mr. Barr withdrew and Mr. Smith was made temporary chairman by acclamation. J. L. Root was elected secretary and George Houseworth assistant secretary.

On motion the secretary was directed to read the list of delegates and if there was no objection, the list as read, should constitute the convention.

On motion the temporary organization was made permanent.

A. B. Todd moved that the convention proceed to an informal ballot, without any nominations, for a candidate for mayor, carried. The informal ballot stood:

Murphy..... 19
Dovey..... 12
Shipman..... 3
Windham..... 1

Total..... 35

The convention then proceeded with a formal ballot which resulted as follows:

Murphy..... 19
Dovey..... 31

It was moved and seconded that H. N. Dovey be the unanimous choice of the convention. Carried.

Mr. Dovey was called to the front and made a short talk, pledging himself in favor of public improvements and that if he was elected he would fill the office to the best of his ability, without fear or favor.

The convention then proceeded to nominate a candidate for city treasurer. T. H. Pollock being the unanimous choice he was elected by acclamation.

The next in order was placing a candidate in nomination for city clerk. M. N. Griffith was elected by acclamation.

L. C. Stiles and W. B. Short were placed before the convention for police judge. The ballot stood:

Stiles..... 26
Short..... 14
Scattering..... 7

Mr. Short was made the unanimous choice for police judge.

J. I. Unruh and W. N. McLennan were nominated by acclamation for members of the board of education.

The election of a chairman of the city central committee was the next to be considered. Wash Smith, D. Barr, Byron Clark, A. N. Sullivan and R. B. Windham were placed in nomination. A ballot was taken which resulted in the election of Byron Clark as chairman of the city central committee.

The different wards then recommended names for their committeemen. The committee stands: Byron Clark, chairman. L. C. Stiles, First ward. W. A. Humphrey, Second ward. B. C. Kerr, Third ward. Harry Barthold, Fourth ward. A. J. Graves, Fifth ward. After the vote was taken for a chairman of the central committee, R. B. Windham, A. N. Sullivan and Byron Clark were called upon for speeches. Mr. Windham made a rousing talk in favor of city improvements, followed by Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Clark, who were also of the same opinion.

On motion the convention adjourned.

ELOPING CHILDREN.

Walter Palmer and Millie Snowdon a 15 Year-old Daughter of Isaac Snowdon, are the Guilty Pair.

A story of love is often a puzzling thing; and this it truly is in a case of elopement, which occurred on Thursday, and in which two young people of Nebraska City took the leading parts.

Walter Palmer and Millie Snowdon are the names of the two young people, who have lived in this city for some time, and been regarded generally as quiet and throughgoing. Miss Snowdon, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Snowdon who live in Kearney, is only about fifteen years old and a student in the first grade of the high school. Young Palmer has been employed for some time at the B. & M. yards, and was on the whole an honest and hard working fellow. He is only about eighteen years old, however. His parents are said to live in Plattsmouth from whence he came some time ago.

On Thursday young Miss Snowdon told her mother she wished to go over to a friend's house to spend the night. Consent was readily gained and the girl started away from her home without any baggage whatever. By a preconcerted plan she met young Palmer and the guilty pair at once took the afternoon train for the south.

The next Mrs. Snowdon heard of her daughter was a letter she received yesterday from her. In it she thoughtless daughter told how she had eloped with young Palmer, that she loved him, and that they were already united in marriage. They were then in Missouri, in just what part she did not say; but she added that it would be useless to follow her.

The letter was a cruel blow to the mother, and ever since she has been prostrated with grief. Millie was her only daughter, and it would seem that she had little intention of returning to her home. However, Palmer has small means for taking care of a wife, and the truant children may be expected to return before long and ask forgiveness. —Nebraska City Press.

Double Birthday Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brantner, old and respected citizens of Plattsmouth, were central figures of a pleasant gathering at their home on North Ninth street Saturday night. The occasion was the celebration of the 74th and 67th birthday anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Brantner, respectively. The affair was planned by the immediate relatives of the old couple and successfully executed thus: Mr. B. works daily in the employ of the B. & M., and was, of course, properly disposed of till evening; but next in order was to dispose of the wife for the day, so that necessary preparations could be made for the reception of the guests without her suspending anything out of the general order. It was arranged with Mr. Elam Parmele, who, by the way, is the prince of righteous schemers, to have her spend the day with the family of the said prince (?). With much difficulty she was persuaded to leave her household duties for the fatal visit. By the occurrence of divers and sundry unavoidable (?) accidents, and much to the discomfort of the old lady, Mr. P. did not get her back home again until the late hour of 8 p. m., when, to add to her misfortunes, Mrs. B. found that a large assembly of her neighbors and friends had taken possession of her home. The surprise was so complete that she did not even know the husband beside whom she had met and surmounted the obstacles of a varied life of full three score years.

The company, consisting of the resident relatives, neighbors and immediate friends of the family, enjoyed themselves abundantly until 11 o'clock, when, after prayer by their pastor and many congratulations and good wishes, they departed.

On behalf of their posterity, Mr. B. was presented with a handsome suit of clothes and his wife with a fine silk shawl and bonnet. Besides these the guests left many appreciated tokens.

Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames A. N. Sullivan, M. Waybright, L. F. Britt, T. Wilkinson, I. Searles, M. Matzy, H. Matzy, E. Parmele, C. W. Green, S. A. Davis, T. B. Brown, T. P. Brown, Madames Lewis, Kennedy, Drew, C. S. Johnson, Harrison, Wilcox, Richardson, Beverage, Messersmith, Misses Grace Britt, Maud Marks, Blanche Kennedy, Nettie Waybright, Harriet Sullivan; Messrs. Booth, R. W. Brown, M. G. Brown, G. Drew, J. W. Brantner and Edward Brantner.

A Bold Robbery.

Saturday night some thief entered the room of Hans Goos at the City Hotel, and stole a suit of new clothes, a pair of shoes, a seal skin cap and several silk handkerchiefs. The thief left this old suit and hung them up in the wardrobe and put the new clothes on and walked out. No clue has yet been found.

Those who miss seeing the "Two Old Cronies" at the opera house tomorrow night will miss a rare treat, a performance of real merit.

Lovers of pure and clean fun should please remember the performance by the "Two Old Cronies" at the opera house to-morrow night.

Owing to the weather being so bad the oyster supper that was to have been given at S. A. Davis' Tuesday evening will be postponed.

Mr. Des, a representative of the State Journal, is in the city today in the interest of his paper, and by the way, the State Journal is the best paper in the State.

Harris vs. Carruth is still occupying the attention of Judge Chapman in the district court. The attorneys are arguing the case as THE HERALD goes to press.

The citizens of Louisville met Saturday evening and placed in nomination F. Fetzer, E. C. Twiss, W. B. Shryock, James Robertson and L. H. Livingston for trustees.

M. W. Morgan received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. Morgan's sister, Frank Morgan and his mother departed for Osceola, Iowa, to attend the funeral.

WILL FILE NOTICE.

Governor Thayer to Give Notice of His Intentions Tomorrow.

Governor John M. Thayer will file notice in the supreme court tomorrow, through his attorneys, J. H. Blair and M. B. Reese, that he will on Tuesday, March 25, make an application to re-open the Boyd-Thayer case, which was dismissed last week owing to the non-appearance of the counsel for Governor Thayer. Governor Thayer stated yesterday that the new step in the great controversy would make no change in his private plans. "The case has to be continued in my name," he remarked, "and while I am as much interested in the final outcome of the proceedings as I ever was, yet I shall not allow it to interfere with my private business. I have absolutely no desire to again assume the duties of the governorship; but I do want to see the question which is raised in this case, settled, and this is the sole reason for further contesting the matter." The opinion seems to generally prevail, that the Supreme court will again open the case.—Lincoln News.

World's Fair Notes.

The Custer Mining Company, of Idaho, is making a very extensive collection of ores for exhibition at the Fair.

English women are active in preparation for their participation in the Exposition. At a meeting of the woman's committee in London, on March 3, it was announced that Queen Victoria had promised specimens of her own work in spinning and knitting, done when she was a girl; also some of her embroidering, fine drawing and water-color painting. Princess Louise will contribute some clay modeling, Princess Beatrice several paintings, and Princess Christian some embroidery. The committee assigned charge of various branches of woman's exhibits is as follows: Irish exhibits, Countess of Aberdeen; Scotch, Lady Reay; philanthropy, Baroness Burdett-Coutts; education, Mrs. Fawcett, the writer on political economy; hospital nursing, Mrs. Fenwick; woman's art, Mrs. Robert Austin. Several women were selected to prepare papers on various educational and economic subjects.

To the Farmers America.

The chairman of the Russian Famine Relief committee of the United States has sent out the following appeal, dated Washington, D. C., March, 1892:

To the Farmers of America: The vicissitudes of climate are such in all countries that not even the most favored can hope for entire immunity from the losses and distresses they may entail.

To-day it is the wretched lot of some twenty great provinces of middle and southern Russia, having a population equal to nearly one-fourth that of the whole empire, to suffer the horrors of famine.

For successive years their crops were scant, and last year they failed so almost entirely that multitudes are without food other than the refuse of their neighbors, fields, grainaries, cellars and kitchens, the seed of weeds and the bark of trees ground and mixed with all these. The cattle on which they had depended for milk or service, and even their horses, needed as beasts of burden, are slain and consumed as a means of prolonging life until relief shall come from some quarter of the globe.

Starvation alone is terrible enough, but the famine in Russia has been aggravated by a fierceness I cold rarely known in a Russian winter, while fuel is so scarce that in many cases remnants of stubble and the thatching of stables, mixed with turf and dried scrapings of the barnyard, afford the only means of warming their hovels and cooking the miserable pittance of food thus gathered together.

Nor is this all. Pestilence, too, has come with all its added terrors. Hungering, freezing, and beset by famine fever, the poor peasants of Russia demand the world's sympathy as it has seldom been demanded in all human history.

What is to be done? Europe in general has been a sufferer from the droughts of '91 and has little to spare. But, thank Heaven, America has been blessed as never before. We have millions to sell, and can also give millions and feel ourselves none the poorer.

Has not a good Providence made us stewards of His bounty for this greatest of all crises—for the salvation of many millions of our fellow men in the far-away country of a great and friendly power?

That America will respond in a signal manner who can doubt? Already the City of Brotherly Love has sent forth one steamship on its errand of mercy, and another will sail from New York in a few days. But still our ships must go in like manner, that the millions of outstretched hands may not wait in vain.

The farmers, the gardeners, the fruit-growers, the dairymen, the stock-growers of the United States, are among the most intelligent and responsive of all our sixty-five millions. They can each give a portion, either in kind or for conversion into other produce or money, of all that they have so bountifully received. Will they wait for some miracle, or will they act?

Some, thank God, have acted already. The farmers of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Illinois, Ohio, and some other states have moved and are moving. Wheat and rye flour, kiln-dried cornmeal, cured meats, and canned goods generally are on the way to the seaboard. But many cargoes will be needed ere the wants of twenty millions are met through all the months until a new harvest.

"Therefore, whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do you even so unto them." There is no higher, truer, other law. Its fulfillment by Americans will banish the Russian famine and leave it but a horrid dream.

The railway companies have consented to carry car-loads of famine supplies to the seaboard without charge; the owners of mills and kiln-drying houses at Akron, Ohio, and at Wilmington, Del., are preparing corn at almost no cost to the donor, and when your gifts are ready, if you have no other preferred medium, application to the Red Cross, 732 Fourteenth Street, Washington, will secure printed tags, in required number, that will direct them to places of consignment on the seaboard.

Farmers of America; Let your deeds in this day of calamity be fully worthy of yourselves, of the matchless riches you so richly enjoy, of this glorious land so happily inherited, of this our sacred cause so urgently demanding the glad service of all who love their fellow men.

In the name of all by whom and for whom this appeal is made, JOHN W. HOYT, Chairman of the Russian Famine Relief Committee of the United States.
