Troubled with Stowaways.

Stowaways trouble English steamers more this year than ever before. To find ten or fifteen of them is a common thing. They make friends with the men who load the vessels, and are put away wherever they can be secreted. In vessels that bring over brick the leaders will build up a little room around two or three men, and in several cases from a dozen to two dozen men have thus been secreted. Most of them are tramps. They only remain in their hiding places till the vessel is well out to sea, when they make their appearance to be supported during the rest of the voyage.—Pkdadelphia Call.
