What's a Dude. "What is dude, papa?" she said. With a sweet, inquiring eye. And to the noisier looking maid Her father thus replied.

A. Salisbury, Dentist.

Plattsmouth has got a "dude."

Three more weeks of school.

The city council meets tonight.

Several cases of small pox are reported in Blair.

Moving day is at hand, and the whitewash brush is a prominent citizen about now.

Main street is filled with teams today and business in every department is on the boom.

Maj. Wheeler has been wearing a cane for a day or two on account of rheumatism.

The chess club flourishes and the members hold their meetings in Dr. Richmond's office.

The two new Denver trains are beauties, being made up of the B. & M.'s handsome coaches and Pullman sleepers.

Prof. Cushman is making fine progress with his class, having over seventy-five in attendance at rehearsal this afternoon.

The usual number of passengers on the west bound train this morning were lacking, and the train was a light one.

The Wilberforce concert company which comes here Tuesday night next is highly commended by a number of our exchanges.

Al. Dorrington has graduated in the post office business. In other words Uncle Sam didn't "wante" consequently Al. couldn't "stay."

Several sand bars have grown in the river in the last few days. The growing weather for everything, and laziness grows about as fast as anything else.

The Harry Webber company speak their astonishment over the progress of Plattsmouth since their last visit here and are enthusiastic over our beautiful city.

The Right Rev. R. H. Clarkson, Bishop of the Diocese of Nebraska will officiate at St. Luke's church tomorrow at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Seats free and all are invited.

A party of sharpshooters, with plenty of ammunition, etc., are out west of Meisinger's, this afternoon holding mass meetings with the wild geese and ducks.

The Inter Ocean of yesterday says Geo. H. Thompson, of Plattsmouth, Neb. has invented a fire escape that was tested at the Lehigh hotel and found satisfactory in every respect.

All interested in forming a base ball association for this season will meet at the court house Monday night. Plattsmouth ought to have a "cratling" club this summer.

Mrs. Webber suffered from a severe attack of sickness during the performance of Nip and Tuck last evening, being barely able to make her appearance at all. She is better this morning and we hope that a day of rest and quiet today will completely restore her.

The agitation of creameries just now seems to be duty of the Neb. asks press. Nearly all of the exchanges of those already in operation, on the organization of companies for the purpose of carrying them on. Go it, we second the motion.

The announcement made by the Chief of Police at the Opera House last evening had its effect, and a good one too. There is just one more thing to do, viz: make the gallery gods remove their hats and keep their feet off the railing.

Of late there have been a number of inquiries for cottages to rent. The demand is greater than the supply. Large houses at a high rental are not what are needed, but small cottages at a reasonable figure. It would pay some of our men of means to make some investments of this character.

Read the advertisements contained in this issue of the daily. Our business men report business looking up, and they tell you what they have, and where they keep it, and invite your personal examination of their stock, through the columns of THE HERALD.

Prof. Cushman's rehearsals of the Fairy Queen are progressing nicely. The choruses are being learned very rapidly. The little folks are taking a deep interest, and the leading lady singers of the city are taking hold with enthusiasm. We shall have two of the grandest entertainments ever presented in this city, in about two weeks.

A man in Winthrop, Me., plays the piano, organ, violin, banjo, cornet, flute, typophone, bones and guitar, and whistles like a nightingale. The Maine people are proud of him. If they don't look out that fellow will play the devil, yet, and then what?

A quartette of festive tramps from over the river were taken in by chief Murphy this morning, and as they hadn't billed the town they were read the vagrancy act and furnished the passes with instructions that their time was limited to 10 minutes in which to reach the city limits. Their names were given as John White, Will O'Connell, Magua Sascom and John Wilson. They took up their beds and walked.

The Herald will hereafter devote a column on its local page once a week—on Saturdays—to the people. If you have any suggestions to make for the good of the city of Plattsmouth, we shall be glad to hear from you. We don't invite political discussions, but as citizens interested in one common cause—the growth and welfare of our city, its good government and improvement—we shall dedicate this space to the vox populi.

It was a great disappointment to the people of Kearney county that Simmerman was not named for the judgeship by the court in which he was tried. The papers from that section denounce the supreme court, and the State Journal and one paper which is very loud and strong in its denunciations of the supreme court, in the same breath says that he was not named for the judgeship was allowed, was a matter of right and could not be denied. Then why curse the supreme court about it.

It being uniformly a dull time for locals, we may venture a dog fight will occur up in the hollow, out towards Woodson's old place. There were three dogs, one cow and Capt. Shannon mixed up in the affair. It has not transpired how the same ended. Capt. is about with his pants laid away to soak, the cow is out to pasture, and the dogs, some of them, have gone to carry the late news to the brigade of which Kroehler sent off last winter.

Mr. John Gregory is circulating a petition, asking the governor to pardon Warren C. Johnson, sentenced to the penitentiary for life, from Sedgewick county, for the murder of his brother. The petition is printed and in two forms, one asking that the prisoner be pardoned, on the ground that the subscribers believe him to be innocent of the murder, while the other also asking his pardon, on the ground that the petitioners believe there is a doubt of his guilt, and the prisoner ought to have the benefit of the doubt. —State Journal.

Prof. Cushman will commence a class for the rudiments of music, and will only charge a nominal sum of 25 cents for the whole term, to be held in the afternoon, after school. The evening rehearsal will be free to all, the same as usual. Parents desiring their children to learn the rudiments of music will find this an excellent opportunity. Boys as well as girls will be taken in the afternoon rehearsals. Prof. Cushman furnishes all the costumes at the time of entertainments, thereby saving the expense of a party to hire their children look well. Parents are invited to come and listen to their children at time of rehearsals.

The production of "Nip and Tuck" last evening by the Harry Webber company, was one of the most delightful entertainments placed upon the Plattsmouth stage during the season. The piece is one of unimagined paths and comedy from beginning to end. A peculiar feature of the play is the employment of Nip and Tuck, two detectives—"partners in business"—upon opposite sides of a murder case. Each supposes the other ignorant of his connection in the case, which brings them into many laughable and ludicrous situations. The acting and singing of little Carrie Webber completely captured the audience, and their appreciation was indicated by the repeated encores. The different parts, as a whole, were all well taken, and the least we can say is, it was simply immense.

Negotiations which have been pending for some time between the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Gould syndicate controlling the Hannibal and St. Joe, were concluded today. The papers were signed and placed in the hands of T. L. Ames. Two-thirds of the preferred stock and 75,000 shares of common were represented in the transaction. The purchase by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy involved also a contract with the Western Union telegraph company extending to all lines of the railroad company. There has been a question whether the contract with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy extended and embraced leased and new lines, but this has been settled by execution of a new contract. Both parties seem to regard the transaction as mutually advantageous.

Harry Webber, supported by a strong company, produced John F. McArdle's original eccentricity, entitled, "Flint and Steel" Matrimonial Agents, for the first time in America, before a large and well-pleased audience, Saturday, August 26th. Mr. Harry Webber as Phineas Flint, was exceedingly funny, and aided by Steel, his partner in business and villainy, kept the audience in a roar of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Miss Martha Wren, as Nabby Nubby, was very fine, displaying to perfection the office boy of such grand rascals as his employers. In the last act, Miss Wren, accompanied by the banjo, sang the beautiful English ballad, "Mamma, Why Don't Papa Come Home?" and, in answer to a very hearty encore, sang her negro melody, for which she is so justly celebrated. Harry Pearson, as General Abercromby; Edward Poland, as Hon. Bertie Briggs, and Mrs. Eva Webber as Aunt Amelia Abercromby, deserve special mention, and were great favorites with the audience, especially the latter, whose imitation of the old maid was very natural. —N. Y. Dramatic News.

The following from the Gibbon Beacon, hits the nail squarely on the head, and is worthy of reproduction in every paper in the State. "The man who twenty-five years ago dared to predict the settlement of the plains of Nebraska, the desert which geographers located west of the Missouri river, was ridiculed as an enthusiast or a meddling idiot. Even to express the thought that farming lands might be found thirty or forty miles west of that interesting stream, awakened suspicions of the sanity, or of the motive of such a thought. Today the sun does not shine upon more productive fields or more prosperous people than are to be found in the territory spoken of. For two hundred miles westward, on all lines of railroad, innumerable cities are bursting with their wealth of corn, the pastures are covered with flocks and herds, the school houses, (in Nebraska you are never out of sight of the school house), are occupied by well qualified teachers and earnest pupils, and the churches, on the Sabbath, are filled with happy, cheerful, and thankful worshippers. Happy Nebraska! If her people appreciate their advantages and improve them,

The Lincoln News reports a sad account of the death of a inmate of the insane asylum by the name of Roberson. A few days ago the asylum authorities wrote to his friends in Bellwood, Butler county, informing them Mr. Roberson had so far recovered as to be able to be taken home. Yesterday a friend arrived on the noon train, and procuring a hack called at the asylum for the purpose of taking his friend home, when he was horrified to learn he was dead and in his coffin ready for shipment. It seems the inmate was a victim of opium all his life, and on his daily allowance being reduced gradually, so weakened his system that he passed quietly away unexpectedly.

WEeping WATER, NEB., April 26. Gen'l Order No. 1. —Capt. W. Jennings is hereby appointed Adjutant General 1st District reunion, G. A. R. He will enter upon his duties immediately. D. M'CAIG, Commander.

As will be noticed in the foregoing Mr. Jennings, our accomplished clerk, has been chosen adjutant general of the District reunion, which the G. A. R. holds at Weeping Water in the near future, we are today, however, unable to give the date. A better man for adjutant general could not have been selected. John Jennings is a soldier by birth, it came as natural for him to ride through the ranks of the Johnnies in Dixie, on a charge, as it is now to go through a difficult land title and straighten them up. Only by this, whereof we speak, when we say this, we understand the citizens of Weeping Water have made extensive arrangements for this reunion. That locality is peopled with old soldiers anyway. Fine commodious barracks are erected, a supply of army tents has been provided and thousands of the old boys will meet during this reunion to grasp the hand and recite the old story of their perils and hardships in upholding the old flag against the enemies of the republic. The ties of soldiery will be renewed and the children of these veterans will from their parents relearn the stories of devotion of their patriotic lives for liberty and liberty's heritage.

Harry Webber's new purchase "Flint and Steel," which has achieved a reputation throughout Great Britain as a most laughable entertainment was produced for the first time in America at Heuck's Opera House, during the whole of last week, to a series of large and highly delighted audiences. The piece, which is styled "a sparkling absurdity" is worthy of a better name. It is, in fact, a series of cleverly contrived dilemmas and situations connected by a well-defined plot, of which each character part played a necessary and useful part. The sketches being introduced, as is so often the case with our modern school comedies. The piece, as we stated in our resume of the plot in Tuesday's issue, hinges on the wiles and machinations of a pair of Matrimonial Agents, "Flint and Steel," and the various customers they manage to ensnare, by big promises of wealthy husbands and wives, for all who seek their aid. —Cincinnati Watchman.

A Fast Stock Train. This week Messrs. Parmelee & Agnew shipped from Ashland nine hundred and fifty head of cattle for their ranch in Carter county. The train was loaded by rail to Kearney and from there directed to the ranch. The shipment was made by special train of twenty-five cars which left Ashland at 8:40 in the evening and reached Kearney at 4 a. m. the next morning. Asst. Supt. Thompson giving them a twenty-mile spur order and putting them through on time.

V. V. Leonard's New Residence. Architect Ernst Wagner has shown us the plans of Mr. Leonard's new residence which he is just commencing on his splendid property on 6th street. His residence will be two full stories and will be finished in the most substantial manner. Mr. Wagner's plans show what work he is capable of doing and they are as complete and plain as any ever submitted. Mr. Leonard's residence will be one of the handsomest and most complete in the city and will be the prominent improvements of the year. Work was commenced this morning preparatory to breaking ground for excavations.

Improvements. Maj. Dan. Wheeler has the disease and while he does not go to the extent of a stone fence, he has built a tight boy-proof apple orchard fence around his cheerful little orchard on the corner of Fourth and Vine. This is a fine improvement, and it is not intended for the boys to see. Peter E. Ruffner, the left-handed implement man who can sell a check rower to a farmer starting out of town without even stopping him, has erected a wind mill at the Bonner stables for W. D. Jones. His mill is warranted to pump all the water necessary for these extensive stables, and at the same time furnish a supply of air for the establishment when Bro. Jones is out of Gear.

Action will be taken on the applications for saloon licenses tonight. A rumor was current this afternoon that a citizen in shooting at a dog which had bitten one of his children, accidentally shot into the pedal extremities of another citizen, of feminine persuasion. It is a mistake—the gun didn't go off, but the dog did.

This afternoon in the county court the case of Janda vs. McFairfield was up for trial, the case being a labor case, and for solution a settlement. J. E. Morrison appeared for the plaintiff, and E. H. Woolley for the defense. The judge has the solution under advisement.

River Report. As furnished officially to the War Department. The river at noon today, stood 7 ft. above low water mark.

PERSONALS.

Professor Drummond is doing Omaha today. Father Lynch went west this morning. Jno. R. Clark, the Lincoln banker is in the city today. Judge Lavery came in on the train from the west this morning. H. J. Straight and wife returned to their home at South Bend this morning. R. W. Hyers went to Louisville today on business connected with the sheriff's office. Charley Clapp and S. E. Green, associate, two of Elmwood's best men, are doing Plattsmouth. Messrs. Frank Klepser and W. W. Keithly, of Weeping Water, together with their ladies were in the city Friday night witnessing Nip and Tuck at the opera house.

Sumner S. Hall, one of Cass county's best young men has returned from his visit to Weeping Water and has accepted a position with the B. & M. in their offices at Pacific Junction.
