BOARD OF TRADE. A Mosting of Interest to Platts. mouth Citizons.

The Board of Trade met Friday night at the office of County Judge Russell. President J. V. Weckbach in the chair On account of the Secretary being absent. the roll call was omitted. Fred Herrmann acted as temporary Secretary.

There was a good attendance, and every one manifested a deep interest in the future welfare of the city.

Among reports of officers Treasurer Gorder made his report, which was referred to the Board of Directors. President Weckbach gave a report for the year, which was ordered placed on the minutes and was as follows:

GENTLEMEN OF THE BOARD OF TRADE In reviewing the history of the financial growth and general prosperity of Plattsmouth for the year 1887, I take pleasure in stating to you, that in no previous year of the history of our city has there been more marked, substantial and healthy improvement. Unlike many cities of the west, where advancement and material development are brought by a sporadic boom, only to be smothered by general shrinkage in local values and a consequent collapse, Plattsmouth's advancement is based on a permanent foundation, fostered and sustained as it is by the co-operation of the public spirit of her citizens. Real estate has advanced, at the least calculation, twenty-five per cent since the beginning of the year just closed, and I know before the close of 1888 it will add at least another 25 per cent in value.

The industries already inaugurated are known to have obtained a success that give a fair renumeration to those whose capital is thus employed, and the outlook for the present year encourages the belief that other local industries will be started. Among the local improvements I will mention the water works, which have about five miles of mains and have already supplied a large number of private parties with water for home consumption, are constantly extending the facilities to others. This system of waterworks already adds to our to our local wealth not less than $100,000. This system of water works, while placing water within easy reach of those of our citizens who -In a recent issue we mentioned that occupy the most elevated portions of our city, at much less cost than the sinking of wells, has also resulted in reducing the rates of insurance, in some instances reducing the rates one-half.

STREET RAILWAY.

Early in the year 1887 the city generously and with commendable public spirit, voted the right of way to the Plattsmouth Street Railway Company, and since about the middle of September of in having constructed and now has operation the street railway line from the corner of Main and Third streets out city over Sunday visiting with his Mercer addition," comprising a total length of street raitway of two miles, E. L. Merritt, of the Omaha Herald, is in which has been constructed within the the city visiting with Mrs. Dr. E. L. Sigshort period of obout three months. This enterprise, while only in its infancy, it is confidently believed will become a paying institution, returning to its proectors a fair income upon the investment. It is generally understood to be the intention of the company to extend its lines out to Chicago avenue during the coming season.

PAVING AND SEWERAGE.

The question of paving our streets and building severage has within the last year engrossed much of the attention of our citizens and especially of the city coun-cil. Already definite action has been taken, and sewerage bonds in the sum of $30,000, and paving bonds to the amount of $10,000, have been authorized. The contract for building sewerage has already been let and I am firmly of the belief that both paving and building sewerage will be fully inaugurated as soon as spring opens. That the best interests of the city demands the paving of at least a portion of Main street is conceded on all hands, and the building of suitable sewerage is likewise conceded to be for the best interests of the city.

RAILROAD SHOPS. It is well known to every person conversant with the matter, that the railroad shops at Plattsmouth constitute one of the city's greatest industries. The employes of these shops are a large portion company from twenty to thirty thousand dollars. This of itself is an item of no small importance to the business men of augments the revenue of our business men. For the coming year indications point to a large increase in the working force, and the consequent increase of the manufacturing of railroad supplies and the building of other machine shops and round houses. THE CITY FINANCES.

In regard to the financial condition of the city, so far as I am able to gather correct data, I will say that there are no judgments against the city but can be paid from the surplus in the business tax fund, and thus without a levy as has been the custom heretofore. The bonded indebtedness of the city is as follows:

High School bonds $53,000, 6½ per cent interest. Keart n $21,000, 5 per cent interest. B. & M. $25,000, 6 per cent interest. Requiring an aggregate of annual interest in the sum of $5,599.

On our present valuation, $900,000, it would require a levy of a little less than 7 mills to raise a sum sufficient to discharge the interest on the bonded in-

To this may be added sewerage, $30,-000, bearing 6 per cent interest; paving bonds, $10,000, bearing 6 per cent interest, making a total of $2,400 interest on these two items, and making a total bonded debt of $139,000, upon which we pay an average rate of interest of 5.7 per Come up brother Times and we will straig a total annual interest of $7,923, which would require a levy of some $10,000 for improvement, viz: $4,500 for streets, grading and bridging; $1,900 for grading; $2,000 for Rosewater and Christie and $800 for fire department. In conclusion I congratulate the people of Plattsmouth over the improvements and material developments of our city during the past year, and feel sanguine that another year, the year 1888, will largely add to our city both in population and in augmenting the wealth of

The Alumni Banquet

On Saturday evening, at the Coverdale house, the members of the Alumni Association of the Plattsmouth high school ines to the machine shops, and also its | welcomed the new graduates with a sumptuous and artistic banquet that was one of the pleasantest and most recherche events of the season. Mine host, Coverdale, outdid himself, and at about ten o'clock, the alumni, the graduates, and Professors Drummond and Chatburn, sat down to as elegant and palatable a repast as was ever placed upon a Plattsmouth board. After doing ample justice to the good things of this life, Mr. Robert Livingston, president of the association, welcomed the guests in a neat speech, to which Mr. Adams promptly and aptly replied. Mr. Guy Livingston then respondto the toast, "Our Association," in a very happy manner, and, in due course, Miss Grace Wiles made a few very appropriate remarks in response to the toast, "Our School Days." "The Future" was discussed in a most happy vein by Miss Sher man, in a speech replete with apt quota tions. Prof. Drummond was then called upon, by the president, to respond to the toast, "Our Alma Mater," which he did in his own inimitable way, enlivening his remarks with his usual good humor. It was late when the guests separated to repair to their respective homes, pronouncing this, their first banquet, a most enjoyable affair, and feeling that it was a success par excellence. The first class was organized by Prof. Drummond in 1882, and received their diplomas in the spring of that year; though, owing to an outbreak of smallpox in our midst, no commencement exercises were held. Since that time a class has graduated every year, and the alumni now number thirty-three. Some time in 66 an effort was made to establish an alumni association, and this was finally consummated, with the result as given
