

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY. The Plattsmouth Herald Publishing Co. TERMS: DAILY, delivered by carrier to any part of the city...

PLATTSMOUTH, MARCH 25, 1883.

EX-SENATOR KELLOGG is now in for it. An indictment has been found against him for accepting a bribe of twenty thousand dollars from one, Price, a star route contractor on the route from Corpus Christi to San Antonio, Texas.

The month of January showed the largest value of exports from this country ever reported for that month, $80,000,000, against about $57,000,000 of imports.

COMPTROLLER KNOX says that the passage of the act reducing internal revenue taxation, relieves the national and state banks and the private bankers from a tax on the average of about $1,000,000 a month.

LESLIE'S Illustrated Newspaper announces a new departure, in that it will contain shortly, a department in which the ablest and most practical political economists of the day, will discuss the prominent questions which attract the attention of the American people.

What were the Hon. Lorenzo Brown's friends? Collector Haines, of Brownville, Texas, acting upon the advice of his friends, has quietly notified the treasury department at Washington, that his resignation is not yet ripe, and he declines to have it picked by the department.

NEW POSTAL NOTES. The new postal notes are likely to be very popular, particularly those for small amounts, as already 430 out of every thousand order are for $5 or less.

to get his money, must send to Washington. The object of this is to prevent it being used for general circulation. For odd amounts the postal notes will be very convenient, and no doubt much used.

The Indian question is again before the country, and the history of its failure is being regularly written with the blood of the frontier settler. The last two or three days chronicles the assassination of a score or more of Arizona's settlers.

It has been demonstrated that our present Indian policy will not meet this question and solve it humanely and satisfactorily. Let the government, at once, take hold of this matter, place these people upon permanent reservations, and force them to stay there.

Liquor Question. That this nation would be better off without a single dram shop, is not even a debatable question. The minister of the gospel, the artisan at the bench, the professional man upon his rounds of duty, and the vendor of liquors from behind the bar, will all tell you this; consequently it is not the HERALD's purpose in this paragraph to discuss this truism.

Today, we live, and strut out our little brief existence, and we have to take the bad weather and evil things of our times, both as we find them; much has been said about the few safeguards our people have had thrown around the hearth stone, to protect our youth from the baleful evils of intemperance; and of late, very much has also been said about the salutary liquor law Nebraska enjoys as compared with older states.

Buffalo, March 27.—A mammoth position was presented the board of excise to increase the license to $200 for liquors and $75 for ale and beer. Saloon-keepers have formed a protective union and sent a committee of seventy-five to wait upon the excise board. To the citizens of Buffalo, two hundred and fifty dollars is a high figure which the "saloon-keepers' protective union" considers exorbitant.

SHALL WE ENCOURAGE RAILROAD ENTERPRISES?

Many of our well disposed citizens say of the railways that are proposing to enter our state from the eastward: "There is no use in worrying over these lines of road, they know just where they are going." Also they will tell you "It is no use offering them inducements to come. These roads will induce different points, make them offers of donations, but in the end will take the route they have worked out from the beginning."

It is now necessary for the cattle ranges of America; from the head waters of the Yellow Stone southward wherever there is living water and grass—we might almost say to the Gulf of Mexico—the Indian and the stock man are occupying all territory not claimed by the settler, and even on the arid table land, where heretofore it has been impossible to raise stock on account of the lack of water, the enterprise of the ranch man of today is supplying that want with artesian wells, and steam power to pump water, sufficient for the herds of stock.
