Gold paper and colored fires at Warlick's, tonight.

Fairy Queen, Thursday and Friday evenings this week.

The rainfall up to noon today was 1.73-100 inches.

The river today stands 6 feet 11 inches above low water mark.

Reserved seats are now on sale for the Fairy Queen. Admission 50c. Reserved seats 50c.

It didn't rain last night and this morning, but it poured. It is just what the country needs.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The mail from Omaha failed to put in an appearance this morning. It was either carried by or never started from Omaha.

Twelve licenses have been issued to draymen, and there are about twelve more who will have to take out license or quit.

Mr. F. Latham, the genial and efficient freight agent of the B. & M., was a pleasant caller at the Herald office today. Come again, Mr. Latham.

The city council held a called meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at which time license will be granted to Claus Breckenfeld, for the sale of malt, spirituous and vinous liquors.

Atchison and Emporia papers say that the Fairy Queen is the finest entertainment ever visited the city, and was greeted with crowded houses while being played there.

The streets, alleys and gutters are being cleaned up in different parts of town. The order of the mayor and notice of the chief of police have had a wholesome effect. Keep it up until the whole city is clean.

One hundred and fifty in the grand chorus of Fairy Queen. The tableaux are the finest ever put upon the stage. Great care is being taken to have every thing pass off smoothly. Go, everybody and encourage home talent. Tickets are now on sale at Young's book store.

Switch engine No. 92 under the manipulation of George O'Neill got off the track this morning caused by an open switch. The ground was soft and she went to the bottom, smashing her ash pan, etc. It is quite a job to get it back and is giving the boys considerable trouble.

Frank Carruth received by express this morning 35 lbs of maple sugar from Vermont. The remembrance of some kind friend back there who knew Frank had a sweet tooth in his head. It is the "pure quill" and wasn't seasoned with sand like the western maple sugar.

The lightning this evening played sad havoc among some of the telephones. In the central office at Omaha, we are informed that the magnet and bells were burned out, also some of the phones at Lincoln. Persons having telephones should remember that they are not to be fooled with during a thunder storm as it is dangerous. Read the rules in your directory.

In the case of J. B. Stockwell vs. Joseph Novotny, which was tried in the county court yesterday, the judge this morning rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount of his claim, $18. The plaintiff is the Rochester tree man, and sold trees of the above value, which on delivery the defendant refused to accept.

Shindler had a shindy last night at the corner of Main and Sixth streets. He had been testing his capacity for carrying the amber fluid, so palatable to gentlemen of his nationality, and being a little bilious over his success in that line proceeded to address one of our young Americans in a manner wholly distasteful to his ideas of aesthetics, when the young American arose and walked into the ring and sent Shindler to grass in no time. No arrests and no soft gloves.

On the 24th ult. Commissioner Loring, of the bureau of agriculture, held a national conference at Cincinnati, Ohio, to which were invited leading citizens from all over the country who were specially interested in and informed upon the subject of forestry in all its branches. The object of the conference was to devise means and methods of advancing scientific and practical forestry throughout the United States. Gov. Furnas, of this state, was invited and attended the gathering, and has just returned. He reports that one result of the deliberations of the gentlemen present was the division of the United States into four districts, or groups of states. A special agent is appointed for each "to examine and report upon the condition of forests, timber culture," etc. The north-western group of states and territories was assigned to Governor Furnas, as special agent therefor, and embraces Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Dakota, Wyoming, Washington, Utah, Idaho, California, Washington and Oregon. The choice of Governor Furnas for this duty is an excellent one. His recent paper on Forestry on the Plains, printed in this paper a few weeks ago, and since published in pamphlet form, exhibits for this work an intelligence and adaptability of a high order.—State Journal.

Jottings.

On a recent trip over the lines of the old reliable B. & M. in Nebraska, the editor of this paper was astonished at the rapid development of Nebraska. It is said to say her towns and cities have doubled in size and population during the past five years.

The "Queen City of the Prairies," Lincoln, spread out like a painted picture with her state buildings, her government court house and her twenty odd thousand inhabitants with their beautiful and pleasing sights. Twenty-one miles west of this, Crete is flourishing upon the Blue river, at the junction of the B. & M. and the Beatrice branch south. Here we notice the Congregationalist College now firmly established with a strong faculty, a large corps of students and upon a solid financial basis having become the headquarters of several splendid flouring mills two of them erected during the past year at a cost of something over $120,000 containing all the latest improvements in machinery for the manufacture of flour. Crete also boasts several interesting newspapers among which is the Standard edited by Bro. Daugherty, who has with commendable enterprise and energy recently placed steam power in the Standard office, making it one of the best newspaper concerns west of Lincoln. Wilber, the county seat of Saline county, is a flourishing town of several hundred inhabitants. Beatrice, next the largest and best city in southeastern Nebraska, is a flourishing city of some four thousand inhabitants; good hotels, fine business houses, and splendid stocks of goods, are noticeable features of Beatrice. We noticed a good opera house, in which the district court was being held. This place is already a prominent railroad point, destined at no distant day to be still a greater center for the Nebraska railroad system. Here we met and "shook hands" with the man who made the first homestead entry and claim in Nebraska, "Homestead filing No. 1." This gentleman still resides upon his homestead (we regret we have lost his name). From Beatrice south towards the enchanted borders of the Otoe Reservation, the country is simply beautiful; nature's bounteous hand having bestowed upon this section, seemingly, every natural gift requisite to make it the very garden of Nebraska. At the Reservation we came upon the rival towns of Wyoming and Blue Springs, who, in their strife for excellence, have reached out and are including and conquering their suburbs. In contesting embraces, so that the stranger has to be informed that they constitute two distinct towns instead of one large city. Enterprise and thrift are the distinguishing features of these points; swarms of people are visiting the reservation and examining the lands. There are no improvements upon this 140,000 and acre beautiful territory, except a large school house built by the government for the Indians, at an expense of some $10,000 or $12,000. This, we understand, is appraised at $4,000, and must sell with the land upon which it is situated. Water privileges throughout this section are first class for manufacturing purposes.

We predict that these Otoe lands will bring in many cases more than they are worth at the coming sales. From Wyoming west the country is beautiful. The farmers are well ahead with their crops, corn planting principally being over, and in many instances the corn is showing itself through the ground. The small grain, throughout this section of country looked particularly well. Taking it altogether, Nebraska presents no other section of territory that excels this in every respect.

PERSONALS.

Sam. Baker went to Lincoln this morning.

C. H. Parnelle went to Cedar Creek, this morning.

W. D. Jones starts from Fairfield, Ia., with a fine lot of horses, which he will have on sale at his Bonner stables in this city.

Tom L. Murphy, the R. R. contractor, who to Lincoln, came down this morning, and will spend a few days with the boys in the Store department here.

N. Y. Z. Funk, one of the Jolly B. & M. boys of Omaha, came down this morning, and will spend a few days with the boys in the Store department here.

Charles E. Duke went to Lincoln last evening and will return tonight. He was indeed "arrayed in fine linen and purple," and if we judge aright, he was not going to buy hardware. We are afraid some one of the belles of the capital city is the magnet.

John N. King, of Weeping Water, brother of Carl King, of this city, returned to his home after spending Sunday with Carl and other friends in this city.

Grandma Sullivan, of Wichita, Kas., mother of Hon. A. N. Sullivan, of this city, and Thomas Sullivan, of Rock Bluff, returned to her home today, after visiting with her sons for some eight weeks. Mrs. Sullivan is a venerable lady, 78 years of age, yet hale and hearty and hopes for many years yet of the enjoyment of earthly pleasures.

An aristocratic delegation of masons from Weeping Water, consisting of Billy Mickle, Phil S. Barnes, Joe Parkins, Rev. Mr. Welch, S. J. Child, Joe Kalkie, Mr. Ashley, came in to visit their brothers of the compass and square at their lodge rooms in this city. They came across in carriage expecting to return home last night, but unpropitious weather prevented, and they tarried until morning.

Frank Mickle, formerly of South Bend, but now of Clark county, Iowa, came in last evening to attend business in the district court. Frank has lately taken unto himself a wife, and bought him a farm of 280 acres in Iowa, and will devote his future life to the raising of stock.

Frank Mickle, J. H. Haldeman, attorneys, and F. Yeomans, deputy sheriff, came in from Weeping Water.

Henry Inhelder, of Cedar Creek, came in this morning on real estate business.

Robt. J. Barkham, of H. P. Law & Co., of Lincoln, attended at the district court in connection with the case of H. P. Law & Co., vs. Reed & Worman.

Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald and Miss Maggie O'Keefe went to Lincoln this morning, being called there by telegram of the serious illness of their sister-in-law, Mrs. O'Keefe.

Dr. Mansfield, of Ashland, one of the faculty of the Omaha Medical college, is in the city today attending court as an expert witness in the case of State of Nebraska vs. Mr. Sowards.

B. A. Gibson, attorney and vice-president of the Weeping Water bank, called at the district court. This is the first appearance of this gentleman since his return from the classic hills of the uterine state, where he went into voluntary slavery for life. We understand, however, that he has a charming master, and hope that the slavery will be more pleasant than freedom.

Parties wishing to attend the races at Lincoln, May 18th to 20th, return tickets will be sold at this office May 15th to 19th, inclusive, for one fare and a fourth, good to return May 21.

DISTRICT COURT.

The jury in the case of Pettit vs. Hyers, et al, brought in a verdict for defendants, but Judge Pound wouldn't receive it, and sent them back to find nominal damages against two of the defendants, any how.

The jury in the case of the State of Nebraska vs. Maud Emery, retired about 4 o'clock, and as yet no verdict had been returned. Mr. Strode, the district attorney, had considerable trouble to procure the attendance of witnesses, as he remarked to the court that "a great many of the most prominent ones had friends to visit in Iowa and elsewhere." And those who did testify, at least many of them had a memory that was so hopelessly at fault that it is doubtful whether they are their meals today or not. The case of the State of Nebraska vs. Madam Moore, is on trial. A similar charge.

There is a full attendance at court this afternoon, and front seats are in demand.

S. P. Vannata, Esq., this morning in the district court made motion for a continuance in the case of the state of Nebraska vs. Joseph Sharp, and supported it by affidavits of the defendant, that there were witnesses which he could not now procure. The defendant is in jail on two charges of removing and disposing of mortgaged property, with intent to defraud, etc. The motion was granted, and the prisoner ordered to be discharged from custody on his furnishing bonds in the sum of $350 in each case.

What are inspiring institutions the District Court and Grand Jury are. Their influence has become so extensive as to create within the tender bosoms of a few of our ordinarily brave and courageous young men a sense of fear—mortal terror—that during their session in our midst business matters abroad demand immediate attention. It is just so now, and it is not only so, but also. It is a queer coincidence too, that on the day our "swamp angels" are to be tried for offending against the peace and dignity of the glorious State of Nebraska, no witnesses can be found who can testify to any breach of morality or violation of good conduct. The truth is the boys don't know anything about the matter any way, and to save the county the unnecessary expense of witness fees, they have taken a vacation. Good-bye, boys, we'll see you later.

River Report.

As furnished officially to the War Department. The river at noon today, stood 6 ft. 6 in. above low water mark, showing a rise of 1 in. since noon yesterday.
