JEFF. L. STONE, - City Editor.

A. Salisbury, Dentist.

The city council meets tonight.

Nothing has yet been learned as to the whereabouts of "Chawles" the horse thief.

A stranger, acting very much like an officer or detective, is in the city today, looking for a young man by the name of Leavitt. He wants to see him for something that which he keeps to himself.

Scott Brescott, a young man over in Glenwood, who went on a spree last Christmas, getting boisterously drunk, stabbing a man and slashing around generally, has just had his trial and been sentenced to a term in the county jail.

Sheriff Myers and deputy Eikenberry have searched Omaha, Council Bluffs and Papillion without finding any trace of Jones, the escaped prisoner. The search is being diligently prosecuted to-day, and they will find him yet.

The B. & M. folks are making arrangements for putting in a brass foundry, which, when completed, will leave nothing but the heavy iron castings to be furnished from abroad. We look for the cast iron part of it to come, also, in the course of time.

Joe Ford's skating rink just now seems to be the centre of attraction. We have some first-class skaters, too. Tonight there will be an exhibition by one of our stars, at the rink, Dick O'Neill is the man—the show is free.

The programme, which has already been given in the HERALD, of the celebration of St. Patrick's day by the A. O. of H., will be fully carried out, and perhaps have a little added to it. Two good bands will be in attendance, and the Plattsmouth branch of the order have chartered and paid for two coaches in which to bring the invited guests from Omaha and Lincoln. A fine street parade and general good time is anticipated.

The entertainment given by the Stadt Theatre troupe Saturday night was an able effort. The acting was good and the music exceptionally so. Mrs. Pulisahl and Mr. Beireis in their respective parts were worthy of special notice. The whole thing was good and was full of fun and misunderstandings all the way through.

A gentleman bound for Nebraska, and who arrived in this city over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy last evening, was relieved of $150 by pickpockets at the U. P. depot. While stepping off the train he was suddenly crowded by three or four men, and when he got out of the jam he discovered that his pocketbook and money were gone. No arrests.—Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

The following was received at this office this morning from the Cincinnati Daily Times-Star, which will explain itself. We shall inform them of our own.

W. P. Miller
 of Lincoln, after a few days in this city, returned home this morning.

Hon. D. S. Draper is in the city today.

C. H. Smith was down to Bartlett and its suburbs yesterday equipped for wet weather.

Sam Campbell, of the B. & M. auditor's office Omaha was in Plattsmouth over Sunday.

Alex Schlegel arrived home yesterday from Denver.

Congressman Weaver passed through the city for the west this morning.

Miss Louisa Lehnhoff, of Louisville, paid a visit to friends here yesterday, and furnished some excellent music at the Liederkreis entertainment.

Att'y Crites went to Aurora, this morning, on legal business.

A. B. Smith came in yesterday afternoon, on the train from the west.

Dist. Att'y Strode returned to Lincoln this morning to wrestle with Lancaster county's criminals.

Presiding Elder Jones was in the city yesterday, holding quarterly meeting at the M. E. church.

Rev. H. B. Burgess was in Ashland over the Sabbath.

Lafayette Gilmore came in from McCook last night and is stopping at Stadelman's.

Miss Josie Stadelman, who has been in Lincoln through the winter, came down home Saturday; her many friends in the city will be pleased to note her return.

All quiet at police headquarters today.

Ask him what he things of this weather.

J. M. Patterson has handed in to the city clerk his resignation, as councilman in the second ward.

It is about time for the sportsmen's club to have a meeting and figure on a spring hunt.

Some good work is being done on Main street, above Seventh, by reducing the bank on the west side of the street.

Emma Abbott appears in Omaha Wednesday evening in "Iolanthe", one of Gilbert & Sullivan's latest and best operas.

The meeting of the evangelists, which are held in the Baptist church, each evening, are both increasing in interest and attendance, and much good will certainly result from them.

Mr. Connor informs us that he is about to engage largely in the real estate business, dealing exclusively in farm property, which he will buy for cash of those wishing to sell.

Con Ballard has moved his family from the rooms over Bennett & Lewis to a house near the Cass Co. Iron Works, in the second ward.

The "Vice President" which so long plied across the river here met with an accident down at Nebraska City during the breaking up of the river and is laid up for repairs with a hole in her hull.

J. P. Young, business manager of Waterman's opera house, is already taking steps to secure some of the leading troupes in the country for next winter's season. Some of the very best talent will be engaged, and nothing but the very best of none but

The committee on premium list asked for further time, and were given until Saturday, March 17th, to report at the office of D. H. Wheeler & Co.

The secretary was instructed to obtain proposals for printing the premium list; also, to solicit advertisements for the same, and to receive ten per cent of the amount realized from advertising.

The President, Secretary, and Treasurer were, on motion, made a merchandise committee to procure a proper desk for the society's books and papers. They were instructed to procure the necessary books and stationery.

J. Q. Adams, in a nice speech, on behalf of the society, presented D. H. Wheeler a handsome silver goblet in recognition for past services, and as a mark of esteem in which the society held him. Mr. Wheeler, in his usual happy manner, thanked them for the honor, in a short speech.

The date of the fair as fixed upon is September 5, 6 and 7.

A Few Words of Interest.

For eight years the Hyers Sisters Company have stood at the very front of all amusement organizations. The reasons for this are self evident. The foremost rule of the Company is to present only the best attraction, regardless of trouble or expense. The quality of the entertainment is of such a refined and pleasing character that ladies, in large numbers, attend and are delighted. Not by any word or deed is anything in the least offensive permitted—indeed it is a fact universally conceded that the entire American stage cannot present a purer or more satisfactory performance than is given by the Hyers Sisters Combination. All the charming features of novelty, vocal and instrumental music, comedy farce and travesty are embodied and utilized by this company' and artistically moulded together, serve to produce the very best evening's amusements now before the public.

To cull from the sterling press of the country words of praise would be a work of supreme ease. Every newspaper of value in the United States has bestowed the most flattering encomiums upon this splendid company, and hence it is only requisite to look over the files of any important paper, to find what, in ordinary phrase is called "a good notice."

No name is so familiar among lovers of good amusement as the Hyers Sisters' Combination, and no company so universally welcome.
