A Salisbury Dentist, in Rockwood Building.

Corn is worth 36 to 37 cents. Eight degrees below this morning. Shoveling snow has been the order of the day. Around the world in eighty days at the opera house to-night. Eighty days is the time allotted for a trip around the world to-night. Dakota is getting anxious to be admitted. She tried to blow in yesterday. If you want to take a trip around the world be present at the opera house to-night.

Attorney S. P. Vanatta and son, E. G. were out on a rabbit hunt this morning over on the Iowa side. S. P. says he has not been hunting for so long that he takes the buck fever when he gets ready to fire and usually misses the game. C. H. Parmelee & Co., of Cedar Creek, sent in three loads of yorkers this morning and had the satisfaction of knowing that one of them captured the top price. The bunch averaged 350 pounds per head and sold at $5.60. It pays to send in good stock.—Hoof and Horn.

That was a vigorous and erratic wind which dropped down on the beautiful day yesterday afternoon about the hour of four p. m., and the fellow who was caught out in it without having his linen duster loaded with bird shot will need a search warrant to find the duster. It was a nasty blow. The farmers are rather wishing for a heavy snow storm. Not a blizzard, but a gently falling of snow and the more of it the greater they will value it.—Beatrice Express.

Her desires having been gratified it is to be hoped they are satisfied for this winter, as our people down this way have had enough. Married, Wilde—McFadden; Pinkney—Elsworth.—Mr. Herman L. Wilde and Miss Nellie McFadden; Mr. Elwin K. Pinkney and Mrs. Jennie Elsworth, all of Plattsmouth, were united by County Judge Russell yesterday evening. Although the wind raged wildly these parties braved the storm to me made happy. THE HERALD hopes the storms of life may never hover over them.

The first of twenty immense consolidated engines recently ordered by the B. & M. has arrived at Plattsmouth, and is in the shops to be overhauled before being sent out on the road. It is considerably larger than the moguls now in use and stands so high that the engineer's fireman can stand in their cab and look back over the entire train. It is provided with Master Mechanic Hawkshaw's patent spark arresting smoke stack.—Blue Valley Blade.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Around the World in Eighty Days" proved itself a great matinee card yesterday afternoon. Before the rise of the curtain, the theatre was packed with ladies and children, many having to return home again, unable to obtain admittance. The success of "Around the World in Eighty Days" is really phenomenal. The house this week, at every performance, has been crowded to the doors and judging from the looks of the diagram, immense business will rule throughout the engagement. At the opera house to-night.

Master Car-Builders' Association.

The list of subjects on which committees are to report at the next annual Convention, to be held at Alexandria Bay, N. Y., on June 12, 1888, and the Chairman of each committee, are as follows: (1) "Standards and Appliances for the safety of Trainmen," H. Hegewisch, United States Rolling Stock Company, 35 Wall street, New York. (2) "Automatic Freight-car Brakes," Godfrey W. Rhodes, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Aurora, Ill. (3) "The best form and Construction of Car Roofs," J. D. McIlwain, Grand Trunk Railway (Great Western division), London, Ont. (4) "Car-Heating," Frank L. Shepherd, Pennsylvania Railroad, Altoona, Pa. (5) "Wheels," J. N. Barr, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Milwaukee, Wis. (6) "Journal Lubrication, and the Best Practice for Economizing Oil," J. N. Cloud, New York, Lake Erie & Western, Buffalo, N. Y. (7) "The Best Form of Door Hangings, including Grain Doors," E. W. Grieves, Baltimore & Ohio, Baltimore, Md. (8) "How Can Uniformity in the Interchangeable Parts of Cars be Obtained?" Samuel Iron, Missouri Pacific, St. Louis, Mo. (9) Committee of arbitration in disputed cases under the rules of interchange; William Buchanan, New York Central and Hudson River, Grand Central Depot, New York. (10) Subjects to be reported at the next annual Convention for interchange and discussion at the succeeding Convention; Joseph Wood, Pennsylvania company, Pittsburg, Pa. (11) Committee of arrangements for the next annual Convention; R. C. Blackall, Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, Albany, New York.

Portable Railways. "Portable railways of a new type will assuredly be among the leading features of the next war," says the St. James Gazette. "The latest invention in this line is the idea of an Austrian engineer, Herr Leinwather. His rails are said to be the best of the kind ever made, being especially good over uneven ground. The Austrian War Office has ordered a small supply, and will make a trial of the railway at once. Germany has also asked Herr Leinwather for samples both of his rails and wagons. Generally speaking, one system of railway is as easy to work as another; the only difficulty being to manufacture the material in time. A Berlin paper the other day endeavored to make out that the net-work of German railways on the eastern frontier was designed purely for commercial and not for strategic purposes. It should have been added that portable railways—Herr Leinwather's and the systems already in existence—would go far to supply what is wanting even for offensive measures. No nation has been quicker to utilize the locomotive for operations of war than Germany."

Burlington & Missouri Additions. Omaha Republican. During the year 1887 the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy system west of the Missouri river, under the name of the Burlington & Missouri in Nebraska, has been increased by the addition of 702 miles of track, while 300 miles more have been graded and will receive the rails when winter breaks. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy system, including the Burlington & Missouri and the Burlington & Northern lines, now aggregate about 5,200 miles, and there is a probability that before the close of the year it will have turned 6,000 miles.

More Democratic Reform. STRATTON, Neb., Jan. 11.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The Democrat of this place has lately been making it very warm for Dr. J. M. Slicker, the democratic candidate for regent of the State University, charging him with being an imposter, and unauthorized as a physician. The doctor has now departed for parts unknown, and the general belief is that he will not return, as it is said he has left unpaid bills to the amount of over $500. What's the matter with Brother Sherman paying the bills he, was vouching for him not long ago.

Ad Betecker was in the city yesterday and remained till this morning returning to his home at Louisville. Messrs. Ol and Crate Tomlinson passed through today on No. 4. enroute for their homes at Villisca, Ia. Chas. Stocking of Wahoo, formerly of this county, is stopping at the home of A. B. Todd for a few days. Rev. H. B. Burgess went to Omaha this morning to meet the standing committee of the Episcopal church.

ALONE. Since she went home— The evening shadows linger here— The winter days fill so much of the year, And even summer winds are chill and drear. Since she went home— Since she went home— The robin's note has struck a minor strain, The old glad songs breathe out a sad refrain— And laughter sobb with bitter, hidden pain, Since she went home— Since she went home— How still the empty rooms her presence blessed; Untraced the pillow that her dear head pressed; My lonely heart hath nowhere for its rest, Since she went home— Since she went home— The long, long days have crept away like years, The sunlight has been dimmed with doubts and fears, And the long nights have rained in lonely tears, Since she went home.

Girls of America. A foreign born gentleman who had traveled the earth over told me that American girls were in every respect the most charming and agreeable in the world. He did not like American men; quite naturally he considered them inferior to foreign born gentlemen. They annoyed him by talking trade, and as for their habits, he referred me to the condition of public stairways and conveyances of travel. "It is declared that the Englishman never steps across his threshold without his umbrella," he said. "Well, the American ought never to go over his portal unaccompanied by his cuspadore, for the sake of decency. But American girls—they are divine. The most beautiful, the most entertaining, the most fascinating, the best dressed, the most original women in the world."—Ella Wheeler Wilcox. As an evidence of the progress made by the negroes in the south since the war, it is shown by late statistics that in three states—Georgia, South Carolina and Louisiana—they pay taxes on $48,000,000 worth of property.—Chicago Herald.

Decrease of Courts Martial. There have been 1,640 general courts martial in the army during the year ending with Oct. 1, 1887, according to the report of the acting judge advocate general to the secretary of war. A decrease has been going on since 1885, the number previous to then having been on the increase since 1880. The trials for desertions numbered 818. The inferior courts martial, 9,490, also show a large decrease in number.—Chicago Times. The longest street railway in the country is now in operation between Elizabeth and Newark, N. J., the round trip being nearly thirty miles, for which the fare is twenty cents.

His Life a Bore. The Duke of Sutherland laments that he has never been able to discover what is best to do in life. He has by turns tried his hand at the improvement on a grand scale of his vast estate, at the improvement of Egypt, at denunciation of Mr. Gladstone, at being a fireman, at yachting, and even at the wild dissipation of an American tour, without the duchess, but has to own that life throughout to him is "a bore."—Chicago Herald. Many engineers will not drive an even numbered locomotive so strong is the superstition against them. Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, the philanthropist, never goes to the theatre, and has read but two novels—"Jane Eyre" and the "Scarlet Letter." Her tastes are perfectly simple. She has a great liking for bread, milk and apples. It is doubtful if society has ever heard of her. But she is the only woman who has the freedom of the floor of the house, a right which even the president's wife does not have. A New Use for Ravens. The Russian military authorities are training ravens to bring the carrier pigeons now extensively adopted by all the European armies for carrying messages in time of war. At some recent experiments pigeons sent up at a distance of several miles from the focus were speedily overtaken and killed by the birds of prey, some of them even bringing the captured birds to their master.—Chicago News.
