A Rousing Opening.

Last night, as had been advertised, occurred the first public meeting of the Republican campaign in this city, under the auspices of the Young Men's Republican Club. For two weeks the boys had been hard at work, and this the first and opening wedge in the campaign was intended by them to be as that it exceeded their highest expectations would be stating the question mild, and the boys all can congratu late themselves upon the entire success of their work.

THE EVENING

was all that could be desired; cool, pleasant, and still it seemed an evening made to order for their especial occasion, and shortly after 7 o'clock the people began to assemble on Main street to witness the parade of the torch light club. When the line of march was formed from the rooms of the club and took up the line of march, THE CROWD ON MAIN STREET was a magnificent one-from the Persidewalks on both sides the street were packed with men, women and children.

He paid ten minutes attention to the tariff question in a simple, plain talk, that the most obtuse could understand and appreciate, and when he closed his speech with some of his best illustrations the audience warmed up for an all night's session if necessary. After a closing song by the club the meeting adjourned, amid rounds of applause for Blaine and Logan and the speakers, and the crowd dispersed homeward impressed with the fact that Thurston and Caldwell the a rousing meeting had been held in the city. The boys of the club and the repub licans of the city can mutually offer congratulations over the entire success of the finest political meeting ever held in the city.

Union, Cass Co., Neb. Aug. 8, '84.

The Sabbath School at Union church which was organized April 1st, has been running successfully for the four months, and as a reward of merit and also as a stimulus to the pupils of the school it was decided by the officers and teachers to give a picnic, which took place vesterday at Davis' grove, uear the church. Three weeks previous to the time appointed for the picnic, there were committees appointed to select a grove, invite other schools, and one to prepare a programme. The com, on programme consisted of Mrs. E. P. Madole and Mrs. John Chalfant. The programme was prepared and was
