A correspondent from this city to the Omaha Herald, writes up the Connor-Ruffner contest in this county, and says that Mr. Connor and his friends, although disappointed are certain of reward. As this game of taffy has been dealt out to the progressive wing of the democratic party here for the last five years, they will not fail to understand the game behind it.

Mr. James Beeson has entered into partnership with John Wayman in the Cass County Iron Works, Foundry and Machine Shops. Mr. Beeson is an experienced workman, who takes an active interest there, and who will be a valuable acquisition in the machinery department, which will be under his direct supervision. The Cass County Iron Works have the facilities and are capable of turning out first-class work, and the firm of Wayman & Beeson ought to do well and ought to have a liberal patronage.

On next Tuesday evening the home dramatic club will present their play, "Staff of Diamonds," the second time at the opera house, the proceeds of which go toward establishing a permanent public reading room for the city. On the occasion of their presentation of this play heretofore, members of the club were repeatedly solicited to repeat it, and they have decided to do so for the sole purpose of securing money for a most worthy object. This alone, should insure them a large house, and all will not fail to be interested in the presentation of the drama a second time.

One of the pleasant features at the closing exercises of the public schools at the opera house, last evening, occurred when Mayor Smith stepped upon the stage and in behalf of a number of the teachers presented Principal Drummond with two elegant companion pictures—Romeo and Juliet—which were encased in solid gilt frames of elegant design, and which made a beautiful and most appreciative present. Mr. Drummond, and the teachers working under him, have passed a year without a jar or dissension, and Mr. Drummond, we are assured, will long cherish the testimonial of which he was the recipient from his co-laborers in the public schools.

The Valentine Reporter, speaking of what would in any other town be a great calamity, says: "Through the carelessness of some person the rope and both buckets in the town well have fallen to the bottom, and our citizens are seriously inconvenienced in consequence."

The citizens of almost any other town would either get out those buckets, or else dig and equip another well, but this state of affairs is not very astonishing at Valentine. The people up there polish themselves off every day with white sand, and drink only "imported alkali;" and the inconvenience mentioned by the Reporter arises only among those citizens who have not become thoroughly acclimated and must use a little water to thin their allowance of alkali. But seriously, a town that has only one well and both buckets and the rope in the bottom of that, ought to stanch itself around and get out a few posters, setting forth its natural advantages in a forcible and witty manner.

Barber Shops. Hereafter all the barber shops in the city will be closed on Sundays.

Closing Exercises.

Last night the opera house was crowded from parquet to galleries by the children of the public schools and parents and spectators, who had assembled to hear the closing exercises of the schools as laid down in the programme.

The exercises consisted of exercise songs, class songs, recitations, and the essays of the three graduates, followed by the presentation of diplomas.

The recitations were given by the younger pupils from the lower grades, the selections being generally made by the pupils in the different rooms, who elected one of their number to represent them. Among the recitations all did exceptionally well indeed. From the youngest to the eldest there was no sign or evidence of failure, and all were well drilled. If any special recommendation could be made it would be in the recitation of Master John Harigan, who showed himself exceptionally well at home on the stage, and who had just as much confidence and interest in what he was doing as though he was calling the boys for a game of ball. Bertha Wise was especially good in her recitation, which was long and by no means simple, yet she had every word and line perfectly and she understood the spirit and meaning of it all, speaking clearly and distinctly, so that every word was understood.

The exercise songs by the ward schools and primary rooms were fully appreciated and applauded, the little folks acquitting themselves more than creditably, and showing the thorough work of their teachers. The two songs given near the close of the program by the pupils drilled by Mrs. Stone were the best ever given in the city in point of work done, and Mrs. Stone ought to be proud of the songs and the singers they showed what thorough drilling is.

The graduates, Miss Henrietta Schlof, Mr. Walter Thomas and Mr. Sheldon Drew, read carefully prepared essays. Those of Miss Schlof and Mr. Thomas being especially worthy. The character of Sheldon Drew's will bear criticism in the fact that it was too much an arrangement of statistics, and did not do him the justice he could have done himself by arranging facts and ideas instead of figures.

Hon. Geo. S. Smith in a very appropriate and eloquent address presented the diplomas to the graduates, his words to them being well chosen and such as they can treasure and remember.

The Pacific Junction Gazette in a long article upon special trains and Pacific Junction as the railway centre of the northwest, gets off the following: "Sometimes a special comes to a halt at Plattsmouth, and the porters on the 'specials' say that the citizens of that town generally, and the newspaper men particularly, congregate about the train with open mouths. Some of these porters were overheard to remark that on one occasion the news paper fraternity at Plattsmouth appointed Charlie Sherman, of the Journal, to interview them. Charles said what he was most particular about finding out was whether the buttons on their (the porters') clothing was pure gold! He had 'heard it was!' and the porter said the 'dude of a newspaper man fairly run slime at the mouth and nose, so completely was he carried away by his ignorant admiration for the glittering livery of a porter on a special train carrying railroad officials."

Transfer Trains. We are reliably informed that the B & M. management are seriously considering the advisability and practicability of putting in a transfer train between Plattsmouth and Pacific Junction for the transfer of stock and local traffic and that estimates are already being made to ascertain the cost of transfer cars for the accommodation of teams, stock and local traffic between Pacific Junction and this city.

A Blind Spot in Your Eye. There is a spot in your eye that is not sensitive to light, a part of the eye with which you do not see. The following directions for finding it are going the rounds of the papers and may be new to most of our readers. Shut your left eye and with your right look steadily at the cross below, holding the paper ten or twelve inches from the eye:

X Now move the paper slowly toward the eye, which must be kept fixed on the cross. At a certain distance the other figure—the letter O—will suddenly disappear; but if you bring the paper near or it will again come into view. You may not succeed in the experiment on the first trial, but with a little patience you can hardly fail; and the suddenness with which the black spot vanishes and reappears is very striking.—Ex.

A Way to Make Money.

Mr. Editor:—As many of my old friends are desirous of knowing what success I have had in the poultry business in Kansas, I give you my experience.

Over a year ago I made two very crude hatches, designed from some good points of several I had seen. I filled them with eggs, and they worked fairly well. I kept them going from Dec. 1st, to June 1st, clearing from them $650 over and above everything and that, too, in spite of the high price of feed, and the fact that all my chickens were marketed at low prices, the highest I got was $6 a dozen and the lowest $3.75, and during that time I attended to my regular business. Believing this was a good return for the amount of work, I began looking for a more perfect hatch, and my attention was directed to the Common Sense In June I got directions from J. M. Bain, New Concord, O., secretary of the N. A. Poultry association and will send directions for making this hatch to any one sending three 2 cent stamps to prepay postage. I had one made that held 250 eggs, cost about $7. My success with this hatch was all I could wish for and I had four more made, and from these five hatches I have just taken 1,030 fine chickens out of a little less than 1,200 eggs. I believe I am placing it modestly when I say that I hope to clear $2,500 by July, next and still pursue my regular business.

There is no business as profitable as this, it is provided one gives it the attention it deserves, and no business requires as little capital to start on, and there is no necessity for men trying to hide this business or monopolize it. The field is the world and the world like Oliver Twist, is crying out for more.

There are thousands of young men who are teachers and clerks who look forward to the time when they can get a start in some lucky way; this way is here open for them if they will only improve by it. Thousands of young men too, who feel dependent on some father or brother, who in one year could place themselves high above any dependence if they only would. Get directions and make your hatches immediately as you can make them yourselves.

Respy Yours, L. L. J.

DELICATE AND FEEBLE LADIES. Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its former elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, while the special cause of periodical pain are permanently removed. None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women.

FEELS YOUNG AGAIN. "My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull, heavy, inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous prostration, and was almost helpless. No physicians or medicines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family."—A lady, in Providence.

Bradford, Pa., May 8, 1875. It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in a year, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS FANNIE GREEN

$3,000 Lost.—"A tour of Europe that cost me $3,000, done me less good than one bottle of Hop 'Bitters'; they also cured my wife of fifteen years' 'nervous' weakness, sleeplessness and dyspepsia." R. M., Auburn, N. Y.

HIGH AUTHORITY. Hop Bitters is not, in any sense, an alcoholic beverage or liquor, and could not be sold for use except to persons desirous of obtaining a medicinal bit-ter.

GREEN B. RAUM, U. S. Com. Inter'l Rev. So. Bloomingville, O., May 1, '79. SIRS:—I have been suffering ten years and I tried your Hop Bitters and it done me more good than all the doctors.

MISS S. S. BOONE. BABY SAVED! We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength.—The Parents, Rochester, New York. ap10w1d6.

CLIMBING THE SPIRAL STAIRS. Invisible Architecture in a New England Parsonage.

"Yes," she said, "our children are married and gone, and my husband and I sit by our winter fire much as we did before the little ones came to widen the circle. Life is something like a spiral staircase: we are all the time coming around over the spot we started from, only one degree farther up the stairs."

"That is a pretty illustration," remarked her friend, musingly, gazing into the glowing coals which radiated a pleasant heat from the many-windowed stove. "You know we cannot stop toiling up the hill, though."

"Surely we cannot, and for myself I don't find fault with that necessity provided the advance in life is not attended with calamity or suffering, for I have had my share of that. Not long since my health utterly broke down. My system was full of malaria. My digestion became thoroughly disordered and my nerves were in a wretched state. I was languid, ate little and that without enjoying it, and had no strength or ambition to perform even my light household duties. Medical treatment failed to reach the seat of the trouble. The disease, which seemed to be weakness of the vital organs, progressed till I had several attacks which my physicians pronounced to be acute congestion of the stomach. The last of these was a desperate struggle and I was given up to die. As the crisis had partially passed, my husband heard of the merits of Parker's Tonic as an invigorant in just such cases as mine. I took it and felt its good effect at once. It appeared to pervade my body as though the blessing of a new life had come to me. Taking no other medicine I continued to improve, and am now in better health than I have been for a long time."

[Extract from interview with the wife of Rev. P. Perry, pastor of Baptist Church, Chatham, Mass. apr 8 7m
