Lincoln, June 26, 1884.

The Cleveland Herald sorrowfully remarks: "The enthusiasm was for Thurman—the nomination for Cleveland." The majority of the votes in November will be for Blaine.

WILLIAM PURCELL has declined to remain on the New York Democratic ticket as Presidential Elector-at-large.

He has forwarded his resignation to the chairman of the state committee.

Mr. Purcell has also retired from the editorship of his paper, the Rochester Union because he cannot conscientiously support Cleveland.

We learn that Prof. Vandeman's name has been spoken of by some of the prominent educators in the state in connection with the office of state superintendent and have no doubt as to his fitness and ability for the office.

He has made a good and capable county superintendent, has formed quite an extensive acquaintance throughout the state and is one of the foremost in advancing our educational interests. We presume however, that with another candidate in our county for a place on the state ticket, he will not seriously allow himself to be pushed forward until more favorable circumstances may seem to warrant it.—Wahoo Independent.

THE Indianapolis Times (Ind.) pro-pounds the following ugly questions to Hendricks and his friends:

Did Mr. Hendricks ever denounce the treasonable Copperhead organization known as the Sons of Liberty?

Did he ever denounce the murder of enrolling officers by Copperhead Democrats during the War?

Did Mr. Hendricks ever publicly condemn the corruption of Democratic officials during his term as Governor?

Will some Democrat inform us of a single act performed by Mr. Hendricks during the entire War that should commend him to the loyal and Union people of the North?

What reform did Mr. Hendricks inaugurate when he occupied the position of Commissioner of General Land Of-ice? Certainly it was not when he occupied the position of Commissioner of General Land Office? Certainly it was not when he compelled the poor clerks in his bureau to "come down" for the party corrupt on-fund.

THE DEMOCRATS AND POLYGA-MY.

The people should not neglect to contrast the positions taken by the Republican and Democratic Conventions in regard to polygamy. To make this contrast apparent to the naked eye we subjoin the two utterances:

Republican platform. Democratic platform.

Resolved, That it is the duty of Congress to enact such laws as shall promptly and effectively suppress the system of polygamy within our

Territories and divorce the political power of the so-called Mormon

Church, and that the law so enacted should be enforced by the civil authorities, if possible, and by the military if need be.

In other words, the Republican platform condemns in the most emphatic terms the shameful polygamous practices in Utah, and demands the extirpation of this disgrace by any means that may be necessary, while the democratic platform has not one word to say in censure of polygamy or in favor of extinguishing the one blot upon American civilization.—Chicago Tribune.

Some Incidents in the Career of Miss Louise Sylvester.

From the Cleveland Plaindealer.

There are many people in Cleveland who remember Miss Louise Sylvester as a member of the Academy of Music stock company, during Clara Morris' last engagement here some years ago.

From this city she went to Chicago, and for a time was identified with the Wood's Museum Company, after which she went to St. Louis and for two seasons appeared in De Bar's Opera House, where she became a general favorite.

She next came into notice as a star of an organization known as Post & Loomis' Dramatic Company, which produced "Fanchon," "Pearl of Savoy,"

"Little Detective," and similar plays, which were received with the most flattering favor everywhere. From 1875 dates her success in New York City.

After a short engagement at the Bowery, she became a member of the stock company at Wood's Museum, for nearly two years, winning golden opinions from all sorts of people, subsequently meeting with the most profound success at Wallack's. In 1877 she was engaged by Mr. Palmer, of the Union Square Theatre, where her former success attended her, and where her advancement was most rapid. One night, while supporting Clara Morris in "Miss Multon" the sudden illness of Miss Sara Jewett, then a member of the company, was announced. At 8 o'clock, almost at the ringing up of the curtain. Miss Sylvester consented to appear in Miss Jewett's stead, and investing herself in the robes of "Madame De La Tour" commenced the study of the character as if her whole future career depended upon its successful interpretation. The result was simply marvelous. Her action was perfect, while her reading evinced a power that seemed to be the outcome of a sudden inspiration. Mr. Palmer sent her a letter of the most complimentary nature, and her position at once was firmly established. She was subsequently sent by Mr. Palmer to California, where she appeared in a San Francisco theatre, for a short season, at the end of which the principal citizens of the city tendered her a complimentary benefit, the net profits of which amounted to
