National Republican Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT,

JAMES G. BLAINE,
of Maine.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

JOHN A. LOGAN, of Illinois.

THE PEOPLE ARE TO BE OBEYED.

"Mark me well, by the ides of November the patriotism of the people will be thoroughly aroused and the camp-fires that have been slumbering will be rekindled and burning brightly upon every hill, lighting up every valley within the confines of the entire United States of America. [Applause] Notice will then be given that no man or set of men can set themselves up as dictators to the American people as to what they shall do. [Applause.] That neither the government of the United States, nor the republican party are ready to yield their rights or prerogative to a few men who are ever dissatisfied because they cannot control. [Applause.] Our government is built upon the theory that the people shall rule. The republican party, upon the same theory, demands that the people shall control. [Applause] We do not wish to lapse into the condition of the old and effete monarchies, where a monarch commands and the people obey. With us the people are monarchs, who issue the edicts, and the people are to be obeyed."—John A. Logan at Bangor, Maine.

LOCAL RAILROAD MATTERS.

The Movement on foot by our city authorities to donate to the B. & M. road all that property lying just south of Main street and east of the alley between Second and Third streets, is one which should meet the approbation of all citizens. The object is to induce the B. & M. people to build a good and creditable Depot, with offices west of the main and side tracks, and to give the road more territory for yard purposes.

The B. & M. people have seen the necessity for more territory in this neighborhood for several years, but have not felt justified in forcing it from the owners by condemnation process, which usually results in the corporation paying much more than the real estate is worth, and at the same time incurring the ill will of the owners.

Plattsmouth city, today, to a great extent, is indebted to the prompt action of her city authorities and certain individuals for the great, prosperous plant in the shape of our present system of shops, which forever insures a friendly co-partnership between this prosperous city and the great B. & M. corporation.

By all means let our authorities see that nothing is left undone upon their part to induce the railroad people to build the right kind of a Depot on the west side of Second street, and west of their yard tracks.

THE immemorial institution of trial by jury, which for centuries has been regarded as one of the most essential rights of the citizen, and one of the most effective barriers against absolute power, is itself on trial today, and is required to show cause why it should not be discarded and a more effectual method of administering justice substituted for it, or at least why it should not be remodeled so as to yield more satisfactory results. Some suggestions for the improvement of the existing jury system, presented by Judge Robert C. Pitman in the North American Review for July, under the title of "Juries and Jurymen," should, in view of recent notorious miscarriages of justice, receive the serious consideration of every thoughtful citizen. "American Economics," by Prof. Van Buren Denslow, is a lucid and forcible exposition of the grounds upon which the protection theory of national economy is based. Judge Noah Davis writes of "Marriage and Divorce;" Dr. P. Bender, whose subject is "The Annexation of Canada," sets forth the advantages likely to accrue to the United States from the absorption of the Canadian provinces; Prof. D McG. Means, in an argument against "Government Telegraphy," subjects the management of the Post Office to a most searching criticism; Charles T. Congdon writes of "Private Vengeance;" and finally, there is a symposium on the "future of the Negro," by Senator Z. B Vance, Frederick Douglas, Joel Chandler Harris, Senator John T. Morgan, Prof. Richard T. Greener, Gen. S. C. Armstrong, Oliver Johnson, and others.

"THE RULING PASSION STRONG IN DEATH."

The "git thar" policy of the New York Democracy was fully exemplified at Saratoga yesterday. The great party (?) in the great Empire State was forced to play fast and loose upon every subject which it touched.

The tariff resolution came up and for the reason that there were differences of opinion upon that engrossing question the great New York Democracy dare not open its mouth, but voted to not touch it.

Edward Cooper was opposed to saying anything upon the subject; disclaiming it was a "touchy subject." District Attorney Bellows declared the "party was willing to do anything for harmony."

The closing resolution, however, had the true Democratic ring to it: "every delegate and every alternate occupying the place of a delegate to be bound by the unit rule, and the will of a majority of the delegation, and in case of absence of delegates and alternates the delegation to fill the vacancy."

This iron clad rule was evidently adopted at the instance of the bosses who could not, nor dare not, trust the convention upon the question of instructions.

The New York Democracy is a fair sample of the great party of obstruction which is guided alone by its appetite for plunder. The manufacturing, commercial and industrial interests of the country will carefully and intelligently note and measure the marked impotency of the New York democracy. A solid, intolerant south, at the head, and a cowardly, skulking north as the tail will be fully understood and felt at home in November next by the people.

"SOLID SOUTH."

Southern democracy is to the fore already explaining why the south is solid for anybody wearing the label of democracy. Say all of these patriots, who have submitted to the interviewer, "The South will be solid for whoever is nominated Don't trouble yourself about that section of the Union. The negro has lost his appetite for suffrage, he doesn't dare to vote any more, go ahead and name your man we will give him the electoral vote of the south."

This is "about the size of it" and does anybody wonder that the negro is getting tired of voting when it means the shot gun in open daylight, every time the ballot box is exposed to the people.

Is a political party that can make such a boast as this, a safe interest to place in charge of any kind of a government, let alone one like this of ours, which is supposed to be of the people, for the people, and by the people?

We believe the South is yet solid, in fact, we know it is solid, and for that very reason we know the people of the north, east, and great west, when the ballot is free and the voter safe in his person, property, and opinions, will take care that such a party does not come into power, yet awhile, in this country. Every time a Southern democrat boasts about a solid South, a potent argument is flaunted in the face of all patriotic citizens which cannot be disregarded.

WHAT THE "SUN" THINKS.

New York, June 17.—[Special]—The Sun says; "The democratic party cannot afford to indulge in any illusions as to the kind of a campaign they are going to have this year. Because a number of republicans in Massachusetts and New York refuse to support Blaine, it must not be supposed that on that account the democrats are sure of defeating him. The defection in Massachusetts is not likely to be great enough to make that state democratic. The defection in New York has yet to show itself in significant proportions in strong republican districts."

A GERMAN INDEPENDENT.

Positive of Blaine's Success.

New York, June 16.

William Mayer, the editor and publisher of four independent German newspapers—the New-Yorker Zeitung (morning), New Yorker Herald (evening), New-Yorker Revue (Sunday)—speaking today about the Republican National ticket, said:

"I regard Mr. Blaine's chances of election as excellent, indeed, I believe he is certain to be elected. It is quite true that there is some hesitation among Germans, owing to reports that have been put in circulation by his opponents alleging that he is a German hater and a temperance fanatic. I know Mr. Blaine too well to think for a moment that he is either. His invitation to the Stanton family and his whole bearing toward them while they were in this country are sufficient proof to me that he is no German hater. I regard him as the smartest and best living statesman in the country."

"Do you think Cleveland will be nominated?"

"No, I do not think he can be. He is in exactly the same predicament that Arthur was in the republican contest. His own State is divided against him. The unit rule which prevails in the democratic party, his friends will not dare to enforce, because that would drive away the independents."

JUSTICE FIELD, of the supreme court of these United States, feels very sore toward the California democracy, a large portion of which he charges with being communists, simply because the Pacific democracy have concluded to pass by the presidential aspirations of the California supreme court. Justice Field has, for years, been notorious for his one-sided opinions in favor of the railroad corporations and against the people. His recent decision over its tax matters, in which the central city has been refusing to pay its just proportion of tax, is too fresh in the minds of the Pacific democracy to permit of that organization lifting or aiding the Field family to more power. California is overwhelmingly against the steal.

"WHAT is an anomaly?" seems to be agitating the press to an undue extent; consequently in the language and spirit of the New York democracy, we are in favor of referring this puzzling subject with the "touchy tariff question" to the national democratic convention which meets in Chicago next month.
