La Grippe.

No healthy person need fear any dangerous consequences from an attack of la grippe if properly treated. It is much the same as a severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Remain quiet at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed for a severe cold and a prompt and complete recovery is sure to follow. This remedy also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia. Among the many thousands who have used it during the epidemics of the past two years we have yet to learn of a single case that has not recovered or that has resulted in pneumonia. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the leader, Mexico Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack, I am satisfied, would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being struck with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting down. 50 cent bottles for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

The population of Plattsmouth is about 10,000, and we would say at least neo-half are troubled with some affection on the throat and lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all our readers not to neglect the opportunity to call on their druggist and get a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs. Trial size free. Large bottle 50c and $1. Sold by all druggists.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Catharine Howland's Fall Results Fatally.

SHE FELL ABOUT SEVEN FEET

And Only Lived a Short Time-- The Accident Occurred at Her Home About 8 O'clock This Morning.

From Saturday's Daily. The community was terribly shocked this morning by the announcement that Mrs. Catharine Howland, wife of Harry Howland, had fallen down a pair of stairs and had died from the injuries received from the fall.

Mrs. Howland had been going about her usual morning work and had gone upstairs in a building adjoining the house to make a bed. She had taken the clothing off the bed and had spread them over the chairs to air. That is as far as she had gone. None of the family saw her fall, and the first they knew of the accident was when her daughter heard a noise, and, going to investigate, found her mother lying prostrate upon the floor. Mr. Howland, who was in the orchard trimming trees, was notified.

When found she was still alive, but she died without regaining consciousness. As to how the accident happened, no one knows. Mrs. Howland fell about seven feet.

As soon as possible Dr. Hall was in attendance. Upon examination it was found that her left arm had been broken. There were also contusions of the forehead and chest, and also a cut at the base of the neck.

Mrs. Howland was sixty-one years old the 29th day of last March, and moved with her husband to Plattsmouth in May, 1857, living in this city thirty-five years.

The deceased leaves a husband and four children to mourn her loss. Friends and relatives have been notified of the death. The funeral will occur next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence. Rev. I. T. Baird will conduct the ceremonies.

Nebraska's Cereal Production.

The figures which were reached by the census office a few days ago concerning the cereal productions of Nebraska were as much of a surprise to Mr. John Hyde of this state, who is in charge of the division having supervision of those statistics as they were to any body else, the corn crop exceeding by 66,000,000 bushels the estimate of the department of agriculture. Ten counties in the southeastern part of the state produced as much corn in the census as did the entire state in 1879. Forty-three counties each raised from 2,000,000 to 6,000,000 bushels of corn, Gage county standing at the head with 8,945,163 bushels. Kearney county led in the production of wheat, Fillmore in that of oats and Otter in barley.

The average yield per acre of the ten different crops was as follows: Barley, 22.6; buckwheat, 70.1; corn 39.4; oats, 29.16; rye, 13.33 and wheat 13.23 bushels. Hail is reported as having destroyed the crop in portions of Boone, Buffalo, Cheyenne, Garfield, Greeley and Red Willow counties. The average yield per acre in the newer counties in the west end of the state is somewhat low or the general state averages, gratifying as they are, would have been still higher. The increase in the acreage and production of oats is even more remarkable than that of corn, being upward of 500 per cent. Mr. J. M. Hyatt of Alma is in charge of the cereal investigation under the direction of Mr. Hyde, both being Nebraska men. The state may be sure it will not suffer at their hands. Nebraska will stand at least fifth and possibly fourth in rank among the great cereal producing states of the Union in the present census.

Let dogs delight to bark and bite, For nature made them so; But oh! my brethren what a sight— This democratic show.

"Lay on, McDuff!" bold Martin cried, And quarter grant to none, Shouts Lloyd, "D—d he who cries enough, And pabied they who run."

Asleep for Over Four Months.

Cases of prolonged sleep are by no means so numerous that we can afford to pass over the mention of an example of this condition at present exercising the minds of German physicians. The patient is a miner by trade, his name being Johann Latus. He is an inmate of the hospital of Myslowitz, in Silesia, within whose walls, it is stated, he had been asleep for some 4 1/2 months. It seemed impossible to rouse Latus, but a recent bulletin mentions that he has at last awoke. Naturally the case is referred to the records of catalepsy for its explanation, although it is pointed out that 4 1/2 months is a very extended period even for cataleptic sleep.

In this case the limbs were rigid, which of course pointed to the existence of a cataleptic condition, but the body itself showed no sign of being in any unusual state. It remained still and placid; the chest rose and fell regularly, and the skin was of a natural color, the face being described as presenting a healthy appearance. In the recent reports it was stated that Latus had become less rigid as regards his body itself, while slight movements were noticed prior to his waking.

Curiously enough, while the hair of the head has grown largely, the beard has not exhibited any increase. Feeding was carried out by introducing milk, to the extent of two or three liters per day, into the stomach by means of a tube.—Illustrated London News.

One Way for a Star to Brighten.

Director Keeler, of the Allegheny observatory, was one of the first to receive the news of the recent discovery of the new star in Auriga, but on account of the cloudy weather and Pittsburg smoke shutting out all observation he has not yet clearly seen the visitor among the heavenly bodies. In speaking of it he said: "The new star, I think, has been caused by collision. That is, however, only supposition. It is possible that it was formerly covered with a crust that in some disturbance was broken and flew off into space, leaving the molten interior visible to astronomers. Such occurrences are common. The outside of the body becomes chilled, and losing its brilliancy cannot be seen.

"If then the crust is broken by any disturbance the star can be seen and is heralded as a new body, when in reality it may have been occupying the same position for thousands of years."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Money in Minerals.

There is money in minerals, if you get hold of the right kind. The South African Diamond trust that recently forced up the price of its commodity by consolidating the various companies and by occasionally suspending operations to make a scarcity of the stones has cleared a pretty penny. During its last fiscal year it gathered up 2,195,112 carats of gems, on which was realized nearly $16,440,000. While the surplus stock of stones has been disposed of, an immense quantity of "blue stuff"—the local matrix of the diamond—remains to be washed.—Exchange.
