MR GLADSTONE, and his Government iriy, together with Mr. De Lesseps ave scored a substantial victory in the British commons on the Suez canal question, and the Premier is still Premier. This victory of Mr. Gladstone and the Government party in the commons, is considered as an indication of continued triendly relations between Great Britain and the French Republic.

In convassing the question of water works among the citizens of Platts mouth, we feel the sentiment is almost universally in favor of such an enter prise The necessity was made so apparent the other evening, that no one can turnish a reasonable argument against it; all the matter needs is for our business men to take hold of the matter; canvas it thoroughly; consider it in their Board of Trade; advise the city authorities, and thus all acting to gether, in concert and harmony, settle upon the best plan for the city to adopt, and then put it through. Let us have this matter attended to now, while we are all alive to its absolute necessity.

THE PLATTSMOUTH & SOUTH-PLATTSMOUTH AERALD

There need be little speculation as to the future of the Plattsmouth & South- of June last, has just made the journey western. The road was not projected for speculation but for business. The HERALD has interviewed several of the | married daughter He stood the fatiworking force in the new road, and gue well, and on the evening of his while it is not advisable that the work being done now should be made public the people along the line have a very short time to wait until they see the tablished, and an opportunity given the different precincts to give aid to the road and the right of way which are steps that are preliminary to the build ing of the road. When men like John Fitzgerald take hold of a projected road it means business, and the field is too inviting for the lows trank roads for anyone of them to hesitate in securing a Nebraska extension.

THE Daily State Democrat is out in s leader favoring Judge Savage for the position of Supreme Judge. The Dem-

"It has been intimated to us on pretty good authority that Judge Savage would not decline to be a candidate "for the position in question if he were convinced that he would receive the 'general support of the elements not irrevocably attached to the republican

We suppose this means that Judge Sayage is a candidate for Supreme Judge-a democratic candidate-provided he can rely upon the democratic machine put ing him through, while the republican machine is to stand aside and assent to the job. Judge Savage has relied for office just once too often on this combination; when he allowed the present mayor of Omaha to beat him on an even race, on repu-Now permit us to suggest that some in Ohio, he will find his hands pretty good republican, some sound jurist of that school of politics, be selected and our democratic neighbors release those elements not irrevocably attached to the democratic machine; this would fix the matter and not disturb the equilibrium of politidal affairs in the state.

We know Judge Savage is a fine gentieman, a sound lawyer, and an honest man; but we have plenty of just as sound lawyers, as fine gentlemen and as honest men in the party, known the republican party, who might just as well be selected upon this theory of selecting judges. Justice Lake, for instance, whose time is not yet out, would be we think an improvement on the democrat's candidate; the Hop. N. would make him the Presidential can-undate and nominee of the Democratic as much learning industry, force and integrity as Judge Savage; the Hon. M. B. Reese, another prominent gentleman It is said that the Pennsylvania State | whose name we hear mentioned, would Democratic Convention just held in favorably compare with Judge Savage, that State was managed entirely to the and anyone of these gentlemen could be supported by the elements not "irrevocably attached to the republican it ought to be highly appreciated by machine" without doing violence to ponents of Mr. Randall generally will any of these anti-monopoly sentiments. either democratic or republican which the Democrat has in its mind's eye

> We now are prepared to think peraps Mr. Silvers was in earnest in that bid he made before the board of public lands and buildings. Our sympathy we coufess is with Mr. Silvers, and the state-to the extent of $40,000 and up wards. We hav'nt much sympathy with the letting of a contract to the nighest bidder by the custodians of the state's interests-and then charging up the wrong of so doing to the legislature. It is not a very safe nor a very wise plan to follow literally the instructions of a Nebraska legislature-when the so doing leads to the commission of a palpable wrong upon the state. The HERALD has been holding its breath to see whether Mr. Silvers made that bid

We knew if there was $41,000 in sight, and it was an honest bid, the con ractor would assert his righ s, and his seeming delay in so doing causes one to suspect the bid was not a square transaction. An alternative writ has been issued by the Supreme Court of the State commanding the Board of Public Lands and buildings" to appear and show cause 4th day of Augusttomorrow-why the State Capital Contract should not be let to Robt. D. Silver instead of W. H. B Stout, at which time the facts in the case will bd made plain to the public.

WE acknowledge the receipt at the hands of Senator Manderson of valuaable Counsular Reports. Thanks.

HERALD CLIPPINGS.

Mr. John Holland, who, it is claimed celebrated his 102d birthday the 15th from Bentonsport, Ia., to Nashua, N. H. intending to spend the remaining years of his life in the latter place with a arrival joined in a merry dance with his grandchildren and friends.

The longevity of members of the French institute has often attracted surveyors in the field, the grades es- attention. Now, seven of them are more than eighty years old The eldest is M. Chevreul, the chemist, who is ninety-eight, and is still able to lecture regularly. M. Dumss, the chemist and M. Milne-Edwards, the biologist, have each lived eighty-four years. M. Mignet, the historian, is eighty seven, and one of the hardest and most constant workers in the Institute.

> "I knew the Blatt family well," says an old Postoffice Department attache quoted in The Washington Star, 'and used to go fishing with Frank and Jim. they were bad boys, as boys are, but Montgomery was always good. The neighbors sometimes used to go to old Mr Blair and complain about semething that Frank or Jim had done. The old gentleman, would say rather testily. Go to Mrs, Biair. They are her children, not mine."

Mr. Stephen, Director General of the German Imperial Postal and Telegraphic department, neartily enjoys a joke even at his own expense. Recently on a tour of inspection he entered the telegraph office at Dirchau, just in time to catch the operator receiving an official dispatch from Berlin, reading: "Be on your guard. Stephan is on the rampage. He puts his nose into every-body's pie." The Director General laugher heartily and then ordered the operator to telegraph back to Berlin. "Too late. Nose already in my pie."

If Judge Hoadly is going to deny the charges made of corruption in the full. Among the worst storier told of the shameful transactions in the con vention is the revelation of Mr. Kohlo of Toledo. His statement of the way in which delegates were bought and soid has never been'denied. The charges were distinct, and the price demanded and offer it was named. Mr. Kahlo is a responsible man. The Democrats have elected him to the General Assembly and would probaly have done so again had he not refused to run. If such charges are allowed to pass unnoticed Judge Hoadly cannot expect to remainunsmirched.

umns upon colums of reading matter in the London papers have commended its size and comprehensiveness, and the turn. An article in McMillan's says that "in the excellence and finish of their apparatus and implements, in the size of the vessels employed, in the extent of the water fished over and in the value of the fish taken, our kindred on the other side of the Atlatic already stand at the head of this industry.' The compliment is well deserved. And our fishermen, in view of the fact that their industry has been created by skill, enterprise and ingenuity, without special or artificial assistance of any kind for a good many years.
