The "prominent republican" who was going to materialize the other evening, as a Sherman-Cleveland man, failed to show up, and the HERALD in its enthusiasm over the speech of Moriarty, and the entire success of the HERALD's and Messrs. Cleveland and Sherman's non-partisan meeting, failed to speak of the fact, which, however, did not escape the attention of this organ. And we now propound the conundrum to the unknown as well as to our democratic brethren, why is it that we were deprived of this "dark horse" and his debut?

Died.

At her home in this city at 1 o'clock this morning, of heart disease, Mrs. R. D. Gallagher.

Mrs. Gallagher has been very sick the past week, but heart disease caused her sudden death last night, and her many friends in the city, learned this morning with great surprise of her death. The case is saddened by the fact that Mr. Gallagher is away from home, being in Cincinnati on business. Mrs. Gallagher's illness was not considered serious until such a short time before her death that he was not telegraphed for until last night at 8 p. m., and another message followed this morning notifying him of her death.

Mrs. Gallagher was an earnest member of the Episcopal church and a lady of high social and religious qualities. Her friends are many in this city who knew and esteemed her.

Mr. Gallagher, who is so suddenly bereft, has a family of seven children, who are thus bereft of a mother, and the death to that home is a very sad one.

At the request of Mrs. Gallagher in her last moments, she will not be buried until Mr. Gallagher returns, so no announcement of the funeral services can be made today.

Lost a Finger.

This morning O. B. Williams, a brakeman on the Omaha freight, was coupling cars in this city; he stepped in between two cars made a coupling and stepped out minus a little finger; he came up to the surgeon general's headquarters, had his wound dressed and will rest up for a few days to let his hand recover.

Turn Out.

All the citizens of Plattsburgh who have the interest of this city at heart, are requested to attend the board of trade meeting at the county judge's office this evening, Saturday, July 19th, for the purpose of hearing the report of parties who were in Chicago working up the boom for the location of the Soldiers' Home in Plattsburgh. This is very important to the business men and property holders of this city. Just think of it, if we get the Soldiers' Home located here, there will be expended in our midst one and a half million dollars from the U. S. Treasury, and in place of a population of seven thousand souls, in three years we would have twenty thousand people, and people who now hold property at bad rock prices would enhance in value four hundred per cent. The writer knows whereof he speaks, that if the citizens of Plattsburgh, take hold of this matter, the C. B. Q. folks will help them out.

I would suggest that there should be a live, active committee from the board of trade appointed to collect funds amongst our business men and assess each party pro rata, the amount of real estate he owns.

Citizens of Plattsburgh, if you turn out and help work this project, we have the prize in our grasp and Plattsburgh will gain by the location of this home the most important institution in the state.

More Incubator.

Mr. Editor:—Although many days and months have passed since I left your city, I am still interested there, and write to tell your readers how to make poultry profitable.

There is a great demand for early chickens, and in large cities like New York, New Orleans, St. Louis and Denver, they find a ready market at from 50 to 60 cents per pound; but to get these high prices they must be hatched in February, March and April. As hens are not strictly inclined so early you must use incubators—they hatch a larger per cent of eggs than hens, and the chicks are healthier, being free from lice. I have two incubators, that I made myself; they cost $5 each, and hold 480 eggs. Any one can get directions for making an incubator like mine, by writing to J. Bane, New Concord, Ohio, inclosing stamps for postage. My incubators are a complete success, and being so cheap are within reach of all, and any lady can run it. I had 212 hens, and from these and my two incubators have sold since March 1st, $1,427 worth of chickens and eggs. Now is the time to make your incubators and prepare for the spring trade. I run my incubators the year round, and think there is no business requiring so little capital and yielding such large profits. I will soon write you an article on "Which are the Most Profitable Varieties to Raise."

The washout on the Republican valley division of the B. & M. was repaired day before yesterday, but the trains have not yet got back to regular time. In consequence no mail coach and no sleeper went east from this city in the afternoon.—State Journal.

4-PAW'S WHITE WONDER.

Different Grades of White Elephants.

The reporter of a prominent newspaper recently interviewed a gentleman who was for many years a resident in Siam, and he imparted the following information concerning the different kinds of white elephants found in Siam. The reporter asked:

"How many different kinds of elephants are there in Siam, and what are their colors?"

"The Siamese say there are three different grades or classes of elephants in their country which are called chang peuks. The first of these is said to be exceedingly rare, and I presume it is, because I could not find any person in Bangkok who had ever seen one. It is recorded in Siamese history that their eyes are white, their heads and the hair on their bodies yellow, that their skin is a light red, and that all of their eighteen toes are white. It is furthermore stated in Siamese history, as translated from the records in the royal library in Bangkok, that three of this description were found in the following years, Pywank (year of the monkey, Siamese civil era 1174, fourth of the decade corresponding to the year 1812, A. D.); Pichuat (year of the rat, eighth of the decade, 1178, corresponding to the year 1816, A. D.); and Pichalue (year of the cow, ninth of the decade, 1179, corresponding to the year 1818, A. D.) These elephants were said to be perfect chang peuks of the highest grades.

Some idea of Nebraska's wealth in agricultural products can be had by the following figures: The State contains eighty thousand sections, fifty thousand of which may be said to produce five dollars annually to every acre, or one hundred and sixty million dollars per annum pulled out of the ground by the farmers of the State. With such an income our people ought to get rich very fast, if it were not for the plunging, protective tariff which takes out of their pockets not less than seventy millions per annum.—State Journal.

Hon. A. J. Weaver, the congressman from the "big first," favors the HERALD with his late speech in Congress, on the forfeiture of the Pacific railroad grant. Judge Weaver's remarks and position upon this question will undoubtedly meet the approval of his constituents throughout this district.
