Oranges and Lemons at Bennett & Lewis.

The Seventh Day Adventists, desire to announce the resuming of their meetings on Friday evening next at 7:45 p. m. The tent will be pitched on the corner of Granite street and Chicago Avenue.

Go and see Bennett & Lewis in their new quarters.

An attempt was made yesterday and binned at in last night's Journal to scatter a campaign lie upon Mr. Wilcox. Such things are to be expected, and we know of no one more ready to circulate and give publicity to a scandal and a falsehood than the Plattsmouth Daily Journal.

Buy your Groceries and Fruits of Bennett & Lewis.

A B. & M. brakeman had one of his hands severely and terribly pinched and bruised and lacerated and broken and made useless forever, down in the yards the other evening. He was a new man and had only been at work one day when the unfortunate accident overtook him.—State Journal.

California Pears and Grapes just received at Bennett & Lewis.

Omaha Nimrods.

Omaha nimrods and their friends have been popping over birds since the 15th inst. and with telling effect. Henry Holman and B. E. Troxall, with Messrs. Richardson and Hoyt, of Clark's Station, shot 266 birds in a day and a half near Clark's last week. Hon. J. M. Thurston and a Chicago friend returned yesterday from a successful expedition into the north country. Dr. J. H. Peabody bagged over 100 birds on a hunt near Fullerton. Frank Parmelee and Sam Brown brought in 117 chickens as the result of a shoot at Albion.

Editor Chapman, of Kearney, and J. E. Markel captured over 100 in 2 days shooting near St. Paul. Vic Caldwell and Paul Horbach bagged 80 at Lyons.

C. S. Carlier brought down forty in part of a day in a hunt west. Any number of other hunters have also made satisfactory "bags," although the rains have frequently interrupted sport making the ground so wet for parts of days that the dogs could not get a scent.—Omaha Herald.

Fresh Oysters and Celery, Saturday morning, at Bennett & Lewis.

THE B. & M. AT OMAHA.

Work on the Ashland Extension.

Since the ordinance granting the B. & M. the right of way through certain parts of the city was passed, the progress of this road in its efforts to reach Ashland by a more direct route than the present one, has not even been made the subject of comment by the press of this city. It nevertheless has been silently at work and the distance over which the rails and ties will be laid this fall will be a great aid in its endeavor to reach the metropolis of eastern Nebraska county next summer.

This move on the part of this great corporation shortens the distance to Ashland fourteen miles, and the distance to Lincoln by that much as well. This projected line will make Ashland nearly as the crow flies, the distance between Omaha and this objective point being twenty-eight miles and a half. It will leave the B. & M. depot on 10th street, which it will cross near grade. It will then follow the line of the Union Pacific road nearly three miles, to Summit Station. At a point just west of that place it will cross the Union Pacific track by an iron bridge of masonry piers, three hundred feet long and twenty-eight feet above the road bed.

It is intended to complete nearly seven miles of this road this season, the road bed for which is being graded by Mallory & Cushing of this city. The preparation for this distance out of Omaha, for the rails and ties, will necessitate the moving of over four hundred thousand cubic yards of earth for cuts and fills. The topography of this section is unusually difficult for a road bed and makes it an exceedingly arduous task to overcome the obstacles that are constantly met.—Omaha Bee.

Ed Morley.

At his new Tonsorial and Bath Rooms, invites the public to call and see him. Good and satisfactory work in the barber line always on hand.

RAIN WATER BATHS.

After Friday of this week our bath rooms will be open to the public, and they will be found the finest in the city. Shop and Bath Rooms, basement of Waterman Opera House.

ED. MORLEY, Prop'r.

Removal.

F. M. McCourt, the grocer will about the 1st of September, move into the south room of the Union Block where he will open out the most complete line of staple and fancy groceries to be found in the city. Until then, however, you will find him at the old stand selling the best goods cheaper than the cheapest. Extra inducements will be offered for the next ten days to reduce stock. Corner of 5th and Main street.

GREAT GUNS.

Loaded to the Muzzle and Emptied into Democracy.

Hon. P. W. Wilcox, of Illinois in this City.

The Great Speech of the Year.

A Plattsmouth audience has never before listened to such a powerful speech as the one delivered last evening at the opera house by Hon. P. W. Wilcox, of Illinois, "The Mendota Carpenter." The speech is the topic of conversation on the streets of this city today, and republicans are jubilant over the magnificent meeting of last evening and every one of them are congratulating themselves that the opportunity came in our way to secure Mr. Wilcox for a speech in Nebraska, and that Plattsmouth secured him. But what shall we say of Democracy. The members of that party who listened to the speech of last evening never knew before what a party of disorganization and failures they belonged to; never in their dreams have they realized what they were asking of the people of this country when that hungry and improvident party asks to be placed in power in national affairs.

The grand meeting of last evening and the second of the campaign under the auspices of the Young Men's Republican Club, was preceded by a torchlight parade, the line of march being on the side walks, as the muddy condition of the streets prohibited their use for marching purposes. The line of march was headed by the B. & M. Band, and all the torches in the club, together with the transparencies, were soon in motion, making as before a splendid display. It was thought up to 7 o'clock that owing to the bad weather no attempt would be made to parade, but the boys were enthusiastic and that settled it. Among the transparencies was a new one, ten feet long, that attracted great attention, one side representing the New York Elevated R. R., with its train of cars and the streets filled with people beneath. This side bore the inscription: "The rich ride, but the poor walk; fare 10 cents." On the opposite side was a list of Monopoly Cleveland's vetos and the transparency was one of the features of the parade.

After the parade the opera house rapidly filled until over a thousand people were seated, and at Judge Gass' suggestion we are glad to state that many ladies were present, who enjoyed the speaking and participated in the enthusiasm with the greatest pleasure. Of all this large audience scarcely a man, woman or child, left in the entire evening. The classical editor of the Journal, however, was an exception, for he left. He wasn't feeling well, you know, and the atmosphere was hot and close for his class of democrats.

The exercises opened with music by the band and Glee club, when Mr. Wilcox was introduced by the president of the club, and for nearly two hours that magnificent audience listened to a discussion of the principles and work of the two great parties such as never was heard in this city before.

Mr. Wilcox dealt in facts of history and record. He spoke of and reviewed the financial condition of the two parties, and the times when they were in power, and every statement was a fact proven and of record. It was a magnificent showing of the incompetency of democracy and of successful republican management.

Mr. Wilcox dwelt upon the labor question and the conditions of the working people, and he spoke directly to hundreds of them who were in attendance and who heard one of their own number who had studied the question and the facts to prove every statement. He handled free trade democracy and its false and vicious position, so that those who run could understand and did understand. We believe if the editor of the Journal had remained, even he might have had some conception of the tariff question and its relations to labor. Mr. Wilcox was throughout all eloquent—his words were born of conviction and his closing comparison of the condition of this country when Democracy handed it over to republicans, and the condition of the present was clear, concise and convincing.

It is impossible to give a description of it all, and it remains for those who heard it to know of its truth and power. It is an especial matter of congratulation to the young men's republican club that it has been their privilege to afford the people of Plattsmouth an opportunity of hearing one of Illinois' greatest speakers, who, in 1880, spoke all through that state; speaking in that year at Bloomington with John A. Logan to 45,000 people. A more powerful speech was never delivered in Nebraska, and Mr. Wilcox has the thanks of the republicans of Plattsmouth.

FIGHTING CRAZY.

An Otse County Insane Man's Freaks.

A man giving his name as Winchester Mann, and his home as Unadilla, Neb., went to Orrin Kenaston's in this city last night, where he obtained supper, and was going to remain over night. After supper while at the 350r he drew an ax on Mr. Kenaston, threatening to kill him, but Mr. Kenaston got in the house, secured his gun, and drove the man away, where he staid last night, no one knows. This morning he was at the depot where he knocked a man down, and when policeman Sage came up, he knocked him down also. He was taken to jail where he demonstrated his insanity by smashing all the jail furniture he could and he was handcuffed and taken before Judge Russell, where District attorney Strode examined him on a charge of assaulting an officer. Wm. Delles, of Elmwood, who was in the city, knew the man at Unadilla, and that he was crazy over a girl there, and had been confined at Neb. City for some time. Judge Russell sentenced him to ten days in the county jail so that he could be held until the authorities of Otse county could come and take him away, and they have been notified to that effect by Sheriff Eskensberry.

PERSONAL.

Rev. W. J. Harsha, of Omaha, came down from that city this morning, and is a guest today at the Reverend J. T. Baird's.

County Treasurer Newell was among the delegates who were at the congressional convention at Beatrice yesterday.

Ed. J. Marlin Esq., of Nebraska City, was in town last night stopping over to see how the Plattsmouth boys woke the echoes in a rousing republican meeting.

E. R. McClellan representing F. P. Elliot & Co. Chicago, was in the city last night going north to Omaha this morning.

Ami Todd and Mr. Hull shouldered their dogs and took their guns along this morning going west of Lincoln for a chicken hunt.

Jeffrey Stone Esq., of Newton, Iowa, has been in Plattsmouth the last few days, a guest at Jeff L. Stone's.

Henry Bons went to Kansas City this morning to meet his sister Mrs. Powell, who comes from Silver City, New Mexico for a visit at her old Plattsmouth home.

Jesse Burnett, of Eight Mile Grove, drove down into the city through the mud and rain to hear the Illinois orator, speak at the opera house last evening, and says he was more than paid.

L. C. Stiles, who has been doing Louisville and South Bend in the interest of this paper returned to Plattsmouth last evening.

P. W. Wilcox will leave tonight for his home at Mendota, Ill., where he will engage in campaign work in that state.

WHEN THE FIRE IS OUT

Magic No More a Mystery—Seen From Across the World.

"Haroun of Aleppo," said Sir Philip Dervai, had mastered every secret in nature which the noble magic seeks to fathom. He discovered that the true art of healing is to assist Nature to throw off the disease—to summon, as it were, the whole system to eject the enemy that has fastened on a part.

His process all included the reinvigoration of life.

In this the Eastern sage nearly anticipated the practice of the best physicians of to day. Which life itself is, no body knew then—nobody knows now. But we have learned something of the reasons why the mysterious tide rises and falls. Provided the great organs of the body are not irreparably destroyed, medical science can always relieve and often save. Yet no reputable physicians now adhere to the barbarous and stupid process attempted to cure diseases by reducing the patient's ability to resist it. Now-a-days we do not fear down the fort to help the garrisons—we strengthen it. In this intelligent and beneficent work, it is conceded that PARKER'S TONIC leads all other medicines. As an invigorant it immediately and powerfully upon the circulation and the organs of digestion thus giving Nature the assistance she calls for. It follows that ailments of the stomach, kidneys and liver are at once relieved or cured. No other preparation embodies the same qualities or produces similar results. It is delicious to use, and the best known anti-intoxicant. Price 50 cents and $1. Hiseock & Co. N. Y.

Strawberry Plants.

W. J. Hesser has now ready for market a lot of very fine Cumberland, Triumph, Sharpless, Crescent seedling and late Glendale Strawberry plants, at 25 cents per dozen; 75c per 100, or $5 per 1000; the above grown in 3 inch pots, strong plants, 50c per dozen. Samples of fruit on exhibition at Bennett & Lewis' where orders may be left.
