Death of Gen. Grant's Mother.

Miscellaneous.

TRIAL OF TRAIN ROBBERS.
Little Rock, Ark., May 11.—At Clarksville last night the jury in the case of the Johnson brothers, train robbers, who murdered Conductor Cain, at Mulberry station, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. Three have already been convicted, and McDonald, the remaining robber, is now on trial. McDonald, the last of the train robbers who murdered Conductor Cain, was found guilty in the circuit court at Clarksville of murder in the first degree.

GEN. GRANT'S MOTHER DEAD.
Jersey City, May 11.—Mrs. Hannah S. Grant, mother of the ex-President, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Corbin, this afternoon. Mrs. Grant rose this morning apparently in good health, but was seized with severe pains in the region of her heart shortly before noon. A physician was at once summoned, but she expired before his arrival. Mrs. Grant was born in Burk county, Pennsylvania, November 29th, 1789, and was married to Jessie R. Grant, at Clermont, Ohio. She was mother of six children, three of whom are now living. Mrs. Corbin, U. S. Grant, and Mrs. Kramer, wife of the present United States minister to Switzerland. The funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at her late residence. Her interment takes place in the family lot, Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.

RATE WAR SETTLED.
Milwaukee, May 11.—The recent rate war on lumber and freight to Missouri river points has been brought to a close. An agreement existed between all the lines reaching the Missouri river that the rate should be fifteen cents per hundred on carload lots, on which basis Iowa would be twelve cents. Under a misapprehension the Chicago & North-western cut the rate from Clinton to Council Bluffs, taking lumber at eight cents, doing this from the supposition that the Milwaukee & St. Paul had previously cut the rate to nine cents. This coming to other Chicago lines, Commissioner Medfey ordered a reduction in the regular rates from Chicago to river points from fifteen to eleven cents. Protests from the Iowa trunk lines association resulted in an agreement to-day. Kansas lines have not yet restored rates, but will probably, on Monday.

U. S. MARSHAL INDICTED.
Montgomery, Ala., May 11.—The grand jury of the United States district court to-day, returned five indictments against Paul Strawback, charging frauds in his accounts as deputy marshal. Strawback was appointed United States marshal for the southern and middle districts of Alabama about the time congress adjourned. Brewster Cameron, chief of the special agents, has been here about a week investigating the accounts of Osborne, a former United States marshal. Strawback was deputy under Osborne for a number of years, and it is alleged his irregularities are three years old, and are for services in arresting parties, etc. The indictments cause great excitement here, as Strawback was regarded as a leading man in his party. He demands an immediate trial, and claims that he has a good defense, and the whole matter is a plot among rival factions of his party to ruin him and drive him from office.

THEIR HIDING PLACE DISCOVERED.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—A Chronicle Hermosillo, Mexico, special says Col. Torres returned last night from the Sierra Madres. He has been pursuing the Apaches for twenty days on a trail which led to the Montezuma district, in northeastern Sonora. At Guazonar he was joined by Col. Garcia, and there made a forced march of five days and nights for the hills in the Sierra Madres. Scouts spied the Indians moving off. Twenty-five scouts have found a large body of Indians in a stronghold heretofore unknown to the oldest scout. The Indians have the appearance of having been settled three or four years. They had a quantity of stolen stock, and a number of old huts. The scouts were attacked and driven back to the main body of the troops. The mountain being inaccessible for cavalry, the troops dismounted and made a march of twelve miles, and found the Indians strongly entrenched in the crest of a large spur of the high mountains. The troops, 300 strong, made an attack. They had to climb the mountain on their hands and knees. The Indians failing to do harm by firing, rolled boulders down the mountain side without effect. The chief, supposed to be Juh had stationed himself on a high point of the mountain to command the Indians. His voice could be heard distinctly for miles. It took two hours for the troops to gain the crest of the mountain. When they reached it two were shot dead. The fight on the summit lasted two hours. Swinging around to the left of the Indians, they made an attack with bayonets, and forced them from their position. The Indians fled, leaving eleven dead bucks on the field. Five soldiers were killed and eight seriously wounded. The Indians were driven for miles. Their trail showed much blood. A great many are supposed to have been wounded. Torres says it was the most savage fight ever made with the Apaches. They were armed with repeating rifles. The Apaches retreated to northeastern Chihuahua. Col. Torres thinks there is no doubt that the ranch was the long unknown stronghold of the Apaches. It is 250 miles east of Sonora, and about the same distance from the Arizona border. He says that the trails of all the small bands degrading in Sonora and Arizona lead to this place. The troops returned to Guaymas.
