A Salisbury Dentist, in Rockwood Building.

—To-night is hallowe'en.
—Foot ball is all the go with the boys this fine weather.

—The W. C. T. U. have a sociable on record for next Friday night.

—Lift your gates off and store them in the cellar, for to-night, and run the wagon in the barn.

—The backbone of winter, which was so disastrously broken some months ago, has been re-set.—Etc.

—If you desire an elegant piece of pie go to the pie sociable at the M. E. parsonage to-morrow evening.

All members of the Y. L. R. R. A. are requested to meet at the reading room Tuesday, Nov. 1 at four o'clock p. m. Business of importance to be transacted.

—The dead horse on Chicago avenue which has for several days been a disgusting spectacle was ordered removed to-day by the city marshal.

—Two plain drunks were arrested Saturday night. Before Judge Mathews this morning, they were each fined $5 and costs which they were unable to pay.

—The pleasant weather of yesterday made it a day of recreation and driving for the people who have been confined to their homes and shops during the week.

—Sam Waugh leaves this evening for Virginia to visit at his old home. He intends to stay six weeks, so as to try the good old fashioned turkey on Thanksgiving.

—Something was wrong yesterday with the fire hydrant near the Citizens' Bank and the water which came from it nearly flooded Main street. It was repaired to-day.

—The pie sociable to be given by the ladies of the M. E. church to-morrow evening at which the great rich pumpkin pie and coffee will be served in abundance is an event which makes us hungry to think about.

—Plattsmouth must have a free delivery system established. It will boom her and be of great advantage. Her enterprising sister, Beatrice, has taken that step and Plattsmouth is fully competent to do so also.

—Pumpkin, mince, cranberry, apple, custard pie and coffee will be served at the sociable at the M. E. parsonage to-morrow evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all by the ladies of the church and Rev. W. B. Alexander.

DIED—Mrs. John Grave, aged 28 years, four months and 20 days, died at her home on Granite street, this morning from typhoid fever. Deceased was born in Germany. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

—Tom Connors was arrested this afternoon and taken before Justice of the Peace Mathews. Connors stole some clothing and a little money from some persons at the City hotel. Connors was charged with petit larceny and was fined $85.

—The young folks had a very pleasant time Saturday evening at the residence of Mrs. Clark on Vine street. They planned and gave a surprise party on her daughter, Miss Ella Clark. The house was well filled with young folks, and plenty of eatables were served and games were played to the satisfaction and pleasure of all.

—We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from Nebraska City, inviting us to be present at her great celebration of the laying of the corner stone of the west abutment of the C. B. & Q. railroad bridge to be built across the Missouri at that point; the completion of her system of water works, an official test of which will be made on that day, and otherwise commemorate her prosperity. We will try and be represented and congratulate our sister city on her visible improvement.

The Glee Club Invited.

The following letter addressed to M. A. Hartigan, from John P. Sutton, of Lincoln, and secretary of the I. N. L. A. shows the esteem in which Plattsmouth's vocal talent—the Glee Club—is held abroad, and is furnished us through the kindness of Mr. H. C. Ritchie:

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 27, 1887.
M. A. Hartigan, Esq., Plattsmouth: Will you kindly convey to the members of the Plattsmouth Glee Club, Messrs. H. C. Ritchie, Chas. Whitney, W. A. Derrick, V. Burkell, the cordial invitation of Mr. Fitzgerald to attend the reception of Messrs. O'Connor and Esmonde on the night of 1st November.

Mr. Neville informs us that the gentlemen named have expressed their kind willingness to aid us with their musical talents, and I assure you the treat will be very much appreciated.

Yours Faithfully,

JOHN P. SUTTON,

Secretary I. N. L. A.
THE HERALD is informed the Glee Club will accept the invitation and they will do themselves and city proud, without a doubt.

A Lively Runaway.

Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock a team belonging to Geo. Goose started to run away, down on 3rd street near the cut. The horses on reaching Main street turned west and came rushing up at a lively rate. Fred Woodson, who was near, succeeded in getting into the wagon from the back and got the lines and turned the team on to the sidewalk by the opera house, and ran them into the bill board. One of the horses, a gray, acted so mean on being stopped that it took three men to lead them over to the vacant lot just opposite where they were unhitched and when they cooled down Geo. Goose rode them home. The wagon bed was entirely ruined, but the wagon was not injured otherwise.

REED AS A ROGUE.

He Puts Another Man's Horse up for Security.

About three weeks ago a man named Frank Reed was in town with a number of horses and boarded at Orin Kenneston's. He left there during the night, owing Mr. Kenneston $4 for board. In the morning Mr. Kenneston found he had taken his way toward Nebraska City and followed him, overtaking Reed about fifteen miles south of town, but he refused to settle and abused him (Kenneston) and it is said made threats, and Mr. Kenneston returned without his money.

Last Thursday the same man accompanied by Charley Ott, appeared on our streets and camped out on Chicago avenue, near the oil shed. Mr. Kenneston got an attachment out for the debt and Sheriff Eikenbary took one of the horses a chestnut sorrel, on the attachment, but none of them were much account, the sorrel being the best in the lot of eight or nine head. The horse was quartered at the Bonner stable. Friday evening Chas. Ott went to Council Bluffs, leaving things in charge of Frank Reed. In the night Reed got drunk and went racing up and down Main street, and about 12 o'clock he was arrested by Officers Fitzpatrick and Jack O'Neil, and lodged in jail. In the morning Reed begged Marshal Malick to release him that he might tend to his and his friend's stock and offered the horse he had been riding as security. After considerable teasing Mr. Malick allowed the man to go, but kept the horse, Reed agreeing to appear at Judge Mathews' court at 10 o'clock Saturday. But instead of attending to the stock, hitched his team to his wagon and skipped, leaving Mr. Ott's horses tied near Mr. Ott's wagon, but without food or water. As Mr. Ott did not return Marshal Malick took the four horses left and quartered them at the Bonner stable.

Last night Mr. Ott returned from the Bluffs and was at first going to have telegrams sent out for Reed's arrest, claiming the horse he put up for his appearance as belonging to himself, but as Reed had taken none of Ott's property with him and had given his own horse on the attachment it was not worth while to hunt the man up and arrest him and this morning Ott obtained his horses by paying the boarding expenses and claiming his property.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

School opens up Monday mornings with an increase of scholars from 5 to 20 each week and this morning was no exception to the rule.

The new rooms in the east and west 4th ward are the finest school rooms in the city, they are both full of bright and intelligent children and they somewhat relieve the old rooms of the surplus scholars.

Our Janitor was absent this forenoon and the only clue to his whereabouts, was the report that he was down town negotiating with Charley Holmes for the use of his goat for this evening to be used in entertaining the Journal's local scribe at the High school, should he feel disposed to call as in days of yore.

The first work done by Professor Drummond this morning was a general round up of some boys who became somewhat unruly and made the air hideous with their ungentelemanly acts. Thanks to Professor, he generally nips those things in the bud and a boy who once gets a review on such matters from Drummond generally behaves himself thereafter.
