A Salisbury Dentist, in Rockwood Building.

Lecture to-night. Hear Dr. O'Leary's lecture to-night. The signal flags indicate clear and cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robbins were in Omaha to-day.

Mrs. Donovan was a passenger to Lincoln this morning.

John Minor is moving into his new residence in South Park.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Vanatta went up to Omaha this morning.

Cap. H. E. Palmer left last evening for Omaha and points west.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Patterson were passengers to Omaha this morning.

Mr. J. P. Young left this morning for Lincoln for a two or three days visit.

Plattsmouth now has two cow ordinances and will soon have a pound-master and a pound.

Mrs. M. E. O'Bryan and Mrs. S. B. Stewart of South Bend, were passengers to Omaha last evening.

Regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. S. A. Davis.

Judge Russell last evening issued a marriage license to Samuel O. Hackenberry and Miss Elvora H. Layton.

Pop corn is superceding peanuts as an article of confectionery, and in some places the eating of pop corn has become a sort of craze.

One week from to-night is the second annual ball of the B. of L. F. lodge of this city. It is to be at the opera house and will be an elegant affair.

Monday night burglars are reported to have entered the residence of Engineer Beatty, on Marble street. It is supposed the search was made for his check, but this they failed to get.

The ladies of the M. E. church have the best regards of the HERALD composing force for a large sack full of pop corn, sent by the ladies from their pop corn and apple sociable last night.

The young ladies of the Presbyterian church and Sabbath school will give a doll carnival on the afternoon and evening of Nov. 25th at the opera house and every lady is cordially invited to be present.

A man giving his name as Herman Strate was brought in from Louisville last night, held under $200 bonds to await the convening of the District court. He got in trouble in Louisville and drew a revolver on another man. Strate claims he was drunk when he drew the weapon.

Last night after the lecture a number of reckless boys gathered in front of M. B. Murphy's grocery store and one of them was knocked through one of the large windows, smashing the glass to fragments. Officer Fitzpatrick was over near Sherwood's corner but before he could arrive at the scene the boys were gone.

We are in receipt of a programme of the third annual convention of the Neb. Dairyman's Association to be held in Omaha, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 13, 14 and 15. The programme is well filled and the convention will undoubtedly prove beneficial and interesting.

A long letter has been addressed to General Wm. Leese asking him to investigate the consolidation of the B. & M. and A. & N., and if any illegal ground can be found to take action on the matter. Mr. Leese will probably investigate, and any action he takes will be watched with interest.

Yesterday afternoon the 4 o'clock passenger train leaving Lincoln for Nebraska City was delayed considerably. At the connection of the Midland railway track with the Nebraska City main line the engine tender was thrown from the rails and turned on its side. The engine and baggage car were somewhat damaged and the people on board got a general shaking up.

A man named J. P. Ford swore out a warrant this morning against a man named Johnson, charging Johnson with assault and battery. It seems that Ford is employed as a switchman in the yards and last evening Johnson became angry at him from some cause and struck him over the head with a lantern, cutting him quite severely. Up to 3:30 o'clock this afternoon Johnson had not been arrested.

The fire boys of the Rescue hose team No. 3, are very much pleased with the outcome of their first annual ball given at Fitzgerald's hall last night. About 75 couples were present, the hall was decorated very tastily and everything went merrily to the music of the Bohemian band. The Y. L. R. A. furnished an elegant supper, and the boys are to be congratulated at the success of their first ball.

Council Doings.

The city council met in regular adjourned session last night, all members being present.

A petition from Geo. E. Doye and others asking for the establishing of several new lamp posts on Seventh street was laid over.

A petition from A. Salisbury and S. H. Shoemaker praying the opening of an alley through lot 4, White's addition, was referred to the committee on streets, alleys and bridges.

The city marshal and police judge made the same report of $20 in fines collected, which were referred to committee on police.

The report of the city treasurer showed a total cash of $6,211.00 and a total of $400 in bills receivable in his possession. His report was referred to the finance committee.

The finance committee reported favorable on the following bills and they were allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the various funds:

Daniel Burris, killing and burying dogs, $7.50; Mr. Morgan, labor, $75; M. T. Beaver, labor, $18; A. Carpenter, labor, $7.50; R. Johnson, labor, $8; W. Wagner, labor, $12; G. Anher, labor, $17.25; J. M. Schnellbacher, repair on horse cart, $1.25; J. R. Cox, mds, $17.55; A. Madole, surveying, $16.50; Johnson Bros., mds., $2.20; Byron Clark, salary, $62.50; Knotts Bros., printing, $10.50; J. H. Waterman, exchange on $600.00, 90 cts.; W. H. Malick, salary, $50; W. H. Malick, removing dead horse, $1; Moses Dodge, one cord wood, $4; A. Madole, surveying and iron pins for street corners, $21; Gas Co., gas for Oct. $77.50; John Fitzpatrick, salary, $15; P. Meigs, rent of council chamber, $10; L. C. Stiles, special policeman, $6; Gas Co., gas for Sept. and one lamp post, $90.50; J. O'Neil, salary, $40.

The judiciary committee presented an ordinance which was the same as the old ordinance, but more complete. It was referred to the revision committee.

After considerable discussion the committee returned the ordinance unchanged and it was finally read a second and third time and passed under a suspension of the rules. Mr. Murphy tried to have the responsibility of the enforcing of the ordinances left entirely to the city marshal, but was not successful.

Mr. Madole reported on the matter referred to him concerning the grade at the corner of Oak and 3rd street. He said to lower 3rd at the crossing of Oak to grade and make it possible, would take about $120, but that the $15 in poll tax now collected could be used evenly to advantage. After long discussion the street commissioner was authorized to proceed with the work to the amount of $15.

Mr. Jones moved the committee on streets, alleys and bridges be instructed to go over the street railway and locate the crossings, to be 32 feet on Main street and 16 feet long on side streets. Mr. Dutton said the company had informed him that they would lay the crossings as soon as they had time, but the motion passed.

A motion to have an extension of the water mains on Billings avenue south west one block on Maable street, thence run of Billings avenue and then continue on the avenue, passed and council adjourned.

Board of Health Resolution.

Yesterday the board of health met at Dr. Livingston's office. The purpose of the meeting was to pass a resolution suggesting the enforcement of certain sanitary rules in our public schools. The resolution was adopted and is as follows:

Resolved, That the board of education be requested to enforce the following regulations relative to contagious and infectious diseases among pupils of the public schools: In cases of scarlatina, varicella in any form, and diphtheria, the children of a family affected with the said disease, and of all other families residing in the same building, shall not be allowed to enter any public school until after the expiration of at least thirty days from the recovery of the last patient in said family or building.

In cases of measles and rothelin the same rule to apply, but the duration of quarantine shall be at least twenty days, and in varicella two weeks.

Children with the itch to be excluded until recovered.

Board then adjourned.

A strict observance of the above school regulations by parents and teachers will certainly prove a very good preventive for the spread of disease in the schools during the winter and spring months and parents will do wisely to enforce them at home.

Two Sensible Ladies.

One that studies health before vanity and one that does not believe all she reads or hears. Practical experience is every day teaching that the words given with Dr. Watson's Specific Cough Cure, is practically relieving the physicians from advising a hopeless case of Consumption a change of climate necessary, to be left to die among strangers. The Specific Cough Cure is warranted, if directions are carefully complied with, to relieve, if not cure, the worst and most hopeless cases the world ever saw. Price 50c and $1. For sale by W. J. Warrick.

THE FORGER'S FATE.

William Norton Forges a Note on W. D. Jones and Gets Bound Over to Await Circuit Court.

About five days ago a man got employment at W. D. Jones' Bonner stables, and as he gave no name he was called "Bill" for short. Yesterday morning he asked Mr. Jones to pay him what little he owed him, stating he wished to go east on the morning train. He was immediately paid the amount—$3.35—but did not leave the city but hung around the stable all morning. A little before 2 in the afternoon Mr. Jones was called from the barn to attend the funeral of the child of Geo. Palmer of Omaha. While he was at the funeral, it appears Norton went to Mr. Jones' writing desk and wrote out two orders, one on C. E. Wescott and the other on Solomon & Nathan. Between the time Mr. Jones left the stable and a quarter to four o'clock Norton took the order on Solomon & Nathan, which was written on a Bonner stable bill head, to their store and secured underclothing to the amount of $2.75. The order read as follows: "Messrs. Solomon & Nathan, please deliver bearer what under clothing he wants, W. D. Jones." He then went to C. E. Wescott's store and presented an order written as follows: "Mr. Wescott, please deliver overcoat, not to exceed $17, and oblige, W. D. Jones." Mr. Wescott took the note and suspiciously it instructed his clerk, Mr. C. E. Reynolds, to wait on the man, Mr. Wescott then took the note and went out on the street to find Mr. Jones and discover if the signature was correct. Not being able to find Mr. Jones he inquired of Mr. Patterson, of the Cass County Bank, who had his doubts of his correctness, and Mr. O. M. Straight pronounced it, in his estimation, a forgery as the man had only been in Mr. Jones' employ a few days. Mr. Wescott and Mr. Straight then proceeded down Main street for an officer and were rewarded in meeting John Fitzpatrick.

After securing the coat, a $16.50 chin-chilla, Norton proceeded down Main St. to the railroad, turning north. Mr. Fitzpatrick followed the man and caught him a little ways up the track, he for a time played innocent but Mr. Fitzpatrick brought him back, and Joe Fitzgerald, who is employed at the Bonner stables, came up and identified him as the man. He was wearing the new over coat and carrying his old one with the suit of under clothes in another bundle.

Norton was taken to Justice Mathews' court and here he played very drunk and as county attorney Beeson could not be found Norton was taken to the jail till this morning when Mr. Jones filed two complaints of forgery.

The trial at Judge Mathews' court came off this morning, County Attorney Beeson for plaintiff and M. A. Hartigan for defendant. To the charge of passing a forged note on Solomon & Nathan the prisoner pleaded guilty and not guilty, to the charge of passing one on C. E. Wescott, (done at his counsel's advice). The witnesses were heard but there was no argument, and Judge Mathews placed the prisoner under $300 bonds for each offense, and not being able to give bonds of course the man will have await the convening of the district court, in jail.

Mr. Norton appears to be unknown in Plattsmouth, except a day or two before election, and on election day he drove a team for W. D. Jones.

At Wescott's store he took the first coat that was shown him, it fitting him nicely, and but for Mr. Wescott's timely suspicion from not being accustomed to sell goods in such a way, the man would have escaped with his goods.

An Offended Window Glass.

"I remember one instance of a seedy looking individual, who came regularly every morning and took a long look at a handsome diamond and ruby bracelet, worth nearly $800, and always went away with a satisfied smile. He came regularly for two months, and at first I suspected him of evil designs, but I soon saw my fears were groundless. Well, the morning after the bracelet was sold that man came up and looked high and low for the familiar object. Finally he walked in and demanded of my clerk where it was. 'Sold,' said he. 'What?' shrieked the seedy man. 'Sold! Why, you fraud, what do you mean by putting goods in your window to attract buyers, and then selling them? You don't catch me buying anything here!' and he stalked off in high dudgeon. Some other dealer is probably 'attracting' his custom now. I have had many amusing experiences with the window gazers, but in oddity this one excelled them all."—Jeweler's Weekly.

Antipodean Domestic.

The servant girl question in Australia takes on a novel phase. The rabbit plague in that country is well known. In three years 18,000,000 rabbits were destroyed and a bounty of $120,000 has been paid out for their destruction. When a servant enters a situation she stipulates that at least one day in the week she shall not be obliged to eat rabbit.—Syracuse Journal.

An English lock maker claims to have perfected a door, to be used in public buildings, that will lessen the chances of accident in times of panic or real danger. It can be opened from the outside only by a key, but a slight pressure from within causes it to swing open outward.—New York Sun.

A Baby Picture Makes Trouble.

Mr. C. H. Hodges, a photographer and oil finisher of Council Bluffs has been in the city with one or two canvassing agents doing work for the past few weeks. Their business was to collect old, faded or favorite photographs from people and paint them in colors after the "American water color" style. Mr. Hodges and his agents did quite a profitable business and all went well till last night when they prepared to take their departure. At the depot last evening they were intercepted by a German lady. From what occurred it appears that one of Mr. Hodges' agents had been furnished a picture of a baby by the lady to adorn with golden curls and beauty, who paid $1 in advance and was to pay 25c more when complete, and through promises or misunderstanding the lady expected to receive a frame with the picture also, all for $1.25. Last evening Mr. Hodges and wife and one or two children and one of his agents were at the depot prepared to go to Omaha, and the German lady was there also, the picture having not been returned to her. Mr. Hodges had it with him all pointed and fixed up and offered it to the lady for the 25c as per agreement. But she refused to accept the picture without the frame which she claimed the agent (who, of course, was not present) had promised her, and Mr. Hodges refused the frame as he claimed it alone to be worth $3, and that $1.25 was the price for the picture. The lady fearing she would lose the favored picture, after considerable talking, burst out crying, and some one near went for an officer to straighten things up. Marshal Malick was soon on the ground and heard both stories and Mr. Hodges bearing more trouble returned the lady's dollar to her and started to hand her the picture but she slipped away and was gone as soon as she had the dollar. Marshal Malick now had another side to the story and proceeded to place Mr. Hodges under arrest for violating the city ordinances—doing business without a license. It was now Mr. Hodges' turn to take the defense and plead, and he did so with considerable feeling. Mr. Hodges had his wife and two children with him and another one in Omaha and he was starting home and his arrest would cause grievance from all sides, and having no warrant for the man's arrest the marshal permitted him to go.

The sociable given by the ladies of the M. E. church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dab, on the corner of Main and 13th streets, last night was one of the most pleasant of the season. The attendance, owing to other entertainments, was not quite so large as usual, but the house was well filled and everything went on pleasantly. Both old and young enjoyed the selves with social conversation, games, etc., and the time came to close when all went home feeling that they had spent a pleasant evening. The popcorn furnished a pleasant diversion and was a change that was not unappreciated.
