The event in court circles today was the appearance of Jacob of the house of Levy, at the bar, where he appeared for himself in his case against Ambrose Patterson et al, and turned himself loose as a lawyer. Our friend, Judge Sullivan, the opposing counsel, tackled the case vigorously, and it was another illustration of wrestling Jacob all of which entertained the court, jury and spectators.

Wm. H. Paul, a farmer and former resident of Cass county, near Greenwood, was arraigned before Justice Brown, today, charged with obtaining money under false pretences—$220—of E. C. Rewick, last September, under a mortgage on property he didn't own and $537 from Peck & Kern in the same manner. Warrants for his arrest were issued April 14th, but Paul had left the State March 15th. A requisition was obtained and detective Pound found him in Linn county, Iowa, and arrived with the prisoner today at noon.
There are several other victims of this man who are anxiously awaiting the issue of the case. Officer P. reports that Paul was one of the most ingenious men to cover his track than any other he had ever followed the trail of, but had no trouble after he found his customer, which he did about 2 o'clock in the morning at a rendezvous of his.
The hearing of the case was continued until tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'- clock, and the prisoner held in the sum of $1,000 bail for appearance.—Lincoln News.

Off for the Convention.

This morning as No. 1 pulled into the depot a large co. of Democratic citizens were marshalled at the depot to take the train for Louisville.
Col. Fred Krohler was conspicuous among them, while Capt. Doc Wallace, of Liberty had his force in hand, Sergeant Mike Archer was present, with a squad from Rock Bluffs. Lieutenant D. S. Draper, of the precinct, appeared in command of that delegation, and the entire city delegation, was on hand with every man in command, although eyes were of turned to the dark horse in the coming contest, Hon. James M.
Patterson, corporal of the guard from the 2d ward. The HERALD saw them depart, and breathed a benediction that scalps might remain intact, and the Colonel Marshal his command home in prime condition.

The survey of the B. & M. cut off from Ashland to Omaha continues.
The proposed route, as outlined in a previous issue of the Bee, starts in a northeasterly direction from Ashland, through the Pennsylvania settlement in Sarpy county, crosses the Union Pacific near Millard and Papillion, and follows closely the original U. P. line through Douglas county to this city.
Ten days ago the surveying party was camped in the western part of Mc-Cardie precinct, about a mile from the Sarpy county line. The line was staked through the farms of Thomas Smeft and Allen Root, following the Ravine in that vicinity. It is of course impossible to obtain definite information regarding the purpose of the survey.
Many farmers believe it is merely a branch line to the Omaha stock yards, while others are equally confident that it is to be the main line from this city west. Both conjectures are well founded, as the line, if built, would serve both purposes, besides giving the company, what it now lacks, an important and untrammeled entrance into the city.—Bee.

The French Spy.

The French Spy as played by the Maud Atkinson troupe last evening, was fully up to the standard of all their excellent work, and none could fail to say they were well entertained by the company. Tonight they present the "Planter's Wife" to the public, and they are deserving of all the attention this people can give them. The company being strangers to Plattsmouth theatrical people, are not receiving the patronage they deserve or the patronage they would receive if theatre-going people were conversant with the merits of the Maud Atkinson Company.

On the Defensive.

The editor of the Journal is out in an open letter to Col. Connor in last evening's Journal. Evidently the Journal deems Mr. Connor's charges of sufficient importance to place that newspaper upon the defensive, and it is all over "revenue only" matters.
What Bro. Sherman's letter lacks in pith, it makes up in protestation and length.

In his defense, last evening W. Sherman exclaimed: "This is an infamous charge, and if proven would show me unfit to be a public teacher "of moral ethics."

Ye gods! Moral ethics! and this is what the Journal man denominates himself. Now then, we would like to know if Col. Krohler occupies a portion of the same cottonwood bench.

Wrestling Camels.

W. W. Cole has a drove of young camels which have been taught to wrestle in a manner that is extremely ludicrous. They do not evince any great degree of skill, but the certainty with which they throw their opponent when they get their head under a foreleg is really remarkable.

Sentenced.

Ed. Ross, who was convicted for stabbing with intent to kill, has had sentence passed upon him by the Judge sentencing him to three years in the
