BORROWED AND STOLEN.
AP Passenger Properly Ejected.
 Vincennes, Ind., December 9.—F. J. Wolf, of Mitchell, Ind., was ejected from a passenger train on the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railroad some time ago, and he sued the company for $20,000 damages. The case went through court, and the Supreme Court has now rendered a decision against Wolfe, ruling that when a passenger used grossly improper language in the presence of ladies the conductor was right in ejecting the obnoxious passenger from the train at any point on that line.

Another Gas Well
 Jefferson, La., Dec. 10.—Another gas well has been struck here. The gas was struck at a depth of fifty eight feet and four inches, and the flow and the quality is estimated fully equal, if not superior, to any heretofore developed in the city. The indications of petroleum product in the flame is quite apparent, the blaze being clearer and brighter than from the other wells. A deep bed of blue clay was encountered just before reaching gas sand, and when that was struck the gas came up in strong supply, filling the three inch casing.

Killed by the Bridegroom.
 Lyons, N. Y., December 9.—Two weeks ago Phillip Badger and his young bride were serenaded at their home in Sodus, in this county, on their wedding night, by a party of men and boys, who beat tin-pans, blew fish horns pounded on brass kettles and fired revolvers about the house for over one hour. The bridegroom became intensely angry, and fired both barrels of a gun loaded with fine bird shot into the crowd. John Johnson, a well-known young man in Sodus, fell wounded. He was carried home and died last night. What can be done with Badger is puzzling the brains of the rural lawyers. As yet, Badger has not been arrested.

Funding the National Debt.
 City of Mexico, via Galveston, Tex., Dec. 8.—An important financial measure was introduced in congress this evening, being a bill to permit the government to contract a loan of $10,000,000. It is believed that this beginning of the development of a scheme to fund the existing national debt in such a manner as will reduce the burdens of the government, and that behind it is a group of English and French bankers, who regard the loan as entirely feasible. The government has made the terms of the conversion of the debt just effected in London the right to buy in outstanding bonds at 40 per cent up to 1890.

Arensford's Case.
 STOUT CITY, La., Nov. 9.—The Arensford jury retired about 6 o'clock this evening to render its verdict. Attorney O'Connell consumed the entire day in his argument making one of the strongest, most exhaustive and impressive presentations of the case possible. Large numbers of persons were turned away from the court room to-day, being unable to gain admittance. The great-est possible interest prevails. Judge Wakefield's charge was quite lengthy and very complete. The charge covered the matter of conspiracy as well as murder and it is hard to understand how a verdict of some degree will not be decided upon. The trial has lasted over a month. A very large number of witnesses have been examined. Everybody is waiting with the most intense interest for the verdict. Later—At 9 o'clock p. m. the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Disease of Caisson Workmen.
 The Illinois shore caisson of the Illinois Central bridge is down to contract depth, seventy-five feet below the surface of the water, and the work of filling the shoe or air chamber with concrete has begun. As the men are working in an air pressure of thirty-seven pounds to the square inch, and their movements are rapid in order that the concrete may be spread before it becomes set or hard, the labor is excessive and trying on the men. One day seven of the laborers were taken out of the caisson afflicted with what is known in caisson parlance as the "bends," which is simply paralysis of the body. The disease begins with a severe pain in the breast, then goes to the stomach, and latterly to the lower limbs, the whole lower portion of the body becoming paralyzed. The cause given is that the men go through the air locks too rapidly, not giving the circulation a chance to gradually adapt itself to the change in the atmospheric pressure.

The caisson company has hot baths and hot coffee ready for emergencies of this character. One man does not take advantage of such facilities until too late. Three of the seven men kicked off the disease and recovered quickly. Three were taken to the hospital in bad shape, one being afflicted with apoplexy and will probably die. The other two will recover in time, a slow process under any circumstances. One other, a colored man, was taken to his home on the levee suffering grievously. A white man taken from the caisson to the hospital sometime ago is paralyzed from the hips down, but is recovering slowly. This patient, while awaiting transportation to the hospital, sat too near to a hot stove and burned one of his legs terribly without being aware of the fact. The malady is peculiar in its effects; a man may emerge from the caisson in apparent good condition, a few moments later he becomes weak, trembles and shudders, finally falling to the ground helpless. On the instant submerging of the patient in a hot bath, being cupious portions of hot coffee will instantly remove the tremble; at other times the remedy is useless.—Cairo (Ills.) Cor. Globe-Democrat.

Trying to Rally the Foo.
 Maj. Livingston's horse had been shot, and the major's hip injured by the fall. He was very anxious to change the retreat into an advance, and thus, on foot, swinging his sword, he ordered everybody to "Right about, face!" But his orders were unheeded.
 At last, coming up to a regiment marching in tolerable order, in the same direction with the general current, and concluding that they were sufficiently strong at least to cover the retreat of the wounded and exhausted, he ordered them to halt and face to the front, giving emphasis to the command by earnest jestulations with his sword, and insisting that it was a shame to see a whole regiment running away. At this juncture an officer demanded:
 "Who are you, sir?"
 "Maj. Livingston, of the Seventy-sixth."
 "Seventy-sixth what?" asked the stranger.
 "Seventy-sixth New York," replied the major.
 "Well, then, you are my prisoner, for you are attempting to rally the Second Mississippi."
 The major was taken to headquarters, but, fortunately, made his escape the next day.—Youth's Companion.

Unlucky Days for Weddings.
 It is well to recall one or two interesting superstitions that were religiously noted in the time of our grandmothers. In the first place, according to an ancient and reliable chronicle, there are thirty-two days in the year that are especially unlucky for marriages and journeys. They are as follows: Jan. 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 10 and 15; Feb. 6, 7 and 18; March 1, 6 and 8; April 6 and 11; May 3, 6 and 7; June 7 and 15; July 5 and 19; Aug. 15 and 19; Sept. 5 and 7; Oct. 7, Nov. 15 and 16, and Dec. 15, 16 and 17. Everybody knows that Friday is the most unlucky day for a wedding, while Wednesday and Thursday are the luckiest. Our grandmothers believed that it was a most unfortunate thing if the bride, after finishing her toilet and leaving her looking glass, should turn around again for a last glance at herself. It was also bad for her to see the man she was about to marry after dressing and before the time had come for the ceremony.—New York Star.

The Jubilee Medal.
