BURLINGTON REPUBLICANS. Burlington, Iowa, June 21.—The result in the republican primaries in this city has evening was a complete victory for the temperance wing of the party, the delegates standing sixteen prohibition and twelve anti. The country townships will be largely prohibition. The Hawkeye says this morning: The county will be misrepresented at Des Moines, because the sentiment of the county is undoubtedly opposed to prohibition, but the result is due to the activity of the prohibitionists and the apathy of their opponents.

THE BAD DOCTOR. Philadelphia, June 21.—The search of the premises on Bristol avenue near Fifth, occupied by Dr. Hathaway, at the time of his arrest, resulted in the discovery of a small leather satchel, filled with pills containing liquids and powders. Surgical instruments were also found which the doctor's wife (who lives in the house) said he used in his nefarious practices. An account book was found which covered a period extending from May, 1876, to July 1882, and contained the names and addresses of about 200 females, with the amounts for services written on the margin.

THE COMING REGATTA. Chicago, June 21.—The waters of the Calumet yesterday were placid, and the occasion was improved by the scullers at Pullman, who contemplate entering the great rowing contest tomorrow and Friday. Among the arrivals yesterday were Wm. Elliott, ex-champion of Europe, whom Hanlan defeated on Tyne course in England in 1879, Jas. H. Riley, of Saratoga, who had the honor of rowing Hanlan a dead heat at the Banne regatta. The prospects now are that sixteen men will start, and while Hanlan is the favorite against the field, Haman, Guador, Lee and Hosmer are dividing honors for the second place, while Parker, of St. Louis, has many admirers, and it is thought he may prove a surprise party. Courtney has not put in an appearance and is not expected to show up.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE. Gibson, Pa., June 21.—John Gibson & Co's warehouses, numbers 2 and 3, burned this afternoon. Together they contained about 10,000 barrels of old whisky. Their loss is estimated at $500,000; fully insured. Two men were seriously burned. A number of men were slightly burned.

Gibson, Pa., June 21.—Late news says the fire spread quickly, and soon people from the surrounding country for miles were on the ground doing everything possible to check the flames, but so far as the warehouses were concerned their efforts were unavailing. Their exertions however, resulted in saving a row of six houses. About 10 o'clock a second explosion occurred, and a large number of persons who persisted in getting close to the burning building were more or less injured. At 10 o'clock tonight the fire is under control, and all danger is passed. The fire was caused by a bung bursting from a barrel, scattering the contents over a lamp in the hands of Henry Neill, who was terribly burned and may die. A number of other explosions occurred, the second one being so terrific that bricks, stone and burning whisky were scattered everywhere, seriously injuring fifteen persons. The most of these were scalded and burned. Several people had cuts and bruises on their hands and bodies. The buildings were stone, four stories high, 250 feet long, and 50 feet wide, with slate roofing and iron shutters. This is the second fire within six months at Gibson's distillery.

Columbus, Ohio, June 21.—The democratic state convention convened at 10 a. m., with the largest crowd ever seen on a similar occasion in Columbus. Not more than half the people could be accommodated in the opera house. The sultry weather and rain made everything disagreeable. The contest between Ward and Hoadley for governor waged fiercely during the morning hours.

The convention was called to order by Clark Irving, chairman of the central committee, and the reports of the committees appointed last night heard. All preliminary organizations were dispensed with and Hon. John McSweeney, of Wooster, introduced as permanent chairman, and received with much enthusiasm. He spoke briefly in the line of exhortation, and predicting a democratic victory, but touched no issue. The floor of the convention became overrun with spectators, and business was suspended for about half an hour. Before resuming work, the committee on resolutions not being ready to report, the convention proceeded to nominations for governor.

There was great delay in the presentation of names. Efforts were made to proceed to ballot without names, but after a long wait Senator Barnum crowded onto the stage amidst the wildest enthusiasm. He was followed by T. E. Powell, who seconded the nomination of General Durbin Ward. He warned the convention about tying themselves to any one issue, and announced that the party had always been arrayed against sumptuary legislation, and should continue in that way.

The names of Hoadley and Geddes were presented in order.

Hoadley was nominated on the third ballot, and as soon as his nomination seemed certain there was a rush in his favor, and he secured 350 votes, 319 being necessary.

Judge Hoadley appeared and accepted the nomination. He said he believed the party could win on the platform, whose principles were personal liberty, self control in temperance matters, and a license system.

John B. Warlick, of Stark county, was nominated for lieutenant governor by acclamation. For supreme judge, short term, Martin S. Fallett; supreme judge, short term, S. O. Owsen; supreme court clerk, Jno. J. Crinkshank; attorney general, James Lawrence; auditor of state, Emil Klesewelter; treasurer of state, Peter Brady.

Leroy D. Brown was nominated for school commissioner, and Jos. P. Martin for member of the board of public works.

The convention adjourned at 11:15 until morning. They have been in session over fifteen hours.

THE PLATFORM. reaffirms the principles of the party as expressed in the national platform. It demands purification in the public service, the punishment of the robbers of the public treasury, and the arrests of the profligacy that corrupts the administration of public affairs. It favors a tariff for revenue limited to the necessities of the government, economically administered, and adjusted in its application so as to prevent unequal burdens encourage productive industries at home, afford just compensation to labor but not to create or foster monopolies. It affirms that the act of the republican congress in reducing the tariff on wool while at the same time increasing it on woolen goods—was iniquitous legislation, discriminating in favor of monopoly against agriculture, and ought to be corrected. The democratic party is opposed to sumptuary legislation, unequal taxation in any form, and is in favor of the largest liberty of private conduct consistent with the public welfare and the rights of others, and of regulating the liquor traffic and providing against the evils resulting therefrom by judicious and properly graded licenses. It demands the abolition of the convict contract system, demanding a thorough reform and purification of the civil service, and charges that the Republican party has violated every pledge that it has heretofore given for the reform thereof. It has failed during a long administration to correct even the most trying abuses. We demand, therefore, a change in the executive administration of the government itself, as its reform, first of all; is necessary, as is made still manifest by the recent star route trials.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

THE HILL INVESTIGATION.

Crook and the Indians.

Garfield's Monument, Etc.

GENERAL CROOK. Washington, June 21.—Crook has addressed the War Department, giving his views as to the disposal of the captured savages, but it will not be given to the public at this time.

ARCHITECT HILL'S CASE. In the Hill investigation, Murch was cross-examined; but little of interest was adduced. The committee has decided for the present to confine itself to hearing testimony relative to the Philadelphia contracts, and not leave the city for the purpose of taking evidence as to other buildings. The investigation will be hastened so as not to be prolonged through the summer.

In Architect Hill's investigation today Mr. New submitted at great length the views of the committee as to the scope of the investigation, stating practically that the investigation will not go back of Hill's administration of the office of supervising architect; that all contracts for stone or other material made under Hill's administration, and in any way questioned by those bringing charges would be subject to investigation; that the committee might discover whether or not the office of supervising architect was corrupt from top to bottom, as charged on the floor of congress by Murch. Frank Taylor, secretary of the firm of Manley, Cooper & Co., of Philadelphia, took the stand and testified as to the manner in which Hill let the contract for fire-proof shutters for the Cincinnati postoffice, relating how his company, who were the lowest bidders, were put aside by Hill, and how a representative of the successful company offered him $4,500 to withdraw his bid for shutters, which proposition he refused. He also related how his firm demanded a test, and were refused by Hill. Hill took the stand, when asked whether he knew of the bribe offered Taylor, by Dana, the successful competitor he said he did. He spoke to Dana at the time, but the latter denied the charge in writing. He did not take any stock in the bribery charge at the time. He called the secretary of the treasury's attention to the charge at the time, but made no investigation into the other charge himself. Coleman, attorney for Murch, and other complainants, claimed that since Hill came into the office, the United States company, whom Dana represented controlled contracts for shutters for public buildings. It had been impossible for any other company to compete. He called attention to the fact that Manley, Cooper & Co's bid was $20,000 less than any other, yet Hill gave the contract to the United States company, which had offered Manley, Cooper & Co. $4,500 to withdraw their bid. Adjourned.

CROOK'S CAAROG. Referring to General Crook's Apache Indian captures, Secretary Teller today said he proposed leaving them in the custody of the military until they were thoroughly tamed. He was compelled to do this for the reason that the example might have a good effect in the future, and because the military is better able to feed a large number of prisoners than the interior department, in view of the reduced appropriation made by the last congress for the maintenance of the San Carlos reservation.

GARFIELD'S MONUMENT. Washington, June 20.—A committee of the society of the Army of the Cumberland, accompanied by Ward, the sculptor, arrived here today from Cincinnati for the purpose of selecting a site for Garfield's monument.
