There is very loud complaint against the Sunday base ball game which is usually held on the Driving park.

Don't forget to secure your seats for Chas. A. Gardner in "Karl" next Wednesday at the opera house, seats are selling fast.

The Plattsmouth Sportsmen's club were to have a spirited tournament this afternoon, but the HERALD fears the rain will prevent.

The Young Men's Republican Club will be entertained Monday evening next by addresses from Messrs. Strode, Hartigan, Morrison and Smith.

Cedar Creek, not to be behind any of her neighbors, promises to celebrate the National Birthday in the usual manner with all kinds of sport interspersed with literary and musical exercises.

R. C. Barrow, state evangelist, will fill the pulpit at the Christian church next Sunday morning and evening. A cordial invitation is extended to every body to be present.

Charley Black, H. Sage and Charley Skinner, "three gallant tars" will man the cannon on the Fourth. They have already secured 5 kegs of powder to be used on that occasion.

Another Blaine precinct heard from with a slight variation. This time it is still the Third ward, and it is at the house and home of J. E. Morrison. It is a lovely girl baby, and its parents are very happy. The HERALD congratulates Mrs. and Mr. Morrison.

The HERALD learns that Elmwood and vicinity are going to have a rousing celebration on the 4th. The programme has not reached us, but we know enough of the patriotism and public spirit of the "boys" in that vicinity to know that they will be satisfied with nothing less than a lofty, wide-spread bird.

Frank Smith, from Chicago, was arrested on charge of breaking into a freight car last night and was examined before Judge Russell and discharged this afternoon. It seemed from the evidence, he had only been sleeping in the car and had taken nothing. Three others who were with him were also discharged.

There is an awful funny indictment found by the grand jury of Douglas county. The jury bring in a true bill against an ex-councilman, named McGuekin—the count in this indictment charging that McGuekin received pay for introducing a resolution into the city council of Omaha, which favored the fancy of that "burg." This indictment certainly presents a novel question, and the HERALD believes, in law an absurd charge.

With the coming hot weather comes the refreshing words (to the young at least) that Plattsmouth will celebrate. A genuine, old fashioned Fourth of July celebration will be held in Fitzgerald's park, where it is intended to make every one enjoy themselves by the presence of good literary exercises, consisting of orations by some of our best citizens, music, games and dancing.

The management of the celebration is in the hands of the following committee with J. A. Connor as chairman: J. V. Weckbach, P. McCallan, J. Grace and M. McGulre.

Mr. Charles A. Gardner, as "Karl," and an excellent company, held the boards at the Academy of Music last evening. Standing room was in demand, and the audience was one of those dignified crowds that show no sign of appreciation until it is knocked down with real merit. Mr. Gardner, however, captured his audience in the beginning, and before the close of the first act everybody was enthusiastic.

Mr. Gardner is a strong rival of Joe Emmet. His dialect is good and his songs are not only excellent in composition but he renders them in style. Every character was well taken and the performance throughout is a most pleasing one. Mr. Gardner, come soon again, and bring that same company with you.—Daily Beacon, Akron, O.

Will be at Waterman Opera House, June 25th.

Street Crossings vs Delivery Wagons. The Sixth street bridge by Patterson's livery stable, is almost passable once more, the approaches thereof being nearly completed. Commissioner Poisl and his force have done a good job on this bridge, and the HERALD now calls on Mr. Poisl to drop a few wagon loads of dirt around and about certain crossings on Chicago and Washington avenues, and also on Main street. It will help out the farmers and livery men, and save many a delicate delivery wagon with its tender packages of costly groceries.

Fix these jack knife crossings Mr. Commissioner, or we will fire a loaded ice cream trepoc at you.

THE CANNON BALL WRECK.

Complete List of the Injured.

We give below a list of the injured in the wreck of the Cannon ball train near Hubbell, Tuesday night. No further news beyond what was given yesterday morning has been received. MORE BRIBERY IN OMAHA.

The grand jury in the district court did not finish their business yesterday, but did more work. An indictment for bribery was returned against D. L. McGuekin, late a member of the city council of Omaha, Third ward. It alleges that on May 10, 1893, McGuekin introduced and supported in the city council a resolution which was passed directing the marshal to remove all prostitutes from a radius of two blocks from the East school in the Third ward, it being alleged that the proximity of the houses of prostitution was injurious and corrupting to the school children. On August 28th, being promised $100 and a carpet worth $25, McGuekin introduced and supported a resolution, which was passed, rescinding the previous resolution, also introduced and supported a resolution, which passed, directing the marshal to move all prostitutes from the houses between Tenth and Twelfth streets on the north side of Douglas street. On August 29th, McGuekin received in payment for procuring this legislation the $100 in the form of Bernstein's check and the $25 carpet.

It was creditably reported yesterday that the city council had sent a delegation to wait upon the mayor and to notify him that they would give him until 8 o'clock tonight to send in his resignation or else be removed by ordinance.

Mr. Abram Bernstein, who was indicted on Wednesday for renting a house to prostitutes, told a Herald reporter yesterday that he did not want to be singled out in this regard, and that he had gone before the grand jury with a list of twenty-five property owners and agents who were renting to the same class of people. Mr. Bernstein was unable to find a copy of this list, but named over a number of our wealthy citizens, who would be much surprised to find themselves indicted.—Omaha Herald.

The Ashland Road.

The HERALD, in conversation with a gentleman a few days ago, learns that the Ashland cut-off on the B. & M. is certain to be built. The gentleman we allude to is a personal friend of T. J. Potter's, and inferred from what Mr. Potter said to him that the road would be extended at once from the stock yards at Omaha. The theory advanced is that a couple of Iowa roads are looking with longing eyes on the Ashland route for an entrance into the fertile fields of Nebraska, and that the stock yards line, which is only three miles long, would of course not cover the desired territory. So as a matter of self-preservation the Burlington will build the above mentioned road. The only if there was that if these roads get some other outlet at an early day then the Ashland cut-off would be abandoned, as the necessity for it would no longer exist.

Blodded Stock.

A little over a year ago Samuel Atwood in company with C. H. Parmele, began to handle a few Jersey cows in a small way. They soon found the business profitable and went into it more extensively so that today they have about thirty head of Jerseys and nearly the same number of Herefords in their yards.

As an indication of what they have been doing, upon inquiry of Mr. Atwood, he informs us that their sales up to the present time amount to over $6,000, and as they have only got fairly started in the business, their splendid success shows very conclusively that the breeding of fine stock is a very profitable industry if it is properly managed.

A Steam Ferry.

A Mr. Pease, of Blair, is in the city today seeing the officials in regard to putting in a steam ferry at this point. The necessary franchise no doubt will be forthcoming when the much needed boat will be sent here for permanent work.

The ignorant man who is in jail here on the charge of attempting rape, wrote the following note to jailer Holloway which we print verbatim, his word method it seems would even make the phonitians blush with envy:
