Robt. Sherwood.

The T. A. M. Ball tonight at the Opera House.

Harry Race, of Weeping Water, is looking over the city to day.

The full proceedings of the Democratic State Convention may be found upon our telegraphic page.

Juge Pottenger has been appointed by the Commissioners as a Justice of the Peace in and for the First ward of the city, in which ward he will soon open an office.

Since the Missouri Pacific has put on the extra passenger train each way on that road, parties from Plattsmouth can visit Weeping Water and get back the same week.

One of the quickest jobs of work ever performed was done by amateurs the other evening; a house back in the First ward was painted all over red in one night.

The HERALD would like a program of the exercises on Decoration day, the 30th. If the G. A. R. have arranged their program we shall be glad to publish it.

The police have an eye on tramps. Policeman Harve Sage, the other morning, followed a begging one into a house taking him down town and firing him from the corporation.

The June rise in the Missouri will be along shortly, but reports thus far from the up river country in the mountains do not indicate a very high stage of water as probable this summer.

The Ball tonight will be in every respect the most elaborate and expensive one ever held in the city. The program are especially elegant, and the floor managers' badges in satin and gold were made to order for the occasion.

County Superintendent Alton is already making extensive arrangements for the Teachers' Institute—to be held in this city during August, and he will attempt to have an even more successful session than a year ago.

Mrs. Dr. Foster was called suddenly to Waterloo, Iowa, yesterday, by the sickness of her little boy, who was visiting his grandparents there, and who was taken so violently ill that his mother was telegraphed for. During Mrs. Foster's absence her office will be necessarily closed, and an announcement will be made upon her return.

The late democratic pow-wow did itself proud by selecting our bluff, honest old friend, Beach Hinman, as chairman.

Hon. Beach Hinman is a democrat cause he believes it was foreordained from all time that he was to be a hickory democrat, and he doesn't believe it is possible for one of the elect to backslide; hence Mr. Hinman is, has been, and always will be, a democrat.

Mr. Ruffner made a very determined fight for democratic distinction, and Dr. Miller and the Omaha Herald said some very sweet and flattering things in his behalf; yet the fine Italian hand of the Omaha boss was perceptibly and conspicuously absent just when Peter needed a few votes. Votes, Doctor, not taffy, is what our Cass county democracy wanted. You have evidently mistaken the symptoms of our Cass county democracy's ailment in your diagnosis.

South Bend is represented in business by the following gentlemen: E. E. Day, dry goods and groceries; H. Streight, dry goods and groceries; Sawyer & Son, clothing and fancy goods; O. Jacobs, confectionery and stationary; Fred. Holka, confectionery and fancy groceries; Geo. Hay & Co., hardware and agricultural instruments; Dr. Kirk, drugs, paints and oils; Revis, billiard hall; John Schlater, harness shop; J. Munford, barber and shoe shop; G. McCain, hotel; Geo. B. Hendricks, hotel and livery; F. McCann, livery; Folsom, South Platte Lumber Co.; Fred, the butcher; McFarland, postmaster; Coon & Morris, blacksmiths; Geo. McCormick, blacksmith; Sam Long, stock dealer.—[Louisville Observer.]

The state republican central committee met yesterday evening at the Millard hotel in Omaha, for the purpose of selecting the time and place for holding the state convention for the nomination of state officers and presidential electors. The committee was well attended and general good feeling prevailed. The convention was called for August 27th, at 10 o'clock a. m. The prevailing opinion being that the delegates could reach that city by morning trains from different points in the state and have ample opportunity to transact the business of the convention in time to depart for their homes upon the following morning. The basis of representation remains the same as that fixed for the late convention, which named the national delegates to Chicago. Early nominations with an aggressive campaign was determined upon.

MURDER AT GLENWOOD.

Self Defense the Plea.

The town of Glenwood, Iowa, was thrown into great excitement yesterday by a fatal shooting. The victim was John Clingersmith, who was shot and killed by W. C. Wallace. The relationship between the two men has been anything but friendly for the past year.

Wallace, who is a man of 35 years of age, a year ago married Mrs. Nichols, mother-in-law of Clingersmith. The latter was very angry about the marriage, and since then has several times abused and assaulted Wallace, who is a man weighing only 130 pounds, and has the reputation of being rather peaceable, while Clingersmith was almost a giant in build, a splendid specimen of physical manhood, six feet tall and weighing 225 pounds.

Yesterday forenoon Clingersmith was at the court house, and Sheriff Dan Farrell, in a joking way, showed him a bogus pedigree of a stallion which Clingersmith owned. It is not now known who prepared this pedigree, which was a very obscene and vulgar document, not only making fun of the horse, but casting reflections upon Clingersmith. It was intended, doubtless, as a mere practical joke, and some bystander intimated to Clingersmith that it looked as if it was in the hand writing of Wallace. Clingersmith, who had been drinking, became very angry, and started at once for Wallace's house.

Wallace is a painter, and Mrs. Wallace is running a photograph gallery. The residence rooms are in the rear of the gallery. Clingersmith entered at a side door, and from that room was about to enter the kitchen, when he met Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, who were both armed with revolvers. Wallace shot twice, the first ball striking Clingersmith on the right of the nose, and the second hitting him just below the left eyebrow, penetrating the brain. Clingersmith fell to the floor, while Wallace rushed out for a doctor. He was very much excited, and merely told the doctor to come over and see his wife, who was badly frightened about a shooting affray at his house. The doctor, with other citizens, went to the house, and found Clingersmith lying on the floor in an insensible and dying condition. He died at 3 o'clock.

Wallace was placed under arrest and an inquest was begun. It was not concluded last evening. A representative of the Bee had an interview with Wallace, in which the latter said he did not care to talk very much about the case. He was sorry he shot Clingersmith, but claimed it was done in self defense. He has secured Hon. John Y. Stone as his attorney, and a number of his friends have expressed a willingness to furnish such financial aid as he may need, he having little or no property of his own.

The feeling in the town seems to be rather favorable to Wallace, on account of Clingersmith's previous abuse and quarrels. There is a strong feeling against the person who prepared the pedigree of the stallion, not only on account of its obscenity, but also on account of the fatal effect to which it has led.—Omaha Bee.

Job was not a vindictive man. Ever in his hour of suffering, misjudged by his friends, suffering without apparent cause, tormented and distracted, the worst wish he uttered against his worst enemy was that he would write a book. When we reflect that it was just as easy for him to wish—and he would have been perfectly justified in it, too—that his enemy would start a daily paper to fill a long felt want, we wonder at his forbearance and admire his display of the brightest of the Christian virtues. Job was on the right track for vengeance, though, when he tried to wish his enemy into the printing business at all. Perhaps he knew that by slow and painful degrees the dread fascination of the daily paper would come upon him at last, and, breathing upon him with the constricting folds of its basilisk eyes, would, with the Parthian stroke of its scorpion tail, sink its relentless fangs deep into his budding hopes and blight them, with the chilling frosts of their syren song. What, ho! without there! Two more; on ice.—[Burlington Hawkeye.]

Fast Freight.

As announced in the HERALD two days ago, the first fast freight from Chicago to Denver, consisting of twenty three cars of freight and three coaches bearing officials, passed through this city last night, the train arriving at the depot here shortly before 11:30. After a delay of some twenty minutes at the Junction, the train made only a short stop here, striking for the west at a thirty miles an hour rate, which will bring it into Denver tonight.

After Five Years.

Wednesday evening there was a most pleasant gathering in this city at the house of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomson, on Main street, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of their wedded life. A large number of neighbors and friends of the family were present, who assisted in making the evening and the anniversary a most enjoyable one to all. A bountiful supper was spread for the guests, among the et ceteras being strawberries, ice cream, lemonade, fruits and confectionery. And right here the HERALD acknowledges the receipt of a magnificent cake that escaped and found its way to this den of hungry printers. Mr. Herman Herold furnished music for the party and those who wished enjoying dancing until 12 o'clock dispersed the merry gathering. Mr. and Mrs. Thomson were the recipients of the following remembrances from friends present.

- Bride's cake, Mr. and Mrs. J. Marshall.
- Mirror shelf, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coolege.
- Music rack, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Coolege.
- Whatnot, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ballance.
- Horsehoe hat rack, Miss Kate Stadlemaann.
- Crystal cake basket, Mr. and Mrs. H. Herold.
- Butter dish, Miss Clara Herold.
- Hat rack, Otto Herold.
- Handsome towel rack, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Herold.
- Watch case, Dora Herold.

Temperance Work.

Rev. Geo. Scott, of Sutton, F. J. Sibley, of Lincoln, and F. G. Bacon, of Tecumseh, passed through the city this morning, en route for Washington, D. C., to attend the Right Worthly Grand Lodge of Good Templars.

Col. Woodford, so well and favorably known as a temperance lecturer, in this city, is now in Atchison, Kansas, and he will shortly pay Plattsmouth a visit. Efforts are being made to retain him here for a course of lectures for one week, of which further notice will be made in the future.

The executive committee of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars met in this city the 17th, transacting necessary business. At their session they elected T. E. Wilson, of Beatrice, secretary, in place of M. Weaverling, who had resigned.

H. F. Wilson, of this city, who has been traveling over the state in the interests of the Grand Temple of Honor, is home again. Beside making official visits, Mr. Wilson has organized new Temples at Weeping Water, Wahoo, Seward and Aurora.

$5,000 Damages.

Papers have been filed in the district court, against C. L. Bates & Co., druggists at Weeping Water, for selling whisky. The papers were filed by Mrs. Anna M. Shannon, wife of J. O. Shannon, who is well known in this city, J. E. Morrison being the attorney for Mrs. Shannon. The claim is for the breaking up of the family, the claim being that during last summer and fall C. L. Bates & Co. Then doing business at South Bend, sold repeatedly intoxicating liquor to the said J. O. Shannon, totally unfitting him for business and alienating him from home and those dependent upon him for support. The case will be up for trial at the next term of court, and will no doubt be fraught with much interest.

The HERALD understands that the whereabouts of Mr. Shannon are now unknown.

The Emperor Louis Napoleon smoked only the finest cigars the world could produce. Prof. Herford says the Emperor's cigars were made specially for him in Havana from leaf tobacco grown in the Golden Belt of North Carolina, this being the finest leaf grown. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is made from the same leaf used in the Emperor's cigars, is absolutely pure and is unquestionably the best tobacco ever offered.

Thackeray's gifted daughter, Anne, in her sketch of Alfred Tennyson, in Harper's Monthly, tells of her visit to the great poet. She found him smoking Blackwell's Bull Durham Tobacco, sent him by Hon. James Russell Lowell, American Minister to the Court of St. James.

In these days of adulteration, it is so common for smokers to know that the Bull Durham brand is absolutely pure, and made from the best tobacco the world produces. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is the best and purest made, and dealers have it. None genuine without the trade-mark of the Bull.
