A Salisbury Dentist, in Rockwood Building.

O the snow, the beautiful snow! It looks very favorable for sleighing. Why not organize for another coasting carnival?

Walter Holmes has just received one of the finest two-seated sleighs in the city. It began snowing about 12 o'clock last night and still continues as we go to press.

We call the attention of our readers to the new ad. of T. H. Phillips in this issue.

The clearing house figures in the Omaha banks yesterday amounted to $648,908.69.

We have just received a neat little paper - Our Work, Vol. 1, No. 1, devoted to the church and school. It is edited monthly by Geo. Hindley, at Weeping Water.

Senator Manderson has introduced a bill to increase all invalid pensions to $8.00 per month. Should this bill become a law it is estimated that it would increase the pension list by about $6,000,000 per annum.

Mr. John Leach finished painting the new house of J. G. Richey yesterday. The house is now complete in all its departments, and the Herald hopes that Mr. Richey may live many years and enjoy his fine home.

J. L. Farthing will fill an order of 500 cars of sand for the new building of the New York Life Insurance Company, to be erected the coming year, at the corner of 17th and Farnam streets, Omaha. Mr. Farthing gets the sand from the extensive sand banks at Cedar Creek.

Phill F. Harrison, breeder of fine blooded chickens, has received a pass for himself and wife from the B. & M. to the poultry show to take place at Lincoln tomorrow. Of course Phill won't miss a chance like this but will be on deck with his fowls and no doubt will carry off some good prizes.

A Young man well known among the boys as Cotton is enjoying these fine evenings sleigh riding with his best girl. Now the boys like to see Cotton happy and hope the sweet sounding, silvery bells may continue to jingle throughout all time, or until his locks of hair shall become white and silvery as snow.

The coasting carnival on high school hill last night was a splendid success, and without accident, further than a few harmless upsets. The street was well lighted and well guarded, so that mishaps were hardly possible from collisions with teams, and each lot was well on its way before the following one was permitted to start, and by the careful managements by the committee all went well.

Our paper is two days later this week, writes a Nebraska editor, "owing to an accident to our press. When we started to run the edition Wednesday night as usual, one of the guy-ropes gave way, allowing the forward gilder-fluke to fall and break as it struck the flunker-flopper. This of course, as anyone who knows anything about a press will readily understand, left the gang plank with only the slip-flap to support it, which also dropped and broke off the wopper-clock. This loosened the flanking from between the tamrod and the flipper-another which also caused trouble. The report that the delay was caused by over-indulgence in intoxicating stimulants by oneself is a tissue of falsehoods, the peeled appearance of our right eye being caused by our going into the hatchway of the press in our anxiety to start it, and pulling the coupling-pin after the saphang was broken, which caused the dingus to rise up and welt us in the optic. We expect a brand-new gilder-fluke on this afternoon's train."

Joined for Life's Journey. Quite a number of guests from this city and abroad witnessed the marriage of Mr. Frank Coursey and Miss Emma McCoy last evening at 5 o'clock at the home of J. F. McCoy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. Alexander, after which the newly wedded couple received the hearty congratulations of those present. A splendid dinner and the usual festivities followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coursey are well known in this city and their union is favorably noted by the society of Plattsmouth. This city will continue to be their home and their presence will ever be welcome at social gatherings.

There were present Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCoy and Mrs. R. B. Moore, of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Streight, W. L. Browne, Frank Smith, Henry Houck, M. T. Grassman and Lorne Cummins were the married couples present from this city; Misses Kate and Georgia Oliver, Maggie Streight, Kilhonic, Lizzie Steimke, and Messrs. T. H. Phillips, D. C. Morgan, W. J. Streight, W. A. Derrick, B. B. Coons, T. E. Reynolds, K. Dressler, J. D. Young, A. Bird and F. H. Clark, of this city were also present.

On Justice, May You Ever Dwell With Us! Justice Stiles heard his first case yesterday - Kohrell vs. Hraskey - cause of action based on an account for liquors sold the defendant. Defendant pleaded payment and several other defenses. Verdict of the law was the palladium of the plaintiff's rights.

The blind goddess who is supposed to preside in the temple of justice, would not tolerate a defense of any kind to whiskey bill, and thus this substantial interest of the community is judicially assured that its rights will be protected and the claims paid, despite the objections and wails that may come from destitute homes and "sich".

THEATRICAL.

"AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS." The Chicago (Ill.) Inter Ocean says: "W. J. Fleming's Company presented 'Around the World in Eighty Days' at the Grand last night to an audience that tested the capacity of the house. The audience was composed of all classes, who were most enthusiastic and liberal in their applause. As far as the production is concerned, it is without doubt the finest we have ever witnessed. Everything was produced as advertised. The dramatic portion was presented by a very strong company. The scenic and mechanical effects, and the marches and drills by the young ladies, were most beautiful and original. The sale of seats has been so far very large, and we predict another crowded house to-night." At Waterman's Opera House, Friday, December 13.

THE GYPSY BARON. The Corned Opera Company will produce Johann Strauss' latest and most successful opera, "The Gypsy Baron," at the Waterman Opera House Monday evening, January 16th, with the original company of sixty people, costumes, and a special car load of scenery. The Vienna Correspondent of the London Daily News writes about the "Gypsy Baron."

The Libretto is from a novel of Jokay, and the music is by Johann Strauss. What wonder the box office is taken by storm every morning, and that after nine o'clock not a ticket is to be had for love or money? Strauss, carried away by the brightly original subject, has surpassed his former works. It is difficult to imagine a series of scenes more interesting, more varied and more picturesque, accompanied by music which is at once tender, gay and original.

Two Cents Per Mile.

From the Ohio State Journal. "Well," said a prominent railroad official of this city last evening, when asked his opinion of the bill introduced in the Senate fixing the rate of passenger transportation on the roads in this state at 2c per mile, "I do not think that if the bill is passed it will materially affect the railroads. It would be natural to suppose that it would reduce the earnings at first, but the new conditions would readily adjust themselves. It would largely increase the amount of travel. A uniform rate of 2c per mile was fixed on New York roads by the legislature of that state and though there was considerable complaint from the railroad companies at first, the plan is working satisfactorily now. I think the bill introduced in the Ohio Legislature comes in well at this time. I do not believe the railroads of the state will fight it or furnish any strenuous opposition to its passage. The people are clamoring for some legislation of this sort, and it will prove an incentive to business rather than a detriment.

The following lie is from a correspondent at Sidney Neb.: "An eastern passenger on a west bound train incautiously poked his head out of a window while the train was moving. The cold was so intense that the outside of his face froze in an instant. Dazed with pain and terror he sprang from his seat and rushed out the door to the platform and leaped off. The train at that moment was crossing a bridge sixty feet high, about two miles east of here. The unfortunate man made a wild leap into the air. Before he had half way reached the ground he froze solid and stuck fast thirty feet from the bottom. When the train reached the station a party was organized to go to his relief. A cowboy lariatied the inanimate form in mid air and so hard was it frozen that it took the united efforts of four horses to pull it down to the ground."

Yesterday between 3 and 4 o'clock a strange man was noticed by John Fitzpatrick standing in front of Bock & Birdsal's shoe store on south main street. John thought there was something wrong, so he watched the fellow until he saw him jerk five pairs of overshoes from the peg where they are hung as samples, and run for a back alley. John took cross lots and overhauled the dead beat back of Frank Carruth's store. John asked him to come with him but he said no, when John gave him a gentle tap which brought him to the ground, and also to the realization that John meant business. He was taken to the county jail where he will remain for trial until next Monday.
