The Republican State Platform.

The republican party of Nebraska, while ever an aid of property rights, and holding no sympathy with those who would with the commonwealth, or with the anarchists destroy...

We further urge and recommend to the American people the adoption of the tariff reform...

We condemn the action of the president in his attempt to return the trophies won by bravery on the field of battle.

We view with alarm the abuse of the veto power by the president of the United States...

MR. CAMPBELL'S accounts as county treasurer have always been correct. Dare Sherman deny this?

If Mr. Sherman, or any other man, thinks there is anything wrong in the county treasurer's office, he is invited to investigate.

D. A. CAMPBELL wishes it understood that when the editor of the Journal says that he offered him money to withdraw his opposition, he lies.

MR. CAMPBELL is anxious to be elected says the Journal and therefore should be defeated. What candidates on either ticket is there that is not anxious to be elected?

The Journal has been making a great howl about the Co. fund being deposited in bank. In a published interview in yesterday's Journal, Higgins says he will do the same thing.

WILL C. Whopper Sherman kindly inform his readers whether he ever received a bribe before or not? and does he experience a more pleasing sensation from refusing a bribe than accepting one? We understand he has had both experiences.

THERE is nothing in connection with Mr. Campbell's conduct of the affairs of his office about which he would care to have anyone keep silent. He defies Sherman or anyone else to find anything wrong. Every cent collected has been properly accounted for.

THERE will be plenty of time yet for the "select few" to work up affidavits and bring every possible pressure to bear to elect a part of their ticket...

A. J. SAWYER one of the democratic candidates for district judge was in the city yesterday and was chaperoned by the editor of the Journal. It is in the air that there is to be an effort made to beat Allen Field by creating a disaffection in the republican ranks...

In a labored interview in last night's Journal Higgins is made to say if he could legally as county treasurer lend the county fund for the benefit of the county he would do so, at the same time he intimates the law will not permit it.

In the last legislature two bills were introduced, authorizing the loaning of the county fund for the benefit of the county. Will the Journal please explain why Mr. Higgins made no effort to see that either of these bills passed?

It comes from a credible source, that at a term of court held here lately, J. M. Higgins was one of the jurors, and was elected foreman, that the jury being out in a certain case found a verdict of one cent damages...

The Journal calls attention to the fact that McPherson, the democratic candidate for register of deeds, is strictly attending to his duties as deputy county clerk, and letting the election go by default.

MR. CAMPBELL'S record is as clean as the noon-day sun, and his books are open not only to the commissioners of Cass county, but also to the public. There has always been a careful checking up of his books by the commissioners...

The great moral(?) Sunday school paper, the Journal, would not be bribed. Oh no! Yet testimony was offered and sworn to by responsible citizens of this town, before the last grand jury, showing conclusively that this same moral(?) Journal was subject to the control, and received substantial aid from a gambling hell, which had been in operation in this city some time previous...

in detecting the man who attempted to bribe C. Whopper Sherman.

In the mean cowardly manner for which it is noted the Journal insinuates that D. A. Campbell offered its editor, C. W. Sherman, $100 in consideration of the Journal ceasing to publish certain lying statements. Mr. Campbell wishes it stated that any man who says that he ever offered or authorized any one else to offer for him any money for such purpose or for the purpose of keeping him quiet about anything, he utters a malicious falsehood.

It is in entire keeping with Sherman's whole history to find him engaged in trying to break down the fair name of his fellow man. In this instance he will not succeed. Mr. Campbell is too well known in this county to be damaged by anything the Journal can say.

It is and has been a notorious fact that the editor of the Journal has fought and vilified for years the best citizens of Plattsmouth. At one time and another the files of his paper show that he has thrown dirt and filth without reason at men who have been identified with the best interests of Plattsmouth...

As a portion of the principal of the B. & M. bonds issued by this county will mature in 1890 the county commissioners as the law directs, a few years ago commenced to secure a sinking fund to have on hand to pay off the bonds as they should mature. When the amount on hand reached something over $10,000 the commissioners, under the law, directed the county treasurer to advertise for the best terms on which the holder of any of the bonds would surrender them.

Prohibition in Iowa. It is often remarked by thoughtless and prejudiced people that prohibition in Iowa does not prohibit, and that the saloons are running in open violation of the law, without the least restraint.

Five Hundred Dollars Reward. The above sum will be given for the arrest and conviction of the evil disposed parties who attempted to bribe C. Whopper Sherman and are said to have failed in purchasing the opinions of the Journal, and who did not try to purchase the plant.

POINTERS ABOUT PLATTSMOUTH.

It is the gateway to the great South Platte country. It is situated on the Missouri River at the mouth of the Platte, at a point about half way between Chicago and Denver, only two hours by rail from Lincoln the capital, and forty minutes from Omaha, the metropolis of the State.

- Population about 9,000 and rapidly increasing. Has one of the finest systems of Water Works in the State. Streets are well lighted by gas. A street railway in operation. Grades of the streets established, and bonds voted for the purpose of constructing sewerage and paving of Main Street, work to commence thereon in the spring of 1888. Has a fine four story high school building and six ward school houses. Aside from business houses over 100 residences have been constructed during the year 1887. An Opera House costing $50,000. Nebraska Preserve and Canning factory, capital $15,000, capacity 300,000 cans per year and employs 40 hands. Brick and Terra Works, capital 50,000, capacity 10,000 bricks per day, employs thirty hands. Plattsmouth Canning Factory, capital $30,000, capacity 1,500,000 cans per year and employs 125 hands, turns over in one year's business about $100,000. Two daily papers: one Republican and one Democratic. Schmelbacher buggy and wagon factory. Pepperberg's cigar manufactory, employs fifteen hands, and largely supplies the trade of southwestern Nebraska. Dufour & Co's. new Packing House.

The great C. T. & Q. Railroad machine shops, round houses, storerooms, &c., are maintained at this point for the use of its system west of the Missouri River, employing many hundreds of hands, and disbursing to employees monthly about $30,000. One of the finest railroad bridges in the United States spans the Missouri River at the Southern limit of the city. Over 2,000 miles of railroad conveys its freight traffic into and through our city. Ten passenger trains leave Plattsmouth daily for north, south, east and west over the C. B. & Q.; K. C., St. Joe & C. B. and the B. M. R. R. in Nebraska.

The cheapness of the land around Plattsmouth and its nearness to Omaha markets together with good railroad facilities, make it not only a pleasant place to reside, but a desirable place for the establishment of manufactures. To healthy, legitimate manufacturing enterprises, the citizens of Plattsmouth would doubtless make reasonable inducements to secure their location, and correspondence is solicited.

While real estate values are growing firmer each day, yet there is nothing speculative or fictitious about them, and good residence lots can be bought at from $150 to $350; land near the city can be purchased at from $200 to $400 per acre. Within the next twelve months our city expects to welcome the Missouri Pacific and the Omaha and Southern Railways into its corporate limits.

The above facts are given without exaggeration and the prospects for the future prosperity of our city, more than above indicated. Parties seeking investments in Realty are earnestly requested to come and make personal investigation. While here you will be given a free ride to South Park, the most beautiful and desirable residence locality in the city, where lots may be purchased at from $150 to $200, each. This picturesque addition is accessible by either Chicago or Lincoln Avenues or by South 9th Street and may be reached in a ten minutes walk from the business center. South Park is more rapidly building up than any other part of the city. Correspondence solicited.

George Smith, a saloon-keeper, was fined $1,000 and costs or 300 days in the county jail for contempt of court by Judge Deemer yesterday. The nature of the contempt is that a few months ago an injunction was applied for and granted in the case of the state against George Smith, charged with selling intoxicating drinks. Smith, however, refused to recognize the injunction and kept on at the business as usual. A warrant was issued for his arrest, and he was brought before Judge Deemer on a charge of contempt of court.

A death stillness prevailed the room when the judge pronounced the penalty. Many were of the opinion that the court would suspend sentence or remit a portion of the fine, but such did not materialize. The payment of the fine and costs, which will run the amount up to about $1,540 it is said, will be a hard feat to perform on the part of Mr. Smith, as he is not very well financially.

Judge Deemer is a young man, probably twenty-eight years of age, is from Red Oak, Iowa, and has been on the bench for about three years. Mr. Deemer is a strong, well-built man, smooth face and appears quite young, but his decisions are firm and show good reasoning, and give general satisfaction. His career as a judge is being watched by his friends and he will make his mark undoubtedly.
