JEFF. L. STONE, - City Editor.

A. Salisbury, Dentist.

Another nice day and lots of farmers in town.

The G. A. R. meets at the court house tonight.

The band and a big time at the skating rink tonight.

Misses Cora Wells and Maggie Straight, of South Bend, are in the city today.

Prof. Harris, of Omaha, will fill the pulpit of the Christian church, Sunday evening.

Chaplain Wright will deliver the discourse at the Presbyterian church tomorrow, in place of Rev. Mr. Baird.

The County Superintendent is busily engaged today in the examination of about 35 teachers, in high school building.

M. D. Polk brought in from Eight Mile Grove a handsome cactus, yesterday, about three feet in height, which was in bloom. It was a beauty.

Those having charge of the Art Loan are flying around lively today, getting everything in shape for the opening of the exhibition Monday evening.

Simon Mayer was engaged all day yesterday in unloading handsome furniture at Mrs. Stalheim's house near the Herald office, where he intends residing.

The new surveyor general, D. V. Stephenson, will take possession of the office about the 15th, the programme further than that we are unable to give.

Wanted:—A boy at the Herald office to learn the printing trade. Must be energetic and not afraid to work. Apply at once to H. M. Bassett, business manager, at this office.

The weight used in connection with the gas machine in the Waterman building, took a tumble yesterday, and its drop shook the whole building. Its weight is about a ton.

W. H. Pickens, the thorough-going carpenter and builder in the Third ward, is engaged in building a new dwelling-house for himself, which he informs the Herald he has rented for the entire year before commencing building.

Prof. James E. Harris, a brother-in-law of B. F. Stout, and family, of Utica, Ohio, arrived in the city this morning. He will spend a short time in Plattsmouth and will locate permanently in Nebraska some place. He is a Christian minister.

A glance at this week's exchanges from all parts of the state, reveals the fact that at the school elections, the women pretty generally turned out and exercised the limited franchise accorded to them, in the selection of school officers, and the levies made for school purposes.

Capt. Shannon authorizes us to say to the Journal that he was not serenaded the other night, and that if the serenaders stopped and "blew off" in front of his residence he knew nothing about it. He says when the boys serenaded in front of his house, it is for him, and not the editor of the Journal.

A communication has been received at this office directed to the editor of the leading church in which a band of wandering minstrels want us to play them upon per cent; having had a little experience in Matilda Fletcher's show this proposition cannot be entertained.

Judge Johnson and Peter Merges are preparing to build a fine stone fence in front of their residence property on Vine street. The fence will be some eighty-eight feet in length, and surmounted with a light iron or wooden fence. This will be a great improvement to their property.

Mrs. Bell May Mallory, of Beaver City, Nebraska, gave the valedictory address for the graduating class of the Edgemoor Medical College at Indianapolis, last week. Mrs. Mallory is the wife of an invalid soldier, whose pension is so small that she has been compelled to study medicine, to procure support for the family.

Mr. M. W. Morgan is just completing a good, substantial stone fence across the front of his property on the corner of Pearl street and Chicago avenue. This fence presents quite a formidable appearance and adds greatly to the appearance and value of his property.

We direct the attention of our readers to the ad. of Fred Herrmann, on the first page of today's paper. Fred is a man who has faith in printer's ink, and is one of the most successful business men in Plattsmouth. He has a fine stock of goods, which he offers at best rock prices, and when you want to buy goods in his line just call around and see him. He charges nothing to show goods and will be glad to see you.

Personal. A. W. McLaughlin goes to Chicago this evening. Mrs. A. W. McLaughlin went to Lincoln this morning. Miss Carrie Slater, of Louisville, is in the city visiting friends. D. H. Bible reading on various subjects of interest to both saved and lost every afternoon at 3 o'clock. Gospel meetings at 7:30; Lord's day at 3 and 7 p. m. All are welcome. Come.

There is very little satisfaction to the people of Plattsmouth to listen to Matilda Fletcher's rattle after having heard such ladies as Phoebe Conzins, Helen Gougar, Mrs. Sexton and others during campaign days last fall. Mrs. Fletcher has not a pleasing address, is wanting in arguments and possesses little aptness in illustrations. Her lecture on the "Mistakes of Ingersoll" does little else than to awaken a desire to study Ingersoll, and the one who listens to Mrs. Fletcher and then reads Ingersoll will be irresistibly led toward favorable comments all of which will add laurels to Pope Bob's particular philosophy.

The harness makers have been having a boom this spring in this city, and both manufacturing houses here, are crowded with work and are turning out a large number of sets of harness to supply the country trade. The firms of Straight & Co. and J. G. Chambers & Son are well known in Cass and adjoining counties, and they have built up trades which are hard to excel. In the line of fancy driving harness, manufactured to order, the Herald will put up Plattsmouth work against the state.

In our list of personals will be found the names of J. J. Imhoff and party, of Lincoln, who came up from the capital yesterday to confer with General Manager Talmage and others of the Missouri Pacific officials, who were at the Paxton, in regard to the connection of that city with the Missouri by a branch line.

Whether the line was to be built up from the south or down from Papillon was not learned, and the conference was not concluded at the latest accounts.—Omaha Bee.

A Big Cattle Deal. One day last week Messrs. A. C. McCorkle and L. U. Beal, of this place, sold to Sam Barker, a Cass county stock dealer, about 1,000 head of fat steers, the heaviest realizing about $75.00. The cattle will be ready to ship in about a month. This looks like a good trade for our home dealers.—Superior Journal.

It is said a company of forty ladies of Juniata, handsomely uniformed and armed with brooms, will appear at the State Reunion at Hastings next September, where they will give an exhibition of the drill of the broom brigade. They will hold a weekly drill until that time.

A number of the boys are going up to Omaha tonight to see Lawrence Barrett in "Francisco De Rimini."

The Black Crook. This, the grandest of all spectacular drama, now having an unprecedented run, will give an evening's performance in Plattsmouth on Thursday next. The piece depends for its success a great deal on its scenic and mechanical effects, and the painter and machinist have worked at their specialties with the hope and expectation of arriving at perfection in the Black Crook. How well they have succeeded in the accomplishment of their cherished hopes we will all know on Thursday evening. The company engaged, and who will appear in this drama, has been selected with a view of rendering efficient every act in which they appear. The most prominent of the 50 artists employed in its production is the most renowned danseuse, Mlle Marie Bonfanti, the acknowledged Premiere Danseuse of the age, supported by Premiere Assoluta, Mlle Ortori, Mons. Novissimo, and a full corps of 20 Coryphees. The dramatic company will be found to be very efficient, including such sterling actors as J. W. Haisdel, Messrs. Huntley, Brown, etc. The Prismatic Fountain, with its myriad jets of real water, the gorgeous transformation scene with all its intricate changes and mechanical effects, the rich and gaudy wardrobe, are all worked into this piece, which, combined, makes it the most attractive production for all classes, ages and sex, of anything ever presented.

Mrs. Thea Tietjes, wife of Henry Tietjes, was adjudged insane this afternoon. She is 53 years of age, and the cause of her insanity is supposed to be the death of a son. Dr. Livingston, the examining physician, gave it as his opinion that her life was near its end. She will be taken to the asylum Monday.

S. & C. Mayer have a flag hung in front of their store draped in mourning in honor of the death of Peter Cooper, the great philanthropist and friend of the oppressed.

Phil Young has swung out a bulletin board under his sign ornamented with bills for the Black Crook.

River Report. As furnished officially to the War Department. The river at noon today, stood 7 ft. 5 in above low water mark, showing no change since last report.
