PLATTSMOUTH, MARCH 22, 1883.

This is Good Friday.

POINTERS of great significance indicate a decided desire upon the part of Mayor Weckbach for a second term, and it is said chief of police General Krohler is making herculean exertions for the consummation of the mayor's cherished desire, Vox Populi, Vox Dei.

SENATOR VAN WYCK'S attack upon the management of the department of justice in the Star route cases, is having a rather startling effect; one can scarcely credit his senses when he reads the official returns just made public. Since January 1, 1882, $115,854 has been expended by the department as fees to special counsel; of this rather generous compensation, Mr. Geo. Bliss, special counsel, receives $59,069 and Messrs Merrick and Kerr together absorb some $44,000; and these sums are exclusive of the ordinary expenses of the trial, such as court expenses, pay of jurors, mileage, witness' fees, etc.

It is no wonder these cases last so well nor that the court adjourns over until the next day to consider, every time Bob Ingersoll propounds some hard conundrum.

The department of agriculture has taken steps to investigate fully the diseases common to our cattle, hogs and poultry, and for that purpose has supplied one Dr. Salmon, of Washington, D. C. with suitable animal buildings and apparatus for inoculation, autopsies, etc. The investigations will be made especially in Texas fever, pleuropneumonia, and hog and chicken cholera. The department feels confident that Dr. Salmon can by these experiments arrive at the true causes of these scourges so common to American cattle, hogs and poultry, and be able to place in the hands of the farmer and stock raiser certain means for the prevention and cure of these diseases.

THE reign of terror in Chicago under "sand bag" rule, is calling elements to the front that bespeak a better day for that city. One of the great journals of that great city announces in flaming lead lines, "The city ministers cast themselves into the arena of city politics." All people interested in good government, will hail this announcement with joy. We all believe the clergy of this country, of every sect and denomination, are laboring honestly in the vineyard to bring "peace on earth good will to men," each to assist his weary plodding brother in the great battle of life. They cannot carry out the precepts of the master in a grander way, in bearing their share "of the heat and burden of the day" in shouldering their proportion of the responsibility of public affairs, than by urging and exhorting the people to establish and maintain good government. One of the most difficult problems under our theory of government, arises in establishing and maintaining safe wholesome rule in our great centers of population.

The rule is, in our great cities, the idle lawless classes, are always the ones foremost, and most active in forming and shaping the government. If an honest estimate were made in the great cities of Chicago, Philadelphia or New York after a municipal election has been held, we venture the assertion that statistics would show that for every bummer and vagabond who remains away from the polls and forfeits his right of suffrage can be found ten peaceful law abiding electors who have and follow a legitimate lawful business for a livelihood, who have been so busily engrossed with their private affairs as not to go to the polls and vote and thus to a great extent are these local governments turned over to the class least qualified to govern.

This evil has become so great in Chicago that the clergy of that great city have met and asked their followers to unite and help put down the lawless rule which today renders life and property unsafe in their midst. One other good feature of this meeting of the clergy in Chicago, was the sound, sensible views expressed by many of these eminent gentlemen on the liquor question; while a very large majority were prohibitionists in belief they acknowledged that it was their duty to take a practical view of the question, and that high license was much better than free whisky; that this being a government of majorities, and the majority in Chicago being opposed to prohibition, they as practical men and citizens, desirous of securing the best possible rule considered it their duty to cast their influence upon the side of those who were calling for a high license and better government.

In a popular government like this of ours the HERALD, believes it is the duty of all classes of citizens to come to the front, each one assuming his share of the responsibilities of selecting our rulers.

OBITUARY.

WILLARD N. BUELL, son-in-law of our esteemed fellow-citizen, Chaplain Wright, committed suicide at the residence of Mr. Wright on last evening. A full report of the circumstances are given in detail in the report of the coroner's inquest.

Mr. Buell came to visit his wife's people here on last Saturday, leaving his family at Blue Rapids, Kansas, where he was engaged as manager of the Blue Rapids woolen mills.

Mr. Buell was born in Ogdensburg, St. Lawrence county, N. Y., and coming west to Milwaukee, Wis., in the year 1863, there made the acquaintance of Chaplain Wright's second daughter, Amanda Juliet, and married her in Milwaukee during that year. About the year 1865 Mr. Buell and family came to St. Joseph, Mo., where he was for a time engaged in the dry goods trade, and about the year 1867 engaged in the manufacture of woolen goods at that place. The business prospering some two or three years, the firm of which Milton Tootle, of St. Joseph, was a large stockholder, purchased the large manufacturing interest at Blue Rapids, Kansas, where Mr. Buell has since been engaged as manager. Mr. Buell has been in failing health for some few years back, caused by too close application to his business, and but recently was compelled to stop for a rest. He came to Plattsmouth in a despondent frame of mind to consult Dr. Livingston, and his knowledge that recovery in his case was hopeless, so preyed upon his mind that in a temporary fit of insanity the dreadful deed was committed. His wife and family are at their home in Kansas. Mr. Buell has a beautiful home in Kansas, and was a man of large means and leaves his business in perfect shape. He was a man of excellent habits and fine social qualities, but too close attention to business sapped his constitution, and ere he was aware the machinery was so nearly worn out that recovery was hopeless. He leaves Mrs. Buell and two sons, one seventeen and one eleven years of age to mourn his loss. Chaplain and Mrs. Wright are overwhelmed with the strange and terrible calamity which such a sad ending always brings to those who loved and cherished the unfortunate victim.

AND now comes the Sun, the great source of light for a number of small democratic newspapers we could put our finger upon, who plagiarize very largely from its ample pages, and takes the Buffalo Courier smartly to task. The Courier, it appears, is joining in the cranky cry of "Down with Randall", because, forsooth, Mr. Randall has sense enough, and manhood enough, to stand true to his convictions on the tariff question, and is opposed to the free trade madness of a portion of his party. The Sun, speaking of the attack on Mr. Randall, says: "This is a noteworthy symptom of the strong purpose to force the tariff question into the foreground of the next presidential election." After deprecating this disposition upon the impracticables and fanatics in the democratic party, on this question, the Sun closes its article in the following prophetic soliloquy, which we commend to our free trade readers:

"However, the world of practical politics is a world of uncertainty and of surprises; and it is not at all impossible that the brilliant prospect, which now opens before the democracy, may be clouded by unnecessary conflicts within the bosom of the party, resulting in the election of a republican president next year after all."

That is so, Mr. Sun, while the people like the excitement of novelties, and new issues in politics, they are not going to further trouble, a so-called national party with the responsibility of administering the affairs of this great country, when it is already overburdened with all the ills and isms of the day and age.

The Sun is not inclined to believe the democrats would show up very well in opposition to the plain issue of protection to American industries.

The German government, it appears, has actually passed the act excluding the American pig from the Teutonic potato patch. American pork was condemned by the German authorities, merely as a pretext for this measure; while the truth seems to be, the German producer of pork could not stand American competition. The act is said to be very broad and sweeping in its provisions, but the chances are, the results will not be what the German statesmen who favored this extraordinary measure, anticipated. Our commercial neighbor, Johnny Bull, with his usual enterprise, will gladly take our pork, raise the price on his German neighbor, and under English brands, it will pass muster in German markets. So we will get rid of our surplus meat, at as fair a price as we could possibly get when competing against the world in German markets, and Johnny Bull will get to handle it, and make his commission on it by so doing; and Mr. Bismarck and his followers will probably have to pay a little higher for it, and everybody will be correspondingly happy. A rose will smell as sweet under any other name.

THE weather is again a good deal like Babel's wife, "so much this, and so much that."

THE IOWA AMENDMENT.

On yesterday, in the supreme court of Iowa, sitting at Council Bluffs, the counsel for the liquor interest made a motion to strike the petition for a rehearing from the docket, which was overruled, and a motion to transfer or postpone the rehearing of the case until the Dubuque term came on, was also denied, when the court proceeded to set the case down for a hearing on April 9th next, at the Davenport term, when the case will certainly be disposed of.

Counsel for the liquor men claimed they were not prepared to go on with the reargument, and urged a longer adjournment, while counsel for the amendment announced their entire readiness, and also their desire to proceed at once to a full argument of the case.

HARRIS & UNRUH,

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED AS IT IS CERTAIN IN ITS EFFECT AND DOES NOT HURT. ALSO EXCELLENT FOR HUMAN BLEMISH. READ PROOF BELOW.

FROM COL. L. T. FOSTER

Youngstown, Ohio, May 10th, 1880.

H. J. Kendall & Co., Gents: I had a very valuable Humberian colt which I prized very highly, he had a large bone spavin in one joint and smaller one on the other, which made him very lame; I had him under the charge of two veterinary surgeons who failed to cure him. I was one day reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure in the Chicago Express, I determined at once to try it, and ordered three bottles, I took them all and thought I would give it a thorough trial, and according to the directions and the fourth day the colt ceased to limp, and the lump had disappeared. I am lame, and the lump had disappeared. I am free from lumps and as smooth as any horse in the state. He is entirely cured. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles who are now using it.

Very Respectfully, L. T. FOSTER.

Kendall's Spavin Cure

ON HUMAN FLESH.

Patterson, N. Y., Feb. 21, 1878.

B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents: The particular case in which I used your Kendall's Spavin Cure will make me a good friend of sixteen months standing. I had tried many things, but in vain. Your Spavin Cure put me to the ground again, and for the first time since hurt, in a natural position. For a family liniment it excels anything we ever used.

Yours truly,

REV. M. P. HELL,

Pastor of M. E. Church, Patterson, N. Y.

THE ONLY DISSOLVER OF THE POISONOUS URIC ACID WHICH EXISTS IN THE BLOOD OF RHEUMATIC AND GOUTY PATIENTS.

SALICYLICA is known as a common-sense remedy, because it strikes directly at the cause of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, while so many so-called specifics and supposed panaceas only treat locally the effects.

It has been conceded by eminent scientists that outward applications, such as rubbing with oils, ointments, liniments, and soothing lotions will not eradicate the disease, which are the result of the poisoning of the blood with Uric Acid.

SALICYLICA works with marvelous effect on this acid and so removes the disorder. It is now exclusively used by the highest physicians of America and Europe. Highest Medical Academy of Paris reports 95 per cent cures in three days.

that SALICYLICA is a certain cure for RHEUMATISM, GOUT and NEURALGIA. The most intense pains are subdued almost instantly.
