

NO WARRING ELEMENT.

Old Billy Bryan Remembered In Sarcastic Song.

NEWELL ELECTED AS ALTERNATE.

Gere of Lancaster and Holland of Richardson Chosen as Representatives at Minneapolis-- Harmony in the First.

From Thursday's Daily.

The delegates of the First congressional district met in convention last evening at Falls City, for the purpose of electing two delegates to the national convention at Minneapolis in June. The following account from the Lincoln Journal will be read with interest:

The first congressional republican district convention convened in the opera house and was called to order by Chairman W. H. Woodward at 8 o'clock. The house was filled to its utmost capacity and profusely decorated with bunting and portraits of eminent republicans. Over the stage was hung a large banner bearing the words, "Protection" and "Reciprocity."

Frank E. Helvy of Otoe county was made temporary chairman, who, on taking the chair, made a short speech which was enthusiastically applauded. J. D. Church of Nemaha and M. Tulson of Pawnee were chosen temporary secretaries. The temporary organization was made permanent. A motion was carried instructing the delegates chosen to the national convention to use their best endeavors to secure the renomination of Benjamin Harrison.

C. H. Gere of Lancaster and G. W. Holland of Richardson were placed in nomination as delegates to the national convention, the former in a rousing speech by C. A. Atkinson of Lancaster; the latter by Judge Reavis of Richardson, while Paul Schminke, in behalf of Otoe and delegates from other counties, seconded the nominations. The rules were then suspended and Messrs. Gere and Holland were unanimously elected by acclamation. The gentlemen were called to the stage and thanked the convention for the compliment paid them, both making stirring speeches, which were received with enthusiastic applause.

The Pawnee City quartette was called upon and favored the convention with "Annie Laurie." They were loudly encored and responded. Judge Allen Field, Jesse Strode, Judge Newell of Cass, and Judge Stewart of Johnson were elected alternates to the Minneapolis convention.

Willard Deboid of Pawnee was called upon and brought the house down by singing the following song, entitled "Our Billy:"

Say, voters, have you seen young Bryan, With his big head stuffed with wool, Since he came back from little Rhode Island, Where he thought he had a pull? He shot his wad at the good old tariff, But he found Tom Keed at bay; Bill took his hat and left very sudden, And I s'pose he's run away.

CHORUS.

Young Bryan say "Ha Ha," Old Tom he say "Ho Ho," It must be now the kingdom's comin' and the year of jubilee.

He took along the same old chestnuts, And the speech you've heard before; His Mary's lamb he tried on Rhody, But he only made them roar.

They gazed our Bill, who talked like a parrot, And they used his head for a chunk On which to pile a lightning majority, And down in the wind he sunk.

When our farmers heard of Russia's famine, In her deep distress forlorn, They freely gave the starving peasants 10,000 tons of corn.

Then Bill was asked for a ship to move it, But the heartless cuss said no, I hope some day he'll be very hungry And have to eat "billed" crow.

Now Bill will come again this summer With his sweet and honeyed words, And a tireless man when he sets it agoin' A beggin' for your votes.

But will he get 'em? That's the question, No matter how he rants, He'll hear a voice like this replying, "Billy Bryan, your name is pants."

The democrats run, ha ha, The republicans say "you bet," It must be now the kingdom's comin', What a good time for us yet.

Thomas Majors, Judge Allen Field, Jesse Strode, Judge Newell, Judge Stewart, Church Howe, Paul Schminke, A. E. Corbin and Jarvis S. Church made speeches, after which the convention adjourned.

N. S. Harding of Nebraska City special agent of the Springfield F. & M. Insurance Company, of Massachusetts, was in the city yesterday adjusting the loss recently sustained by Senator Thomas. Mr. Thomas informed a HERALD reporter this morning that he was paid in full by the insurance company, and that he had nothing but words of praise for the insurance company and its representatives.

A Case in Court.

Suit has been commenced in county court by Charles E. Shaw contesting the election of J. Ross Barr. The facts of the case are as follows: In the village of Greenwood on the fifth day of April an election was held for the purpose of electing five trustees. The other three members were elected and J. Ross Barr and Charles E. Shaw each received 41 votes apiece according to the returns. A certificate of election was given to J. Ross Barr, he already being an incumbent. Charles E. Shaw alleges that there were five votes counted for Barr that should have been counted for him, and that he is positive of the same. If the allegations of Shaw are true the vote stands Shaw 46 and Barr 36.

Among the various rumors that float from mouth to mouth we gather that Dick Barr will again lead the quill, this time at Elmwood. He is to begin his duties Monday, and while some say that he will conduct an alliance paper, others inform us that he will make it a point to boom the town, with the ultimate view of moving the county seat to that point. At any rate he takes charge of the Elmwood Leader. If Dick will give his readers extracts each week from his biographical sketch in the history of Cass and Otoe counties he will have a splendid circulation. Success to the new venture.—Weeping Water Republican.

World's Fair Notes.

In the California building will be shown a growing specimen of every California domestic flower attainable, and also paintings, in water and oil, of 600 wild flowers and grasses.

The American Bible society will make an exhibit in which will appear copies of bibles in more than 200 different languages.

The French chamber of deputies approved by a unanimous vote the credit asked by the government to be expended for the French exhibit at the fair. The appropriation amounts to $675,000.

Tiffany & Co., of New York, have engraved the official seal of the board of lady managers, from the design furnished by Miss Sarah Bodker of North Dakota, and presented it to the board. The workmanship is of the finest.

A young lad, son of the editor of the Florida Standard, is making, for exhibition at the fair, a table upon which appears an inland map of the state, each county being accurately represented by a separate piece of native Florida wood.

A carnival of sports, in connection with the exposition, is contemplated and quite likely to be established. It is proposed to provide a large arena or amphitheatre in which will be enacted, as far as possible, every kind of athletic sport known to the various nations and races of the earth.

John Dillon.

Our people will have a chance to see John Dillon at the opera house Friday April 29th in his greatest success, "Wanted the Earth." The house will be packed to the doors because we know that one of the finest comedians of the day is before us. He is supported by a strong company. Remember the date, April 29. Usual prices.

ARBOR DAY OBSERVED.

The Plattsmouth Schools Observe The Day.

DECIDED IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFF.

Attorney Gering Jubilant Over the Decision of Judge Minor of the Federal Court of Utah-- Minor Mention.

From Friday's Daily.

To-day was appropriately celebrated as Arbor day by the city schools. The sun shone bright and clear to-day, but as it had been raining all week and the ground was thoroughly soaked with water, the air was raw and cold.

The biggest part of the exercises were omitted at the high school building. But as soon as school was taken up and the usual exercises had been gone through with the whole school marched out to the music of the drums and formed on each side of the place where the elm tree was to be planted, it being the tree that the entire school had chosen as the state tree. When the scholars were quiet "Arbor Day" was sung by the entire school, which was followed by a declamation by a little girl from Miss Cook's room. The High School Quartette then sang a beautiful piece, after which a scholar from each room stepped to the front and, speaking a verse, threw a shovelful of dirt on the roots of the tree.

As soon as the exercises were over the scholars were all dismissed for the day and each room gathered together and in different parts of the school yard planted a special tree to represent each room.

Quite a large number of the citizens were out to witness the planting of the trees by the children.

At all of the ward schools there were trees and shrubs planted with appropriate ceremonies.

At St. John's School.

The recurrence of Arbor day found the children of the several rooms assembled in the hall of St. John's school, where an elaborate program was satisfactorily rendered before an appreciative audience.

At its conclusion all formed into ranks and marched to the grounds, where an appropriate address was delivered by Rev. Father Carney at the tree-planting, in which he drew a beautiful comparison between the growth of the tree and that of the child's mind.

The Arbor day exercises concluded at 11 o'clock, when the members of the children's choir proceeded to the music rooms of the convent where another very interesting program was carried out by the little Misses, after which all did ample justice to a sumptuous lunch, dispersing at an early hour, carrying with them pleasant memories of April 22, 1892.

Decided in Favor of Plaintiff.

Attorney Gering received information that Judge Minor, of Utah, had rendered a decision in the case of Danmiller vs. the A. O. U. W. for $2,000 in favor of plaintiff. In the A. O. U. W. order all assessments are made payable on or before the 28th of the month. In this case the assessment was not paid until the 30th. The matter was left to a board of arbitration who decided in favor of defendant. Attorney Gering brought suit in the federal court of Utah, claiming that a matter could not be arbitrated without the consent of both parties. Judge Minor looked at the matter in the same light and rendered a verdict for the full amount. Judge Minor only had the case under advisement three days. Attorney Gering speaks very highly of Judge Minor. The case will in all probability be taken to the supreme court and from there to the United States supreme court before it is finally settled, as it is one of importance to insurance orders.

SHOT ON HIS WAY HOME.

Some Unknown Man Shot At O'Neil Last Night.

SHOT BY AN UNKNOWN MAN.

Mr. O'Neil Has a Lucky Escape From What Might Have Caused Instant Death--The Weapon a 44-Calibre.

From Friday's Daily.

Last night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, Al O'Neil was shot by some man to him unknown.

Mr. O'Neil started home, having in his possession several pairs of shoes, and while walking along Lincoln avenue he was overtaken near Frank Hager's residence by the man who done the shooting.

Mr. O'Neil's story is as follows: He says that the man when he passed him was muttering something that he could not understand; that the fellow had a bundle under each arm and as he passed by and when only a few feet in front of him, he fired a shot toward the ground. The fellow seemed to be carrying the revolver in his hand or in his pants pocket, for he fired the shot without moving his arm. The man then walked on about ten feet and turned around and asked O'Neil what he was following him for, also stating at the same time that if he took another step he would kill him.

O'Neil told him that he was not following him; that he was going home; that he only lived a short distance from where they were and that if he killed him he would kill an innocent man. The man then started to go, as did also O'Neil, but the fellow turned and fired two shots, the first one just grazing O'Neil's head and the next one striking him about three inches to the right of the left nipple. After firing the shots the man started on the run toward August Bach's store.

Dr. Schildknecht was called and dressed the wound. The ball entered the left breast and, striking a bone, glanced and went around and was taken out at his back, just above the left kidney. The revolver was a No. 44.

August Bach heard the shot and got up and went to the window and saw the fellow running up towards his barn. Mr. Bach asked him who he was and says he could not quite understand the man but understood him to say his name was Burke. Mr. Bach says he thought that he spoke broken English, and also stated that some one was trying to kill him.

This morning when Mr. Bach's delivery boy went to the barn to feed the horses he found the revolver lying near the barn. The ball that Dr. Schildknecht took from the wound exactly fitted the revolver found.

Mr. O'Neil had not been drinking last night and says that if he would see the man he would know him as the shooting occurred under the arch light on the avenue. Dr. Schildknecht said that he was positive that O'Neil had not been drinking, for if he had he could not tell it when dressing the wound.

A man was arrested last night and taken before Mr. O'Neil but Mr. O'Neil was positive that he was not the man.

About noon Wm. Plager, a young man that drives the delivery wagon for Zuckwiler & Lutz, was taken out to the O'Neil residence for Mr. O'Neil to identify but he was not the man wanted. If the signs of the times are right some sensational developments may be brought forth.

Charged with Bigamy.

A man who has been in the employ of the Singer Sewing Machine company in this city has recently gotten himself into a lot of trouble.

The man's name is Charles Wilsey and he was married on the 17th of June, 1889, at Maryville, Mo., to the woman who is now causing him the trouble.

Not long ago he left for Seward in company with his wife's brother, and while there fell in love with and married a young lady of that city last Tuesday night.

Wilsey notified his wife by letter this week that she had better go, as he was to be married, and that the law would be as hard on her as on him. He claims that they were not married legally.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilsey have always lived in harmony. One time she asked him to let her see the marriage certificate. This seemed to anger him and he replied that she ought to have confidence in him or not have married him. She then let the matter drop, thinking everything was all right. Mrs. Wilsey says they were married at Maryville by a man named Williams and that she had always supposed the marriage was legal.

Mrs. Wilsey will in a short time become a mother and if the marriage proves to be illegal she will have him arrested, charged with being the father of her unborn child.

It is also rumored that he has been doing some crooked business with the sewing machine company.

A telegram was sent to the authorities at Seward last night ordering his arrest on the charge of bigamy.

Wilsey and his brother-in-law had been rooming together at Seward and it had been noticed that Wilsey had been staying out late nights but nothing was thought of it by his wife's brother.

Last Tuesday Wilsey sent his brother-in-law here to help his wife pack up the furniture in order to move to Seward, and while he was here Wilsey was married at Seward.

Chief of Police Tom Fry left this morning for Seward in response to a telegram from the sheriff at Seward. The sheriff also stated that the people might lynch Wilsey.

Evading the Law.

The news seems to be trying to evade the law. The News is running an advertisement which the attorney general says is a lottery advertisement. So they can send their mail out with a thin piece of white paper pasted over the advertisement which can be easily read just the same. Postmaster Streight informed them that the paper could not go through the mails any longer and they promised to cut the "ad" out. Following is what the Lincoln Journal says:

"It takes a sharp eye and a cool head for an editor to keep from running foul of the lottery law. The Plattsmouth News of Wednesday arrived with a strip of white paper pasted across an advertisement. Underneath was a description of a scheme to get a ticket to the world's fair by lot. It was easy to read by holding to the light. Now the question arises, will the poststers cover the sin of lottery advertising?"

Dave Miller was an Omaha passenger this morning.

Dr. Salisbury's little girl is reported quite sick to-day.

W. W. Drummond and Fred Race came in from Lincoln to spend Sunday.

Rev. Wilson and daughter arrived in the city this morning to visit friends. Rev. Wilson used to be years ago the pastor of the M. E. church.

Echoes From the Diamond.

If one may form an opinion of the merits of the local ball club from their preliminary work yesterday at the ball park it would be that they are all winners. It was practically their first day out on the green sward and they took only a little general practice, but that was sufficient to show their metal.

Maupin, Long, Kennedy, Johnson, John Patterson, Myers and Sam Patterson showed up especially well. Fretz showed a lack of experience but will no doubt blossom out as well as the rest of the boys with a few weeks' work. Yapp practiced a little pitching and showed that he still has good control of that drop ball that beat Hastings. Myers pitched a few balls over the plate and, after he had warmed up a little, he couldn't be touched. Perrine pitched a little while but was wild as a steer. When he gets 'em over they come like cannon balls, though.

On Sunday the "winners" will try and scatter Jack Carrigan's Haydens over the green earth. The Haydens came near scalping Norman Baker at Fremont last Sunday and may come near doing the boys up tomorrow on account of lack of practice. They have a strong team and play good ball, Arthur Creighton is advertised to catch for them but the Omaha papers have him down to catch for a team in Omaha that day, so Swartz will probably catch Snyder. Reeves was to have pitched for Plattsmouth but he has not arrived and either Myers or Yapp will do the twirling.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the boys who will make up the minstrel show to benefit the ball team, was held at the opera house last night. After a little rehearsal a programme was laid out and work will be begun in earnest. The show is set for May 5 and will be a glorious success.

County Superintendent Noble was an Omaha passenger this morning.

Glen Carruth tore the muscle loose in his breast the other day while lifting and has his side all bandaged up to-day.

DIED--The six-months' old child of George Sitzman, of whooping cough and lung fever. The funeral will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock.
