A. Salisbury, Dentist. K. of P. Meets every Tuesday evening at their Castle Hall, in Rockwood Block.

The democratic craft is aloft, but the load, we daresay will founder the old boat before she gets into the current.

Joe McVoy has removed his liquid refreshment stand in to the old Plummer building first door east of Smith & Black Bros.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting tonight in the Presbyterian Church, at which Mrs. Cooley is expected to preside.

Another telegraph company was born Saturday was born Saturday, Chicago being the birthplace. It is christened the Bankers' and Merchants' Telegraph Company, and is said to have control of the line on the Nickel Plate road.

Herman Spies having secured the building on lower Main street formerly occupied by Joe. McVoy has carpenters engaged very busily fitting up the room in proper shape for the manufacturing of cigars.

Mrs. A. B. Smith went to Omaha this morning. Charley Clapp, the "boss" merchant of Elmwood, is in the city today.

Sol. Dewey, the most genial democrat in Cedar Creek, is in the city today. Wm. Neville, started west this morning to look after his railroad work.

J. W. Jennings, the best County Clerk in the State, (according to the reports at Lincoln), went west this morning. June Black came down from the Louisville convention, Saturday, and spent Sunday in this city.

Mrs. C. G. Herold, after a very pleasant visit here among friends, left this morning for her home in Lincoln. S. G. Perry, who now looks after the interests of Leighton & Clark, in Iowa, spent Sunday at home.

Assistant Chief Engineer Putnam, of the B. & M., was in the city last night, leaving for the west this a. m. J. F. Baumeister, our principal commission merchant, is out on the road today looking after consignments.

Sie Greenstate, of Elmwood, fresh from the North Platte country is looking after business in the county seat today. Mrs. G. E. Pronger returned Saturday from her western trip, where she has been visiting her brother and sister.

Geo. S. Smith went to Wilber, Saline county, today, where he is engaged to defend Wright, the Chicago man, who stands charged with embezzlement. M. L. Thomas, who recently sold his paper, the Red Cloud Chief, passed through the city this morning on his way west. Marve says he hasn't deserted the fraternity, but will be heard from again in his chosen profession at no distant day.

"Diek" Streight arrived home, last night from his extended visit to the county fairs in this State and Kansas, with his trotting stock. Diek says he didn't get left but once in his entire rounds, which is quite a good record for a six weeks' trip.

We learn D. I. Wheeler, Jr. has entered into a partnership with the old and well established insurance firm of Hartman & Sturges, Omaha, and will hereafter make that city his home. Dannie's many friends here will be sorry to see him leave, though glad that he has been so fortunate in securing so remunerative a position.

Mr. Fred. Latham, the accommodating ticket and freight agent of the B. & M., at this place, starts for Coburg, Kansas, tomorrow morning, on a two weeks' vacation. As this is Mr. Latham's first vacation for thirteen years' continuous service for the company, it is but putting it mild when we say that his rest is well earned. A more careful, honest, painstaking employe than Mr. Latham has been, would be difficult to find.

The Democratic County Convention.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 13, 1883. The day which was appointed by the powers that be, in a democratic sense, opened cloudy and dismal but by nine o'clock when the hosts began to gather and the appearances of the happy faces of the "staid and stalwart" of the "superlatively untrifled" the clouds even vanished, and the sun himself beaming from the saintly precincts of Hoadlyism, to the democracy, encouraging news that "Old Casper's work was done, and he before his cottage door was sitting in the sun."

With nothing else to do but to say to his little "Grandechild Wilhelmina" in Nebraska, "That 'twas a glorious victory." Taking encouragement from the "Old man in Ohio," never saw I man, either democrat or republican, as happy as the original, genuine democrat at 9 o'clock a. m. in Louisville.

If Gov. Hoadly could have seen the happy faces of his granger friends in Nebraska, his $50,000 purchase would have been of more value than if he had invested in company with John Wesley Barnes, or Gen. Joseph A. Connor.

At 10:45 the train from Plattsmouth pulled into the depot bearing with it the champion of all the host, the "Rob Roy" as it were, of Cass county, P. E. Ruffner, and with him was many who exclaim in the words of Charles Dana—"Turn the rascals out," prominent among whom was D. S. Draper, but, alas! Fred Kroehler was not there. The placid smile of the senator from Cass could be seen, while F. E. White was as jolly a democrat as could be found.

"Billy" Cushing was in the midst of the van looking fresh and vigorous, while Jim Walker and "Sile" Patterson were happy as clams, and Sol Pitche never was more in his element, Gen. Connor was talking real estate, and W. D. Jones in the words of Charley Holmes, was the noblest Roman of them all.

At 11:15 the convention proper was called to order by chairman Ruffner in the upper chamber of Ossenkop's saloon and on motion the old war horse, Jacob Vallery, Sr., was made temporary chairman, while J. W. Cutright, although not a delegate, was made temporary secretary.

Gen. Connor, occupying a front seat and anticipating an adjournment moved that a committee of three be appointed on credentials which was carried, as the Gen. was made chairman, while Alex Skyles and M. A. Hartigan finished the credential kite. "Gen." Sherman then moved that a committee of five be appointed on permanent organization which was so ordered, and the chair appointed Sherman of Plattsmouth, Dr. Wallace, of Liberty, Clark, of Greenwood, King, of Weeping Water, and King of Tipton.

Mr. Higgins moved that a committee of five be appointed on resolutions, which committee consisted of Higgins, of Tipton, Hartigan of Plattsmouth, McLaughlin, of Stove Creek, Wilcoxon of Salt Creek, Shryock, of Louisville. At this juncture a motion to adjourn was hailed with applause and it was so ordered.

At 1 p. m. chairman Vallery called the convention to order, and Mr. Hartigan from the committee on credentials reported a full delegation from all precincts and no contests which augured well for harmony to say the least. The report was adopted unanimously, and the committee on permanent organization was called on for a report when "Gen." Sherman announced that after being in labor some three minutes they would deliver themselves as follows:

For permanent chairman, M. A. Hartigan, of Plattsmouth, permanent secretary J. W. Cutright, and as assistant to J. W. Cutright, was J. W. Cutright, of Avoca. The report was unanimously adopted and Uncle Jake resigned the "cane" to Mr. Hartigan, who proceeded to deliver himself of an eloquent appeal to work, and he would "pull off his coat and go in" which was the speech of the day. The report of the committee on resolutions was called for when chairman Higgins announced the lamentable fact that he had been unable to find the committee although he had used due diligence. It was apparent that no resolutions were needed, but the untrifled chairman moved on his own responsibility that the platform of "Arbor Springs Lodge" be adopted, which was carried, and the convention then got to solid work as it supposed, but here the "General on the front seat" arose and offered a resolution in substance as follows:

Resolved, That P. E. Ruffner has made an excellent chairman and has fought the good fight, and kept the faith and therefore he shall be our standard bearer for another year to come, which was adopted and vociferous calls produced the "Rob Roy" in the shape of an eloquent address of thanks and promises of future good behavior. Next came a burst of eloquence from chairman Hartigan, in which he referred especially to the non-partisan action of the democrats of the 2nd Judicial district in nominating Judge Pound and for this freak of generosity they should be awarded all the offices in the county. He also suggested that the republicans were "on the run" and even met him at the depot in the morning wanting to know who they were going to nominate.

After this general statement some one called for the reading of the call which to a stranger was very proper indeed. After this being done Mr. Skyles

MARRIAGE BELLS.

One by One the Roses Fall.

A very pleasant wedding occurred Sunday evening, at 5 p. m., at the residence of Mrs. Hinkle, on Prospect hill, the high contracting parties being Mr. Oliver C. Dovey, one of our most prosperous young merchants, and Miss Mary S. Adams, daughter of the Hon. J. Q. Adams, of Plattsmouth precinct.

The following invited guests were assembled in the parlors: Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Adams, father and mother of bride; Miss Carrie Adams, sister of bride and first bride's maid; Misses Emma and Edna Adams, sisters of bride; Mrs. Dovey, mother of groom; Mr. George Dovey, brother of groom; Mr. and Mrs. Babbington, uncle and aunt of groom; Miss Clara Babbington, cousin of groom; Mr. and Mrs. Spurlock; Mrs. McElwain and son; Mr. W. H. Woodhurst, from Pacific Junction; Mr. S. P. Vanatta and son Charlie; Mr. McGowan; Mrs. Pettie and daughter; Miss Elsie Smith; Mr. Chas. Searls; Mr. E. Austin; Misses Katie and Annie Heffner; Mrs. Julia Hinkle Miss Emma Hinkle; Mr. S. Hinkle; Mr. C. Hinkle; Mr. Jerry Ritter; Mr. Geo. Dorrington; Miss Ollie Wintersteen.

The guests were seated around the room with Miss Ollie Wintersteen at the organ, and as it pealed forth the "Wedding March" the parties entered in the following order: M. J. Ritter and Miss Emma Hinkle in advance, Mr. H. N. Dovey and Miss Clara Adams, next, followed by the bride and groom. They advanced across the room, the assistants stepping right and left, where the bride and groom stood facing Chaplain Wright, who arose, and in his immital and impressive manner, pronounced the ceremony. Then followed the greetings by friends and attendants, after which a most delicious and savory lunch, prepared by Mrs. Hinkle, was served, the dishes being each ornamented with white satin ribbon.

The bride was dressed in a neat green gros grain silk with neck dressing of lace and natural flowers, the groom in the conventional black. After partaking of lunch the carriages in waiting were brought up to convey the happy couple and guests to the B. & M. depot, where they took the evening train for Chicago, with the earnest wishes of a host of friends for a pleasant journey and a safe return.

The following is a list of presents: Large Silver Castor—Mr. Geo. E. Dovey. Large Silver Cake Basket—Mr. H. N. Dovey. Silver Butter Dish and Knife—Mrs. E. G. Dovey. Silver Pickle Castor—Mr. C.
