A Salisbury Dentist, in Rockwood Building.

- You need not walk. -You had better ride. -The track is cleared. -A cold wave is coming. -A good crowd to Omaha. -Look out for a blizzard. -The street cars are running. -Talk up the interest of your town. -Lots of Iowa people in town to-day. -Real estate men are beginning to rustle.

Commencement exercises tomorrow evening at the opera house. We predict that Plattsmouth is sure of electric lights this spring. No preventing providence we will chronicle another wedding soon. Guess. A progressive euchre party will be held at the residence of A. B. Todd this evening.

The Journal favors free trade, yet it is anxious to be protected. Ah! Inco-sistency! Omaha may be a metropolitan place but for our part we prefer a graft from Lincoln street car line. For me and mine give me a car with a stove in it.

Judge Chapman who has been ill for sometime, was not so well yesterday and is still quite sick this morning. It seems the Judge took more cold while holding court the first of the week.

J. T. Mallalieu, Supt. of the reform school at Kearney, came in this morning for the purpose of taking Willie Campbell to the reform school, who was out on parole and had written the Supt. some time ago that he wished to return, but Sheriff Eikenberry had left with the boy this morning.

Again Plattsmouth has a change in express agents. Mr. John Kennedy has resigned his position, and expects to leave for his home at Winsor, Conn., in a few days. The business will be carried on by Mr. G. A. Taft, who has been with the American Express company at Pacific Junction for the past two years.

Mr. Fred Gorder returned last evening from the Lincoln State Board of Agriculture and reports an interesting meeting. Mr. Gorder was successful in getting a man elected from this county as a member of the state board, Mr. R. B. Windham, who will represent our county in a proper way, without doubt. Mr. Gorder was retained as president for the county.

For whom did God make this grand and beautiful world? For whom this wonderful expenditure of color, this gracefulness of line, this mosaic of the ground, this fresco of the sky, this glowing frutage of orchard and vineyard, this full orchestra of the tempest, in which the tree branches gate, and the winds trumpet, and the thunders drum, and all the splendors of earth and sky come clashing their cymbals? For whom did God spring the arched bridge of colors resting upon the buttresses of broken storm clouds? For whom did He gather the upholstery of fire around the window of the setting sun? For all men. - Rev. T. De Witt TALMAGE.

In Justice to the Glee Club.

We deem it no more than just to the members of the Glee Club that we make mention of their efforts and the splendid music furnished by them at the firemen's banquet. Plattsmouth takes a pride in the fact that she has a Glee club of state reputation. Its members work arduously to give the best music available, when called upon at all public gatherings they are always ready and willing to respond, for which they deserve much praise and credit. The Herald takes pleasure in saying that the firemen as well as the citizens appreciated their music and also that they render their thanks for the entertaining music furnished.

The members of the Glee club are as follows: Messrs. H. C. Ritchie, C. F. Whitney, W. A. Derrick, V. Burkle. The opening song at the banquet was "Phantom Footsteps," which so pleased the audience that they were encored. "Buccaneer Bride" received the applause of all. "Come where my love lies dreaming" and the "Irish Emigrants" were well delivered and gave evidence of good drill. The bass solo "Rocked in the cradle of the deep," by W. A. Derrick, suited the crowd to a dot and was applauded. Several joined in with the Glee club in the closing song "Razors in the air," which was applauded.

BEST ONE IN SIX.

Delegates Speak in High Terms of Plattsmouth, Her Citizens and Firemen--The Convention Closes.

It was the universal verdict of the visiting delegates present from all parts of the state that Plattsmouth did herself proud; that the sixth annual convention here was the best ever held in the state; that the reception met with by them was most cordial, nothing being left undone by the citizens and firemen of Plattsmouth to make their visit one of pleasure as well as business; they will to a certainty, upon their return home, sound the praises of Plattsmouth and her fire boys in long measured terms, "so mote it be."

AFTERNOON SESSION.

J. H. Butler read a very interesting paper on the "Efficient Fire Service in Cities."

W. H. Newbury read one on "Water Works and Water Pressure for Small Cities."

John Templeton, of Council Bluffs, was voted in as an honorary member of association. The principal theme discussed during the afternoon session was the adoption of amendments barring out professional runners from other tournaments so that those competing for prizes must be members of teams three months and a resident six months prior to the tournament.

The next annual convention will be held at York, in January, 1889.

The prizes were warmly debated and finally the highest prize was fixed at $150. At the last tournament the prizes amounted to $3,500, the highest one being $500. The coming tournament will occur between the 14th and 20th of July. The place is not yet determined upon, but will be decided by the members of the board of control Plattsmouth being represented, as well as honored, on the board in the person of Mr. H. C. Ritchie, who will without doubt represent Plattsmouth in a manner that will be to her best interests. This Board of Control is supreme at all tournaments, there being no appeal from any other board. All the principle officers were re-elected, there being no change only in minor offices.

H. B. Dibble, of York, President; W. H. Newbury, of Lincoln, 1st Vice President; W. H. Havens, of Fremont, 2nd Vice President; J. L. Lyman, of Fremont, Secretary; G. H. Wells, of Schuyler, Treasurer. The ball given in honor of the visiting delegates, was well attended, and all expressed themselves as having had a pleasant time. The music was delivered by the Bohemian Band, which was excellent at both the banquet and ball. A part of the delegates returned home last evening, but a great portion of them remained for the ball, and took the flyer for home this morning. Before adjourning last evening resolutions of thanks were passed to the firemen and citizens of Plattsmouth, for their good treatment while sojourning with us.

Gehring last night, and took the train this morning for Nebraska City.

BILL NEE A BORN SCIENTIST.

He Elucidates a Knotty Point in Anatomy for a Louisiana Man.

Mr. William Nye, New York City--DEAR SIR: Knowing the vast extent of your attainments in the domain of natural science, and being myself an earnest seeker after truth in the same field, I feel free to ask you to explain the meaning of the following sentence, which you will find on page 35, in chapter 3, of a book on "Comparative Anatomy and Physiology," by F. Jeffrey Bell, M. A., Professor at King's College: "It happens to many gastrule that, their blastopore closing up, they develop an investment of cilia on their epiblast and swim about for a time freely in the water." If you can shed any light upon the meaning of this sentence you will confer a favor upon. Yours respectfully, JAMES KERSON. Marksville, La., Nov. 7, 1887.

I understand the above perfectly well, but I do not know that I can make clear to you through the medium of the press. I would much rather see you personally and explain it to you. If I could take you into my laboratory for an hour or two I could give you a better idea than I can in a limited space here. Could you not come on to New York and have this matter settled?

Gastrule, as you know, are of two classes, viz: malignant and intermittent. It is the first class that is most to get their blastopore plugged up. Then trouble begins. Cilia begins to erupt on the epiblast and microbes break out all over the duplex. You can't be too careful about this. A blastopore, if I've got the right idea of what a blastopore is, should be brought in every night or the boys may get hold of it and plug it before it is ripe. I would rather see an epiblast of mine, or a blastopore, or a gastrula for that matter, in its grave than mixed up with an investment of cilia or any other doubtful financial matter.

P. D. BATES.

High License.

High license, it is said, helps to keep up the expenses of a government. Locally, it builds sidewalks, pays officers, etc. Is there not a better way of running a government than licensing evils to keep up expense? Will high license pay? God might as well let Satan into Heaven for a certain per cent of human souls, when He has the power to run a better government. Is high license the only way of getting enough revenue? Would it not be better to license all respectable trades, arts, professions, etc., to obtain the necessary revenue? Admitting that whisky towns have pavements, we must admit that more or less blood and tears is mixed with the cement that lays that kind of pavement. If it is true that evils will exist, and we may as well get revenue from it, then let us license counterfeiters. Why not license thieves for a per cent of the hoodie? We could get lots of revenue. Does prohibition "kill a country"? What does it kill--the people, crops, hogs and cattle, or business? It is true that a prohibition town may not be as lively as the other kind, for there are not so many business policemen, patrol wagons, and arrests, but the people are all alive, with as much property as ever, for certainly whisky has not the power to create property or its value. It is true, it takes more revenue to run a high license town, and that many items of expenses are curtailed by prohibition. Lively towns! So was Heaven lively once, but the boss prohibited Satan's entrance and Heaven is not so lively now. High license! It is simply charging a cure to exist and paying twice what we get to keep it in existence. -Advocate.

Kearney Returns Thanks.

We, the undersigned members of the Protection Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, of the city of Kearney, wish to extend our hearty and sincere thanks to the citizens and firemen of Plattsmouth for their cordiality extended towards us while attending the firemen's convention. W. F. PICKERING, J. T. O'BRIEN, W. L. COOK, C. J. STRAID, CHAS. MOTT, F. McCUM.

Who is Your Best Friend?

Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink wait until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will tell on you less. If your food ferments and does not digest right--if you are troubled with heartburn, Dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, biliousness, indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.
